PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

The following plans embrace all those buildings that have been submitted to the approval of the Superintendent since our last:

10TH ST.—N. e. cor. av. D; one 6 story brick and iron front tobacco factory, 80x71.3; David McAlpin, owner; P. Postervin, architect and builder.

20TH ST.—S. w. cor. 10th av.; one 4 story brick store and dwelling, 23x52; Andrew Ewald, owner; John M. Forster, architect; Andrew Ewald, builder.

24TH ST.—E. s., 100 w. 1st av.; one 5 story and basement brick store and dwelling, 25x60; George Herdtfeldter, owner and builder.

24TH ST.—N. w. cor. 12th av.; one 1 story brick office 25x25; "The Delaware & Lackawana Coal Co.," owners; Hayden & Co., builders.

WEST 25TH ST.—Nos. 420 & 422; one 2 story brick and blue stone front carpenter shop; John Gehagan, owner and builder; D. & J. Jardine, architects.

EAST 29TH ST.—200 e. 1st av.; two 2 story brick offices, 18.6x—; Masterton, Smith & Sinclair, owners; Alex. Milne, architect; R. C. McLane & Son, builders.

WEST 34TH ST.—Between Broadway and 7th av., No. 112; one 4 story and basement and sub-cellar brick and Nova Scotia stone front, first-class dwelling, 18x—; Dr. G. W. Brooks, owner; John G. Prague, architect.

36TH ST.—N. w. cor. 9th av.; one 4 story brick Dispensary; Remick & Sands, architects; "North Western Dispensary Association," owners; Norman & Armstrong, and Marshall & Riker, builders. This building will be a very superior structure, and by its elegant and attractive appearance, will not fail to be admired.

43D ST.—S. s., 200 w. 8th av.; one 4 story and basement second-class dwelling, 20x60; Jacob Kirschhoff, owner; A. Pfeum, architect; Birkirt & Clifton, builders.

45TH ST.—S. e. cor. 1st av., 58x58—slaughter house; stable, 30x30, and market 27x27—of Collaburgh brick; Jacob Fleishhauer, owner; D. & J. Jardine, architects; J. M. & E. A. Thorpe, builders.

48TH ST.—100 e. from Madison av.; three 4 story and basement brick and brown stone front, first-class dwellings, 16.8x—; W. & E. Fanning, owners; F. Barus, architect; Samuel Dey, builder.

48TH ST.—515 w. 5th av., n. s.; one 4 story brick dwelling, 25x25; James Webb, owner and builder.
EAST 48TH ST.—N. s., 175 e. 5th av.; one 4 story brick and brown stone front, first-class dwelling, 25x—; C. F. Simpson, owner; S. D. Hatch, architect; Robert L. Donough, builder.

48TH ST.—N. s., 153 w. 1st av., rear; one 2 story wooden wagon-making shop and dwelling, 25x—; C. Ulan Speun, builder and owner.

53D ST.—S. w. cor. 6th av.; two 4 story brick stores and dwellings; C. Blum, owner; R. C. Mc-Lane & Son, builders.

53D ST.—N. w. cor. Madison av.; five 4 story brick, first-class dwellings, brown stone fronts, 20x60; John Fettretch, owner and builder.

54TH ST.—N. s., between Madison and 5th av.; three 4 story brick dwellings, 20.10x—; James Fettretch, owner and builder.

54TH ST.—S. s., 210 from 6th av.; one 1 story brick dwelling, 25x—; Nicholas Miller, owner; Rogers & Brown, architects; Luke Curnen, builder.

57TH ST.—N. s., 62 e. 5th av.; five 4 story and attic, brick & marble front, mansard roof, first-class dwelling, 19.7x—; Mary M. Johns, owner; Robert Mook, architect; B. S. Dafager, builder.

61ST ST.—S. s., 80 e. Lexington av.; one 3 story brick dwelling, 23x—; James Fettretch, owner.

61ST ST.—S. e. cor. Lexington av.; five 3 story brick dwellings 20x—; James Fettretch, owner and builder.

71ST ST.—N. s., 125 w. 3d av.; three 3 story & basement, brick & brown stone front, first-class dwellings; 16.8x—; T. J. & J. Fitch, owners; J. E. Ware, architect; J. C. Donnelly, builder.

75TH ST.—38 from 1st av.; 3 four story stores and dwellings, 23x28; W. E. R. Johnston, owner and builder.

79TH ST.—S. s., 100 e. 4th av.; 20x20 front, 25x25 rear; one 1 story brick, marble shop; Philip Scheu, owner and architect; Fitzgerald, builder.

107TH ST.—40 e. 1st av.; one 2 story frame store & dwelling 20x40; G. Flosa, owner.

121ST ST.—N. s., 129 1st av.; one 3 story frame store and dwelling, 25x25, Miss Hadfield, owner; Lawrence Daly, builder.

128TH ST.—S. s., 80 w. 4th av.; three 4 story brick dwellings 20x—; "Harlem Universalist Society," owners; John F. Miltem, architect, Thos. Wilson, builder.

BROADWAY—No. 477; one 5 story and basement with subcellar store, brick and iron front; Wm. C. Rhinelander, owner; Havillah M. Smith & Son, architects and builders.

BLEECKER ST., & Bowrey.—N. s.; five 4 story brick stores and dwellings, 16.8x16.8 20.0x20.0; Willett & Stephens, owners; D. & J. Jardine, architects; John Murtha, builder.

BROADWAY, Nos. 451 and 453.—One 5 story brick first-class store, iron fronts, 50x50.1½ and 200 ft. deep; trustees of P. & L. Lorillard, owners; Jno. B. Snook, architect; Wm. Lambier, builder.

DIVISION ST., Nos. 76, 78, and 80.—Three 6 story brick dwellings, 29.1x—; Henry Weiler, owner; J. Boekell, architect.

ESSEX ST.—No. 104; one 3 story brick and metal store and dwelling; 21x29; F. Graeber, owner, Theodore F. Bier, Architect.

EAST 41ST ST.—No. 57; one three story brick coach house and stable; 25x35; Julius Wadsworth, owner, John B. Snook, architect, Andrews & Chapin, builders.

MOTT'S LANE.—N. s., 150 w. 11th av.; one 2 story wooden dwelling, 25x25; James McCay, owner.

MERCER ST.—25 s. Amity st.; a large hotel, 149.10½x149.10½; E. S. Higgins, owner; Henry Englebert, architect; William Paul, builder.

RIVINGTON ST.—No. 42; one 4 story brick Cabinet-maker shop, 25x25; John Kemmer, owner; Joseph Schaeffer, builder.

RECTOR ST.—S. w. cor. Trinity Place; one 5 story brick store and dwelling, 24.2x23.6; William Nordsick, owner; Louis Burger, architect.

6TH AV.—No. 721; rear, one 2 story corrugated iron warehouse for furniture storage; 21x16; J. H. Trenor, owner; D. & J. Jardine, architect.

2D AV.—W. s., 50 ft. s. 22d st.; one 2 story basement with gallery, R. C. Church & Chapel, styled "The Church of the Epiphany," granite, brick, and brown stone trimmings; 65.9x65.9; 145 ft. deep x 74 ft. ft. high. The Rev. Richard Lalor Burstell, D.D., owner; Napoleon Le Brun, architect; the cost of this building will be $90,000. We saw the design and it is admirably adapted to the purpose.

UNION SQUARE.—S. w. cor. 15th st.; one five-story iron store and offices; 77x77; Tiffany & Co., owners; John Kellum, architect; Stewart & Smith, builders.

WALKER ST. PIER.—Entrance and archway; 100x25; wood steamboat-landing; Erie R. R. Co., owners; Thos. Gardiner, Jr., builder.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The market at auction sale exhibits but little animation, still prices are remarkably steady. By general consent the heavier class of operators seem to have let the market drop, so far as selling is concerned, and their entire attention is given up to securing for themselves some good bargains during the prevailing dullness, confident that the time will come, and shortly, too, when everything in the market will be wanted at prices as yet unthought of. If the completion and working of the Pacific Railroad imparts but half the benefits proportionately to New York city which the Erie canal did, we may look forward to the growth of our city within the next ten years, to proportions absolutely marvellous. We must remember that our wealth, growth, and success must be reflected by the price of real estate. Considerable attention is being directed to suburban property, which is all very well; still we would advise those who have good city and Brooklyn property that if they will stand by New York she will bring them out all right sure.

MARKET REVIEW.

We have again to record a very quiet state of trade in all the leading articles of building material, and in some cases absolute prostration. Consumers are calling for nothing except just such small amounts as will be required to carry them along from day to day, and as a rule refuse to enter into any contracts for the future, while supplies in the meantime are accumulating and causing considerable uneasiness to manufacturers and receivers. Strong efforts have been, and are still being made to bolster up prices, but an evident undertone of weakness shows itself and a reduction in values is slowly but surely taking place. Whether the falling off will reach a point low enough to draw out buyers remains to be seen, but it is certain that builders and contractors assert that they find the position of real estate too precarious to warrant many improvements at the current rates of material, and are quiet awaiting such modifications as will enable them to again resume work to advantage. Labor appears to give less uneasiness than heretofore, as the workmen undoubtedly appreciate the position as well as employers, and know full well that strikes would only hurt those engaged therein.

BRICKS.—For common hard brick the market continues in the same dull and unsatisfactory condition heretofore noticed, and prices are, to a certain extent, problematical. What little demand there is centres almost entirely upon the really choice qualities, giving this class of stock a comparatively firm tone, though even here dealers are irregular in their views, and sales range at $15.50 to $16.50 per M., according to circumstances. Purchases at the above rates however, are mainly in very small lots, and only where absolute necessity compels the use of first-class brick, consumers feeling that in exacting such extravagant figures sellers have only a temporary advantage. On the lower grades matters became considerably mixed, and business is at an almost complete standstill. Now and then a cargo is wanted for Newark, or some other nearby city, or even on local account, but the aggregate demand is too small to make any impression on the stock, and sellers are much in excess of buyers. Asking prices range all the way from $15.00 down to $13.00 per M., showing how wide is the range of quality, but sellers do not, as a rule, insist upon extreme figures when a good opportunity to work off stock presents itself. In fact, there is a very evident desire to realize, with a fair amount of freedom at ruling prices, and dealers and manufacturers are making strenuous efforts to prevent an early break-down, in order to allow the disposal of some of the present accumulation, for it is hinted that not only are brick piled up pretty liberally here, but a good many cargoes could be brought down the river if they were wanted. The strike among the workmen has continued, and though some show of getting other laborers was made, it is rumored that manufacturers do not show the energy in effecting a settlement that might be displayed, were not every point that will tend to bolster up values of the greatest importance just at present. Pale brick remain very dull, and prices unsettled, but may be quoted within the former range, say about $10.00 to $12.00 per M., nominally, only under the ruling position of affairs. Croton fronts are moderately active wanted by dealers. Philadelphia quiet, and without change to quote in the absence of stock. For foreign tiles there is a fair demand, and prices rule pretty steady at about 35c. per square foot for flooring, and 45c. do. for malt house.

CEMENT.—Most of the leading manufacturers of Rosendale report a continued good trade, and their production disappearing as rapidly as ready for market. This of course sustains the opening rate without any great difficulty, and the quotation is still $2.00 per bbl. delivered. The amount coming into this market is apparently daily growing smaller, as dealers have in most cases enough stock on hand to meet the very moderate distributive demand; but Southern orders continue fair, and a very liberal call still prevails from the Eastward, not from one or two particular points but all along the coast. Foreign cement has been in brisk demand during the spring, and still continues in very good request at pretty fair rates, and not a large supply on hand. The call has been largely from the West, where the medium grades were in some cases used to manufacture artificial stone, and the fine white qualities for fancy ornamental and imitation stucco work, &c. We quote the Roman at $9.50 to $10.00 per bbl.; Portland $10.00 to $10.50 do.; Keene's $11.00 do. for common, and $16.00 do. for choice do.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The improved retail trade noted in our last, still continues to some extent in certain quarters, but did not prove to be very general, and as a whole, the consumptive inquiry is not very encouraging. Still holders appear to have some confidence, and it is extremely difficult to induce any one to name easier terms. The wholesale markets are becoming more liberally supplied with stock, and show some irregularity on prices, though the fluctuations as yet have been too moderate to warrant any alteration in figures. The general demand is fair for small odd parcels, mostly on home account, though an occasional export order is to be heard of, generally calling for very fine goods, which, if not found, shippers withdraw for fresh assortments. The supplies coming forward have been pretty evenly divided, though containing rather the smallest proportion of desirable cedar, for which there has of late been more inquiry from the cigar box-makers, but in nearly all cases at figures somewhat below current valuations. The exports are 528 pieces lignumvite valued at $850; and 1250 logs cedar valued at $9,000, all to Rotterdam. Receipts from Bahia of 638 logs rosewood, from Port-au-Platt, of 827 sticks lignumvite, and 74 crotches mahogany; and from Cedar Keys, of 900 logs cedar.

GLASS.—Foreign window glass of all kinds is still almost entirely devoid of animation, the stock in the meantime accumulating quite rapidly, and the whole market showing a decided unsatisfactory condition of affairs. Warned by the steady call during last spring and summer, importers have supplied themselves with the smaller sizes more liberally, and the assortment is now such that almost any size can be had upon call. Western buyers still hold off; the South wants very little, and scarcely anything is taken on local account. Prices are uncertain but unquestionably weak, and though the discounts are still given at 40 to 50 per cent. off on French and 35 to 40 per cent. off on English, many buyers are enabled to do 5 to 10 per cent. better. American window is proportionately dull, quoted at 50 per cent. off, but 55 per cent. is more frequently allowed and sometimes even 60 per cent. off.

HAIR.—The weak tone noted in our last report still continues, and we again make a general reduction in prices, the market closing in an unsettled and nominal condition. The previous fair shipping demand has partially subsided, local dealers call for absolutely nothing, and continued arrivals gradually increase the already liberal supply. One of the main causes of depression of late, however, has been large arrivals of English cattle hair, which has been quickly put upon the market and sold at such low figures that no withstanding its comparative inferiority, other styles had to follow. We quote nominally at 30 for cattle; 35 for mixed; and 40c. per bushel for goat.

LATH.—The arrivals have continued quite moderate up to the close of this report, and the market consequently has shown very little animation. Notwithstanding the small aggregate of supply, however, it has been found more than sufficient for the demand, and prices are not well supported. The general asking rate is $3.00 per M, and with the hope of forcing buyers up to this figure, receivers have detained vessels two or three days longer than usual, holding their cargoes out of market; but without success, the prices finally accepted running from $2.85 down to $2.75, according to quantity, delivery, &c., no idea of piling up stock being entertained in the present position of affairs. The fact is, most of our city dealers hold very fair supplies, and owing to the greatly reduced consumptive demand are not willing to burden themselves with more stock than they can probably find an early resale for, particularly as many now are operating at a loss on purchases made early in the season. The amount of lath coming down the coast is not large, and some receivers report only a few odds and ends due until the new production is ready for market. Sales for the week of some $65,000 at $2.75 to $2.7½ per M, and these may still be called the nominal figures at the close, with job lots from yard in proportion.

LIME.—There has not been a very heavy supply, nor a very heavy demand since our last, and the receipts and sales about balancing each other, the market has remained comparatively steady. There is a few out of town orders dropping in occasionally, and easily filled, and the balance of the supply goes mostly into the hands of city dealers, who take the stock more for the sake of preventing an undue accumulation, than for any use they have for it; as the distributive demand is unusually light and uncertain. Common has ruled steady at $1.25 per bbl., a pretty low figure, all things considered, and lump has shown some little irregularity, though at the late reduction to $1.75 per bbl. of dealers feel firm, and we now quote at $1.75 per bbl. At this season lump generally begins to find pretty free buyers, but they are not at hand this year, and the stock footing up comparatively liberal, the decline was submitted to. The kilns are still burning slowly, and the production is small, but the manufacturers are prepared to turn out larger amounts of stock whenever they think the condition of the market will warrant it. The amount on route is said to be small. During the week ending with this report, seven cargoes have arrived. The Northern limes continue to sell slowly with no change in price or the general features from last week, unless it be a modification on lump in sympathy with Rockland.

LUMBER.—Here and there throughout the city the retail trade from yard is reported as good, and in a few instances dealers are quite busy, giving a pretty healthy tone to the market for the time being. Still there is a want of snap and vim to the manner in which buyers are operating, and a disposition to confine purchases to just such lots as will answer immediate and positive wants, and this induces the belief among many that the anticipations of an active spring and an early summer trade cannot be fully realized. Building operations will be carried on to a certain extent undoubtedly, but it is simply useless to longer question the fact that the preparations for the improvement of real estate in this city are thus far very decidedly below last year, and contractors generally do not predict more than a moderate degree of activity at any time during the season. With this in view, therefore, and the probable effect upon the manufacturing interest of the prevailing general commercial depression and stagnation, our more cautious dealers are not allowing themselves to be led astray, by the success of the past two or three years, to the extent of over-estimating the present season's trade, but are so arranging matters that while they can meet any ordinary demand, they will also be prepared for a light run of business. In a few cases we have heard of out-of-town orders, but the main inquiry at present proceeds from local sources, for manufacturing use, finishing up buildings, repairs, &c. Prices, in most cases, rule quite steady, and we find no occasion to alter our quotations, though higher figures could probably be obtained in some cases were there any goods here to offer, such as spruce boards, &c. Clear pine is a little dull, but confidently held, owing to prospective moderate production. Black walnut is not very active at present, and is somewhat unsettled. Those who hold stock are stiff in their views, and seem fully confident of continued high rates, while others, who are without much desirable stock, talk a little "bearish," and call current values too high, both here and at the West. We do not venture an opinion ourselves, but simply state that just now it would be rather difficult to either buy or sell any very large quantity, unless the party soliciting business should offer some concession. We learn of nothing very interesting from Albany, the flood having prevented shipments, and generally interfered with business, though there is scarcely any stock there to attract buyers. Hemlock joist, spruce boards, and 1-4 inch plank are all sold out, and the balance of the reduced supply is so divided up that our dealers want nothing except an occasional small parcel to fill a particular or pressing order. In our wholesale market we do not learn of any unusual activity, though with larger supplies the aggregate of trade has been somewhat increased, as buyers, though operating a little indifferently, are still numerous enough to exhaust all that comes in. As before, the demand proceeds mainly from local dealers, but none are taking stock that cannot be used at an early day, the continued weak tone to prices and the approach of the season when receipts must naturally increase, rendering light purchases the safest, if not the most profitable. There also appears to be an increasing want of confidence in the future, very few contracts now being entered into, while on some of the engagements made two or three weeks ago for June, July, and August, buyers would now very gladly be released. The export demand is fair, and when shippers find stock suited to their wants they pay full figures. For hard woods, &c., peculiarly adapted to the European markets, there has during the week been rather more demand, owing to the greatly reduced freight charges current and the higher rate of gold. Eastern spruce has come forward pretty freely for the season, and all sold out, but receivers complain of the difficulties encountered in hunting up buyers, and the rather unsatisfactory condition of the market generally. There is no accumulation of stock nor likely to be for several weeks to come, but buyers having given up the eager manner of operating noticeable at the commencement of the season, extreme prices are not sustained, and quote a slight decline. Nothing now coming forward, or in fact any ordinary specification could be made to greatly exceed $23.00, and from this sales have been made down to $21.00 per M. Should a full cargo of 24@25 feet sticks be offered (rather an improbable idea, we acknowledge) it would undoubtedly sell at $24.00 or even $25.00, but nothing else could be made to reach those figures just now. White pine is selling to a very fair extent, though the market is not by any means active, and values a little unsettled, still, in view of the firmness at the mills, dealers refuse to name any concession from previous figures. There is some demand from shippers for small lots to fill out on cargoes. We quote at $22.00@26.00 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $27.00@31.00 for good do., with selections at higher figures. Piling is still quite dull and most of the recent arrivals have either been rafted or sent to other points for a market. Prices weak, at about 6½¢@7½¢ for common to prime, and choice Shnlee sticks about 8¢ per foot. Pickets are still quoted nominally at $3.50@39.00 per M, apparently low figures, but even at the rates above given buyers are rather the exception than the rule. Yellow pine has been comparatively scarce on the spot, but there is a little offering to arrive, and the moderate demand is pretty well met. Prices show no variation worthy of note, and may be called steady at $30.00@33.00 for timber, and $33.00@35.00 for flooring boards. Black walnut logs are quoted as before, and continue to sell rather slowly, though of late shippers have been looking into the market. We should say about 7¢@7½¢ per foot. Eastern shingles continue dull at $4.50 per M for No. 1, and this reduction having failed to stimulate buyers a portion of the stock is being piled out. Southern shingles also dull at $16.00@18.00 for cypress.

We also notice shipments of seven spars, valued at $280, to New Granada; to Liverpool 12,000 staves; to Bremen 11,940 do.; to Rotterdam 17,000 do.; to London 18,000 do.; to Glasgow 2,400 do.; to Gibraltar 6,000 do.; to Cadiz 6,000 do. Receipts as follows: From Shnlee, N. S., 400 pieces piling; from St. John, N. B., 54,582 feet pine boards; from St. George's, N. B., 95,280 feet deals, 118,000 laths; and from Maine coast, fourteen cargoes lumber, and three do. piling.

Business at the west is still very fair, but is fully met by the supplies, and prices though reported about as before are not remarkably well supported, except on the choice grades. Recent sales have been made at Chicago as follows: 125,000 ft. Dressed and Matched Flooring, at $26; 6,000 ft. Siding, at $14; 60,000 ft. Rough Flooring, at $26; 12,000 ft. Clear Flooring, at $36; about 170,000 ft. Mixed coarse at $11.50. 155,000 ft. 2½ Boards, balance Mixed at $14; 50,000 ft. common, ½ Strips, balance Boards, at $13.25.

From Minskogon, 90,000 ft. Largely Strips, balance mostly Boards, at $16; 51,000 pcs Lath at $2.25.

Advices from the pines on the upper Mississippi show a delay in the drive of logs, the snow disappearing under warm days, while cold nights check the wished for rising of the rivers. On the Black river and the Chippewa, as well as the upper Mississippi, driving crews have been on the head waters of those streams for three weeks, and not able to do a day's work.

The Editor of the Elmira Advertiser has been on a visit to Williamsport, Pennsylvania, and written up an account thereof. After giving the location of the place and referring to its general mercantile prosperity, he says:

"But the great item of Williamsport business is Lumber. In this it stands unequalled and unrivalled by any place in the United States except Saginaw in Michigan."

This is followed by a description of a "boom" and the manner in which it is used to catch logs, and then the annexed appears:

The capacity of these Booms is estimated for two hundred million feet of lumber. The number of men employed is about one hundred during nine months of the year. The charge for boomage is $1.25 per thousand feet, giving on the amount run through the booms about $250,000 per annum. The logs which find their way to these booms are cut from the immense and almost limitless forests of pine which abound on the upper waters of the West Branch and its tributaries. Pine Creek, Kettle Creek and the Sinnemahoning contribute a very large portion of the whole amount. It is estimated that these forests will continue to furnish their annual supply of logs, at the rate they are now being cut, for at least fifty years to come. So it will be seen there is no present danger of the great staple of Williamsport trade being brought to grief. The estimated amount of lumber to be manufactured the present season is two hundred and twenty-five million feet, and in this work about forty saw mills are employed.

Amongst the largest of these mills are those of Wm. E. Dodge & Co., with a capacity of 25,000,000 feet a year; White, Lentz & White, and P. Herdic & Co., each 12,000,000 feet; F. Coleman, and Reading, Fisher & Co., each 10,000,000; Philbert & Otto, Brown, Early & Co., and Colton & Canfield, each 8,000,000. There are also some thirteen planing mills in the city. In addition to the logs which are boomed and sawed at the mills, there are about two thousand rafts which annually float down the stream, averaging six thousand cubic feet each of timber. The number of men who are employed in this lumber interest is estimated at about two thousand, and the value of the lumber manufactured will reach at least five millions of dollars annually.

There is a movement to do away with the export duty on Canadian timber, and referring to the subject, the Toronto Leader says: "We are glad to see that a committee of the House of Commons has been appointed to take into consideration the workings of the present export duty on saw-logs, shingle bolts and some other articles of this character. Mr. Rose, who is in a special manner intrusted with the care of the finances, and who is particularly concerned in not losing any revenue which may be properly retained, offered no opposition to the appointment of the committee but rather the contrary. He said that representations had been made to the government that the duty fell mainly upon one section of the country and was oppressively felt in that locality."

"We have on several occasions, endeavored to show how utterly indefensible this impost is. Imposed with a view to benefiting the mill-owners it has, for many reasons which we need not enumerate afresh, failed to accomplish even this end. It has proved a great drag upon an important local industry, throwing many persons out of employment, and periodically affecting the whole immediate country."

The subject, now that it has got to a special committee, may be safely left in their hands. They will, no doubt, thoroughly investigate it; and we feel satisfied they can come to no other conclusion than that the export duty complained of is unjust and discriminates against our own people in favor of the lumbermen of Michigan and Western New York. And if the committee should make such a report, Mr. Rose will find it expedient to remove the export duty from the tariff, and remit the lumber trade of Norfolk to the position in which it stood prior to the session of 1865. So improper a tax ought never to have been imposed.

We have nothing of interest from the Eastward this week, a large proportion of the old stock having been shipped off, and the number of mills running not giving supplies enough to cause any activity. Freshets prevail quite generally, and considerable attention is now necessary in order to secure logs.

At the South the feeling is quite steady, and trade fair, but the offerings of desirable stock continue light, and in some instances it has been found very difficult to complete vessels' assortments. Common lumber and timber, however, are pretty dull, and values rather depressed. The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@23 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed $7.50@8.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00, mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.

Flooring, 1½x4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.

" dressed, 25 to 27 " "

Ceiling, ¾, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.

Planks, 1½x10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.

" 1½x2 " " 15 to 17 "

Scantling, 2x4 to 5x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 50 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.

90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—Copper Sheathing, in a jobbing way, is very fairly active, and quite a respectable aggregate of stock daily goes into consumption. Prices are unchanged, but are firm, owing in a great measure to the buoyancy on ingot. Stocks on hand are pretty liberal, but for the present are not being very rapidly increased. We quote at 33¢, @ 35¢ for new, and 22¢@23¢ for old, according to quality. Yellow metal steady, and in pretty good request at 27¢. Ingot copper on the spot meets with very little demand, manufacturers finding no inducements to purchase, but speculative operations for future delivery are still quite liberal, and higher prices current. We quote at 23½¢@24½¢, the latter rate for Baltimore. Scotch pig iron is selling with as much freedom as the moderate supply will admit of, and the lots going from yard all command full former figures without difficulty. A few pretty large parcels could be sold, but dealers, as a rule, do not appear very anxious to obtain a liberal supply. We quote at $41 @ 45 per ton, according to brand, quantity, &c. American pig iron is firm, and the offerings moderate, with no very heavy orders coming in, but a slow, steady increase of business. For really choice and prime brands, in small lots, there has at times been quite a sharp call, and a few sales were made in excess of our figures. We quote at $40@42 per ton for No. 1; $38@40 do. for No. 2; and $27@28 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is still quite dull, even the ordinary job lots being rather neglected, and prices remain about as before, though merely nominal. We quote at $85.00 @ $87.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00 @ $92.00 for refined do.; $140.00 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50 @ $122.50 do. for ovals and half round; $120.00 @ $150.00 for scroli, and $97.50 @ $155.00 for rods, 5-8 @ 3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron is without new features of importance, the general demand running light and only for retail parcels, with about former prices realized. We quote at 5½ @ 6½ c. for singles, d-ables, and trebles. Galvanized sheet in moderate request at 25 per cent. off list rates. Russia sheet is steady and in fair request on the fine and choice grades, but otherwise the market has an unsettled tone, and buyers appear to have the advantage. We quote at 11½ @ 13c. gold, assorted sizes. Pig lead shows no improvement from the dull condition last noted, and values begin to have an unsettled tone. Lots from store are held at about former figures, but parcels from wharf can frequently be bought at a decline. We quote nominally at 6½ @ 6¾ c. for common to choice. Bar lead 10½ c.; sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin has been less active, dealers becoming supplied, and the foreign markets showing too much irregularity to warrant speculation, and the sales now making are only in a jobbing way. We quote in coin at 31½ @ 31¾ c. for English; 33c. @ 33½ c. for Straits; and 36c. for Banca. Tin plates in very good request and steady on all sizes. Stocks ample. Zinc is plenty and dull at not more than about 12c. @ 12½ c. for job lots from store.

NAILS.—Cut nails have not sold with much freedom either on domestic or foreign account, and the dealers complain of a little dullness, but in most cases full former rates are insisted upon, and the market may be called quite steady. Manufacturers are producing to a fair extent and stocks accumulate, but cannot be sold materially lower in view of the continued high cost of the crude supplies. We quote at 4½ c. @ 5c. in a wholesale way and the usual increase on job parcels. Clinch firm, but not selling with much freedom. We quote at 6½ c. @ 6¾ c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5½ c. @ 5¾ c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½ c. @ 5¾ c. for 5d., and 5½ c. @ 6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 40c. @ 42c. for copper. The exports are 182 packages, valued at $1,646, against 163 packages valued at $1,175 same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 50 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market has quieted down somewhat since our last, though in odd parcels there is still a considerable amount of stock changing hands, and in most cases full former prices are realized. Exporters have taken more than usual, and both city and country jobbers still find it necessary to add to their supplies, though assortments in most cases are fair in retailers' hands. The local consumptive demand just now is quite active, and a general distribution of goods is taking place. The stocks in first hands, though not exactly large, are in excess of last season and seem likely to prove sufficient for all calls. Glues are dull and values nominally unchanged. For linseed oil in large parcels there has not been much inquiry, but in a small way to the regular trade we have to record an active business and steadily improving rates, the market at the present writing showing much strength and crushers not over anxious to operate. Very few outside lots are offering. We quote from crushers' hands at $1.01 @ $1.04 in casks, and $1.03 @ $1.06 in bbls. with retail lots in proportion. We note exports of 218 packages paint valued at $2009; 454 gallons linseed oil, value $239, and 300 bbls. oxide zinc valued $3611.

PITCH.—The rather dull tone current at the date of our last report has continued throughout the greater portion of the present week, and the market is devoid of exciting or interesting features. Nearly all classes of buyers appear to have withdrawn, except in a jobbing way, and the supplies rather increase. Prices remain about as before, with such advantages allowed desirable customers as will be likely to insure sales.

We quote at $3.00 @ 3.12½ for city; $2.75 @ $3.25 for southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store $3.37½ @ $3.50 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 23 bbls. Exports for the week none. Since January 1st, 1,666 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,316.

PLASTER PARIS.—No additional contracts have been made for lump, and the principal business now is the receipt and distribution of those cargoes already engaged. Manufacturers obtain a fair share, as much at least as they require for the present, and the balance is being taken largely for land plaster. Prices $1.50 @ $4.75 per ton. Receipts of lump for the week 500 tons. Calced is in very good demand, considering the general dull state of trade, and for first-class city brands pretty steady at $2.50 in a small way and more liberal terms for larger purchases according to circumstances. Quite a number of poorer lots of country made (mostly from up river) have lately been upon the market and sold low, bringing in most cases about $2.25 per bbl.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The demand has been fair on home account, with a few parcels taken for export, but aside from one or two temporary reactions, prices have steadily worked off to a lower range, and at the close of this report are still quite unsettled. The new crop is now commencing to come forward with considerable freedom; the accumulated stock here is quite large, embracing some 3,900 bbls., and with the ordinary outlets, taking less than the average, holders are a little anxious to realize. We quote at 46c. @ 47c. for merchantable and shipping order; 49c. for New York bbls.; and 47½ @ 48½ c. for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,597 bbls. Exports for week 100 bbls.; since January 1st, 1,955 bbls., and for same period last year 3,640 bbls.

STONE.—Most of the blue stone dealers report a good steady demand, and a market for about all the stock they got out of quarry, but trade feels the effects of the dullness in other materials and there is less anxiety on the part of buyers than during the early portion of the season. This is particularly the case with the local trade, the coastwise shipping demand keeping pretty well up to the ordinary average. Free stone, brown stone, &c., are also dull, and for the present, receipts are small from all points.

TAR.—The home demand has been fair, but in the main for small job parcels for country shipment. Immediately following our last, exporters appeared rather inclined to withdraw, but a sudden heavy decline in foreign freight charges induced them to continue operations, and the purchases on this account have again been liberal. Prices however, aside from a natural strengthening upon the most desirable grades show no alteration, and previous figures are continued. This is in a great measure to be attributed to very free supplies, for, notwithstanding the unusually heavy exports of late, the stock in yard still amounts to some 18,000 bbls., nearly four times the amount on hand last year at the corresponding period, and about 8,000 bbls. in excess of 1867. We quote at $2.50 @ $2.75 per bbl. for North County as it runs; $3.25 @ $3.50 for Wilmington do.; $3.50 @ $3.75 for rope; and occasionally $4.00 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 5,242 bbls. Exports for week 2,122 bbls.; since January 1st, 17,633 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,046 bbls.

REAL ESTATE RECORD

AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. III. No. 9.]

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1869.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY

C. W. SWEET & CO.,

106 BROADWAY, COR. OF PINE STREET.
TERMS.

Six months, payable in advance.....$3 00
One year in advance..... 6 00

THE real estate interest of New York city and Brooklyn, at a low estimate, will aggregate a money-value of $2,500,000,000, and to what extent this may increase within the next twenty years, no man can venture to predict. What, with the Atlantic and Pacific coasts united with ropes of iron, with San Francisco within eight days, and China within thirty days' journey, with the flood of emigration pouring in upon us at an unprecedented rate, we may safely predict that our resources will be increased within the next decade faster than we have ever yet dreamed of. When we consider that New York is the nucleus and natural centre to which this vast wealth will flow, we may well pause to consider the glorious future which awaits us. Timid people may talk about New York having already discounted the prospects of the Pacific road in the price of her real estate, but the shrewd financiers of Wall Street do not say so by the prices of their railway stock. The present price of real property bears no proportion to New York Central at 182 and Fort Wayne at 156, and many will find that out to their cost after allowing good bargains to slip away from them by their folly in waiting for lower prices.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICK.—Common hard brick continued to come in from all points with great freedom, until the accumulation of stock became so large that many dealers were actually at a loss as to what disposition they should make of their supplies; the demand in the meantime, instead of improving, almost daily showing a marked falling off. A desperate effort was made to hold prices up, but without success, and finally the long anticipated break took place, the market dropping in a very few hours plump $2.00@$.5.00 per M, according to quality. The reduction in value, however, did not appear to draw out any greater number of buyers, and at the present writing the market is just about as dull and uninteresting as we have ever seen it, with most sellers in considerable doubt as to what their goods are really worth. For some of the best styles $12.00@$.12.50 is asked, but it is extremely difficult to realize more than about $11.50 on cargoes, and common lots are offered at $9.50@$.10.00 per M, without finding many customers. In fact, all purchases are still made with as much caution as heretofore, and it is evident that the concessions thus far granted are too small to inspire either consumers or jobbers with enough confidence for operations beyond immediate and actual necessities, particularly as it is well known that manufacturers can sell at much lower figures and still retain a good margin for profit. A large proportion of the recent arrivals have been new-made brick, and though some parcels are quite poor, the general average of quality shows fair, and selections could now be made with greater ease than last week. Such little trade as develops itself is mainly on local account, though a few cargoes have been sent to neighboring cities. The strike of the workmen has been pretty nearly settled, and manufacturers have now nothing to seriously interfere with the production, which we understand is progressing quite steadily. Pale brick have been equally plenty with hard, meet with, if possible, less demand, and have naturally also declined, closing unsettled and nominal at about $7.50 @$.9.00 per M for North River and Jersey. Croton fronts are very dull and in the absence of testing sales, supposed to be worth about $20.00@$.22.00 per M. Philadelphia fronts are selling slowly, and the few lots here being under speculative control, will probably be held at about $50.00 per M until new stock comes forward.

CEMENT.—The coastwise trade in Rosendale cement has been very good during the past week, and there has also been a fair call for shipment to California, which, together have given manufacturers an outlet sufficiently liberal to prevent any great accumulation of supplies. The market, however, has not the same life shown last spring, or even during the early part of the present season, and though $2.00 is still generally asked, buyers begin to look for easier terms. Our local dealers are taking a little, but it is only in such lots as will answer their early wants, the very small city consumptive demand not warranting free purchases. At the mills everything is in good and regular working order, and shipments are made with very little delay. To San Francisco 500 bbls. have been forwarded, and to New Granada 225 bbls.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The market, both wholesale and retail, remains very quiet for all the leading styles of woods, the domestic distributive demand not offering inducements enough for jobbers to stock up very freely, and the margin for export being very small. Importers in most cases ask about former rates, but extremes are seldom reached, and quotations may be looked upon as in a great measure nominal. Supplies, as a rule, are not very large, but there is some accumulation even of the most desirable goods. Most of the cedar recently received is still awaiting a market, the price asked being so high that manufacturers use cheaper substitutes of domestic growth. The exports are 2 1/2 logs cedar, valued at $611, to Liverpool, and 35 logs mahogany, valued at $670, to Gibraltar. The receipts are as follows: From Waiks River, Nic., 111 logs mahogany and cedar; from Belize, Hon., 12 tons lignumvitae, and 4 pcs. boxwood; from Liverpool 2,576 pcs. ebony; from Nassau 10 logs mahogany, and from Havana 59 logs cedar.

GLASS.—The market for window glass shows no improvement since our last, and values are still very uncertain on all sizes and descriptions, though probably the greatest depression is on large sheets. Importers and dealers were at one time somewhat encouraged by the presence of a number of parties from the West, but only in a few instances were purchases made, and then to such a small extent as to have no influence whatever upon the market. The local trade is simply of a jobbing character. On English the discount may be placed at about 85@45 per cent. off; on French 40@55 per cent. off; and on American 50@55 per cent. off.

LABOR.—The first of May was generally understood to be the time when strikes among the mechanics were to take place, but up to the present writing nearly two weeks have elapsed and we learn of no disruption of the amicable relations between employers and employes. Indeed, in two or three instances trades unions have rescinded their resolutions to demand increased pay or a reduction in the hours of labor, and either continued work upon previous terms or commenced the formation of co-operative societies. The predictions in this column during the last three or four weeks are therefore in a measure verified, and we still hold to the opinion that no serious outbreak is to be immediately anticipated, notwithstanding many journals are daily promising strikes innumerable, and in some instances actually urging the workmen on, now by citing grievances which have no actual existence, and again by attempting to prove that a strike is the only means of redress for those who are at variance with their employers. The operative mechanics of this city, however, are evidently beginning to learn a little from experience, and to canvass the situation thoroughly before allowing themselves to be led into making demands, upon the realization of which there is, to say the least, many doubts, and if they have, as we think they have, finally concluded that labor must succumb to the natural law of supply and demand, and cannot be forced to or sustained at a false valuation any more than bricks, cement, or other articles of merchandise, then they are to be congratulated, and should receive the support of every honest employer. Should the bricklayers, plasterers, &c. now attempt to hold out for eight hours, or an increase of wages, the effect would undoubtedly be to completely paralyze an already stagnant business in the building line, whereas if labor is likely to remain at about current figures, high though they be, the cost of material may eventually be reduced sufficiently to infuse greater activity into the improvement of real estate, and thus prevent many workmen from remaining idle during a greater portion of a season when every hour that can be employed in earning funds for the winter is valuable. Even were work plenty this spring, there is no good grounds for asking increased wages, all articles of food and raiment being cheaper, rents certainly no higher, and they might be lower did it not cost something like $5 each per day for the workmen employed in putting houses together. That artisans and laborers frequently have just cause of complaint against employers there is no doubt, but if they will state their troubles openly and freely, and devoid of that tone of dictation which they reprehend if applied to themselves, there is not a respectable boss mason, carpenter, painter, &c., from the Battery to Kingsbridge that will refuse them an equitable adjustment of claims. The journeymen plumbers are forming a Trade Union, having had nothing of the kind in operation for some time. The German wood turners are making some movement towards a slight increase of wages, which now range at $15@$.20 per week. The strike of the brick-makers at Haverstraw has been settled by the men resuming work on old terms, owing in part to the importation of several hundred laborers from Canada. The stone masons of Paterson, N. J., have given up their strike for $5, and gone to work at old rates, $4. The painters are still on strike for $3.50 per day.

LATH.—With the exception probably of increased dullness, we have nothing particularly fresh or interesting to advise in this market. Receivers have not been overburdened with stock, but still they have found the supplies just about as large as they could comfortably take care of or were willing to handle at present, and, at times, it required considerable good management to secure customers. Delivered here nothing has been sold better than $2.75 per M, but out-of-town orders have occasionally been filled at 10@12 1/2 c. per M advance over the above figure. The bulk of our city dealers continue to exhibit great indifference about securing stock, though now and then some one compelled to operate takes a few hundred thousand, but never more than will probably re-sell speedily. We hear rumors that shipments to this point have lately increased, which are not improbable as sawing is now becoming pretty general. At the close the demand is still very moderate, and prices without much strength. Sales of 1, 50,000 at $2.25 for hemlock, and $2.75 per M for spruce.

LIME.—The market remains in much the same position as during the past two or three weeks, and we find no occasion to alter quotations which may be placed at $1.25 for common, and $1.75 for lump. About the only local demand prevailing is a few irregular calls for common, lump being almost entirely neglected even at the recent reduction. The fact is, our city dealers do not find that lime is selling to consumers with any more freedom than other building materials, and having already a stock in store large enough to last for several weeks, at the current volume of business, they naturally feel far from anxious to be continually buying up goods for which there is no resale. Since our last, thirteen cargoes of Rockland have come in, a pretty liberal supply under ruling circumstances, and they have in some instances remained aloof two or three days, while receivers were looking around the country and adjoining cities for buyers. There is still considerable stock on the way, and the kilns continue to work, moderately to be sure, but they are producing nevertheless less, and there is not likely to be a scarcity of lime. We may also look for Northern stock within a day or two via canal, and receivers evidently begin to feel a little anxious as to what disposition can be made of all their consignments.

LUMBER.—A great many odds and ends of stock are selling from yard, on city and near-by country orders, and as a whole, the retail trade may be called fair. The sales and contracts, to be sure, are not by any means up to the usual average for the season, but taking into consideration the general stagnation prevailing among other building materials, we find a number of dealers congratulating themselves that matters are no worse. On local account the stock taken by builders is seldom to commence on fresh operations, but in the main, for repairs and alterations, while the call from manufacturers is for very general use. Supplies naturally are much reduced, the few cargoes coming from up-river affording no great relief, but with the exceptions heretofore noted, the assortment is such that most buyers find about what they want without much difficulty. Prices on pine, spruce, hemlock, &c. remain about as before and are steady. Black walnut is firmly held at full former figures, but is not in very brisk demand from consumers, who, even when they do operate, complain considerably of the rates asked, and insist that dealers' expectations of a large sale for this class of wood during the current season cannot possibly be realized, except upon the very finest grades. In Albany there has been nothing stirring of much interest, the supply available being too small and too poorly assorted to attract any attention, except where dealers found it positively necessary to fill out some small order. We may soon expect a revival, however, as the opening of the canals must bring forward new stock with considerable rapidity, most of the mills having already accumulated quite a little supply awaiting shipment. Our wholesale market continues dull, and not so much for lack of supplies as heretofore, but for want of a demand. The arrivals have not in any one particular case been large, but still there appears to be more stock on sale than there are buyers, and prices generally have a downward turn. As the stagnation in all business circles daily becomes more palpable, buyers are exercising considerable caution, and instead of taking up almost anything in the shape of timber or lumber offering, as was the case a few weeks ago, they are now selecting only such lots as are likely to prove desirable at almost any time, and then want the quantity to be very small. Shippers hold orders for the South American coast, east and west, and are filling them to some extent, but not with the rapidity that would be used were there no prospect of lower prices. Eastern spruce has come in, cargo by cargo, until there has actually been an accumulation of stock, though taken altogether, the aggregate was not large, and everything was ultimately worked off. Still this shows how trade is running, and how very indifferent dealers are becoming, a fact evidently understood by receivers, who have again accepted easier terms, with the feeling continuing quite weak and unsettled as we close. Really good schedules to-day would not bring more than $22.00 per M; average lots of stock have sold at $21.00, and common down to $20.00 per M. Of course there are no contracts making for future delivery, or to arrive, on a falling market, and cargoes are now generally at hand before changing owners. Quite a number of mills are at work, and lately we have had arrivals of new stock, and are given to understand that shipments in this direction are on the increase. White pine continues in very good demand, and being comparatively scarce as yet, holds its own very well, but with the opening of the canals our stocks will probably increase somewhat. The present demand is quite general. We quote at $21.00 @ $26.00 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $27.00 @ $31.00 for good do. Piling continues to meet with only a moderate call, though the supplies are less liberal, and dealers can handle their stocks with greater ease. Prices, however, are still devoid of any great strength, and can only be quoted nominally at about 6 1/2 @ 7 1/2 for the ordinary run of sticks. Pickets are entirely neglected, and prove a source of considerable annoyance to receivers, the majority of whom would probably sell at about $8.50 per M, could customers be found. Yellow pine has been rather more active, the sales mainly to city dealers, but cheap freights, and the previous dull trade have caused some modifications in values, and we now quote at $30.00 @ $33.00 per M for timber and flooring boards, with choice boards at $34.00 per M. At the reduction the tone appears a little more steady. For black walnut logs there has been some inquiry on German account at 7 @ 7 1/2 c. per foot, but the general market is quiet. Eastern shingles still neglected, with sellers at $4.25, and no buyers above $4.00 per M, and very few at that. Southern cypress shingles nominal at $16.00 @ $15.00 per M. Sales of 650,000 feet Eastern spruce at $21.00 @ $22.50 per M; 50,000 feet yellow pine, mainly to arrive at $30.00 @ $33.00 per M; 600 pes. piling at 6 1/2 @ 7 1/2 c.; 100,000 cypress shingles at $17.00; and 100,000 juniper do. at $20.00 per M.

The receipts reported are as follows: From Jacksonville, 959,000 feet lumber; from Charleston, 218,000 do.; from Darien, Ga., 335,000 feet do.; from Savannah, 565,437 feet do.; from Halifax, 5,361 bundles lath; from Musquash, N.B., 560 pieces piling, and 500,000 lath; from the Maine coast, six cargoes lumber, two do. piling; and two do. lath.

At the West there appears to be a continued good trade doing, but at irregular rates, the common grades showing weakness and some decline, but the better qualities a strong tone, with an advancing tendency. Supplies increasing at all points, logs plenty, owing to late freshets, and everything settling into working order for the approaching season. At a recent Chicago market ordinary boards and strips from Grand River sold at $12.00; coarse pine from Grant Haven sold at $12.00, and hemlock at $9.00. Cargoes from this point running mostly strips brought $13.00; bid pickets at $10.00, and square at $12.00. For select narrow boards from Green Bay, $20.00 was the ruling figure. Joist and scantling and short timber, from Manistee, sold at $12.00. Lath at $2.25 per 1,000 afloat.

Messrs. Woolner & Garrick's circular, dated Chicago, May 1st, contains the following:

On the first of April we presented our views in regard to the lumber trade for the coming season, both as to quantity and quality to be expected, and also the probable demand. We were in hopes that by this time the trade would have taken a somewhat definite shape, but owing to the extreme backwardness of this season, such is not the case. The weather, throughout a large portion of the month, was very cold and blustering, and but few ports were open for navigation, so that arrivals were very limited, and the quality of these was of a rather inferior grade. However, sales were effected at prices that might seem to outsiders rather low, but taking into consideration the quality, together with other obstacles to the trade caused by bad weather, we have no right to complain. We are rather of the opinion that the late opening of navigation has been more of a benefit than detriment to the trade, as it has caused the stocks here to be reduced very low and thereby creating a demand for good lumber, which it will take some considerable time to supply. We are more than ever convinced that the receipts for this year will largely exceed those of any former year, the late extended freshet having put to rest the expressed fear that many logs would be kept back in the smaller streams for want of water, but on the other hand we have taken some pains to ascertain how the demand will likely keep pace with the increase, and all fears upon that score are allayed if this natural demand be not checked by the monetary affairs of the country. As yet no real first-class lumber has been offered in the market, so that the prices we quote to-day are no criterion of figures yet to be obtained. The Straits of Mackinaw opened on the 23d of April, but as yet no cargoes from the lower lakes have made their appearance. The total receipts thus far do not come fully up to those of last year, amounting to 44,747,197 feet, compared to 62,697,522 feet last year, whereas the shipments continue to exceed those of the year previous, showing a total of 139,589,045 feet; up to the same time 1868 they were only 96,455,256 feet. The trade from yards has been satisfactory, and especially the demand by canal has been very brisk. The stocks of clear lumber are very much reduced and the chances seem that the upper grades will command a better figure than hitherto, or else seek an eastern market; it is a strange fact that large amounts of lumber, brought here from the eastern coast of Michigan in 1868, have been shipped this spring by rail, as well as vessel, to the markets of Albany, New York, Philadelphia and even Boston, and we have now to report that at several points on Lake Michigan lumber is being sawed with a view of sorting and shipping the uppers east and the common to Chicago. The coming month will more fully develop the wants of the Northwest, and we shall be better able to judge of the probable prosperity of the trade in general.

Since our last an event has taken place here, which we trust will eventually prove of great benefit to every interest connected with the Lumber traffic. A "Lumberman's Exchange" has been organized, under proper charter from the Legislature, so that hereafter more regularity in this vast commerce may be established, and disputes avoided or settled without costly litigation. These changes, of course, cannot be felt at once, but it will be to the interest of every dealer in the city, as well as in the country, to become members of the Exchange, and thereby give it strength. The main object to be reached and corrected will be the inspection and measurement, which hitherto has been carried on in so loose and discreditable manner that it has become discreditable to Chicago. Manufacturers have often sold cargoes by straight measurement, at far less than their actual value, owing to the prevailing fear that incompetent inspectors would injure them even more. Our present rules of inspection are worded more rigid than fairness demands, and the consequence is that Lumber fares worse here than at Saginaw, Albany, or any other point, as but little judgment is used by inspectors. This evil will in time be obviated, and by degrees the control of this matter will be in the hands of a legally appointed body. Whatever immediate steps will be taken by the Exchange, there is no doubt that the very existence of such an organization will have at once a healthful influence upon this important point. Monetary considerations also will have their due influence, as the labor can be performed cheaper, as well as better, if under the control of one central body. The month closed with the arrival of a rather large fleet for the season—some thirty-five vessels having arrived—notwithstanding, the trade was lively, and cargoes were all disposed of at satisfactory prices, according to quality, for lumber.

The Saginaw Enterprise says:

There are no new features in the lumber market, but there is still considerable inquiry, and the lumber is moving out of the river rapidly. Notwithstanding navigation opened several weeks earlier last year than this, the first lumber-laden vessel not clearing till the 19th of April this year, the shipments of April this year are equal to those of last when the first lumber cargo left on the 7th. A number of sales have been reported, 4,000,000 feet, last Friday, at $6, $12, and $35, and on Thursday, 1,000,000 feet at $6, $12, $30, $35, and $40. These are the ruling prices. A cargo of dry lumber was sold from Bay City, for $7, $14, and $38. There is but little, if any, dry lumber for sale on the river. The logs this year will run but a small per cent. of uppers, and an advance may reasonably be expected in this grade. The following is a statement of the shipments from this port for the month of April, 1869, with the shipments for April of last year:

	April 1868.	April 1869.

The shipments during the past two or three days have been particularly active. The shipments Saturday, not included in the above, footed up 2,297,297 feet of lumber, and 756,500 shingles.

A recent St. Louis report contains the following:

"We note an active market, and increased business; receipts largely exceeding those of the previous week. Received one raft of 350,000 feet Chippewa, and sold at $15.50 in the water; 15 canal boats, with 1,500,000 feet on account of goods; by rail nearly 500,000 feet from Chicago; 168,000 lath, and 720,000 shingles; 391,300 feet yellow pine, of which 141,300 were by the Iron Mountain Railroad, the rest by river—a good part destined for Hannibal; 36,000 feet oak; 20,000 feet ash; 135,500 feet poplar; 13,500 feet cypress. Prices continue steady for all kinds of lumber, and, while there is an active movement in pine and walnut, poplar and cypress are in good request; ash, oak and sycamore are very dull.

At the Eastward affairs appear to have become rather more settled, the number of mills running is daily increasing, and new stock is now turned out with considerable regularity. Manufacturers have modified their views a trifle, but as a rule talk firm, and say that they will suspend shipments if prices at New York fall off to a much greater extent.

METALS.—For copper sheathing the general demand from consumers is fair and dealers report a steady market, though we hear of a few complaints, of a reduction in business as compared with last year, or even six months ago. The supply is good and well distributed. We quote at 33¢ @ 35¢ for n-w and 22¢ @ 23¢ for old, according to quantity. Yellow metal is steady and moderately active at 27¢. Ingot copper has become dull owing to the suspension of speculative movements and the continued indifference of manufacturers. Prices show no decided alteration, but are a little unsettled. We quote somewhat nominally at 23 1/2¢ @ 24 1/2¢. Scotch pig iron continues in demand, the supply moderate and prices fully supported on all brands, the advance in gold adding strength to the market. Importers do not offer goods to arrive with much freedom, and most of the purchases are still made from such parcels as may be in yard. We quote at $41.00 @ $45.00 per ton. American pig iron is also sought after to a fair extent and values hold their own, dealers gaining additional confidence in consequence of the recent strikes of workmen in the coal regions. We quote at $40 @ $42 per ton for No. 1; $38 @ $40 do for No. 2, and $37 @ $38 for large. Bar iron from store unchanged, in fact the business is too light to have any effect upon the market one way or the other.

We quote at $55.00 @ $57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00 @ $92.00 for refined do; $140.00 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50 @ $122.50 do. for ovals and half round; $120.00 @ $150.00 for scroll, and $97.50 @ $155.00 for rods, 5-8 @ 3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron remains quiet, the principal call running on small job lots as wanted for immediate use, and former prices are obtained. We quote at 5 1/2 @ 6 1/2 for singles, doubles, and triples. Galvanized sheet dull at 25 per cent off best rates. Russia sheet is steady but quiet, and the supply slightly increased. We quote at 11 1/2 @ 13 1/2 c. gold, assorted sizes. The imports of foreign iron at this port since January 1st to May 1st were about 550 tons bar, 15,225 tons pig, and 11,450 bundles sheet, showing a very decided increase over the corresponding period last year. Pig lead is still unsettled in price and quite dull, the sales even in the ordinary jobbing way footing up very small for the week, and we quote nominally at 6 1/2 @ 6 1/2 c. The receipts from the first of the year foot up about 175,000 pigs. Bar lead 10 1/2 c. Sheet and pipe 12 c. less 6 per cent, to the trade. Pig tin continued dull for a day or two, but latterly the demand has again improved somewhat, and at the present writing the market shows a comparatively steady tone. We quote in coin at 31 @ 31 1/2 for English; 32 @ 32 1/2 for Straits; and 35 @ 35 1/2 for Banca. Tin plates have been more active at reduced values in coin but the higher premium on gold keeps the currency rates at about our former figures. The imports of tin since January 1st embrace 24,000 pigs, and 307,000 boxes peates. Zinc in very light demand and prices unsettled at about 12 @ 12 1/2 c. from store.

NAILS.—The market for cut nails certainly shows no improvement, and it would hardly be proper to quote any decline, though it is quite evident that sellers are more anxious to operate than buyers, and a large order could probably be filled on comparatively easy terms. The demand, such as it is, comes in part from exporters, but mainly from coastwise dealers. The local demand amounts to nothing at the moment. We quote at 4 1/2 @ 5 c. in wholesale way and the usual increase on job parcels. Clinch are dull and heavy at about 6 1/2 @ 6 3/4 c. small lots 6 1/2 c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5 1/2 c @ 5 3/4 c. for 6d., sd., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/4 c @ 5 1/2 c. for 5d., and 5 1/4 c @ 6 c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 15c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 40c @ 42c. for copper. The exports are 235 packages, valued at $1,542, against 182 packages valued at $1,646 same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco, 2145 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The local demand from consumers continues active, and dealers in the interior report a very good distributive trade, but all agree that business is much less than last season, and as jobbers generally have a pretty fair assortment of goods on hand, the wholesale market moves rather slowly. In small lots there is some stock going into the hands of exporters for the West Indies, and a fair amount of coastwise orders are at hand, with some call for California. Stocks hold out well, except on Paris white, of which most dealers are temporarily short. Ghes plenty and dull. Linseed oil in crushers' hands is firm, and desirable goods cannot be bought any easier than last week, but outsiders have again commenced underselling, and in some cases have accepted as low as 98c. giving the market an irregular tone. The general demand has been fair, including quite a number of small orders on Western account. We quote regular parcels from crushers' hands at $1.02 @ $1.05 in casks, and $1.04 @ $1.06 in bbls. with retail sales in proportion. We note exports of 286 pkgs. paint, value $3,005; 41 gallons linseed oil, value $45, and 35 bbls. oxide zinc, valued at $500.

PITCH.—The market is without new features of interest. Shippers are doing nothing at present, and the home trade find their wants too small to warrant anything beyond ordinary jobbing purchases, causing a slow dragging business. Dealers generally are asking about former figures, though not refusing to modify their views somewhat in order to effect sales easily. We quote at $3.00 @ $3.12 1/2 for city; $2.75 @ $3.25 for southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store $3.37 1/2 @ $3.50 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 16 bbls. Exports for the week none. Since January 1st, 1,666 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,342.

PLASTER PARIS.—The market for lump remains about as previously noted. Dealers will contract for white at about $4.50 @ $4.75 per ton, but are generally complaining of a great scarcity of orders, while for blue there has as yet been no call whatever. Local manufacturers appear to have entirely withdrawn, and buyers are looked for at other points, up the North River, &c. Receipts for week 2,534 tons. Calced continues fairly active on shipping orders, but the city trade at present does not amount to much. Prices about as before, and may be quoted at $2.25 for country, and $2.40 @ $2.50 per bbl. for city.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—The local trade does not improve as expected, or as is usual at this season, and dealers begin to give up hopes of anything like the aggregate business transacted last year on city account. Western orders are also very small, a great many buyers recently in town from that section returning home without taking even jobbing parcels. From the South, however, there is a fair inquiry, and the market has also obtained considerable relief from liberal shipments recently made to San Francisco. Prices on nearly all the leading styles of manufactured goods, particularly brass and copper, remain quite firm. There has of late been some irregularity in iron gas pipes, and there is an intimation that a change will soon be made, though as yet the discount remains at 40 per cent. On 2 inch to 12 inch waste pipe, sinks and fittings, the discount is 20 per cent. Lead pipe and sheet 12c. less 6 per cent. Solder is rather buoyant, owing to the continued high price of tin, but prices at the moment are somewhat unsettled. No. 2 about 24c. @ 26c., and No. 1 25c. @ 27c., according to quantity, etc.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The market has been quite irregular throughout the week under review, and the demand moderate, consumers taking in small lots, the bulk of the stock changing hands. The advanced premium on gold has been taken advantage of by sellers to support prices with partial success, but still there is a dropping off from the extremes last given, and an apparent want of natural strength. We learn of no speculative feeling comparing the receipts with the shipments, and the sales on home account, the stock in yard is reduced somewhat, but still remains large enough for all present wants. We quote at 45 1/2 c @ 46 c. for merchantable and shipping order; 46 1/2 c @ 47 c. for New York bbls.; and 47 c @ 48 c. for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,037 bbls. Exports for week 1846 bbls.; since January 1st, 3,804 bbls., and for same period last year, 3,665 bbls.

TAR.—Deducting the amount coming in on contract, the supplies have been quite small during the past week, and with a continued brisk demand prices remain firm, particularly on desirable stock, such as Wilmington thick, and rope, of which there is at the moment an actual scarcity. Common grades show a pretty good stock in yard, but feel the effect of the firmness on the upper qualities. The home trade calls for a number of small parcels from dray, but the principal buyers are exporters, who, notwithstanding the advance in freights, are still enabled to operate with a fair margin for profit. We quote at $2.60 @ $3.00 per bbl. for North Carolina as it runs; $3.25 @ $3.65 for Wilmington do.; $3.75 @ $3.85 for rope; and occasionally $4.00 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 1,025 bbls. Exports for week 4,616 bbls.; since January 1st, 22,240 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,073 bbls.

JUST at this time of the year, the transfers, judgments, and other statistical matters are so heavy, that we are compelled to yield up all of our space to this stern array. After this week we will have more room for real-estate gossip and items generally, including all about streets.

GOLD, railway stocks, government bonds, all seem to be on the upward turn, and we may not unreasonably expect that very soon real estate will take another jump, very much to the surprise, of course, of those who are waiting to buy at still lower figures.

THE Hon. Henry Wilson has a good hobby to ride on the eight-hour question, and his skill is certainly to be admired, judging from the number of times he has felt himself to be called on to expatiate on the magnificent system of how to get the most money by doing the least amount of work. Henry hopes to ride into the Presidential chair on this, when he will carry out the idea still further by suggesting to Congress that it would be still better for the interests of the country if government employes were to work only one hour a day, say from twelve to one,—the time of the blowing of the horn.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE market for city property is still characterized by the dulness which has prevailed for the last two months, and transactions are very few and far between. The principal buyers are the long heads of the business, who have made the study of real estate the business of their life, and they are quietly picking up all the good bargains that are offered. At no time for years has real estate been held as firmly as at present, and very little is now owned on speculative account. There is some little difficulty at present in procuring loans on real estate, but a plan will shortly be introduced whereby loans may be obtained with the same facilities which are now granted only to government bonds and active speculative securities.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICK.—Prices on common hard have been still further modified, and the general market continues in rather a dull and unsettled condition. The reduction in values, to be sure, has drawn in quite a number of local consumers and gives trade at times a slightly increased air of activity, but there is in reality no particular increase in the demand, as nearly all the above class of buyers have been in want of stock for some time, and were simply holding off for the drop in price which was generally acknowledged to be inevitable for a long time before it took place. The average decline thus far has been about $5.50 per M from the highest point, and the tendency is still downwards, it being quite evident that values have not yet the level calculated to inspire enough confidence for a renewal of anything like liberal building operations. Luckily for the selling interest the supplies have come forward with less freedom of late, and by good management and some little trouble most of the cargoes were taken care of. The stock, however, is at the yards up the river, and with the fifty or sixty new producers commencing this season, there does not seem to be much danger of any scarcity, even should the consumptive demand unexpectedly increase to even the dimensions of last year. The manufacturers are now pretty much all at work, or prepared to commence operations at any moment, the only complaint arising from the strikes of the laborers. Dealers here, however, begin to notice as a peculiar coincidence, that whenever bricks decline heavily, and frequently when merely a little weakness is shown, a strike is almost sure to be reported, and in some instances it is hinted that employers postpone a settlement of the difficulties with workmen, in hopes of strengthening the market for their production, the natural result of the stoppage of production being to create a speculative feeling. We quote at $8.50@9.00 for Jersey hards; $8.00@10.00 for North River do; $10.50@11.00 do. for very choice do. Pale brick continue very dull, the stock is large at all points and prices have again declined $2.00 per M, closing without much general strength at about $5.50@7.00 per M. In some cases inferior lots of hard and pale have sold below our figures, but the average of quality is pretty fair and all merchantable stock comes within the above range. Croton fronts are dull, and no new crop as yet coming on the market, prices somewhat nominal. Philadelphia fronts scarce, and without fixed value, the market awaiting arrivals from stock now in course of manufacture. To Central America 7,000 brick were exported.

CEMENT.—Rosendale is reported fairly active by the majority of the agents, and prices steady at $2.00 delivered here, and $1.90 delivered at Rondout. The orders on local account, however, are unusually small, and never in excess of the immediate wants of buyers, as the distributive trade if anything is reduced to smaller compass than heretofore, and shows no signs of a very early improvement. The Eastern coastwise demand appears to be partially supplied, but there is still quite a number of lots loading and en route for the Southern coast, with a fair call from the New Jersey towns, and further shipments to California. The production continues without much abatement, though with one or two exceptions the companies do not find it necessary to use extraordinary expedients in getting stock ready for market. Shipments of 1,000 bbls. to San Francisco.

FIRE BRICK.—There is no business whatever doing in this market beyond a few thousand occasionally sold on a shipping order, and manufacturers in some instances report that they are not paying expenses. Stocks at all points are ample and well assorted, and were buyers inclined to operate they would find selections easily made. Prices, however, do not decline, labor and material costing fully as much as heretofore, and coal having an upward tendency. We quote at about $50@55 for No. 1 arch wedge and key; and $40@45 per M for No. 2 split and soap, all delivered. For foreign styles there is a very good demand and prices firm, particularly since the advance in gold. We quote Starbridge at $80@85 per M; Leemoor at $80 do.; Welch $65@70 do.

FOREIGN WOODS.—We learn of a few fair sales in nearly all styles except cedar, but the general wholesale market lacks animation, and dealers do not appear particularly well pleased with the situation. The receipts are moderate, but fully equal the demand, and undesirable goods have in some instances accumulated to an uncomfortable extent, though as yet holders have not thought it advisable to offer any material concessions for the mere sake of working off stock. The greatest number of buyers are to be found among our domestic retail dealers, with, however, an occasional call from exporters, who, though finding nothing very encouraging in the foreign advices, can so arrange freight charges and exchange as to leave a small margin for profit. Choice cedar is still held at figures above the views of buyers, and some stock is now piled up awaiting customers, but, as a rule, importers appear quite firm and indifferent about operating, owing to the continued unsettled state of affairs in Cuba. The retail trade is quite moderate, and manufacturers talk of still further reducing their purchases. The exports are 112 pes. lignumvitæ, valued at $180, to Liverpool; and 114 logs mahogany, valued at $6,000, to London. The receipts as follows: From Bahia 743 pes. rosewood; from Rio Janeiro 457 pes. do.; from Minatitlan 120 logs mahogany, 147 logs cedar, and a lot of log ends; from Nassau 5 logs mahogany; from Para 28 logs cedar; and from Havana 110 logs do.

GLASS.—All our applications to importers and dealers for information are met with the one response "nothing new." Trade has come to an almost complete stand still for all sizes, and though the arrivals at present are comparatively light there is an accumulation here large enough to supply a good steady call for several weeks, while the assortment is such that the most fastidious buyer could undoubtedly make selections without difficulty. Such small sales as are occasionally effected go to supply interior or dealers, local jobbers taking simply nothing, in view of the daily decreasing consumptive inquiry, and the fair stocks they still hold from purchases early in the season. The nominal discounts are 35@45 per cent. on American, but 40@55 per cent. on French, and 50@55 on English; 40 when business can be accelerated thereby more liberal terms are frequently allowed. The latest imports are 11,518 packages glass, valued at $26,255; and 182 glass plate, at $26,643.

HARDWARE.—For all kinds of builders' hardware the demand has been very moderate throughout the past month, and of late has shown a still further falling off, the general market coming to an almost complete stand. On prices no important changes were made, but all quotations are, to a great extent, nominal. The supplies without being excessive are ample for all probable calls.

LATH.—Just before the closing of our last report, in a quiet manner, and immediately after more openly, a further reduction of 25c. per M was made, bringing the price down to $2.50, and at this figure the business has since been pretty much all conducted, with the exception of one forced sale of a rejected lot at $2.25. Early during the week under review the demand was very moderate, and with stocks accumulating quite rapidly receivers found the acceptance of the above decline the only means by which they could sell out cargoes, but of late the reduced value appears to have attracted the attention of buyers to some extent, and with a comparatively fair inquiry the tone is a trifle more steady as we write. Still our dealers are not taking remarkably large quantities and there is a disposition to operate with much caution even at current figures, notwithstanding the threats that manufacturers will suspend the production unless a larger and more remunerative outlet presents itself. At present, however, most of the saws are running, and the shipments are making pretty freely. We learn of one cargo received here being ordered forward to Philadelphia, as affording a larger margin for profit. Our retail trade is not active, but a shade better than last week. Sales of 2,340,000 at $2.50 for spruce, and $2.00@2.10 for hemlock.

LIME.—The general market has continued very dull throughout the week ending with this report, and the few cargoes dropping in from day to day from Rockland, have fully supplied all calls. For common, the largest portion of such demand as there is, prevails, and here prices remain as before at $1.25 per bbl. Lump or finishing lime, however, appears to be out of season, and notwithstanding the reduction in price of 25 c. per bbl., buyers are still few and far between, and the already pretty liberal accumulation daily receive slight additions. The production has been reduced but not suspended, and with easy freights a fair amount is still coming forward. A great many lots are still being sent out of town. Of the Northern limes, there has been nothing coming forward as yet except by rail, but with the canals now in order, stock will soon begin to arrive per barge, &c. The two leading companies are producing to some extent, and have a number of back orders on hand, so that the first arrivals will not come directly upon the market. The decline in bricks is considered a hopeful omen by dealers, as they imagine building operations will increase in consequence. Bricks have not reached bottom yet, however, and lime must wait a little longer.

LUMBER.—The general features of the retail trade remain much the same as during the past two or three weeks, and we have very little of interest to advise. Now and then a dealer is to be found filling an out-of-town order, but generally only on a small scale, and the majority report the demand as still almost entirely from local buyers, who continue to operate to the extent of their immediate wants and no further, while manufacturers, &c., add but little to the aggregate of business by their purchases. On certain styles of goods which have become very desirable by their scarcity, a temporary brisk inquiry might be drawn out were there any stock to meet the market with, but the buyers who are in want of the lumber in question appear content to await an increase of supplies and assortments, and it is doubtful if dealers prepared to supply the demand could gain any other advantage than a quick sale for their offerings. The general stocks in yard all over the city have become reduced to a pretty low figure, particularly of pine, spruce, &c., but relief will probably be obtained at an early day by arrivals of new stuff, now that inland navigation is commencing to settle down to something like regularity. Prices for the present are without alteration, and, as a rule, may be called steady, with dealers generally talking pretty confidently of the future, though a few can be found who look upon the result of the present season's trade as extremely doubtful, to say the least, without, however, predicting any serious breakdown in values. Much will of course depend upon the amount of building operations, and there is now some little anxiety to learn whether the recent modifications in the cost of other materials is likely to induce builders to increase their orders. In the wholesale market there has been rather a dull tone, with no further important changes in price, but it is evident that most goods hold their own with difficulty, and the general tone may be called barely steady on all domestic lumber, though on Canadian production there has been rather more strength, owing to the recent buoyancy in gold. The supplies have not been very liberal, but ample for the call, and unless choice stock was wanted buyers were enabled to supply their necessities without much difficulty. The bulk of the sales have naturally been to the local trade, though the increased premium on gold has drawn a good many exporters into the market, who can now find some little margin for profit by shipping lumber as a means of exchange. Of Eastern spruce the supply has been smaller than last week, but still plenty large enough for the gradually decreasing demand, and the market has shown a decided want of animation throughout. Receivers by careful management have prevented any very material accumulation, but nearly all agree that, to sell a cargo of lumber at the moment requires a large fund of patience and perseverance. Most of our city dealers have very light stocks, some none at all, and they express a determination not to increase their supplies until the cost is modified, and the distributive trade shows some signs of returning animation. Since our last no further important variations have taken place in the general range of prices, and we still quote inferior to good average specifications at $20.00@22.00 per M, with occasionally a lot of extra long stock running up to $23.00. At these figures, however, the market can only be called barely steady, and extremes are seldom reached. Nearly all the mills are now sawing regularly; freight-room is neither scarce nor dear, and it is reasonable to suppose that a gradual increase of the receipts may now be looked for. White pine continues fairly active, probably as much so as the moderate supplies will admit of, and prices are uniformly well sustained. The demand is principally from the home trade, though several small parcels have been taken by exporters. We quote at $21.00@26.00 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; and $27.00@31.00 for good do. Piling has of late been rather scarce, and with some slight increase of the demand the market is a shade stiffer, though without any actual advance, and we still quote at 6½@7½ for ordinary sizes, and 8@8½ for fancy grades, and some of the best shulee sticks are held at 9c. Pickets are very dull, and most of the lots arriving are piled out to await customers, through necessity, though one or two sales have been managed since last week at $8.50. Yellow pine in fair supply, and most of the stock sold easily at former figures. Reports from the South speak of a scarcity of logs, and the stoppage of mills in consequence thereof, but dealers here tell us they have no trouble in getting orders speedily filled, and find vessels plenty enough to bring purchases forward immediately on comparatively easy terms. We quote at $30.00@33.00 per M for timber and flooring boards, with choice $1.00@1.50 higher. Shingles of all kinds dull and nominally unchanged. Sales of 600,000 feet Eastern spruce at $20.50@23.00; 150 pes. piling at 6½@8c.; 200,000 feet yellow pine at $33.00; 115,000 pickets 3-4 inch at $8.50, and small lots extra dressed Southern shingles at $19.00 for cypress, and $27.00 for cedar.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:

We also notice shipments of 20,000 shingles to Hayti; 140 bundles do. to Central America; 2 spars to British North American colonies; 74,400 staves to Antwerp; 12,120 do. to Rotterdam; 9,000 do. to London; 238,440 do. to Cadiz; 6,000 do. to Vigo; 3,000 do. to Cuba; 114,000 do. to Madeira; 6,000 do. to Chili; 13,900 do. and 250 pieces plank to San Francisco. The receipts reported are as follows: From Apalachicola 201,265 feet lumber; from Pensacola 365,000 feet lumber; from New Orleans 10,000 feet lumber, and 208 logs walnut; from Beaufort, N. C., 7,630 shooks and staves; from Wilmington, N. C., 64,125 shingles; 41,600 staves, and 3,000 feet lumber; and from the Maine coast seven cargoes lumber. The Western markets are still in most cases reported active, and values sustained without much difficulty on the upper qualities; old stocks reduced, and new not coming forward as yet with much freedom. Dealers, however, are not as confident as two months ago, owing partly to the large number logs already run, and the probability that the demand will fall off somewhat, particularly from the Eastward, for all grades except first-class. The shipments from the principal depots were liberal, but mainly on purchases made before the opening of navigation. From a recent Chicago report we select the following sales:—45,000 ft. lumber at $14.50 for strips and boards, and $12 for mixed; 170,000 A sawed shingles at $3.50. 70,000 ft. mill run at $14; lath at $2.25; pickets at $10; 136,000 ft. mill run at $16; 120,000 ft. 55 per cent. strips, balance boards, at $15.50; 140,000 ft. coarse mixed at $11.75; 65,000 ft. coarse culls at $8; 20,000 ft. short 6, 8 and 10 ft. timber at $10; 45,000 ft. coarse mixed, at 12; 125,000 ft. common mixed at $13; 85,000 ft. common mixed at $13.12½. Muskegon tally. 560,000 ft. lumber at $15.50; 75,000 ft. lumber, 70 per cent. strips, at $15; boards at $13.25; 2 inch at $12; 110,000 ft. joist and scantling at $12.

A recent report on the St. Louis market says:—There has been no raft lumber on the market. There is now considerable afloat on the upper river, which is finding a ready market, at prices varying very little from last year's rates. We see from our exchanges sales made of Wisconsin afloat at from $17@21; Chippewa at from $16.50@17.50, on the upper river. Advices show a good drive of logs on the upper rivers, and mills have generally started up. The amount of manufactured lumber will probably average a trifle more than last year, but the increasing demand at all points bids fair to consume all that is offered at remunerative rates.

From various Western journals we glean the following:—At Chippewa (Wis.) the log jam reached its greatest size on the 2d, when it was estimated to contain 180,000,000 feet of logs. Considerable progress is being made in getting it out, though if the water goes down as rapidly as it has within two or three days, it must take nearly the whole season.

Oshkosh (Wis.) has thirty-two saw and shingle mill establishments, which consume on an average 5,000,000 feet of logs each during the season, making an aggregate of 160,000,000 feet. The price of logs per 1,000 feet will be about two dollars less than last year.

At Saginaw (Mich.) there was recently sold, to be delivered during the season, 3,500,000 ft. of green lumber at $6, $12, $30, $35, and $40 per M.

The amount of logs cut on the St. Croix river and its tributaries during the winter was as follows:

Beaver Brook.....	13,700,000
Apple River.....	27,750,000
Main St. Croix.....	7,500,000
Kettle River.....	21,000,000
Sand Creek.....	3,000,000
Snake River.....	35,406,000
Yellow River.....	17,750,000
Clam River.....	8,300,000
Wood River.....	6,000,000
Namakagon River.....	26,500,000
Totogatic River.....	20,200,000

Total amount cut on all streams.....190,400,000

The largest "log jam" ever known on Black river, Wisconsin, was formed this spring on an island near Eaton's mill, about eighteen miles north of Neillsville. The jam was three or four miles long, and the amount of logs it contained was estimated by competent judges to be about seventy-five or eighty million feet.

The Eastern markets are steady, and trade very fair. At the mills everything is now reported in pretty good working order, and the production daily increases.

The Southern markets are fairly active, both on foreign and coastwise account, and former prices still current, but business is less driving than two or three weeks ago, and dealers do not appear quite so well satisfied. At some points they are endeavoring to make capital out of a temporary scarcity, logs and the stoppage of a few mills, but all orders are quickly filled when received, even if calling for unusual assortments.

We notice recent exports from Savannah as follows:—To Liverpool 110,322 feet lumber; to London 552,960 feet timber and planks; to Portland (Eng.) 7,541 feet plank, and 202,439 feet timber, 12,369 beam hngs; to Glasgow 820,326 feet timber, and 11,167 feet plank; to Dundee (Scot.) 201,979 feet timber, 41,093 plank; and to Callao 777,000 feet lumber.

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $5@12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@23 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed $15.00@30.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00, mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.

Flooring, 1 1/2 x 4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.

" dressed, 25 to 27 " "

Ceiling, 2, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.

Planks, 1 1/2 x 10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.

" 1 1/2 x 2 " " 15 to 17 " "

Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 80 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.

90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

At Dennisville and other places in New Jersey, a large business is done in raising cedar trees out of marshes in which they were buried many centuries ago. They are covered with peat. The wood raised from these buried forests is as sound as if recently felled, and is mostly made into shingles.

METALS.—Copper sheathing is not very active, the consumptive trade having partially subsided and jobbers finding no inducement to increase their supplies. On the sales making, however, former rates are obtained and manufacturers generally, seem quite firm. We quote at 33@35c. for new, and 22@23c. for old, according to quantity. Yellow metal quiet at 27c. from manufacturers' hands. The dull tone on Ingot copper noted last week still continues, manufacturers holding off and speculators finding no stimulus for operations. Prices are somewhat uncertain, but 24c. may be considered as about the market rates. Scotch pig iron has been in less active demand, but full former prices are supported without any great difficulty, the small amount of goods on hand, and the continued high premium on gold, throwing the advantage entirely on the side of the selling interest. We quote at $41.00@45.00 per ton. American pig iron remains steady, and in a jobbing way a pretty good business is doing, but at the moment, very few large parcels are moving or even inquired after, and the wholesale market shows a dull tone. The supply is fair, or can be increased if necessary. We quote at $43.00@44.00 per ton for No. 1; $38.00@40.00 do. for No. 2, and $37.00@38.00 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is without animation beyond an occasional light sale on local account, prices remaining nominally as before.

We quote at $55.00@57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00@92 for refined do; $140.00 do for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do. for ovals and half round; $120.00@150 for scroll, and $97.50@155.00 for rods, 5-8-3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron is still reported as dull and unchanged, all classes of buyers having apparently withdrawn, except upon positive orders. We quote at 5 1/2@6 1/2c. for singles, doubles, and trebles. Galvanized sheet selling slowly at 25 per cent. off list rates. Russia sheet is in very fair demand, the general tone of the market quite steady, and on some of the choice sizes which are scarce, prices show a trifling improvement. We quote at 11 1/2@13 1/2c. gold, assorted sizes. Pig lead remains at about the previous general range of prices, but the demand is very moderate and the market shows a decidedly dull tone. We quote at about 6 1/2@6 3/4c. nominally. Bar lead 10 1/2c. sheet and pipe 12c. less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin has been very dull, prices are lower and the market exhibits much irregularity. In some cases the large holders refuse to name any concession whatever, while others are selling small lots to jobbers at figures even lower than quoted rates, and for the present it is difficult to arrive at positive values. Nominally, however, we should say about 80c. for English; 81 1/2@82c. for Straits; and 35c. for Banca, all in coin. Tin plates are in good, steady demand, and prices sustained on all sizes. Zinc is plenty, and dull, but comparatively steady at 12c.@12 1/2c. from store. The latest imports of which we have a report, are 51 tons iron hoop; 1,530 tons pig iron; 19,161 R.R. bars; 55 tons sheet iron; 4,031 iron tubes; 3,000 pigs lead; 16,379 boxes tin; 63,721 lbs zinc.

NAILS.—Cut nails continue quiet dull both on home and foreign account, and sellers have been unable to effect any alteration in price. The advance in gold, however, is felt to a certain extent, and the rather easy tone noticeable last week has, in a great measure, disappeared. The stock on hand is ample and the production fair. City retail dealers report a very dull business. We quote at 4 1/2c.@5c. in a wholesale way, and the usual increase on job parcels. Clinch moderately active and steady, 6 1/2c.@6 3/4c., and small lots 6 1/2c. Flushing nails are quoted at about 5 1/2c.@5 3/4c. for 6d., 8d., 10d. and 12d.; 5 1/2c.@5 3/4c. for 5d., and 4 1/2c.@5c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 15c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 40c.@42c. for copper. The exports are 87 packages, valued at $443, against 235 packages valued at $1,542 same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 1,500 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There is not much life in any department, the shipping orders being pretty much all filled, and jobbers finding no necessity to add to their supplies, owing to the decreasing consumptive inquiry. In some cases stocks are a little low, and not receiving many additions, but as a rule, the general assortment offering is fair. American leads, both dry and in oil, are rather firmer, but otherwise we learn of no important variation in values. Paria white is offered with a trifle more freedom than last week. Linseed oil has been in very fair demand throughout the week, and the market has shown a slow but sure improvement, closing firm on all regular lots from crushers' hands at about $1.06@1.07 in casks, and $1.08@1.09 in bbls. A considerable amount has been taken for the near-by country trade, but Western orders are increasing. On outside parcels of oil we note the usual irregularity, but prices have crept up to about $1.02@1.03, with a few sales at the inside figure. We note exports of 35 pkgs. paint valued at $443; 47 gallons linseed oil, value $57, and 50 bbls. oxide zinc, value $1,000.

PLASTER PARIS.—There has been some little demand for lump, a few manufacturers, both city and country, finding it necessary to add slightly to their supplies, but the tone of the market, as a general thing, is slow and unsatisfactory. The nominal quoting rates are still $4.50@4.75 per ton, for white. Receipts for the week 1,430 tons. Calined also rather dull, the sales being mainly in small invoices to consumers and coastwise shippers. We quote at $2.25 for country, and $2.40@2.50 per bbl. for city. We note shipments of 200 bbls. to Cuba.

PITCH.—The demand from all quarters has been moderate, buyers generally confining their orders to a few bbls. suited to immediate wants, and with the stock of both city and Southern in the meantime slowly increasing, the market lost strength. Dealers have not forced any large amounts on sale, but a few who found it necessary to realize accepted 12 1/2c.@25c. per bbl. concession, and prices may be called about that much lower, closing a little unsettled, with rather more sellers than buyers. We quote at $2.75@3.00 for city; $2.75@3.12 1/2 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store $3.25@3.40 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 207 bbls. Exports for the week 56 bbls. Since January 1st, 1,722 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,582.

SLATE.—The market is quite dull and somewhat irregular, with the tendency, however, rather in buyers' favor, and on some grades we have slightly reduced quotations, though all figures are nominal, particularly for large parcels. From the local trade there is no demand whatever, and dealers find all their custom in the small towns and cities in this vicinity, and for some distance up the river. The stocks here are pretty large, fairly assorted, and rather tend to accumulate. At the quarries none of the anticipated strikea have taken place, the production continues, and stock begins to pile up, particularly the larger and undesirable sizes. We notice the first arrival of a full cargo of Virginia slate, the quality ranking fine, and they are quoted at $10@12 per square.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There is a much healthier and more settled feeling extant than at the day of our last. The low prices then noted appear to have drawn out a great many local and interior buyers, and the advance in gold admitting exporters with a good margin for profit, trade has been very brisk, considerably exceeding the arrivals, and causing a material reduction of the stock in yard. The latter fact has of late induced some little speculative feeling, and beside parcels bought for investment, a number of holders have withdrawn their goods to await a further improvement. Prices have very naturally advanced, and the close is quite firm. We quote at 47 1/2c.@48c. for merchantable and shipping order; 48c.@48 1/2c. for New York bbls.; and 48c.@49c. for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,797 bbls. Exports for week 2,119 bbls.; since January 1st, 5,923 bbls., and for same period last year 5,714 bbls.

STONE.—There is little more life in the market for brown and free stone, owing to the slightly increased offerings at about former rates, but there is a want of tone to the business, and dealers evidently do not feel the confidence of last season. For blue stone, on the other hand, the inquiry is fully as good, if not better than last year, and some of the leading companies report difficulty in keeping up with their orders, notwithstanding the fact that everything is working smoothly at the quarries, transportation and freight easy. Coastwise orders continue in fair supply, but the main call is from the local trade.

TAR.—The demand for the choice grades referred to in our last having become pretty well supplied, and other qualities finding no outlet except in very small parcels, the market has relaxed into a comparatively dull condition. This, coupled with more liberal arrivals, has rather depressed prices, and in some instances moderate reductions have been made, in order to close out undesirable and odd lots of stock. On good shipping brands, however, holders appeared pretty steady, hopeful that the buoyancy on gold might increase the export trade. We quote at $2.50@3.00 per bbl. for North County as it runs; $3.25@3.65 for Wilmington do.; $3.75@3.85 for rope; and occasionally $4.00 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 4,846 bbls. Exports for week 1,232 bbls.; since January 1st, 23,451 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,095 bbls.

A GOOD deal of attention has recently been directed to Staten Island. The people there are being stirred up to the necessity of doing something towards bringing that beautiful suburb into notice. The northern half of that island is really charming, and it is a marvel, that our citizens, instead of living in New Jersey, do not fill up the waste places of this beautiful island. There has been much in the way heretofore,—deficient ferry facilities, stupid land-owners, the Quarantine, and the reputation which the island has had for generating fever and ague. But it has now been discovered, that the northern part of the island is never afflicted with fever and ague; ferry facilities have been improved, and, better than all, the rich stupid land-owners who would neither sell nor improve, are dying out, and the island is coming into market. It is to the extreme discredit of a notorious railroad magnate and large property owner on Staten Island, that he has been the means of defeating all attempts in the Legislature to pass a bill for thoroughly draining that island. Those who wish to make investments cannot do better than to take a drive over the northern half of Staten Island.

THE total valuation of real estate in Chicago in 1830, was $25,000, and in 1837, when the city was incorporated it was only $236,842. In 1832 Mr. T. G. V. Owen purchased lot 5, block 19, for the sum of $39, and during the present year $100,000 has been offered and refused for the same lot. In what other kind of property besides real estate could such a profitable investment be made?

If the powers that be would expend a few thousand dollars in beautifying and adorning with flowers and fine trees the only breathing-place we have down town, instead of converting it into an oven called a plaza, they would thereby confer a great boon upon those who are compelled to live the year round in our lower wards and who soon will forget how a tree or a flower looks.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE market is without any signs of speculative activity; still there is a little more inquiry from those desiring permanent investments. Prices are held as firmly as the most sanguine bull could desire, and the activity is confined to within as limited a circle as the most determined bear could well hope for; so at present both parties are satisfied. No active speculation is now looked for until the fall season opens, and dealers are preparing for quiet times during the heated term. The coming three months will be a good time to study well our list of transfers, so as to be able to know a good thing when it is offered.

On Monday last, an informal meeting of several prominent real-estate brokers was held at the office of Messrs. Brinkerhoff & Barnes, at which a committee of six, consisting of Messrs W. A. Colt, Stanley Day, M. A.
J. Lynch, V. K. Stevenson, Jr., W. E. Brinkerhoff, and Isaac Honig, were appointed to draft a Constitution and By-Laws for a Board of Real-Estate Brokers for the city of New York. A call has been issued by the committee for a meeting for Monday, May 31st, when, their report will be acted upon. We extract the following from the provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws:

ON MEMBERSHIP.—The admission of members into the Board shall be by ballot five blackballs shall reject the candidate.

Candidates shall be balloted for separately, and any person rejected shall not be eligible for three months.

Every person to be eligible must have been a Real Estate Broker for twelve months, and have a place of business.

The initiation fee shall be one hundred dollars, and the monthly dues $2.

The regular meetings shall be daily between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock.

BY-LAWS.—No member of this board shall give or submit any property, loan or security, that may be placed into his hands, to any member not a broker, and no commission shall be divided with any broker not a member. The broker from whom a purchaser derived the first information shall be entitled to full commission for such sale. No member to charge any less commission than the value established by the board, and the rates to be conspicuously placed in the office of each member.

No member while in the office of another member, to enter into any negotiation, except through the broker in whose office he may be.

Commissions where the services of two or more brokers are engaged, to be divided pro rata.

No member to enter into any direct negotiation with the owner of any property or security that may have been placed into the hands of another member.

Much interest is now felt by heavy operators in the movements of the Secretary of the Treasury, and opinions are freely expressed in regard to his present policy of selling gold and buying 5-20 bonds not yet due, and dishonoring demand notes and three per cent. certificates already due. The question is whether a nation or an individual is doing justice to itself or its creditors by paying those who do not ask for and are not entitled to payment, and refusing payment to those who both ask for, and are entitled to it. The Tribune is in ecstasies over the new policy, but the Times growls, shakes its head, and is ready to pounce upon the Secretary at any and every occasion. The Government of the United States now holds some $50,000,000 in gold, which for all the use it is to the country might as well be in Alaska, or buried four thousand feet in the earth. Like a miser it may be a satisfaction to know that it is there, and it is very pleasant to count it up once a month, and call it our surplus, but as it really belongs to the people, we cannot see why they should be deprived of the use of it. Now if the Government would loan, say $30,000,000 of this amount at simple interest, by accepting a pledge of Government bonds as security, and let the gold gamblers have the fun of carrying it and paying interest on it, instead of the Government doing it for them, our opinion is that it would prove a pretty heavy load, and its weight would soon be reflected in the price of that precious commodity.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—Up to the present writing we find no very decided change in the general features of the market for hard brick, though whatever advantage may have accrued has been in buyers' favor, and that a further dropping off in values is not quoted seems merely the result of temporary causes. First, there was the strike of the workmen at Ilverstraw, followed by the same trouble at Verplanck's Point, thus delaying the manufacture somewhat, and again there is the very decided scarcity of really desirable stock. All this, however, will probably be remedied within a few days as we are informed that there is now accumulated at the yards a very liberal supply which must soon be shipped and that the difficulties with the laborers can be settled whenever employers see fit to have it announced that the strike is ended. The demand on local account from consumers is only fair, but as all want just that class of stock with which dealers are for the present unable to furnish them in any quantity a little competition ensues, and the market has the appearance of a steady tone. For good to prime North River $9.00 to $10.00 per M may be considered as a fair quotation, though in some cases very choice have been crowded well up to $11.00 per M. On the common grades, however, we find much irregularity and some little demoralization, owing to the large amount collected here, and the almost utter impossibility of finding buyers enough to make any perceptible impression upon the stock. Offerings are made at from $9.00 down to $7.50 per M, but scarcely attract attention, as buyers think it cheaper to pay the higher prices and get better quality on the small purchases they are obliged to make. Some of our jobbing dealers have a little old stock yet on hand, while those who have run out adhere to the policy of buying from hand to mouth, in view of an anticipated further reduction in values. Orders are coming in to some extent from the Eastward, and we hear of five or six cargoes shipped to points on the "Sound." Receipts of Jersey stock are steady, but they are not selling with much rapidity. At the decline noted last week Pale brick have ruled very quiet, and a great many of the recent arrivals have not as yet even received a bid. We quote nominally at $5.50 to $7.00 per M. Croton fronts are being ordered to a moderate extent, but there is not a very heavy demand, and manufacturers do not even hope for the same aggregate of trade as last season. Prices have been reduced $4.00 per M, and now stand at $16 for brown; $17 for dark; and $18 for red. Philadelphia fronts of new make are not offering as yet, and values on old are too uncertain to admit of reliable quotations, dealers fixing their price according to the necessities of buyers. Shipments of 29,000 bricks, to Central America.

CEMENT.—The market for Rosendale continues very fairly active, in fact the demand appears to be rather better than last week, and the production is evidently finding sale as rapidly as prepared for market. Delivered here $2.00 per bbl. is the still-sustained price, and at this figure there appears more confidence than heretofore among all the leading companies, some of which are sold two or three weeks ahead. Sales were rumored at a reduction, but after a careful search we do not learn that there was any foundation for the report. The local call at present is in part from dealers in a small way to job out at a light profit to consumers, but considerable quantities are taken to manufacture into drain-pipe, building blocks, &c. The shipping demand is now largely from the Eastern States, with a few orders from the South and West Indies, and quite a liberal amount of stock wanted for California. The shipments are 500 bbls. to San Francisco; 20 bbls. to Dutch West Indies; 102 do. to British West Indies; 20 do. to Porto Rico, and 100 do. to New Granada.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—We learn of a very good trade doing with the Southern States, the orders coming forward in such a shape as to induce comparatively free sales; and there is also still a number of odd lots going to the Pacific coast, but otherwise the shipping demand is light. Within a radius of twenty-five or thirty miles there is considerable business to be picked up on small orders, but the immediate local call has become reduced to a very light aggregate. Prices remain as before, and are pretty steady, with a good and well assorted stock in the hands of most manufacturers.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—A few manufacturers are delivering stock for corporation work, on contract, and occasionally there is a little shipping demand, mostly from the South, but aside from this the market is without animation. Prices are quoted as before, but only nominally, as dealers find it very often necessary to regulate their figures carefully in order to insure sales, and outside lots can be purchased now and then much below the supposed market rates.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The market for all kinds continues in a dull and rather unsatisfactory condition, though as far as prices are concerned we cannot learn that buyers have gained any important advantage as yet. The supply on hand, however, is very fair, pretty well assorted, and weekly receiving additions, and as the present outlet is not in proportion to the supply, it is very probable that some modifications in cost may eventually take place. Exporters still use much caution in all their operations, and generally assure themselves by cable letter, of a margin on goods before they can be induced to purchase. On local account a few choice parcels have been secured by jobbers, but, as a rule, the inquiry is very moderate, as the distributive trade rather decreases than otherwise. No exports this week. The receipts are as follows: From Rio Janeiro 551 pcs. rosewood; from Bahia 167 legs do., and 57 pcs. satinwood; and from Gaboon, W. C. A., 7½ tons ebony.

GLASS.—For all styles of foreign window glass the market is still in a very slow and dragging condition, and importers complain bitterly of the result of the Spring trade. In some cases very choice assortments have been worked off with comparative ease, but this is the exception, rather than the rule, and the stock and assortment continue ample, with rather a tendency to increase. With the opening of the canals an improved Western demand was looked for, but this as yet has not developed itself, and the Southern call is light. We quoted discounts at 35 to 45 per cent. on English; and 40 to 55 per cent. on French. American about 50 to 55 per cent. off, in some cases 60 per cent. The latest imports are 15,520 pkgs., valued at $46,265, and 210 glass plate, valued at $25,545.

HAIR.—The depression previously noted has continued on all grades, and prices again show a reduction, closing somewhat unsettled and without much general strength. Cattle hair is quoted at 25c. per bushel, and goat at 40c., while mixed is simply nominal, there being none prepared, in view of the low cost of the other grades. The California demand has in a great measure died out, and on local account there is scarcely any sale for goods whatever, but from the South and near-by interior towns just about enough orders are received to prevent a complete stagnation of business. The season has been very favorable for getting stock in condition for market, and the consequence is that the accumulation has become very liberal and added materially to the depression.

LABOR.—The supply of all kinds of mechanical labor used by builders is in excess of the demand, and many workmen are seeking employment outside the city. Wages have undergone no important alteration, strikes may be considered out of the question for the present at least, and there is not much of interest to record. The principal event of the week has been the proclamation from President Grant ordering that the Government employees be paid ten hours' wages for eight hours' work. This will, of course, benefit those directly interested, but we fear the contrary result upon outside workmen, who, when an opportunity occurs, will be only too glad to use this un-called-for proclamation as a basis to demand similar privileges. The President has evidently been adroitly managed by some such scheming politician as the Hon. Henry Wilson, and the whole matter savors strongly of a dodge to secure votes from the laboring class of the community. It may be, however, that the public debt is becoming reduced so fast that the Government can afford to make its numerous employees a present of two hours' salary every day, and it is barely possible that this is an exemplification of the retrenchment policy promulgated with the advent of the new administration. One thing is certain, however—private corporations and contractors will experience great difficulty in comprehending (and require a long time to do it in, too) how they can afford to pay their employees for doing nothing during seventy-seven days in the course of a year, this being the actual time, allowing for Sundays and holidays, clear profit to workmen and dead loss to employers, under the rule of eight hours' work and ten hours' pay.

LATH.—The general demand has been very fair, fully equal at least to the comparatively moderate supply, and the market preserved a steady uniform tone up to the close of this report, with nothing left afloat awaiting sale. Our last quoted rate, $2.50 per M, being about as low as receivers' orders would permit them to sell, and the reduction to this figure being considered fully proportionate to the fall in other building materials, sellers and buyers have come to terms without much difficulty, and no cargoes, or even parts of cargoes, have gone begging for customers. Two or three out of town orders have been filled, but our local dealers took a large proportion, and lately have shown some little eagerness to secure stock to the extent of bidding full market rates on cargoes to arrive, and it is rumored that one sale was made made in this way at 10 to 12½ c. advance. The production is liberal, and there is said to be a considerable portion loading and en route for this port, though we learn nothing positive upon the subject. The distributive trade from yard is very good, at figures in proportion to the wholesale market. Sales of 1,915,000 at $2.50 for spruce, and $2.00 per M for beamlock.

LIME.—For Rockland or Eastern stock the market has not varied a particle since our last, receivers by good management succeeding in working off the cargoes as they come in, either to local or near-by out of town dealers, and realizing former prices. Lump is placed at $1.50, but not wanted, the sale demand at the moment continuing to run on common. The kilns are burning regularly, as it will not pay to allow fires to go out, but care is taken to prevent too rapid a production or accumulation of goods, with the market in its present condition, as the desire is to have matters well under control. This is more particularly the case now that the canals are open and the Northern lime begins to come forward with regularity, though as yet most of the receipts have gone to fill early contracts. Prices as usual are in accordance with the Maine stock. The city jobbers report a fair and slightly better trade, but the demand has not increased to the extent anticipated when the late decline in brick took place. Prices in proportion to the retail market. The reported arrivals during the week were eleven cargoes.

LUMBER.—At most of the yards throughout the city some little business is going on, and in a few exceptional cases we find considerable activity, but the demand is still confined almost exclusively to parcels suited to the current wants of buyers, and as a whole, the retail market lacks spirit. Every effort is naturally being made to present matters in the most favorable light, and as a rule dealers do not appear to be particularly discouraged, but it is simply useless to deny that the aggregate of sales have thus far run greatly behind last season, and that the prospects for the future are not altogether favorable. We do not mean by this that trade is likely to become entirely stagnant, or that the stocks coming forward are to find no outlet, but we do venture to predict that the heavy transactions of the past two or three seasons cannot be repeated, and that dealers will be obliged to content themselves with a comparatively moderate business during the major portion of the summer. As to the probable course of prices, no reliable opinion can as yet be formed, though some changes will undoubtedly be made when the supplies from the mills have accumulated with greater freedom. At present everything is quite firm and sales are making at the full figures of our quotations. Stocks continue small, but the tendency is to increase from this time forward, arrivals of new having commenced, and several cargoes from Albany Buffalo, &c., are already piled up on the piers. The Albany market is now obtaining supplies from all the usual sources to some extent, but as yet the accumulation is too small and poorly assorted to induce any great amount of activity. Hard and coarse lumber is particularly scarce, and prices generally rule quite firm. Our wholesale market has been fairly supplied with stock, but the quality was not good enough to attract much attention, and the tone has continued slow and dragging throughout the greater portion of the week, with some further slight modifications in values. The demand from the local dealers has been spasmodic and uncertain, and evidently guided solely by sudden and unexpected wants, or by the offering of some extra desirable parcel. Exporters, however, have found the premium on gold still high enough to allow a fair margin for profit on shipments, and a number of parcels of various sizes have been contracted for, to go abroad. Eastern spruce has arrived with rather greater freedom, and the market has not been altogether as encouraging or lively as receivers could wish. Really tip top, extra lengths schedules, when offered, sold quick enough, but such as these were scarce, the bulk of the supply being made up of medium and some very common cargoes. Of the latter one or two lots sold at $19.00 per M, and others are freely offered at the same figure without finding buyers, while good to prime sold at $20.00 to $22.00, the latter representing about the extreme rate. There is said to be considerable stock en route for this port, and with the present state of trade, those who are to receive it, do not appear very anxious for free arrivals. White pine has been in moderate request, partly local for manufacturing purposes, and partly on exporters' account and on most of the sales made former prices were realized. The feeling, however, is scarcely so firm as heretofore, now that the canals are open and supplies increasing and some buyers are inclined to hold for lower figures. We quote at $21.00@26.00 per M for inferior to fair box, and shipping boards, and $27.00@30.00 for good do. Piling remains firm for good and prime stock with a pretty fair demand extant, but common grades are dull and unsettled. We quote at 64@8c. for the ordinary average of sizes, and 8½@9c. for extra heavy and long sticks. Pickets are very dull and considered about as undesirable a class of stock as comes upon the market. About $8.50 is the quoted rate for ¾ inch, but for a quick sale something easier would probably be accepted. Yellow pine is steady at former rates and selling to some extent, but orders are less plenty than during the early part of the month, most of our dealers having become very well stocked up for present wants. We quote at $30.00@33.00 per M for timber and flooring boards. Black walnut logs have been in moderate demand for shipment at about 7@7½c. per foot. Eastern shingles dull at about $4.25@4.50 per M. Southern shingles neglected and nominal. Among the sales during the week we learn of 580,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19.00@23.00 per M. 160,000 feet yellow pine at $31.00@32.50; 95,000 feet white pine at $24.00; 20,000 pickets ¾ inch at $8.50; and 650 pcs. piling choice length at 8c.

We also notice shipments to Hamburg of 330 logs black walnut valued at $9,226; to British N. A. Colonies of two masts valued at $300; to Porto Rico 160 bundles shingles; to New Granada 30,000 shingles; to San Francisco 63 pcs. plank, 2,440 staves; to Hamburg 9,300 staves; to London 7,200 do.; to Glasgow 2,400 do.; to Gibraltar 8,800 do.; to Havre 30,000 do.; to Marseilles 12,600 do.; to Certe 7,200 do.; to Argentine Republic 6,000 do.; and to Peru 9,775 do. The receipts reported are 156,000 feet lumber from Jacksonville; 870,000 lath from St. Steven, N. B.; 550 spruce poles from Mnsquash, N. B.; 65,398 feet lumber; 7,000 pickets, and 17,000 lath from Grand Menan, N. B.; and from the Maine coast sixteen cargoes cargoes lumber; to do. lath; and one do. piling.

From the West the reports begin to note a little dullness in both the wholesale and retail markets, with some accumulation of stock at the leading points. All dry lumber is quoted steady, but green stock shows weakness and in some places a decline, though the advantages as yet obtained by buyers are comparatively moderate. Recent sales were made at Chicago as follows:

106 M feet, strips, boards and mixed, all common, at $12.50; 110 M feet common mixed, at $12.25; 3 M pcs. lath, at $2.25; 80 M feet coarse mixed, at $11.75; Muskegon tally; 400 M feet, largely strips, at $15; 35 pcs. lath, at $2.25; 230 M feet, largely strips, delivered on contract, at $13.75.

"Having a desire to advance the commercial character and promote the general lumber interest of the city of Chicago, and the northwest, and wishing to inculcate just and equitable principles in trade, establish and maintain uniformity in the commercial usages of the city, acquire, preserve and disseminate valuable business information, and with a view to avoid and adjust, as far as practicable, the controversies and misunderstandings which are apt to arise between individuals engaged in trade, when they have no acknowledged rules to guide them"—the lumber merchants of Chicago, under an act of incorporation from the State of Illinois, have formed an association with the above end in view, to be known as the Lumberman's Exchange of Chicago, and a copy of the rules and by-laws now before us, through the courtesy of Secretary Southworth, appear to embody everything necessary to give the lumber interest of that section of the country the greatest protection and advancement. The officers are: President, T. M. Avery; Vice-President, W. D. Houghtelling; Treasurer, A. C. Van Schaick; Secretary, W. L. Southworth; a board of thirteen directors; and committees of five each for Inspection, Arbitration, and Appeal.

The Northern and Eastern markets are without remarkable activity at present, though trade is fair and rates steady on prime stock. A leading dealer of this city just returned from a trip through the Canadian lumber district, informs us that all last year's stock has been sold out clean at full prices, the bulk going to the Eastern States; that the mills generally are running, are abundantly supplied with logs, and though the new production does not find a remarkably active market, lumbermen talk independently, and seem determined to hold out for extreme rates. Shipments coastwise were on the increase.

At the South business is still reported as good, and prices generally quite steady, with the few changes making mostly in the settler's favor. The mills are all at work, and in several instances report orders nearly a month ahead. The arrivals of timber were moderate, and if at all desirable, everything found sale on reaching the mills. The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@10.50 per M. feet for mill timber, $9@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices as follows: Steam sawed $5.00@30.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00, mill timber, $6.00@9.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—The market for copper sheathing has a comparatively steady uniform tone, as manufacturers work into each others' hands in order to sustain prices, but the demand is not by any means brisk, and the amount of stock going into consumption almost daily shows some decrease. The available supply is ample for all present wants. We quote at $35 for new, and 22@23c. for old, according to quality. Yellow metal is dull at 27c. from manufacturers' hands. Ingot copper continues at an almost complete standstill, about the only trade being small lots, occasionally called for by manufacturers to finish out orders. Holders in most cases appear firm, but under the circumstances rates are in a measure nominal. We quote at 23½@24½c. For Scotch pig iron the inquiry has been very moderate and confined mainly to small lots from store as wanted by manufacturers. The supply, however, does not materially increase, and dealers generally are holding pretty stiffly for full form er figures. We quote at $41.00@45.00 per ton for fair to prime. American pig iron declined early in the week, and the reduced prices drew out a temporary good demand, but of late trade has again become slow and the market somewhat unsettled. The stocks present and prospective are very fair. We quote at $40.00 per ton for No. 1; $38.00 for No. 2; and $36.00@37.00 for No. 3. Bar iron from store is simply nominal, owing to the almost entire absence of demand and the difficulty of finding sales upon which to base figures. No large invoices offering. We quote at $55.00@57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00@92.00 for refined do.; $140.00 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do. for ovals and half-round; $120.00@150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@155.00 for rods, 5-8@3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron shows no important variation in price, but the market is in a dull and uncertain condition. We quote at about 5½@6½ for singles, doubles, and trebles. Galvanized sheet a little firmer at 20@25 per cent. off list rates. Russia sheet is again rather dull and prices not over firm, only the very finest lots reaching extreme rates. We quote at 11½@13½c. gold. Pig lead is without any improvement whatever, and dealers complain of an absence of even the ordinary jobbing trade. The general range of prices as before, but buyers have most of the advantage. We quote still nominally at 6½@6¾c. The arrivals have recently been quite heavy, but the bulk came in on contract. Bar lead quoted at 10½c. sheet and pipe 12c. less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin remains extremely quiet and the market tame. A few small lots are jobbing out at our figures, but the bulk of the supply is held in store for further developments; and as buyers at present refuse to even make a bid actual values are somewhat problematical. We quote therefore only nominally at 30c. for English; 31½@32c. for Straits; and 34½c. for Banca, all in coin. Tin plates are less active, but steady for most sizes. Zinc remains dull for all sizes at 12½@12¾c. from store. The latest imports of which we have a report are 145 tons iron hoop; 2244 tons pig iron; 39,215 K. R. bars; 32 tons sheet iron; 2551 iron tubes; 16,608 pigs of lead; 40,515 boxes tin; 895 slabs do.; and 444,747 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—The demand for cut nails has been moderate from all sources, and the market is in a dull unsatisfactory condition. Foreign orders are now quite small, and at a low limit, while the home trade is at an almost complete stand, though dealers hope for a little better call from the interior now that the canals are open. Prices, about as before but rather weak, have lost the stimulating effects of the high premium on gold. We quote at 4½@4¾ in large parcels, 5c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch dull at about 6½@6¾c. with choice at 6½c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5½@5¾c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 4½@5½c. for 5d., and 4½@6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 15c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 40c@42c. for copper. The exports are 266 packages, valued at $1549, against 87 packages, valued at $445, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 160 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Throughout the wholesale market the demand for the various styles of paints has been rather moderate and principally for small irregular parcels required by jobbers from local and near-by country districts to complete assortments or to fill an unexpected order. The opening of the canals, however, it is thought will induce country buyers to operate with rather more freedom, and dealers seem hopeful of some improvement in trade at an early day. The general stocks are fair and pretty well assorted, making selections an easy matter; and prices show no very decided alterations, though certain goods are affected somewhat by the fluctuations in gold, English leads in particular. From jobbers' hands trade is fair, though not brisk, and prices without notable change. Domestic glue is selling moderate at full rates if prime, but foreign grades at the moment are neglected. Linseed oil has not varied in price to any extent since our last, but there has been less activity, and at the close the sales are simply in small jobbing parcels as wanted for consumption. Nearly all the country orders have been filled, though as the cost of freight becomes reduced a revival of this demand is looked for, and crushers are quite steady. We quote at $1.04@1.07 in casks, and $1.07@1.09 in bbls., according to size of purchase. There does not appear to be any outside lots offering at present, and prices are uncertain. Exports of 74 pkgs. paint, valued at $1,146; and 213 gallons paint oil, valued at $203.

PLASTER PARIS.—White lump is still quoted at $4.50@4.75 per ton, but the demand is gradually falling off and the general market is flat and lifeless. This is particularly the case in regard to the city trade, and most of the business is on out of town orders. Sales of 400 tons were reported at $4.50 per ton. Receipts for week 1055 tons. Calculated in moderate demand from city buyers, but fairly active on shipping account, and prices without notable change, though dealers do not allow a slight difference of views between themselves and buyers to prevent a trade. We quote at $2.25@2.30 for country, and $2.40@2.50 per bbl. for city brands. Shipments of 50 bbls. to Cisplaine Republic.

PITCH.—At the concession noted last week the market has been steady, with a fair trade doing in a retail way, and both buyers and sellers apparently satisfied with the position. The demand has been almost exclusively on local and country account, exporters finding no inducement to operate since the decline in gold and the increased cost of freight room. The supply is not very large, but ample for all present wants, with rather a tendency to increase. We quote at $2.75@3.00 for city; $2.75@3.12½ for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store $3.25@3.40 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 21 bbls. Exports for the week none. Since January 1st, 1,722 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,607.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The activity noted in our previous report continued for a day or two until the stock in yard became reduced to a very low figure, and prices further improved 1@1½c. per gallon. The rates current, however, were immediately felt at Wilmington, from whence free shipments were made, and the prospect of the early receipt of these parcels, has latterly had a depressing effect, prices showing a decline and closing unsettled, with offerings to arrive below quoted figures on the spot. Exporters hold orders for goods but are awaiting a decline before operating. We quote at 46½@47c. for merchantable and shipping order; 47c.@47½c. for New York bbls.; and 47½c.@48c. for small parcels with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,460 bbls. Exports for week 16 bbls; since January 1st, 5,939 bbls., and for same period last year 3,746 bbls.

TAR.—There has been a slack demand for all kinds throughout the week, shippers taking only such small lots as were necessary to fill out previous orders, and the home trade wanting nothing except in a retail way. The supplies continue to come forward in pretty liberal quantities, and the stock keeps up well, with rather a better assortment than heretofore. Prices are generally easier for goods on the spot, and offerings to arrive are made at still lower figures. We quote at $2.50@2.75 per bbl. for North County as it runs; $3.00@3.35 for Wilmington do.; $3.40@3.60 for rope; and occasionally $3.75@4.00 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 2,331 bbls. Exports for week 1,400 bbls.; since January 1st, 24,881 bbls., and for same period last year 3,202 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus reports for the week ending May 25, 1869, says:

The market, with fair receipts by canal, opens good, with a prospect for a healthy trade. A good many buyers were in the district to-day; but the stock is not, as yet, fully assorted, and as a consequence, the trade is somewhat restricted.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to May 23, were:

Bls. & Sc'ing ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbsa.
1868.. 80,605,800 4,343 23,919 2,164,300

Of the receipts of 1863, about 11,000,000 feet of Boards and Scantling, 1,500 M Shingles and the Timber were detained on the canals by ice, during the winter of 1867, 1868.

ARCHITECTURAL TASTE.

FEW people thoroughly realize the enormous difference it makes in the formation and cultivation of public taste in an architectural point of view, whether a prominent site be occupied by a superior or an inferior edifice. The effect is almost incalculable; for a work of public architecture is a perpetual instructor, and according to its good or bad taste, is constantly, though imperceptibly, moulding the opinions of the masses in a good or evil channel. It is so very easy for the vulgar mind to confound mere costliness and size with architectural beauty, that the most monstrous production on any one of our thoroughfares, if only large and expensive enough, will often pass for the ne plus ultra of architectural sublimity, until immediately after contrasted by something exhibiting genuine thought and artistic ability. It is singular that in compassing the best results such a system is not universally followed as that adopted by the Park Bank, in obtaining a design for their new building, and by which they have succeeded in producing a perfect model of architectural splendor in this metropolis. Not contented with the distinguished name of their architect, they instituted a limited competition among four or five of these leading architects of the city, paying each for his advice and ideas, whether successful or not, and adopting such as is now executed and a thing of the past. By this healthy rivalry they obtained the result of the best efforts of four or five practised minds, all concentratedly devoted to one object. Were this system more generally adopted, not only in all our public but in our private buildings of any cost or pretensions, who can doubt the amiable and admirable results that would be accomplished? and what is the expenditure of a few hundreds, or a few thousands, for such a noble purpose, to any wealthy man, when the difference may involve perfection or failure in a matter in which he is so deeply interested? The most accomplished architect may not be always equally happy in his efforts; and it does not necessarily follow that the man who has just erected the grandest stone front on Broadway, or in any other street, should be ready, at any moment's notice, with the best idea of a plan for a millionaire's residence in the neighborhood of our noble and beautiful-looking Park. Competition, by bringing the intellects of our best architects into contact, is the surest mode of eliciting any latent spark of real genius among them; a limited competition, for if it be made open and promiscuous, the generality of our best and most able architects will not choose to enter into such a contest, which is necessarily left to the more young and adventurous. Our present limited space will by no means admit of further observations on this interesting topic, but we shall recur to it in a future issue. We leave the matter to the contemplation of our readers.

COMPULSORY ASSESSMENTS IN THE NATURE OF TAXES—DEDUCTIONS FROM INCOME.

ON this subject Assessor Van Wyck, under date of May 13th, addressed the Commissioner of Internal Revenue:

SIR,—The Commissioner has ruled that "compulsory assessments for grading, paving, and flagging, sewerage, &c., imposed by the municipal corporations and actually paid by the taxpayer within the year for which income tax is payable, may be deducted from income." The Board of Health and Superintendent of Buildings in this city require fire-escapes, bulkheads, sinks of a particular description, sewers made as they prescribe, to connect the sink with the street sewers, transom windows to be put in the back rooms to connect with the halls, ventilators, &c., to be made to houses already built, and compel them by fines; or they put them to the houses themselves, and then the expenses of putting them there become by law a lien on the property. These additions are generally undesirable, both to the tenant and the owner, and with the exception of the sewers sometimes would never be made except on compulsion. The taxpayers insist that these additions are not improvements, any more than the grading, paving, flagging, or sewerage referred to in the ruling, and are as much imposed by municipal corporations; that they are of the same character in every respect, the mode of compelling the work to be done and the collection of the expenses of doing it only excepted. There is much analogy in the two cases certainly, and I have finally thought proper to refer the matter to the Department.

To this Deputy Commissioner J. W. Douglass replied:

SIR,—I reply to yours of 13th inst., that when expenditures upon property of a taxpayer are compelled by municipal regulations as described in your letter, the actual amount thereof may be deducted in estimating income of the year when actually made as in the nature of taxes. But the Assessor should be satisfied that deductions are not made in respect of expenditures not so required by law.

THE Central Park Commissioners are now opening the Seventh avenue, and where it crosses the Harlem lane the grade is higher than that of the lane, which it crosses midway, and is unfortunately quite sufficient to spoil the trotting-ground. The Sixth avenue, which runs into the Central Park at One Hundred and Tenth street, is graded from the Park up to the Harlem River. It is 150 feet wide, and, if made a dirt road, will give a stretch of about a mile and a half for fast trotting. It is understood that the Central Park Commissioners are willing to comply with the wishes of the public in this matter. Considering the facts of the case, it would confer a favor on the trotter for these reasons: The Eighth avenue from One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street is in good order, but the impression is that, being the first through avenue west of Fifth avenue, it will eventually be the business avenue. The Fifth avenue is graded only as far as Ninetieth street, and it will probably be some time before it is graded to the river. The Seventh avenue, running through the Harlem flats, is mostly made ground, with no probability of its being finished for some time. Where, then, are our trotters to go, if it be not on Sixth avenue above One Hundred and Tenth street?

THE subject of technical education is beginning to attract a good deal of attention in this country, and it is quite time that it did. All our best mechanics are foreigners; the American boy prefers to turn clerk, with a hope some day of being a merchant-prince, rather than serve his time to learn a good mechanical trade. The result is, that we have few or no good American mechanics below the grade of boss. This is a serious misfortune in the building trade. The working people are nearly all Englishmen, Irishmen, or Germans, of a poor class, and the kind of work which is turned out is not first class. By all means, let us give a good industrial education to our young American boys—let us teach them that counter-jumping is a poor business, after all, for a man, and that the want of the time is trained mechanics. The bosses in the building trade are picked men, and of course excellent mechanics; but who are the men who are to fill their places? By all means, let us train our lads in technical education.

It seems to be pretty well settled that the so-called underground railroad chartered by the last legislature is only to be a feeder to the Harlem and Hudson River roads. It runs to the proposed great depot at 41st street, but it is to go no further. This will be a good thing for those roads, but will not supply what New York so sorely needs—an underground railroad to the upper end of the island. In the meantime, the elevated road on the west side is slowly progressing.

It may be that corrupt means were used to get the right to build an immense passenger depot at 41st street, but certainly the depot itself--when we get it--will be a good thing. We ought to have had the greatest railroad depot of any city on the continent, when the fact is, we have had the poorest and shabbiest. One-horse towns like Chicago have had fine railway centres, while the metropolis has had mere disconnected sheds. This city ought to have had two great passenger depots, one on each side of the city, into which all the trains going west and east should run. The great freight depot on the site of St. John's Park is a noble building for its purpose, and nicely placed, in view of the future commerce of the city; but it is not enough. People who come to New York should enter a palace on the end of their ride, and not a shed. The stranger who visits us for business or pleasure should be impressed by the magnificence of the great city upon his very entrance within its limits. So we endorse Mr. Vanderbilt's proposed depot on 41st street, Let it be worthy of him and of the metropolis.

THE large amount of money secured by the public sale of the right to lay a railroad in 23d street to East River, shows how much money the city has lost by the old system of getting the charters from Albany. In the one case the money went in bribes to legislators, but in the other it goes to the city treasury, to help to reduce taxation.

ACTIVE progress is making with the work of the elevated railway. The iron supports have been erected along Ninth avenue to above Thirtieth street, and a large cellar is in progress of construction at Twenty-second street, for the reception of one of the engines.

The Commissioners give notice that they will meet every Saturday, at noon, at No. 110 Broadway, for the purpose of hearing objections by persons living along the line of the road, against the manner of its erection. It is the duty of the Commissioners to certify to the safety of the road, and suggestions on the subject are invited by them.

THE Governors of the New York Hospital have granted grounds to the city for a street through Thomas street and Duane street place, in the vicinity of Clafin's store to the Erie Railroad buildings. The Commissioners of Charities and Corrections provided in the tax-levy budget for the temporary erection of a building for a down-town hospital till the new one is built.

THE people appreciate it:—One hundred and fifty tons of patent lead-encased block-tin pipe was manufactured and sold last year by THE COLWELL, SHAW, & WILLARD Manufacturing Company, foot of West Twenty-seventh street, New York, who are now putting up additional machinery to meet the increasing demand.

CENTRAL Park is rich now with the blossoms and flowers proper to young June. Many new plants have been added since last season, and when the system of labelling has been more fully carried out, the Park will afford excellent recreation for the student of botany, making, with its increasing collection of curious animals, a pleasant school of natural history.

IRON-CLAD HOUSES.—Mr. Alexander, a founder at Greenpoint, and Mr. Burchell, one of our most successful builders in this city, have brought out an improvement in building fronts which is likely to meet with a very hearty reception. It gives a front of cast-iron with the calorific properties of ordinary thick brick fronts. The invention is one of the most importance in the building line, and has been secured by letters patent. A block of four houses on this plan has just been completed on Third avenue, near Eighty-eighth street, and another is begun on Second avenue, near Forty-second street.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE following plans embrace all those buildings that have been submitted to the approval of the Superintendent since our last:

BOUNDED BY CANAL, Centre, and Walker sts.—One 2 story brick factory (Canal st., 54x8½; Centre st., 61x5½; Walker st., 82x2½); owners, Munn & Co.; architect and builder, S. Newell.

DELANCEY st.—Nos. 247 and 249; two cellar and 5 story brick tenements, 19x25x37x50; owner, W. S. Loew; architects, Lawrence & Reeves.

GREENWICH st.—No. 694; one 2 story brick stable, 12x12; owner, Mary Quackenbush; builder, Thomas Cocknell.

GREENE st.—Nos. 10 and 12; two basement and 5 story brick and iron stores, 28½x87; owners, Thos. Lewis and Benj. H. Day; architect, J. B. Snook.

GRAND AND TOMPKINS ST.—N. w. cor.; one 1 story brick, sash and door-front office, 25x13; owner, J. Johnston; builder, J. H. McMillen.

EAST HOUSTON ST.—No. 100, rear; one 2 story brick stable, 15.6x28; owner, F. Krutina; architect, Louis Burger; builder, C. Eberspacher.

JEFFERSON ST.—No. 39; one 2 story brick stable, 16x25; owner, John Bodfish; builder, W. G. Holalimy.

MOTT ST.—No. 135, rear; one 2 story brick stable, 25x18; owner, Ambrose O'Neil; builder, Pat'k Moran.

SCAMMEL ST.—No. 23, rear; one 3 story brick tenement, 27x30; owner, Thomas Warren; builder, John Crane.

WORTH ST.—Nos. 130 and 132; one 5 story brick store, 38x55; owner, Theo. Beach; builder, J. T. Coddington, Jr.

WATER ST.—No. 230; one 4 story brick store, 47.7x75; owner, A. C. Barstow; architect, J. C. Bucklin; builder, M. Levick.

EAST 14TH ST.—No. 430, rear; one 4 story brick tenement house, 25x26; owner, Mrs. C. Moninger; architect, Theo. J. Beir.

19TH ST. AND 11TH AV.—S. w. cor.; one 2 story brick office, 17x25; owner, D. C. Newell; architect, W. H. Smith; builder, Robert Kennedy.

41ST ST.—N. s., 331 ft. w. of 11th av.; one 2 story brick retort house, 89x99; owners, Met. Gas Co.; architect, Sam'l P. Parham.

WEST 43D ST.—No. 68; one basement and 5 story brick store and tenement, 29x65; owner, Jacob Korn; architect, J. B. Snook; builder, Samuel Cochran.

45TH ST.—N. s., 200 ft. e. 1st av.; one 2 story brick slaughter house, 50x44; owner, Smith Ely, Jr.; architect, E. Stiles; builder, Rob't Huson.

53D ST.—N. s., 414 ft. w. of 5th av.; two 4 story brick and brown stone first-class dwellings; 23x56; owner, Cornelius O'Reilly; architect, M. J. O'Reilly.

104TH ST.—N. s., 450 ft. w. 8th av.; one brick and frame basement and 2½ story first-class dwellings, 20x30; owner, Chas. Schneider; architect & builder, L. Billings.

124TH ST.—S. s., 150 ft. e. 7th av.; one 3 story brick second-class dwelling, 25x28; owner, John Lynch; architect, Andrew Spence.

124TH ST.—N. s., 127 ft. w. 2d av.; ten basement and 3 story brick and brown stone first-class dwellings, 20x45; owners, Wm. N. Hayes & Co.; architect and builder, Wm. P. Birdsall.

LEXINGTON AV. AND 48TH ST.—N. e. cor.; one basement and 1 story brick shop, 11½x20; owner, Jas. M. Cary; builder, M. Bloodgood.

1ST AV.—E. s., 50 s. 77th st.; one 4 story brick store and dwelling, 25x48; owner, Louis Decker.

6TH AV.—W. s., 66 ft. n. of Washington place; one 3 story brick church; owners, Trustees of St. Joseph's Church; architects, Renwick & Sands; builder, C. O'Connor.

6TH AV.—Nos. 746 to 754; 5 basement and 4 story stores and dwellings (4, 20x50; 1, 20.5½x75); owner, Jacob Korn; architect, J. B. Snook; builder, Sam'l Cochran.

8TH AV.—W. s., 50 ft. n. 120th st.; one 2 story wooden first-class dwelling, 22x24; owner, Geo. M. Zeisz.

8TH AV.—W. s., 50 ft. s. 121st st., one 2 story wooden second-class dwelling, 25x40; owner, &c., A. Delger.

8TH AV.—N. s., 25 ft. s. 121st st., one 2 story frame and wood second-class dwelling, 22x25; owner, &c., Patrick Kennedy.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THERE is absolutely nothing of interest to record in regard to the real-estate market, the transactions being confined to actual wants and solid investments, and very little is being done on speculation, and no business of consequence is anticipated until the fall season arrives. Prices are very firm, and holders are not disposed to sell even at, in some cases, large advances. We learn of one piece of property bought last July for $92,000, for which Mr. Isaac Honig, of Pine street, recently offered $45,000, which was refused. The sales of country property are reported to be satisfactory by all parties interested, although no fancy prices have yet been paid.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—Sellers have managed to retain the bulk of the advantage throughout the greater portion of the week under review, and with a few unimportant exceptions our general range of quotations remains as before. The demand has been fair, in fact better than was anticipated at the date of our last, which, with comparatively moderate receipts, has enabled wholesale dealers in all cases to prevent a further accumulation, while the majority have reduced their stocks on hand to a pretty low figure. Good to prime grades naturally sold quickest and to the best advantage, but the medium and poor lots worked off much better than last week, leaving very few really undesirable brick now awaiting sale. The buyers in the market have been mostly local contractors and builders, and such dealers as found it necessary to lay in a little stock to meet current retail calls, and there have also again come to hand one or two orders from the Eastward. Every purchase made, however, is evidently based upon actual wants, and we learn of no contracts whatever entered into for future delivery, the inclination of sellers as well as buyers being to await further developments. As we have noted above, a large proportion of the old stock is cleared out, and as that now coming forward is composed almost entirely of new made, the average of quality is much higher, and holders of top grades being more plenty, prices are shaded somewhat in the absence of sharp competition. We quote, therefore, at $9.00 to $10.00 per M for good to prime North River hard, with occasionally a small lot of some extra-fine a trifle higher. Of the poorer grades, values range from $7.50 to $8.50, according to quality, quantity, delivery, &c. As we close, the arrivals are rather larger, and indications point to a further increase, and though the above figures continue to be quoted they may be considered as extreme, and barely steady. Jersey-made stock is coming in regularly, and being of very fair grade meets with a steady sale. Pale brick have been in good demand and steady at $5.50 to $7.00 per M, and very little stock remains unsold. The call has been largely from certain sections of Brooklyn, Harlem, &c., to fill in frame houses, but a large proportion are still consumed in backing up a very thin ashlar, in order to build "cheap" brown-stone fronts. For Croton fronts trade continues rather slow, with former prices current on ordinary styles, viz.: $16.00 to $17.00, and $18.00, but we understand that Underhill's are still worth about $1.00 higher, or $17.00, $18.00 and $19.00 for brown, dark, and red respectively. Philadelphia fronts nominally unchanged. Shipments of 25,000 brick to British West Indies; and 3 000 to Mexico.

CEMENT.—Rosendale is still in good steady demand from out-of-town buyers, and manufacturers find no reasons as yet to reduce the production, though back orders are gradually becoming filled, and the accumulation of entries on sales hooks for future delivery is less rapid. Our local dealers now and then buy a few small lots to keep up a stock, but the prevailing call from consumers is too light to warrant full purchases. The Southern demand is fair, but the main shipping outlet is the Eastern market, with a pretty good call from California, and few small lots for export. The leading companies are still firm at $1.90 at Rondont, and $2.00 here, but rumors are again current of outside lots selling at 5 to 10c. per bbl. off. Foreign in moderate request and steady at $9.50 to $10 per bbl. for Roman; $10.00 to $10.50 do. for Portland; $11.00 for common Keenes; and $16.00 for choice do. The shipments are: 100 bbls. to British North American Colonies; 100 do. to British West Indies; 200 do. to China and — do. to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The wholesale market is still quite dull, and dealers not only complain of the difficulty of effecting sales, but of the very cautious manner in which buyers make their bids. Some few domestic shipping orders have come forward, but local dealers call for very little stock, and of late the cost of freight-room has been entirely too high to admit of exporters operating to advantage. The general receipts are only fair, and on cedar and mahogany prices remain quite steady, but of rosewood there has recently been an accumulation, and sales were made at a pretty liberal reduction. The retail market is steady and fairly active, though in a small way; the principal sales being in odd parcels for manufacturing purposes, &c. The exports reported for the week are 20 tons lignum vitae, valued at $543, to Trieste. Receipts of 450 logs cedar from Havana; and 484 pieces ebony from Zanzibar.

GLASS.—Foreign window glass of desirable size and quality, shows just a trifle more activity, and though there is not enough doing to warrant the expectations of a very heavy business, dealers feel that the monotony of the market during the last three or four months has been partially broken, and are somewhat encouraged in consequence. English goods and choice lots of guaranteed French are most sought after, though in one or two cases the common qualities have done comparatively well. Scarcely any sales have been made to local dealers, the principal buyers coming from near-by interior towns, a few from the West and a fair number from the South. Prices about as before but steady. On English the discount is 25 to 45 per cent.; on French 40 to 55 per cent.; and on American 50 to 55 per cent.

HAIR.—At the reduced prices referred to in our last most of the sales are being made, but even at the low figures current the market has very little strength, and dealers quote the tendency as still downward. Very few large shipping orders are now received, and the moderate business doing is confined to small orders from near-by country dealers. Stocks of course are large, and as the receipts exceed the sales there is a gradual accumulation. We quote at 28c per bushel for cattle; and 40c. for goat, with no mixed prepared, and values nominal.

LATH.—The firmer tone and eagerness of dealers to secure stock, referred to in our last, have continued to a certain extent, and with only a few cargoes arriving, and these in a very irregular and uncertain manner. Receivers have obtained an actual advance of 12½c. per M, and many are now asking as much again improvement on stock to arrive. Very few parcels have gone out of town, our local trade wanting the bulk of the supply, and some jobbers are bidding on cargoes in transit, though scarcely high enough to enable them to secure goods. Indeed, sellers appear quite indifferent and evidently prefer awaiting the prevailing rates when cargoes shall have reached port. The production continues without much abatement, but there is a disposition on the part of manufacturers to send their lath to other points where rates are nearly and in some cases quite equal to $3.00, and by thus producing a scarcity here force our market up to the same figure. This may be successful for a time, but not only lath but all other building material will have to find a much more liberal outlet than at present to realize last year's average. The trade from yard, without being large, is very fair, and as jobbers adhere to the policy of buying only as their wants necessitate, they are frequently in the market to re-stock in a small way, adding to the appearance of activity. Sales for the week of 1,300,000 lath at $2.50 to $2.62½ per M.

LIME.—For common Rockland the demand has been fair, and the supply easily disposed of at full former rates, leaving nothing unsold up to the present writing, but lump or finishing lime has been almost entirely neglected, and the few lots coming forward have given receivers some difficulty before they could be sold. Dealers do not, as a rule, object to current rates, but finding the distributive trade running extremely moderate, are, naturally unwilling to purchase by the cargo with any freedom until they can see a reasonable early re-sale for their goods. At the kilns, we are informed, everything has a very dull appearance, many manufacturers having stopped entirely, and others doing just enough to keep a few vessels moving, and it is generally understood that fires will not again be lighted until there is a prospect of a steadier and more remunerative outlet. The supply of Northern stock is more liberal, and though a few small parcels are delivered on contract, agents begin to complain of an excess of stock, and the market is fully as dull as for Eastern. The closing rates for all kinds are still $1.25 per bbl. for common, and $1.50 per bbl. for lump. The reported receipts coastwise for the week are 2 cargoes.

LUMBER.—The general volume of business at the yards continues moderate, and the retail trade is without any new features of striking importance. Dealers all report their customers as buying solely with a view to meet pressing necessities, and as before, taking only small quantities, while contracts for future delivery are scarcely mentioned. In some cases pretty free deliveries have taken place, from recent arrivals, but they were mainly on back orders which have been awaiting the receipt of fresh stock and a better assortment. Prices are quoted at our previous range, and we as yet find no call to alter our table of figures, but with a few exceptions there is a growing undertone of weakness, and unless trade picks up very materially, reductions will be in order before mid-summer. The supplies coming forward, naturally slowly increase, but very few of our dealers are buying in excess of their requirements for a few weeks ahead, hoping for more favorable terms later in the season. At Albany there is a disposition to hold out pretty stiffly for extreme figures, but as the canals continue to bring forward increasing supplies and better assortments, signs of weakness are occasionally manifested, and offerings have already been made at prices back to about last fall's rates, and in a few cases on undesirable goods even lower. The western dealers are still asking high figures on black walnut, and there is the usual sympathetic feeling in this direction, but there does not appear to be a very voluminous demand, and stocks decrease slowly.

The wholesale market remains in a flat and unsatisfactory condition, with a continued tendency towards lower prices, and were it not that the supplies are too small to cause any undue pressure to realize, we should, in all probability, be called upon to record a serious decline. As it is, prices generally are lower than last week, and sellers have to do pretty much all the negotiation in effecting sales. Most local dealers have become very fastidious, and require something unusually acceptable to be offered before they will operate, but none are buying unless they have previously secured a resale of the goods. The exports this week are large, made up mainly from the free purchases to which we have recently referred, but shippers are now operating very slowly, the weak tone on gold, and extravagant rates asked for freight room, in some instances leaving them without a margin. Eastern spruce has been in good supply, but not in corresponding good demand, and the turn has again favored the buyer, prices working off 50c. to $1.00 per M, and closing unsettled. Under the ruling state of affairs common grades of course feel the depression to the greatest extent, and can only be sold by considerable shopping around, to find the buyer who can use them to advantage, while the better qualities, though moving more quickly, are not always disposed of until offered two or three times, and figured upon very closely. About $22.00 per M may be looked upon as about the top rate on even the best cargoes, most of the average schedules realizing $20.50 to $21.50, and from this sales have been made all the way down to $18.00 per M, according to quality. White pine continues moderately active, but at the moment the demand is less general, shippers having partially withdrawn, and manufacturers taking about all the stock of importance changing hands. The supply in the meantime has received a few additions, and prices favor the buyer on all grades. We quote at $20.00 to $25.00 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; and $26.00 to $30.00 for good to choice do. Piling is in fair request and steady, but only the choice grades are inquired after, and of these there has of late been a supply better proportioned to current wants than heretofore. We quote at 6½c. to 7½c. for inferior to good; 8c. for prime; and 8½c. to 9c. for extra to choice. Pickets still neglected, and quoted nominally at $8.50 for ¾ inch, but many receivers will sell lower to get rid of stock, and prevent the trouble and expense of piling out. Yellow pine shows no important variation in price, the rates ruling at the mills and the cost of transportation preventing a decline, while the demand is too small to encourage the hope of an improvement. Very little has been sold on local account, dealers seeking customers mainly in the neighboring cities. Black walnut logs moderately active, without change in price. Eastern shingles neglected and values uncertain. Holders ask $4.50 to $5.00 for No. 1; and no bids exceed $4.00 to $4.25 per M. Southern shingles sell in small lots, but on favorable terms to the buyer. Sales have been made since our last of 1,380,000 feet eastern spruce at $18.00 to $22.00 per M; 180,000 feet yellow pine at $38.00 per M; 800 pieces piling at 6½c. to 8c.; 75,000 Cypress shingles, 6 inch, at $10.00; 50,000 do. 2 feet at $14.00; and 30,000 rough Cypress staves at $30.00.

We also notice shipments to Hamburg of 20 logs black walnut valued at $3,800; to British West Indies 25 spars and 40,000 lath; to Antwerp 45,000 staves; to London 15,800 do.; to Glasgow 7,200 do.; to Alicante 6,000 do.; to Lisbon 9,000 do.; San Francisco 6,000 do, and 363 pieces plank. The receipts reported are as follows: From Brunswick, Ga., 200,000 feet lumber; from Charleston 50,000 feet do; from Georgetown, S. C., 56,300 feet lumber, and 44,000 do. shingles; from Windsor, N. S., 92,000 deals, 152,000 laths; from St. John, N.B., 320 pieces piling, and 777 spars and poles; from St. George's, N.B., 762 spruce poles; 274 inch spars; 191 sticks, 349 poles; and 16,500 shingles; from Musquash, N.B., 1,025 pieces piling. We have advices of shipments from San Francisco to Hong Kong of 50,321 feet lumber; to Guam, of 25,000 feet do., and to La Libertad 127,820 feet do. From Wilmington to Buenos Ayres, 180,000 feet lumber.

From the Western markets we have nothing of interest to advise this week. Business at some of the leading depots was rather more active owing to increased supplies and about former figures were realized, but there was a want of tone to trade, and buyers by a little negotiation were generally enabled to secure comparatively favorable terms. The assortments as a rule were improving, and no great difficulty complained of in making selections. At Chicago the quoted wholesale rates were $10.50@12.00 for common to good mixed, and $14.00@15.00 for strips. We note the following recent sales:—100 m ft boards and strips, at $13.75; 150 m A sawed shingles, at $3.62½; 75 m do at $3.50; 60 m ft coarse mixed, at $10.75; 70 m ft coarse scantling and joist, at $11.50; 100 m ft coarse mixed, at $12.50; 100 m ft mixed ½ strips, at $13; 50 m, lath, at $2.25; 120 m ft scantling, joist and timber, at $12; 115 m ft largely strips, balance mixed, at $14 for strips, and $12 for mixed; 4 m flat pickets at $10; 70 m ft strips and boards at $13; 12 m ft 2 inch at $11; 110 m ft mixed at $13.25 for strips and boards; lath at $2.25.

The following will give an idea of the St. Louis markets:—Sales 300,000 feet good Wisconsin at $21 on hank; a lot of pickets at $16; a lot of oak and walnut logs, in water, at $17@19. On the levee—15,000 ft yellow pine flooring, blue and stained, at $24.50; 2400 ditch sycamore at $15; 10,000 poplar boards at $16. At depot—1 car green yellow pine flooring at $25; 1 do at $26; 1 do dry $27.50; 1 do. do at $28.50; 3 cars do dimension $20.

The Canadian and Maine markets, as a rule, are firm, and show a fair amount of activity, with most saws running on full time. The orders from this direction, however, are reported as small, and buyers in most cases seeking concessions. Shipments fair, and probably as large as will find sale for the present.

A recent report on the Boston market says:—

"The market continues wonderfully steady with so little change that our quotations remain the same.

Lumber of all kinds is coming in freely, is steadily sold, and as yet prices are firm; but some of the lower grades may be bought at little lower prices; but all agree that lumber sells well.

The retail yards have plenty to do, and altogether the trade is in a prosperous state.

The quantity of lumber to come forward will be large, but we think there will be no surplus; and altogether we are of the opinion that spruce and some low grades of lumber will be lower at mid-summer—yet we look for a fine market through the season.

The demand for export is small.

The business is being done more at Eastern ports and from the St. Lawrence River than formerly."

Southern advices contain nothing new in regard to the general features of the markets, and report prices about as before. Logs a little scarce, but most of the mills manage to keep running.

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $5@12 00 per M. feet for mill timber, $9@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@23 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypresses, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices as follows: Steam sawed $5.00@30.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00, mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.
Flooring, 1½x4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.
" dressed, 25 to 27 " "
Ceiling, ¾, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.
Planks, 1½x10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.
" 1½x2 15 to 17 " "
Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.
80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—Copper sheathing in one or two instances during the week has sold with considerable freedom, but the general market lacks spirit, and prices though quoted as before are not in all cases insisted upon. The supply continues good. We quote new at 33@35c., and old 22@23c., according to quantity. Yellow metal only moderately active at 27c. from manufacturers' hands. Ingot copper has been in very light demand, and in some few cases slightly easier terms were granted, in order to work off odd lots of stock, but, as a rule, holders appear quite firm, and former figures are retained. The stock is not very large but is slowly accumulating. We quote at 23½@24½c. Scotch pig iron continues dull, and the supply shows a slight increase, but holders do not seem at all anxious to force business, and the actual amount offering is very small. On some of the common brands purchases can be made at easier rates, but all the upper qualities are firm at full former figures. We quote at $40@45 per ton. American pig has not shown much life, most of the sales being in small job lots, but dealers refuse to accept any easier terms, and values remain at about the former basis. No contracts are making for future delivery. We quote at $40 per ton for No. 1; $38 do. for No. 2; and $36@37 do. for No. 3. Bar iron from store is selling along slowly in very small parcels, at about former rates, but the general market is flat, and to a great extent nominal. We quote at $55.00@57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $60.00@62.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@155.00 for rods, 5-8@3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron remains quiet, though a few country orders have lately been filled, and some little local demand prevails. Prices about as before, closing steady at 5½@6½ for singles, doubles, and trebles. Galvanized sheet in fair request, and steady at 20@25 per cent. discount from list rates. Russia sheet continues to meet with a comparatively slow sale, and as the assortment for the present is good, the few buyers make selections without difficulty and obtain some little advantage thereby, the extreme figures showing a slight modification. We quote at 11½@13½c. gold, according to number, &c. Pig lead is firm, if anything a little better than last week, but the demand does not improve, and few sales are making, except in a retail way. Stocks fair. We quote at 6¼@6½c. Bar lead 10½c. and sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin, in a wholesale way, is almost entirely neglected, but in jobbing lots from dealers' hands a very fair amount of stock is going out at full former rates. The large holders are not offering their goods. We quote in coin at 30½c. for English; 31½@32c. for Straits; and 34@34½c. for Banca. Tin plates are dull, the stocks large, and prices weak and nominal. Zinc has been in good demand and prices are firmer at 12¼@12½c. from store.

NAILS.—Cut nails have met with rather more inquiry, both on export and domestic account, and without establishing any advance, dealers obtain full previous rates with comparative ease, the general tone of the market ruling quite steady and uniform. Very few sales are made to local dealers or jobbers, as they find the distributive demand too small to warrant purchases beyond actual and immediate necessities. The supplies are good. We quote at 4¼@4½c. in large parcels; 5c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch nails are about 6½@6¾c., with choice at 6½c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5½@5¾c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½@5¾c. for 5d., and 5½@6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 40c@42c. for copper. The exports are 523 packages, valued at $3662, against 226 packages, valued at $1549, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 1550 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market continues rather dull, the demand from all sources apparently confining itself solely to such parcels as will answer for immediate use, and importers and manufacturers evidently do not feel entirely satisfied with the result of the Spring business. The jobbing trade also is dull, though considering the general disposition of consumers to economize, the distribution is very fair. Prices remain steady, and on American white lead, in oil, and English venetian red are somewhat higher. Paris white is very scarce in first hands, and a trifle nominal. Linseed oil early in the week was fairly active and steady, and in some cases 1c. per gallon over our last figures obtained, but latterly the inquiry has become very light and the turn is again in buyers' favor, the market closing barely steady at about former rates. Crushers are not forcing sales, but are a little anxious to operate at current figures. We quote at $1.05@1.08 in casks, and $1.07@1.09 in bbls., according to quantity, with a few outside lots sold at $1.02½@1.03½. Exports of 28 pkgs. paint, valued at $288; 40 gallons linseed oil, value $47, and 100 bbls. oxido zinc, value $1,400.

PITCH.—No further changes in values have taken place, but the tone has not been remarkably strong and more sales are making at inside than at outside figures. The demand has been moderate from all sources, buyers seldom taking any more goods than they could use immediately, and manufacturers working steadily have somewhat increased the supply. High freights prevent foreign shippers from operating. We quote at $2.75@3.00 for city; $2.75@3.12½ for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store $3.25@3.40 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 16 bbls. Exports for the week 150 bbls. Since January 1st, 1,872 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,607.

PLASTER PARIS.—There has been a little more life in the market for lump, the call coming in part from local buyers, but still mainly on out-of-town account, and prices have ruled quite steady at an average of $4.50 per ton for white, though in a few cases choice lots have slightly exceeded this figure. Some of our leading manufacturers now make all their own importations. The receipts for the week foot up 1,920 tons. Calculated in fair request and steady, the local sales showing a slight increase, but the main outlet is on shipping orders. Prices for city steady at $2.40@2.50 per bbl., and for country irregular at $2.25@2.35 per bbl. Shipments of 600 bbls. to San Francisco.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The market has continued only moderately active during the week under review, and with fair arrivals prices have gradually worked downward, closing about 1c. per gallon lower without much strength. The consumptive demand has been pretty good, but shows a tendency to fall off, and as shippers have no margin at the present cost of freight-room, supplies must naturally accumulate. The stock in yard on the 1st inst. was 1,500 bbls., against 2,000 bbls. same time last year. We quote at 45½@46c. for merchantable and shipping order; 46½@47c. for New York bbls.; and 47c@48c. for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 2,204 bbls. Exports for week 1,169 bbls.; since January 1st, 7,108 bbls., and for same period last year 3,750 bbls.

TAR.—Trade continues to move very slowly in this market, and the feeling is heavy and unsatisfactory to a further decline on the upper grades, and rather a nominal state of affairs at the close. There is no great pressure to realize, however, and the stock, though large, is not of sufficient magnitude to cause any serious apprehensions. Exporters have not taken anything to speak of, owing to the lack of freight accommodations, but on interior orders the outlet is about as last week. The accumulation in yard on the 1st inst. was 8,100 bbls., against 6,500 same time last year. We quote at $2.50@2.62½ per bbl. for North County as it runs; $2.75@3.15 for Wilmington do.; $3.25@3.50 for rope; and occasionally $3.65@3.87½ for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 1,754 bbls. Exports for week 564 bbls.; since January 1st, 23,445 bbls., and for same period last year 3,202 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' reports for the week ending June 1, 1860, says:

There has been a fair trade throughout the district during the past week with free arrivals by both Erie and Champlain canals. The stock is better assorted. Prices are well sustained and an active trade during the present week is expected.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending May 28th were 37,921,000 feet, against 36,495,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 15,756,000 feet, against 15,877,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1863. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 170,565,000 feet, against 201,691,000 feet in 1863. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 205,573,000 feet, against 157,333,000 in 1863.

THE REAL ESTATE BOARD OF BROKERS.

AT last the real estate agents of New York city have realized the necessity of an organization, and have taken some practical steps looking forward to the establishing of a board of brokers, and the carrying on of the business of buying and selling real estate on a more systematic basis. There can be no doubt of the success of this undertaking, if it is conducted on anything like fair and honest principles. For years New York has had her Stock Exchange, which now numbers some 1,500 members, who daily transact business by the tens of millions of dollars, and which numbers among its members names which are influential in deciding the course of the finances of our country. We have also our Corn Exchange, wherein the prices which shall rule for our vast storehouse of breadstuffs are daily determined, and in the twinkling of an eye the intelligence is flashed to the North, South, East, and West whether the price of wheat for the day shall be $1.65 or $1.75 per bushel. In fact, nearly every great interest has seen the necessity and advantage of a daily meeting wherein ideas can be exchanged, notes compared, and good suggestions be adopted. That real estate, which is really the basis and foundation of all our great interests, should have been so long without such a representation is really astonishing. However, now that the initiatory steps have been taken, we look to the new board of brokers for the carrying out of many improvements which the business, as at present conducted, is greatly in need of. We trust the present board will be managed openly and fairly, and that no attempts will be made to run it in the interests of any clique, and that no rules will be made looking towards establishing it as a close corporation or for an exclusive set. It will be well to remember, that within the past two months, the old aristocratic closed board of stock brokers, owing to declining prestige and loss of business, were forced to sue their neighbors of the open board for an amalgamation, whereby they might live.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE CITY.

MAYOR HALL's message contains a number of excellent suggestions, notwithstanding it is somewhat trite and trivial in spots. His recommendations as to necessary city improvements are some of them of great value, and should be heeded. It is very discouraging to those who have the future of this great city at heart, that more interest is not felt in needed city improvements. It would be a wise and timely movement, if some ten or twelve of our leading Real Estate owners and public spirited men would examine all the various propositions looking towards the permanent improvement of New York, and would decide upon some general plan which the people at large could be induced to indorse. All admit that we want new piers and wharves; let this high commission determine exactly what kind of piers and wharves we require, and make it a part of their general plan for the improvement of the city. We also want certain underground, and perhaps overground, railways; let this commission also settle as to what the future growth of the city needs in this matter of steam roads, and make them part of their general plan. Then there are certain street openings and widenings which are very sorely needed, and if once our leading property holders decided upon a general plan for the whole city, and kept pegging away, in time it would all be accomplished. We call upon Mr. Andrew H. Green, the Comptroller of Central Park, to take immediate steps towards organizing a voluntary commission of this kind; lay the plans all before this board, and when a determination is arrived at, there is no doubt but that all of the independent press will give it a hearty indorsement, and its realization will be but a matter of time. But the present haphazard system, or want of system, is disgraceful to all our leading citizens. Mayor Hall's recommendations have very little authority, owing to the anomalous position the chief magistrate of this city occupies; all he can do is to make certain recommendations, which may or may not be wise or proper, and which do not go for much more than the recommendations of any other man. Who will lead in this important matter?

STATEN ISLAND IMPROVEMENTS.

THE public are awakening to the advantages of Staten Island—her position, her nearness to New York, her natural beauties, her capacities for accommodating our crowded population with cheap, healthy, and convenient houses; and it is to be hoped that the movements affecting the island will soon assume that aspect of intelligence, activity, and harmony, and, above all, combination, which will expedite her inevitable advancement, and make up by accelerated progress for years of apathy and neglect.

A few prominent points occur, to which it seems to us the attention of all who feel any interest in the subject should be directed.

1. The island should be promptly relieved from the application of the country road laws, and measures taken by proper legislation for laying out proper roads and avenues throughout the island on a general symmetrical plan. Private land owners have long been plotting out their own property, and laying out their own streets and roads; whereas if a road or avenue is actually wanted for the public convenience, the object cannot be attained without great delay. Let there be a general plan by which land owners can locate and sell their property, and designating roads and avenues which may be opened and used as occasion requires.

2. Staten Island must plainly be connected with the continent, and the railroads leading to the West and to New York, by bridges or tunnels. Why should all those railroads reaching Elizabeth—a city of 25,000 inhabitants, directly opposite Staten Island, within 1,000 feet—not have a continuation across Staten Island to the harbor and the lower bay? The population of Staten Island, as it now is, is abundantly sufficient to demand this, if no others were interested.

3. Brooklyn, now stretching, with her suburbs, to Fort Hamilton, opposite Staten Island, with her 400,000 inhabitants (more than the city of New York possessed in 1845), demands some direct avenue to the Great West, San Francisco, and the Indies. A bridge or tunnel across the Narrows, and another at Elizabeth, and 8 or 10 miles of railroad across Staten Island, gives Brooklyn easy and direct connection with the whole railroad system of the country and the West.

These points are of national importance to commerce, to the postal system, to the national defences; and the aid of Congress to inaugurate proper measures may not unreasonably be invoked.

THE Port Chester road is certain to be built, notwithstanding the strenuous opposition of the New Haven Railroad Co., who do not like the idea of a parallel line running all the way to New Haven, as in time this Port Chester road is certain to do. But we hear that property along the east side of Westchester County is coming up in value very rapidly, in view of the certain opening of this road. This Port Chester road will of course connect with the Second Avenue road, and with the Harlem boats; and really it looks as if in time there is destined to be as large a population in Westchester County as there now is on Manhattan Island. Should the Harlem river ever be made navigable, and should the northeast side of the island become an entrepot for the commerce of Europe, which it certainly would be were the Hell Gate rocks to be removed, then we should see some very marvellous changes in the centre of population upon this island. Astoria would become a new Brooklyn, and the upper side of Harlem river in Westchester County a new Jersey. Our grandchildren may yet find their Wall Street on some of the cross streets above the Central Park, while the present Wall Street may be a mere collection of molasses and codfish warehouses.

THE West Side Association very properly object to changing the grade of Sixth Avenue above the Central Park for the amusement of owners of fast horses. This promises to be a noble avenue, and while it is true that some better provision than Harlem Lane affords should be furnished the runners of fast horses, it is not desirable that the stream of the sporting men should be turned upon the people who live or have bought property along the sides of the Sixth Avenue. By the way, it is curious that no more notice is taken by the daily press of the number of accidents on Harlem Lane; there is absolutely no restriction to the speed of horses, and as the number of turn-outs is very large, many serious accidents occur daily from runaways and collisions. It is really dangerous for a quiet person to take a quite drive upon that road.

THE members of the West Side Association are alive and kicking. They are determined that the laws relating to the assessment of the taxes shall be amended; that the opening of streets along that side of the town shall be hurried up, and with as little expense as possible; that underground roads shall be built; that the grade of the Eighth Avenue shall be fixed to suit the property holders along the route, and that all desirable improvements shall be hurried up. What a pity that all the property holders of this city have have not some central organization to look after their interests as have the west side real estate owners!

THE breeze raised a short time since in regard to the prevalence of small-pox in the city is dying out. There were only four deaths in the city last week from that dreadful scourge, and none in Brooklyn. The prompt measures taken by the Board of Education were undoubtedly needed, and we are glad to see the good results arising from them.

WE should like to inquire how much the Seventh Avenue Railroad Company is paying the city for the exclusive right of Thompson Street. We think, so far as our observation goes, that Mr. Whiting is right when he says that the filthy condition of that street is due wholly to the Seventh Avenue Railroad Company and that the corporation should be held responsible. Let the Board of Health stir them up.

THERE are two nuisances which are out in full force this summer, which should be abated. The first is the dog nuisance, which this year seems to have free license; and the second is the fire-cracker nuisance, which is the delight of all the little ragged urchins, and the terror of all respectable pedestrians. Let us find out some more appropriate way of celebrating the completion of the Pacific road.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE market for city property presents the same depressed condition which has characterized it of late, and we hear of some instances where slight concessions are offered by sellers, particularly in regard to Brooklyn property. Speculative buyers are, however, holding off, and evince no disposition to make contracts. Matters are easing up a little in regard to the difficulties which have existed for some time back in regard to the procurement of money on bond and mortgage, although the money market at the present time is an object of anxious solicitude to holders of property on margins, and every little change is nervously noted. For country property there is no change, and the sales, as a rule, are well attended, and in some instances are highly successful. Messrs. Johnson & Miller will sell on Tuesday, June 14th, the remainder of the Nostrand Farm lots, at Clareneville, S. I. The Messrs. A. D. Mellick, Jr., & Bro. will sell on Wednesday, 70 villa plots, at Plainfield (see advertisement); also on Tuesday, the 14th, at Avenel 100 villa plots (see advertisement).

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—Dealers generally report no very important nor decided alterations in the market for hard brick, but they all express much greater confidence than for several weeks past, and business, for the time being at least, is evidently settling down to a more uniform and reliable basis. The supplies have continued to come forward rather slowly and irregularly, partly owing to unavoidable detentions in loading, the lack of favorable winds, &c., though the fact that nearly all the kilns thus far burned have been of small size tends materially to reduce the aggregate amount received. The quality has continued to improve, but as yet can hardly be said to be up to the ordinary average. Dealers who take stock by the cargo to sell out in smaller quantities still refrain from purchasing with any freedom, and builders who buy direct from vessel adhere to the policy of operating only to the extent of immediate wants, but those wants appear to be daily increasing, and the demand of late has been active enough to consume pretty much all the arrivals, and very few bricks are unsold at the present writing. Prices have held their own without difficulty, and close quite steady with the range somewhat condensed, previous inside figures being dropped, owing to the disappearance of all the inferior lots. We quote at $8.00 @ $10.00 per M for North River, with some of the very best parcels occasionally reaching $10.50, though this may be considered about the extreme cargo rate. The call is largely on city account, and as before runs mainly on the upper qualities, and these, some of our leading dealers think, will be pretty well sustained throughout the greater portion of the summer; in fact several very good contracts have already been made for future delivery on about a basis of current rates. The falling off in building operations has in the main been amongst those who were running up cheap dwelling houses on speculation in the upper part of the city and could use common brick, but down town there is, if anything, increased activity in the erection of large ware houses &c., and for these nothing but the very best stock is wanted. The Eastern orders also, which are occasionally coming in, insist upon having A1 brick or none at all. Pale brick continue in good, brisk demand, and have met with increased attention since the disappearance of the inferior lots of hard. The general supply is very fair, but is not allowed to accumulate. We quote at $5.50 @ $7.00 per M, with very few lots to be found at the inside rate. Croton fronts have not commenced to arrive in any quantity as yet and we have no new features to note. Prices range from $16.00 for common brown to $19.00 per M for choice red; Philadelphia fronts selling slowly from jobbers' hands at about $45.00 @ $50.00 per M.

CEMENT.—The general inquiry for Rosendale is fair, if anything rather better than last week. Shippers continuing to purchase with full as much freedom, and many local dealers increasing their orders, owing to some improvement in the distributive demand. Prices remain steady, and all the leading companies without difficulty still obtaining 1.90 delivered at Rondont, and $2.00 per bbl. delivered here. Nothing has occurred to interfere with the production and the supply is nearly equal to the call, though in a few cases back orders are yet to be filled. Eastern buyers are well represented, a fair amount is taken for the Pacific coast, and exporters occasionally want a small parcel. Recent engagements have been made to deliver stock at Boston for use on public buildings at $2.17, and contracts have also been entered into to land at San Francisco 20,000 bls cement, free of all charges at $3.98, the latter lot to be used in the construction of the United States Mint. Foreign styles are moderately active at previous rates. The only shipments reported are 17 bls to Mexico.

FIRE BRICK.—The supplies are still quite liberal, and the market as a rule rather slow, but still there appears to be less general inactivity and depression than was apparent two or three weeks ago, and a few dealers report a very fair trade. Prices remain about as before, with first class buyers occasionally gaining comparatively easy terms Imported styles are in fair demand and steady at $80@ $85 per M. for Starbridge, $80 do. for Leemoor, and $65 @ $70 do. for Welsh.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Business in most styles is still quite slow, the majority of the desirable parcels having been selected out by jobbers, and the supplies coming forward footing up too slow to induce any great amount of competition. Rosewood at the late decline is held more steadily, while on mahogany and cedar dealers are extremely firm in their views, and of the last-mentioned grade of wood, there is nothing worth bidding on in first hands. Satin wood, lignumvite, &c., sell to a fair extent, and values are sustained. Exporters have been looking around with a trifle more freedom, though tunking only light purchases as yet, and the local demand is about the same as during the past month. From yard trade is only fair, and stocks show no important reduction. No exports this week. The receipts are as follows: From Santa Cruz 41 pieces cedar; from Abaco, 1 do. mahogany; from St. Marc, Hayti, 90 logs mahogany; from Port-au-Prince, 2,264 pieces satin wood, etc.; and Parnaita 54 logs cedar.

GLASS.—The slightly increased demand for foreign window, referred to in our last, has been followed up to a fair extent during the week under review, and for several days dealers have found trade active enough to require pretty close attention. It is a noticeable fact, however, that buyers are very cautious in their operations, and all orders appear to be based entirely upon immediate necessities. The call is in the main from the interior, with a few coastwise and Southern orders, and now and then a local jobber can be found looking for goods. The general range of discounts remains as before, but prices are stiffening up a trifle, and the outside figures are now only allowed when a very desirable sale can be effected thereby. In most cases assortments are fair, though as comparatively scarce sizes, we may mention 7x9; 8x10; 10x12; 13x20; 15x36; 22x28; 24x30; 24x32; and 24x36. The sales are making at 35@45 per cent. off list on English; 40@55 per cent. off on French. American glass has been rather dull, though a number of lots have been taken by sash and blind makers, and several very fair shipments were made to the interior and southward. Discount still 50@55 per cent. The latest imports are 2,293 packages glass, valued at $4,731; and 169 glass plate, at $27,072.

HARDWARE.—The amount of business doing in the various styles of builders' hardware is in the aggregate quite small, but here and there a dealer can be found with a fair number of orders in course of execution, and some hopes are entertained of a little better trade within a few weeks. Not much dependence is placed on the local demand, but the declining cost of freights it is thought will increase the call from the interior. The supplies are fair and pretty well assorted. At a recent meeting of lock-manufacturers, it was generally resolved to hold to the old scale of prices, though buyers have been looking for a reduction, and are somewhat disappointed that they gain no great advantage. We learn, however, that Mallory, Wheeler & Co., are down to $5.25 per doz. for their upright rim locks 211, complete with mineral knobs; $1.50 per doz. for mineral knobs japanned, less 15 and 7½ per cent.; and that other mineral knobs can be bought at $1.25 for japanned, $1.75 for porcelain japanned, and $4.50@ $4.75 per doz. for porcelain rose plated, all net. Cast and wrought butts, and strap and T hinges are rather more plenty, in fair demand and steady.

LATH.—A short supply and a continued good demand have enabled the selling interest to retain all the advantage during the past week, and we have again to note a slight advance, with a pretty strong uniform tone prevailing at the higher figures. The cargo sales are still almost exclusively to local dealers, who, though quite unwilling to come in on an advancing market, and in no case making heavy purchases, find the distributive trade active enough to cause them to re-stock quite frequently, and pay the improvement in value, which receivers very naturally insist upon under the circumstances. One or two small parcels have been sold in transit to this port, but in the majority of cases sellers refuse to negotiate upon goods previous to arrival, the more so now that prices have the upward turn. The amount en route is reported as moderate, and manufacturers are apparently determined to carry out their policy of forcing our market up to $3.00 per M, by holding back supplies; but so long as the production continues with its present vigor, there can be no actual scarcity, and an accumulation is not improbable, particularly should the points which are now paying equivalent to $3.00, because filled up. Sales for the week reported of 500,000 at $2.70 per M. From yard trade is good at a proportionate advance over the above figure. As we go to press we learn of additional sales of one million lath at $2.75, a further slight advance, the market closing firm.

LIME.—Throughout the past week the market for Rockland lime has shown a very dull tone, with no changes in price of advantage to either buyer or seller. The supply has been very small, and the few cargoes disposed of, almost immediately upon arrival, without difficulty, but buyers generally are not over anxious to secure stock, while receivers find no opportunity as yet to get values up to a more remunerative level. The kilns in the meantime remain almost idle, the call from other points not being sufficient to keep them burning, and the prices current here leaving nothing but a loss to manufacturers. Common sells with the greatest ease and may be quoted steady at $1.25 per bbl., while lump is so much neglected as to be almost nominal at $1.50 per bbl. The Northern limes are arriving with more freedom, and in a measure supply the absence of Eastern stock, though, as a rule, the present sale is not liberal, and a portion of the receipts go to fill previous orders. The first class companies, such as the Bald Mountain, Jointa (Glenn's Falls), &c., ask, and as a rule, obtain prices about the same as Rockland, but a good many lots of inferior stock can be bought on much easier terms, and it is rumored that even prime brands have been shaded somewhat, in order to secure customers. The receipt coastwise for the week are eight cargoes.

LUMBER.—There is no general improvement in the demand at the retail yards, but evidently a healthier tone, and business has rather a brighter look than last week. Dealers who were busy before, report a continuation of the same encouraging state of affairs, and others who have been doing scarcely anything now begin to find that a few buyers are still left. From the country dealers, scarcely any orders are now received, the call coming almost entirely from local city consumers, both for building and manufacturing purposes, and as usual the assortment inquired after is very general, with a little more doing probably in black walnut and other fancy woods. Prices remain firm and uniform at the full figures of our previous quotations, and the stocks are slowly increasing, mainly from purchases made early in the season at the West, and now coming through direct, some of leading dealers counting their receipts, thus far, up among the million feet, with more to come. The Albany market still has a scant assortment and feels the effect of the continued fair Eastern trade to a considerable extent, inducing our dealers to hold aloof, or where small parcels of certain lines of goods are particularly required to buy from their neighbors, until they can replenish stocks from cargoes en route. A few small contracts have been made with builders for future delivery of goods, but the general preference of buyers is to await pressing wants before appearing in the market, all feeling hopeful of an ultimate decline, and all holding off to take advantage of it should it come before they are compelled to purchase.

The wholesale market is without any decided alteration, the general supplies running too small as yet to admit of much animation in trade, and buyers exhibiting an indifference about operating that shows very plainly what the effect of materially increased offerings would be. Still now and then a dealer makes his appearance, who has by degrees worked off stock, and finding a little distributive demand prevailing, thinks best to replenish, and this call has taken nearly all the desirable parcels on spot or to arrive. The export demand has been fair in the aggregate, but spasmodic and uncertain, owing to the fluctuations in gold and the cost of freight room. The Brazilian tariff of duties on imports has been modified somewhat, and now stands as follows on lumber: Pine 3 centimetres in thickness 116½rs per square metre; and for each 2 centimetres increase in thickness an additional 116½rs. per sq. metre. Planed or dressed lumber will pay 50 per cent. in addition to above duties. Eastern spruce, since the reduction noted in our last, has remained comparatively steady, with indeed a little more firmness on the upper qualities, some little competition prevailing to secure extra lengths. All the cargoes that have arrived up to the present writing are sold out, and some purchases have been made previous to arrival, mostly of stock however, for which there was a re-sale in small parcels already secured. We do not learn of a great many bills offering on the market, but there is said to be a pretty good sized fleet en route for this point, which would not be surprising considering the number of vessels and cheapness of freights at the Eastward, as well as the steady production of timber and lumber. We quote common to good at $18.00@ $20.00 per M, prime to extra at $20.50@ $21.50; and choice $22.00 per M. White pine is rather slow of sale, but in odd lots quite a respectable amount is being picked by both the home trade and shippers, and prices rule steady. Outside figures, however, are obtained with difficulty and only by the very best lots. We quote at $20.00@ $25.00 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $26.00@ $30.00 for good to choice do. Piling is less plenty, but the stock about equals the demand, and the market preserves a steady tone, prices ranging from 6½@ 7½c. for inferior to good to sc. for prime, and 8½@ 9c. for extra to choice. Pickets are not inquired after, and the few lots coming forward to complete lumber cargoes have to be disposed of on such terms as the circumstances of the case may dictate, though the buyer generally has the advantage. Yellow pine is steady for the ordinary average of stock, and a little firmer for choice sizes, &c., as the supply of the latter has of late scarcely equalled the demand. The purchases are mostly for immediate use, dealers showing no inclination to add to their stocks in yard. We quote at $30.00@ $34.00 for timber and flooring boards. Black walnut logs in fair shipping demand and steady at 7c. @ 7½c. per foot. Shingles of all kinds dull and nominally unchanged. We note sales 675,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $18.00@ $22.00; 20,000 ½ inch pickets at $3.30; 100,000 feet yellow pine on spot (a resale) and 150,000 feet to arrive at $32.00@ $33.00 per M.

We also notice shipments of 167 logs black walnut valued at $4,977 to Bremen. Five logs maple valued at $270 to Cuba; 160 bundles shingles value $340 to Mexico; 5,400 staves to London; 2,400 do. to Glasgow; and 6,000 do. to Corunna. The receipts reported are as follows: From New Orleans 83 logs walnut, and 26,000 staves; from Jacksonville, 165,000 feet lumber; from Brunswick, Ga., 273,595 feet; do., from Savannah 138 pieces lumber; from Charleston, 124,114 feet lumber; from Wilmington, 2,800 feet do.; from Newbern, 36,000 shingles. The receipts reported from the Maine coast include nine cargoes of lumber and two do. lath. We have advices of shipments from San Francisco to Callao of 44,000 feet lumber; from Wilmington to Rio Janeiro 146,577 feet lumber; from Baltimore to Rio Janeiro of 146,016 feet lumber; to Porto Rico of 212,045 feet lumber, and 95,000 shingles; to Demerara 2,023 feet lumber; to Bahama Islands 6,000 feet lumber and 25,000 shingles; and to Nassau, N. P., 6,000 feet lumber.

A recent Chicago report says:

"The favorable direction of the wind to-day brought quite a number of lumber-laden craft into port, and as a consequence the offerings were liberal. The quality of the lumber offered was better than at any time during the season, and as buyers were out in full force the volume of business transacted was quite satisfactory. As regards prices very few changes of importance occurred, and the prevailing feeling was one of firmness. Lumber from Muskegon, running 60 per cent. strips, balance boards and mixed, brought $15.00; coarse mixed $12.00; and common mixed $11.25; one cargo of mill-run from this point sold at $16.00, and another of fair grades sold at $14.00. Boards and strips from Grand River commanded $14.00. A cargo of selected lumber from Green Bay commanded $20.00 for one inch, and $38.00 for thick stuff. 'A' sawed shingles continue in urgent demand and sell quickly at $3.50@ $3.62½ for common to choice offerings. The bulk of the sales to-day were, however, made at the inside figure. There is no abatement in the demand for lath, and prices are very uniform, sales making at $2.25 per M. aloft. Toward the close of business hours something in the neighborhood of eighteen or twenty cargoes were left over."

Subsequent to the above, the demand became very moderate, and prices fell off materially, but as the particulars of sales were kept secret, reliable quotations could not be given. Messrs. Woolner & Garrick's Monthly Circular contains the following, under date of June 1st, 1869.

We commenced our circular of this date last year, by stating that the total receipts of lumber for April were some twenty-two millions over, and for the month of May, one hundred and fifty-eight millions in excess of the previous year, notwithstanding the market was lively for the first of the season, but became depressed, from bad weather, rendering transportation almost impossible during the month of May, and finally concessions in price had to be made in favor of the buyer.

This year we have the pleasure to record quite a different condition of things so far as receipts and shipments are concerned.

The receipts up to the 1st of June show a falling off of forty-seven millions, and the shipments an increase of over forty-seven millions over last year.

SHINGLES.—The receipts are sixty-three millions larger, and the shipments upwards of forty-two millions in excess of last year.

LATH.—The receipts are nine millions less, and the shipments two and one quarter millions more than last year.

The arrivals for the past month have run largely into the rougher grades of lumber, the demand for which has been excellent, and although there have been days when, owing to heavy arrivals the market has conceded to want of dock room and very bad weather, yet upon the whole, it has not fluctuated above fifty cents to one dollar per M, on such qualities, and closing at quotations fully equal to the first sales of the month. This has been the more surprising, as our roads, town and country, have been almost impassable, for the greater part of the time, in consequence of the continued heavy rains, which have also put a stop to agricultural operations on all the lower lands of this State.

There is no denying the fact that the market has shown a good front under the peculiar depressing weather which we have had, caused by the rains, which have been almost incessant for the past fortnight.

The amount of the higher qualities of lumber have not been in excess of the demand, and although the trade has been largely confined to lower grade, the market is firm, and a good business is expected for the ensuing month, as the trade for such has not been supplied to any extent.

We therefore quote the market firm for all kinds, but more especially for the upper qualities for which there are many inquiries.

The accounts from the eastern markets are good, stocks reduced, and a fair demand, and strong hopes of a good year's business.

From Canada the reports are that manufacturers are asking eight dollars, gold, at the mills, for mill run, mill culls out, at which price we hear of some small sales being made.

As these figures are not likely to be realized in our market at present price of gold, it is very probable that nearly all the Georgian Bay upper qualities will be purchased by buyers for the eastern markets.

In times of stringency of money and dulness in trade, and depression of prices generally, it has been a standing remark in the trade that lumber was always the first to feel the effect, and the last to be benefited by a change for the better.

It is useless to disguise, or to be indifferent to the fact, that trade in general, from many explained, and some obscure causes, has not been so brisk as many persons anticipated in the opening of the season; we have reason, therefore, to be gratefully satisfied that lumber has been the exception instead of the rule in this instance, and we hope to see the healthy condition of that market assist in recuperating other branches of trade that are at present depressed.

To such of our Canadian friends who may prefer this market to the East, we repeat a sentence from one of our previous circulars—"We would advise the mill-owners in Canada to send to this market only boards, the wider the better, or strips, six inches wide, all of good thickness, the more of the short lengths—12 and 14 feet—there are in the former, and the less in the latter, the better it will suit the demand of the purchasers here. The clear lumber off the sides of the log should be saved into 1½, 1¾, and 2 inch. It will not pay to saw white pine logs into 2x4 stud-ling joists or timber, as these articles can be obtained cheaper across Lake Michigan.

If the consumption for Chicago and its outlets is considered a criterion for the last four years, we need not be apprehensive of glutting the market with the quantity of logs procured this season, although they are far in excess of last year. Every log cut has been brought to market in all the streams and tributaries that we have heard from, and those that have not reported are unimportant.

The Saginaw Enterprise says:

"The lumber market begins to brighten up and look brisk. A large number of buyers have been in the market during the week, and a number of million feet of lumber have changed hands, almost invariably at the uniform rate of $6, $12, and $35. D. F. Rose & Co. sold Wednesday, 600,000 feet to Meer & Reimer, of Cincinnati, at $6, $12, $30, $35, and $40, and 600,000 feet dry on private terms to Buffalo parties. The dry lumber was from Wickes' dock. During the week W. H. Webster sold two cargoes, or about 500,000 feet, for $6, $12, and $35, and Mr. Benjamin, of Saginaw City, 250,000 feet at the same figures. A Chicago party purchased 1,000,000 feet at $6, $12, $30, $35, and $40, and Mr. Sparrow purchased at Bay City, for the Chicago market 500,000 feet at the same figures. A number of other sales are reported, covering two or three million feet of lumber, but all at the above rates. Altogether the lumber market may be said to look flattering, and the symptoms are that money will be much plentier in a short time."

From a Toledo Journal we obtain the following:

We give below a statement of the lumber, lath, &c., shipped from this port during the month of May, 1869, and the comparative month last year. The shipments show an increase over last year but are much smaller than they would have been had not the water been so low on the bar a portion of the time. In this connection we might state that the dredge has been employed on the Carrollton bar for the past two weeks, and now has a channel of sufficient depth to allow loaded vessels a passage. The shipments within the past few days have been quite large. The following is the comparative statement:

The St. Louis market is reported as follows:

We note increased receipts, but only a moderate business at the river bank. Buyers are holding back for lower prices, and not much lumber is changing hands. It is thought that the depressed condition of this market is likely to divert lumber from this market which was originally destined here. Received since our last 7,617,500 feet white pine, 300,000 feet yellow pine, 4,300,000 shingles, 800,000 lath, 215,300 feet poplar and ash, and 800,000 feet oak, elm, walnut and cottonwood logs. Sales include 1 raft dimension white pine at $17 on landing; 300,000 feet white pine $21 on landing; 15,000 feet green flooring, "blue," $24.50; 7 cars dimensions yellow pine, $19, $20 @22.50; 5 cars green flooring, ordinary, $26, fair $27, good $28.50, choice $30; 700,000 shingles at Louisiana, Mo., at $4@4.25 on the levee; 35,000 feet poplar at $26 for boards, $27 for strips, green; 90,000 feet ash $24@25; 6,000 do. $27@28; 30,000 feet walnut, common $30, good and prime $40@40.50. Popular in demand at $26@27. Ash quiet and market well supplied. Pecan, hickory and sycamore not wanted. Cypress 6 inch strips in demand and clear would bring $26. No sale for oak, unless specially ordered. Walnut scarce, and choice dry lots would command good figures.

Recent exports and shipments have been made from Boston as follows: To Africa 73,717 feet lumber, and 84,250 shingles. To Baracoa 13,758 feet lumber. To Bermuda 150 bundles lath; to British Provinces 6,782 feet lumber; to Calcutta 21,000 feet lumber; to Cuba 3,251 feet lumber; to Fortuue Island 31,055 feet lumber; and 100,000 shingles; to Hayti 15,096 feet lumber; to Madras 40,494 feet lumber; to Montevideo 639,988 feet lumber; to Porto Rico 10,218 feet lumber; to Aspinwall 20,000 feet do.; to other foreign ports 322,484 feet do.; to San Francisco 5,001 pieces lumber, 165 pieces plank, and 262 pieces hickory.

The Southern markets are fairly active and steady at previous figures.

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@ $9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@ $11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@ $2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows: Timber $8@ $12 00 per M. feet for mill timber, $9@ $15 for small shipping do., and $14@ $20 for large do. Lumber $20@ $23 for ordinary sizes; $25@ $30 for difficult sizes, and $22@ $26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows: Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $23; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@ $5 per M.

Charleston prices are as follows: Steam sawed $5.00@ $30.00 per M.; boards and scantling $24.00 @25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@ $38.00, mill timber, $6.00@ $8.00; and shipping, $11.00@ $12.00.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.

Flooring, 1½x4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.

Ceiling, ¾, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.

Planks, 1½x10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.

Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.

90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS. There is no change to note in the price of copper sheathing, but we find a rather stronger and better tone to the market, and all desirable lots command outside figures. The demand is improving largely on out of town orders, and as the production at the moment is not rapid, manufacturers and dealers feel quite confident. We quote new at 33@35c, and old 22@23c, according to quality. Yellow metal in very fair request, and steady at 27c, from manufacturers' hands. Ingot copper continues to sell very slowly, and prices have rather a downward tendency, closing somewhat nominal. The general stock, however, appears to be very well under control, and is not offered with any great amount of freedom. We quote at 23½@24c. Scotch pig iron is without any new features, except probably a slight increase of the supply. Most holders continue to manifest a fair degree of confidence, and there is nothing desirable to be found on sale at any lower figures. We quote at $40.00@ $45.00 per ton. American pig iron is selling only in small quantities as required by buyers for immediate use, and the general tone of the market is dull; but in view of the strikes in the coal regions the production is much restricted and holders are unwilling to part with their supplies or to contract for future delivery. Higher prices are in most cases asked, though not fully established, and the market closes unsettled. We quote at $41.00@ $42.00 per ton for No. 1; $35.00 @ $39.00 do. for No. 2; and $36.00@ $37.00 do. for forge. Bar iron from store has been almost totally neglected, and the market is in dull unsatisfactory condition. Former prices are given as the nominal values, but not in all cases insisted upon when there is a fair prospect of effecting a sale. We quote at $55.00@ $57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $50.00@ $52.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@ $122.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@ $150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@ $155.00 for rods, 5-8@3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron on the sales making realizes about former rates, but there is an absence of general activity, and the market has an undertone of weakness on nearly all grades. We quote at 54@6½ for singles, doubles, and trebles. Galvanized sheet moderately active at 20@25 per cent. discount from list. Russia sheet is dull, the supply and assortment good, and the main advantage in buyers favor, though no further changes in value have taken place. We quote at 11½@13½c, gold, according to number, &c. Pig lead remains steady with only a light business doing and a pretty fair supply. We quote at 6½@ 6¾c. Bar lead 10½c and sheet and pipe 12c, less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin is without much activity, dealers generally awaiting concessions before stocking up, but as the foreign news is favorable and this market relatively below those abroad, large lines are still held and sparingly offered. In small outside lots some retail sales have been made at a reduction. We quote in coin at 30@ 30½c for English; 31@31½c for Straits, and 34@34½c for Banca. Tin plates continue plenty, dull, and prices unsettled. Zinc is steady but less active at 12½@12¾c, from store, the latest reported imports are 73 tons iron hoop; 1013 do. pig iron; 23,168 R. B. bars; 29 tons sheet iron; 136 iron tubes; 18,495 pigs of lead; 57,096 boxes of tin; 1292 slabs; and 129,457 lbs. do.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There is no increase in the movement of the various grades of paints, &c., wholesale dealers making up only moderate invoices from day to day and mostly of regular standard goods. A few more out of town buyers have been in the market, but they took nothing of importance, and all seemed to be confining their operations to just such quantities as would answer to keep a light trade running for the time being. The retail dealers report a continued slow demand from consumers. Prices remain steady and uniform, with a little more strength on American whitening, which is scarce. Of Paris white there is no available stock, and values unsettled. Foreign glues have within a few days sold with comparative freedom at former rates. Linseed oil has been comparatively neglected during the past week, and prices have favored the buyer, though with much prevailing irregularity actual values are difficult to arrive at. A few crushers refuse to name any concession whatever, others again will accept 1@2c. per gallon lower, and outside lots can frequently be found offering very cheap. Western orders are not plenty. We quote nominally at $1.03@ $1.06 in casks; $1.00@ $1.08 in bbls., and outside parcels $1.00@ $1.01 per gallon. Exports of 74 packages of paint value $555; and 241 gallons linseed oil value $283.

PITCH.—There has been a little call for export, and a few city and country orders filled, but, as a rule, the market has continued quite dull throughout the greater portion of the week, and not altogether satisfactory to dealers. Prices are no lower on any grade, but the position is such that buyers manage to force sellers to accept the inside figures even on the small lots required, and there appears no immediate prospect of an improvement. It is impossible to ascertain the amount of stock on hand, but it is generally thought to be quite liberal. We quote at $2.75 @ $3.00 for city; $2.75@ $3.12½ for Southern; and small lots very cheap in a jobbing way from store $3.25@ $3.40 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 16 bbls. Exports for the week 150 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,022 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,669.

PLASTER PARIS.—The demand for lump continues fair, and dealers are realizing full former figures without difficulty, though as before, there is not much stock taken on city account, the supplies brought forward direct by manufacturers about meeting current wants. Thus far trade has proved better than previously calculated upon, the call from "up the river" buyers being of material benefit to dealers. The receipts for the week are 970 tons. Calced is also moving rather more freely, though not in a manner to indicate any great increase of activity for the present. Prices steady at $2.40@2.50 per bbl. for city, and $2.25@2.35 for country.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The amount coming forward is still very fair, and with only a light demand from all quarters, prices have continued on their downward course, and we make further reductions in figures, the market closing at the present writing somewhat unsettled. Exporters are taking scarcely any goods at present, while the home inquiry, if anything, shows some falling off. In fact, the consumptive trade has been very light all the spring, and has more than counteracted the increased shipments, which fact, in connection with a prospective moderate summer business, makes some holders rather anxious to realize. We quote at 44½@45c. for merchantable and shipping order; 45½@46c. for New York bbls.; and 46c.@47c. for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,448 bbls. Exports for week 12 bbls; since January 1st, 7,120 bbls., and for same period last year 5,204 bbls.

TAR.—Occasionally a small order comes in from the country, and a few lots are wanted by city jobbers, but this constitutes about all the demand, foreign shippers having supplied immediate wants, and no incentive for speculative movements prevailing. The arrivals have been moderate, but the stock is large enough with the present small outlet and could stand a pretty heavy drain. Nothing but the poorest lots are offered with any freedom, and prices remain about as before, closing steady. We quote at $2.50@2.63½ per bbl. for North County as it runs; $2.75@3.15 for Wilmington do.; $3.25@3.50 for rope; and occasionally $3.65@3.87½ for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 144 bbls. Exports for week 62 bbls.; since January 1st, 25,507 bbls., and for same period last year 5,862 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus report for the week ending June 8, 1869, says:

There has been a fair trade throughout the district since our last report. The stock of last year's sawing is running down to a close figure, and though the receipts are good, the active demand which has governed the season so far has kept stocks low. The large extent of ground now occupied by the district would, it is true, admit of a large stock on hand and still not make much show; still the 60,000,000 feet new receipts must have been drawn on largely or the yards would not be so bare as they now are. Our revised figures are well sustained, the bulk of the trade in clear pine being at $55@56. Coarse lumber is placed as fast as it arrives.

Dealers report a good trade with New York, New Jersey and the East.

The advance in the prices of deals for the English market is turning the attention of Canadian manufacturers in that direction, in preference to the manufacture of lumber for this market.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending June 4th, were 15,150,000 feet, against 45,835,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 15,205,000 feet, against 16,906,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 175,830,000 feet, against 246,009,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 227,923,000 feet against 174,122,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 7th, 1869 and 1868:

Buffalo.....	8,488,000 feet.	4,207,300 feet.
Oswego.....	9,648,100 feet.	9,569,300 feet.

Total.....18,136,100 feet. 13,876,600 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of June, were:

	1869.	1868.
Bls. & Sc'lg. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs.	23,802,600	3,452
1869..	55,508,300	4,995
1868..	62,767,300	6,123

Of the Boards and Scantling received 17,203,200 feet were by the Erie, and 6,098,800 by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to June 5th, were:

	1869.	1868.
Bls. & Sc'lg. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs.	55,508,300	4,995
1869..	62,767,300	6,123
1868..	62,767,300	6,123

The receipts of 1868 include some 11,000,000 ft. of boards and scantling detained on the canal during the winter of 1867-8.

OUR ARCHITECTS' ADVANTAGES.

ONE great and conspicuous feature in which our architects enjoy vast advantages over those of any other in the world, can be readily seen in the liberal and exalted notions of our commercial men, and others who have been and are engaged in building. In these advantages the builders and mechanics generally possess their fair share. Not content with lavishing wealth upon their private residences, our merchants and others conduct their business in edifices involving an outlay fit for palaces. The immense amount of money thus spent on Broadway, Church street, and other portions down town, during the last four years only, is more than the merchants of great European cities think fit to squander upon their stores and warehouses, possibly, during a whole generation. Let us illustrate our meaning. For instance, the London Times is, up to the present time, issued from a dull, besmeared, unpretending pile of old and decayed bricks, and in one of the dingiest, dirtiest parts of that metropolis, while here, the World, Times, Herald, Clipper, Ledger, and others, have already led off with costly and aspiring structures, and we understand that the N. Y. Tribune and New Yorker Staats Zeitung, with the Courrier des Etats Unis, propose shortly to construct their majestic literary temples, which we expect will cap the climax by taking the lead in architectural splendor. But even in this respect, we have only to look abroad a very short distance to see that our architects have not altogether kept pace with the splendid opportunities afforded them, either in the variety or inventive character of their designs. Indeed, we may safely assert that while our merchants, and business men in general, are equal to those of any other city in enterprise and magnificence of intention, such secondary cities as Chicago, Cincinnati, and even Buffalo, as we learn, are already threatening our store-builders to look closely after their architectural laurels. i. e., if they have not already lost them.

In another equally prominent feature, our architects possess an almost unlimited field of exertion—i. e., in the erection of private residences. While colossal fortunes are confined chiefly to the comparatively few in Europe, and consequently the erection of sumptuous edifices is only to be met with in rare isolated cases, on the other hand, men of vast wealth are widely and promiscuously scattered throughout our entire community. Thus Fifth, Madison, and Lexington avenues, as a mere display of individual opulence, stand, perhaps, unrivalled by any thoroughfares of the old world, and can only be compared, in pretension at least, to the efforts of Florence, Venice, Genoa, and we may add Paris, with London, and other great commercial cities of Italy in the palmiest days of their wealthiest merchants. But in how far different a manner did the latter go to work in the erection of their private dwellings! Look at Venice, even now in her decay, and what lessons—potent lessons—of undying beauty are to be gleaned from every time-worn marble palace, shadowing itself mournfully in her quiescent and peaceful lagoons! Look at Genoa, where each house is de ipso facto a separate poem in stone; where the bewildered artist is made to pause, sketch-book in hand, in front of each individual mansion, to cull some marvellous doorway here, some new and exquisite detail of cornice there, and where every fragment seems designed for some specific purpose, and pregnant with the yet living thought and sentiment of the feeling artist who contrived the plan. We blush to say it, but what artist coming here from a distance, in search of architectural knowledge, needs any sketch-book in traversing our much-vaunted Fifth avenue from end to end? When he has seen one house, he has verily seen them all, such is the similitude. The same never-ending high stoops and gloomy brown-stone fronts; the same number of holes, or windows if you please, punched in precisely the same places, and only ringed the changes upon square, circular, or segmental heads; the same huge cornices bristling with overpowering consoles and projections, and often looking, in their cumbersome and exaggerated proportions, like whole regiments of petrified buffaloes leaping headlong from their roofs. We have often been disgusted with the lamentable contortions with which our metropolitan architecture abounds. Certainly what we lack in invention, we cover over by "ornamentation" (!) and hence we have miles of reiterating and unmeaning rope mouldings, filigreed jambs, and window-heads or lintels, twisted into all manners of conceivable contortions; the only, the greatest merit being, apparently, which is overlaid with rivalry in amount of so-called ornamentation—in short, which cost the most.

The builders of antiquity, whose lessons we cannot yet altogether afford to despise, went to work in a very different fashion. Ornamentation was, with them, not the end, but a mere adjunct; it was no "be-all" or "end-all" with them. They fixed upon some leading idea or principle in all they did, adopted beautiful outlines and proportions, and then robed them in such appropriate embellishments as they justly required. Instead of squandering all their money in useless filagree ornaments over the whole surface of a building, they "reserved" their "thunder"—if we may so speak—for especial features or points of interest; leaving other portions of the edifice comparatively plain and unpretending. These remarks, for lack of space, must now be adjourned, and at a future day we will resume our criticisms.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

THE following letter contains a point which we think it would be well for Mayor Hall to bear in mind when he writes another message upon city improvements:

"NEW YORK, JUNE, 1869.

"To the Hon. A. Oakley Hall,

"Mayor of N. Y. City:

"SIR—Having read your suggestions of street improvements with much interest, I failed to discover in them a regular, comprehensive plan which would combine directness of access, as well as a continuous line of thoroughfare. Your propositions are of straight lines, without regard to cutting short the distance. The plans of Hausmann, in Paris, and of our own capital, Washington, are upon the problem of Euclid, that two sides of a triangle are together greater than the third. Hence, the base of the triangle is much shorter, and should be selected in making a thoroughfare. Now, here is a plan for you à la Hausmann, instead of that à la Hall: Prolong Greenwich avenue, diagonally across Washington Square to Broadway, intersecting it at Bleecker; thence, diagonally, through the 14th and 6th Wards, to connect with New Bowery at Chatham Square. This would open up to the West side, below 14th street. To the East side, I would run a street diagonally from the foot of Chamber, intersecting Broadway below Canal, thence across to the Bowery, intersecting it at Broom, thence along the Wards east of the Bowery, to Tompkins Square, running diagonally across it to 14th street. By running through two of the largest city squares or parks, much money would be saved to the tax-payers, while their use to those in the neighborhood would not be diminished, as open places or 'lungs.' The character of the property along the proposed routes is much below that of other parts of the city, and would be much enhanced thereby; while two direct and continuous thoroughfares would afford access where it is now much needed.

"HIRAM ABIFFE."

Hiram Abiffe's point is a good one, and it bears at what we have urged before, that what the city needs is some well-defined and clearly understood plan which all the proposed improvements should follow. There is a good deal of work to be done to make the metropolis what it should be, and we want a Hausmann who will do for New York what that great reconstructor did for Paris.

OUR RAILROADS.

THAT our railways are at present managed for the exclusive benefit of their stockholders, without regard to the rights or privileges due to the public, is painfully evident to the most cursory observer. It is true, that many improvements have been projected and carried out within the past ten years; but they have been so slight in comparison to the magnitude of interests involved as to be scarcely worthy of notice. One important obstacle to the improvement of our steam roads is the fact, that Presidents and Directors seem to think that their success can only be measured by the amount of dollars they may be able to squeeze out of those corporations in the shape of regular or extra dividends; and their whole energies are directed to the increase of temporary earnings, so that an excuse may be framed whereby they may be able to declare a stock dividend of 20 per cent. or 50 per cent., and place that amount into their pockets and those of their friends. There is scarcely a road in the country to-day which does not need more cars, more trains, quicker communication, and better road-beds. Every well-regulated railway should have at least six solid steel tracks. There should be one double track for the exclusive use of fast passenger trains, one also for accommodation or way passenger trains, and a third double track which should be used by freight trains only. Everything could then be run like clock-work, and accidents would become as rare as snow-storms in June. It should be laid down in the Charter of every road that, until it should be put into such a state, no extra dividend should ever be declared. The wholesale watering of stock which has taken place during the past two years is really alarming, and calls for some decisive action from our Legislators and those to whom the public have entrusted their interests. Twenty-eight roads in the United States have increased their capital stock since the 1st day of July, 1867, from $287,036,000 to the enormous sum of $400,684,000, an increase of $113,648,000 during a period of not quite two years.

What chances are there if this is allowed to go on, for a poor man ever being likely to receive any benefit from cheaper fares?

The public is presumed to have some little interest in regard to the division of the profits of any corporation in which it was a contracting party, and it is popularly supposed that when a charter is granted, conveying valuable rights and franchises, that the bargain is not to all be on one side. The public stipulated on its part, when granting charters for the building of railways in this State, that when the profits should exceed a certain sum that the amount should be appropriated to the lessening of fares and the reduction of freights, so that some benefit would result to the people at large. How the roads of this State have kept their part of the contract is aptly illustrated by the division lately of a little 80 per cent. dividend by the

New York Central, and the declaration by the Hudson River Road, last year, of a similar arrangement to the tune of 50 per cent. There can be but one remedy for this, and that will, we doubt not, eventually come, namely, that all railroads should be made public property, and be run by the general government, in the same manner as our present postal arrangements are so efficiently conducted. Imagine a corporation having the management of our postal system ever reducing the rates on letters from five to three cents! Why they would laugh at the idea, and the only thing that would be done would be the declaration of an extra dividend and the raising of the rate to seven cents per letter, in order that the regular dividend could be promptly paid.

THE failure of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to accept Mr. Yeomans' assignment of his bid for the 23d street Railroad Company, has been the occasion of several newspaper attacks upon Mayor Hall. While we have no disposition to shield that officer from public censure if he has done any wrong in the matter, we feel certain that the public as yet is not in possession of all the facts in this case. There are several wheels within wheels, in this matter of the 23d street road; indeed, if we are not mistaken, Mr. James Fisk, Jr., is credited with the intention of building a great Erie Railroad depot on the present site of Madison Square, and of running a broad gauge road, through 23d street, connecting the Hudson River with Madison Square; with the intention, finally, of transporting the cars on steamers from Pavonia to 23d street, where the will be run to Madison Square. It is all very well to say that the public would not stand such a desecration of one of their noblest and most important minor parks; but when the charter is once in Mr. Fisk's hands, he could laugh at the opposition of our citizens.

Commodore Vanderbilt has been successful in inducing the Legislature to allow him to close a street in the upper part of the city, so that he could build an immense union depot. It therefore does not seem as unlikely as it otherwise would, that that same Legislature would grant him a lease of Madison Square. What our city needs is some general law with regard to street railways. One thing ought to be done,—all our city railroad lines should be consolidated into one company; when this is done the owners could be held to greater accountability; they would be able to give better accommodations to the public, and in time we might reasonably expect that the fare would be lowered; but all this of course will take Legislative action to accomplish. In the mean time we fancy that no railroad will be built in 23d street.

ONE of the daily papers has an attack upon the Fire Insurance Companies, in which at least one good point is made, and that is, that fire insurance is not economical so far as the general interests of the community are concerned. The premiums to the New York companies in one year amounted to over $26,000,000, the payments to insured to about $12,000,000; that is to say, the New York public pay two dollars for every one they get back. This is rather costly usury, and it accounts for the fact that large property holders like the Astors, Trinity Church and A. T. Stewart never insure. They can better afford to stand the loss of an occasional house burned down, rather than spend two dollars with the certainty that they never could get more than one back. The whole business of Life and Fire Insurance is not yet upon a scientific basis. When it is we will have a maximum of service for a minimum of expense, which is far from being the case now.

It is highly gratifying to note that in point of workmanship and quality of materials used in the construction of houses now being erected in this city, that there is a very great improvement over those built during the past two or three years. The very best lumber, the best bricks, in fact all building materials which are first class are remarkably steady in price, while the poorer qualities go a begging and find few purchasers at any price. Too many houses have been put up of late years in a very superficial manner, merely for the purpose of being sold at a profit. All this has changed, and our builders now find it to their interest to put up a better style of house.

R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M.D., Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology in the New York Bellevue Hospital Medical College, and Professor of Chemistry and Physics in the College of the City of New York, writes: By the ingenious invention of a pipe of tin surrounded, strengthened, and protected by a thick coating of lead, all the valuable qualities of the tin are retained, and all the objectionable ones removed. In brief, the valuable qualities of "encased block-tin pipe" are, that it is lined with pure tin; that the lining is uniform; that the metals are not separable except by heat; that the tubing is lasting; that it is stronger, flexible, easily soldered, and, with all these advantages, it is cheaper than lead pipe. All points considered, I esteem the encased block-tin pipe superior to any other variety of pipe I am familiar with.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Our suburbs are still growing, and are rapidly coming into favor. During the past week the sales of country property were all well attended, and in one or two instances exceeded the most sanguine expectations.

Johnson & Miller appear to have met with unusual good success in the sale of the balance of the Nostrand Farm lots on Tuesday, at Clarenceville. Over 200 people attended, including a large number of ladies. An excellent lunch was provided, of which strawberries and lemonade formed a part. Rapidity seems to characterize all the dealings of this firm, and every lot was disposed of and deposit received, before 2 o'clock.

Messrs A. D. Mellick, Jr., & Bro. had a very successful sale a Plainfield, at which there was a very large proportion of beautiful young ladies, one of whom was the successful bidder for a corner lot. The lots on Front street, averaging 50x150 each, at the southern end of the property, bought for $400 to $495 each.

The Messrs. Mellick also had a sale at New Providence which passed off very satisfactorily, the choicest of the lots going at the rate of $1,500 to $2,000 per acre. In point of number this was about the best attended sale of the season.

Mr. A. J. Bleecker had a second sale of Rutherford Park property. The weather was delightful, and the attendance highly respectable.

For next week there is to be a sale of valuable property on Staten Island at which Mr. A. J. Bleecker will officiate. Staten Island has been long neglected, although it is one of our most beautiful suburbs, and the northern part is certainly healthy enough. This island should contain a population of 150,000 and probably will by the close of the present century.

MESSRS. JOHNSON & MILLER will sell at Islip some choice property which those looking about for a country home will do well to attend. Those who favor New Jersey property should attend the sale of Cranford lots by the Messrs. A. D. Mellick, Jr., & Bro. For full particulars see advertisement.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand does not appear to have subsided much, but the arrivals have been more liberal, and with the stock slowly increasing the market exhibits something of a dull tone, with the turn of values rather in buyers' favor, though there is nothing as yet to warrant any change in quotations. Really prime grades of common hard brick are selling at $10 per M by the cargo; a good article at $9.50, and on the poorer sorts the figures run down as low as $8 per M. The business doing is still almost entirely in the upper qualities, and of these, dealers still find it occasionally difficult to supply all demands, though the trouble, as a rule, is only temporary, as the receipts are now too regular for a scarcity of even the favorite grades, to exist for any length of time. The Eastern outlet continues open and pretty free, one or two vessels running regularly to points on the "Sound," besides almost daily receipts of random orders. The city consumptive demand has been good throughout the greater portion of the week, but, as we write, there is some indication of a falling off, and a few jobbing dealers have withdrawn, finding a supply in yard sufficient for all immediate necessities. For the poor and inferior sorts there appears to be no regular market, and prices are fixed according to the necessities of buyers, though the seller seldom gains any important advantage, as the call for this class of stock is so small that the opportunity to work off a few thousand is gladly improved. A further decline in poor brick is evidently looked for by the trade, but the time when it shall take place appears to be the question of ability to withstand the depression between the North River and New Jersey manufacturers. The production, from all accounts, is proceeding without interruption, and our supplies are likely to increase. We understand that the "striking" workmen have now all given in and returned to their situations on the terms offered by employers. Pale brick remains steady at full former rates, and have met with a demand active enough to cause at times a scarcity for a day or so. We quote at $5.50@7.00 per M. Croton fronts are without change, only a few additional orders going forward and nothing of consequence arriving. We quote at $16@18 per M for the ordinary grades. Philadelphia fronts are still nominal.

CEMENT.—Prices on all the desirable brands of Rosendale remain very uniform and firm, the free sales of stock giving manufacturers great advantage. The city trade is fair and appears to be gradually increasing, sending many local jobbers into the market as pretty free buyers, some even departing from the rule of a few weeks ago, and ordering ahead of visible wants. The cement pipe manufacturers are also taking pretty large quantities, as recent improvements in their production are bringing it more largely into favor. Shipping orders, however, are offering the most liberal outlet, and are quite general, the Eastern ports calling for a full average, buyers from points in Jersey and along the Southern coast increasing their purchases, and the movement for the California market showing no abatement. Some factories are behind with their orders, but in most cases the delay in turning out stock is slight. We quote at $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2.00 delivered here. Shipments have been made of 215 bbls. to British N. A. Colonies; 25 to New Granada; 134 to Cuba, and 2,320 to San Francisco.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—At the revised price list, noted some few weeks since, all the leading manufacturers are still firm, and in the majority of cases report a good steady business, while a few are working well up to their producing ability. The general supply is not excessive, but, from all accounts, fair and well assorted, enabling buyers to make selections without much difficulty. The Southern shipping trade offers a very liberal outlet for goods, but the demand from near-by country towns and villages is also good, and city orders begin to increase, some pretty large contracts having of late been entered into.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Of choice lots of the most desirable goods, such as mahogany, cedar, &c., the arrivals have continued quite small, and with little or nothing remaining over in their hands, the wholesale market retains a very strong tone. There is no great call for large parcels, but in a small way city and out of town jobbing dealers are quite willing to operate, and when finding goods just suited to their wants do not object to paying pretty full figures. Rosewood comes forward slowly at the moment, but the supply is fair, and sellers gain no important advantage. Satinwood, lignumvite, &c., are in about the usual demand, at former rates, with a larger supply of the latter recently received. Exporters still operate with considerable caution, and nothing is taken except upon positive orders, or to use as a means of exchange. From yard in retail lots, business is very good, though hardly up to the average of last season. Whenever practicable, the cigar box makers are using domestic substitutes for cedar, not so much now from the difference in the price of the woods as from the almost entire absence of a supply of the foreign article. We learn of nothing as yet found that will work up to better advantage for the purpose above mentioned than whitewood or sycamore. The exports are as follows: To Antwerp 25 tons rosewood, valued at $3,000; to Liverpool 139 logs satinwood, valued at $750. The receipts are as follows: From Ponce, P. R. 952 pcs. lignumvite; from Port-au-Platt 204 pcs. do., 1,573 pcs. mahogany, 319 pcs. and 34 logs satinwood; from St. Marc 20 tons lignumvite; and from Turk's Island 14 crotches, and 10 pcs. mahogany.

GLASS.—Foreign window glass, without any remarkable activity, continues to move with considerable freedom compared with the recent long period of dullness, and the general status of the market is now quite healthy and uniform, though we find very few dealers or importers sanguine enough to predict an immediate revival of trade. Southern buyers are represented to a fair extent, and a great many small parcels are sent out to supply the near-by country trade, while within a day or two we learn of some increase in the orders from the large Western cities. Prices are steady, and it now requires very strong inducements to bring about a departure from regular discounts. The aggregate stock has been increased, and the assortment improved by recent arrivals, and selections can now be made with comparative ease. We quote English at 35@40 per cent. off list, and French 40@50 per cent. do. American stock is also doing a little better, the outlet being mainly local and Eastern, and values are sustained. We quote at 50 per cent. off list. The latest imports are 142 packages glass, value $1,215, and 62 glass plate, value $5,635.

HAIR.—There is nothing particularly new or interesting in this market to note. There is a little out-of-town trade doing on jobbing orders, but scarcely any calls on city account, and the general tone is decidedly dull and unsatisfactory. Prices having fallen off to almost actual cost can scarcely be expected to go much lower, but they are somewhat unsettled, and lack strength at, say about 28@30 per bush. for cattle, and 88@40 do. for goat, with mixed cattle out of market, and nominal.

LATH.—At the improvement noted at the close of our last report, the market has been very well sustained, and shown greater activity, more liberal arrivals giving sellers an opportunity to meet the pretty free demand. Most of our city dealers, however, having secured enough stock to supply their probable wants for some little time to come, and finding the arrivals do not abate to any extent, begin to exercise greater caution, and of late, the demand has been comparatively moderate and somewhat uncertain. Receivers have been obliged in some instances to hold cargoes over for one or two days, but by shopping around here and there, and sending some stock out of town, they have managed to prevent an unusual accumulation, and to sustain the rate at $2.75 per M. There is evidently less confidence, however, than last week, and when market rates are hid they are accepted without hesitation, owing, it is thought, to pretty large amounts en route, the recent advance having in probability increased the shipments from the Eastward. Rates, since our last, of 3,000,000 at $2.75 per M for spruce, and $2.25 for hemlock. The yard trade is fair, but not very active.

LIME.—The arrivals of Eastern stock have been more liberal during the past week, and all the cargoes to hand have found a quick sale, at full former rates. Common is steady and uniform at $1.25 per bbl., but lump at $1.50 shows greater tone with some prospect of an early slight advance, as this grade has been rather unduly depressed, and is now meeting with a little more favor. As a whole, however, the lime market does not offer encouragement to dealers to advance prices to any extent, the probable result of which would be a shutting off of whatever demand now prevails, and increasing the supplies so rapidly at the same time, as to cause an immediate reaction to current figures at least, and it might be still lower. One reason for the dull trade in lime this year is the superior quality of the buildings erected, contractors using a much larger quantity of cement than usual, in brick-laying, &c. A few kilns keep fires going, but the majority have stopped burning, as the weak market and low price of lime here, and the impossibility of getting remunerative return freights for the vessels, render shipments decidedly unprofitable. The Northern limes are quoted on the same basis as Rockland, but even on some of the first-class brands, values are unsettled, and a desirable buyer is not allowed to depart without stock, if he bids anywhere within reasonable distance of nominal market rates. In most cases the supply is ample, though one or two dealers tell us they are still delivering on back orders. Ten cargoes are reported from the Eastward for the week.

LUMBER.—In nearly all sections of the city visited by us during the week under review, we find a continued feeling of encouragement on the part of retail dealers, and the slow, dragging, listless tone, noticeable during the early portions of the spring, has pretty generally disappeared. As a matter of course the volume of business is not by any means equal to the aggregate for the corresponding period last year, but trade is active enough to keep a fair amount of stock in motion, and to lead to hopes of an increase as autumn approaches. The bulk of the demand still appears to come from local buyers, for building and repairing purposes, though for manufacturing use there is some call, and a few small out-of-town orders have been filled. Most of the hills made up are small, but are offset by the number of buyers, while at the same time, the selections do not appear to be confined to any one class of goods, a very general assortment going into consumption. Prices generally are quoted steady, and we find no occasion as yet to alter figures, though it is evident that at current quotations large sales are considered as much more desirable than free purchases. Black walnut is held with firmness and selling to some extent, but there does not appear to be as much confidence on this wood as heretofore, except among dealers who are owners of a superior quality of stock, and have a regular run of customers. The general receipts at this point continue quite free, partly from Albany and partly from purchases made during the winter at the West, Buffalo, &c., and the stock in yard daily grows larger, with the general assortment keeping about up to an average, though of some grades of seasoned lumber there is a scarcity. From Albany we have public reports of low stocks, a brisk demand, and firm prices, but from some of our dealers who have been up and tried it, we learn that purchases can be made on easier terms than a few weeks ago, and that the general market still lacks strength. Eastern and New Jersey dealers are still the most liberal operators, with some increase, however, in attendance of buyers from the city, who, though seldom taking large amounts, find it necessary to stock-up a little more freely, in order to meet the larger consumptive demand.

In the wholesale market there has been more animation but a lack of spirit to the operations of buyers, who have, apparently, only taken goods because they were in a measure forced upon them, and easier terms, were offered. The general supplies have been quite liberal, and mostly of fair to good quality, thus partially sustaining values, but in no case have sellers thought it advisable to hold over stock for any length of time, with the hope of realizing outside figures. Dealers in this and neighboring cities, supplying current wants at their yards, still offer the main outlet for goods, though exporters are on hand to a fair extent when desirable parcels are offered. Of Eastern spruce the receipts immediately following our last, materially increased, and have since continued quite free, at times causing some accumulation, and buyers have gained a point or two thereby, with the tendency still rather in their favor as we write. The policy of manufacturers is, unquestionably, to keep this market as moderately supplied as possible, and they are, from all accounts, operating accordingly; but they must ship to some extent, and occasionally favorable winds, &c., bring forward so many cargoes that we become overstocked and prices recede, with no chance of recovering in the present condition of trade. Taking the ordinary run of random cargoes, values may be quoted at $19.00@20.50 per M, some really fine schedules selling at the latter rate during the week, though in one or two instances, where dealers found a number of sticks of extra length just suited to their wants, they paid $21.00 rather than allow the opportunity to pass. Common assortments are almost entirely neglected and nominal, though we hear nothing mentioned lower than $18 per M. White pine is dull and somewhat unsettled, under increasing supplies and assortments, but as yet there is nothing to warrant a change in figures. One or two small contracts for summer delivery are under treaty. We quote at $20@25 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $26@30 for good to choice do. Piling has arrived more liberally, and though the choice sticks sold very well, at pretty full figures, the general market was somewhat slow. Prices quoted from 6 1/2@7 1/2 c. for inferior to good, to 8 c. for prime, and 8 1/2@9 c. for extra to choice. Pickets are dull and nominal, at about $5.50 for 3-4 inch. For yellow pine the inquiry is fair, and as the receipts at present run rather light, dealers are enabled to sustain values. We quote at $30@34 for timber and flooring boards. Black walnut logs are dull and nominally unchanged. Eastern No. 1 pine shingles are offered at $4.50 without buyers. Southern shingles more plenty, dull, and prices uncertain. Sales of 1,320,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19@21; 150,000 feet yellow pine at $32@33, and 500 pcs. piling at 7@8 c. per foot.

We also notice shipments of 27,600 staves to Antwerp; 20,900 do to London; 6,000 do to Bristol; 3,200 do to Glasgow; 5,000 do to British Guiana; 2,500 do to British Australia; 6,000 do to Havre; 8,250 do to Cadiz; 20,000 do to Valencia; 61,598 do, 2,353 pcs plank, 4 pcs and 3,552 pcgs lumber to San Francisco. The receipts reported are as follows: From Pensacola 212,000 ft lumber; from Wilmington, N. C. 114,000 ft blocks to Nicolson Pavement Company; from Washington, N. C. 300,000 shingles, and 20,000 staves; from St. Georges, N. B. 136,390 ft deals, 539 spruce poles, 200 pcs piling, and 60,000 lath; from St. John, N. B. 130,192 ft deals, 45,024 ft ends, 15,350 slats, 450 spruce poles, and 119,000 lath; from Lepreux, N. B. 420 poles; from Ship Harbor, N. S. 95,000 ft lumber, and 200,000 laths; and from Shulee, N. S. 8,000 inches spars, and 325 pcs piling. The reported arrivals from the Maine coast are 29 cargoes lumber, 7 do lath, and 5 do piling.

At Chicago the general supply is fair, and about balanced by the shipments, but trade not being active and prices somewhat unsettled. On good to prime grades about former figures were realized, but common and coarse qualities favored the buyer. The following are recent sales: 130 M ft strips and boards, at $15.50; 90 M ft strips and boards—strips largely 12 feet—at $15.37 1/2; 150 M ft joist and scantling at $11.62 1/2; 130 M ft strips and boards at $14; 10 M ft 2 inch at $12; 5,500 flat pickets at $10; 1 M square pickets at $12; 37 M lath at $2.25; 118 M ft, over 60 per cent. strips, at $15 for strips, and $12 for mixed; 90 M ft coarse mixed at $11; 75 M ft large sawed timber at $22; 12 M ft scantling and joists at $12; 120 M ft common mixed at $11.50; 35,514 ft mill run at $16; 211 1/2 M shingles at $3.50; 1,150 M lath at $2.25; 124,293 ft mill run at $12.75.

Sales at Milwaukee, as follows: 141,679 ft mill run, 4 per cent. strips, balance mixed, at $13; 63 M scantling, joist and small short timber at $12; 45 M boards, common, at $12; 50 M pcs lath, at $2.12 1/2; 65 M, 1-2 strips, balance mixed, at $12; 100 M strips and boards, Tyson's mills, at $12.10; 95 M, hold full scantling and joist, at $11.50; deck load timber, 24 ft and upward, at $15; 50 M common mixed, at $11.50.

At St. Louis—Sale at the depot: 7 cars dry yellow pine flooring, at $27.50; 4 car dimension at $20. On the levee: 27,000 ft good green yellow pine flooring at $25; 14,000 choice do. at $26.50; 4,000 common black walnut at $35; 6,500 ash on private terms; 4,000 choice do. at $23; 20,000 gum scantlings, at $20 per M.

The Saginaw Courier discusses the prospect as follows:

The general question of lumber prospects so frequently mooted in this county can readily be answered by a glance at the past. Last year was considered a very successful one among lumbermen, but the shipments for the same time last year, compared with those made thus far this season, fall several millions short, although shipments were made some weeks earlier in 1898 than in 1899. The trouble with the present season is the fact that most of the lumber shipped is green, and consequently has to lay in the lumber yards of Cleveland, Toledo, Buffalo and other points to season before it can be sold, and the cash realized thereon. This fact, of course, shortens the money market among manufacturers and causes the present stringency in financial circles. Good lumber can demand the regular $6, $12, and $35 per thousand feet, but it has to be well made and clean to do it. Dry lumber is continually in demand at a small advance. The yards of Cleveland and Toledo to-day are completely stripped of this class, and could find a ready market for as much as could be sent in; but the shipments from this port last fall were so close that but a few million feet can be found. Under these circumstances the money market will remain close until returns can be realized from this year's lumber, although the prospects are that the business, as a whole, will far exceed last year's shipments, and there will not be felt, this coming winter, the same financial stringency as was realized last.

The Boston market is reported as follows:

The arrivals of lumber have been large and the demand has been fair, although less active than for some previous weeks. Prices of coarse pine, Spruce and Hemlock boards have eased off about 1/2 per M from previous current rates, but clear pine and other descriptions remain about the same. Laths have been arriving more freely and are a shade easier.

Boston prices are as follows:

Clear pine $50.00 for No. 1; $70.00 for No. 2; $60.00 for No. 3; $40.00@45.00 for No. 4; and $30.00@35.00 for No. 5. Coarse pine $20.00@22.00 for No. 5; and $14.00@16.00 for refuse. Shipping boards $22.00@23.00. Spruce $15.00@17.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $9.00@12.00 for refuse. Hemlock boards $15.00@15.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $8.00@10.00 for refuse.

From Baltimore we learn that the market is very dull for all descriptions, and we hear of no sales worth noticing this week. Prices are nominally unchanged and we still quote Carolina yellow pine flooring at $21@22, and Georgia do. at $25@27 per M, but the tendency of prices is downward.

The extreme Southern markets present no new features of interest, rates at most of the leading ports remaining as before, with a fair business doing. Shipments northward were rather slow at latest accounts.

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@12 per M. feet for mill timber, $9@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@23 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices as follows: Steam sawed $5.00@ $30.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00, mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.
Flooring, 1 1/2 x 4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.
" dressed, 25 to 27 " "
Ceiling, 3/4, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.
Planks, 1 1/2 x 10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.
" 1 1/2 x 2 " 15 to 17 "
Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.
50 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—Copper sheathing continues in good steady demand, and manufacturers are enabled to sustain former rates with comparative ease, though buyers in some cases look for concessions, owing to the weakness in ingot. The local trade is extremely light in the aggregate, but country and shipping orders are still coming forward with freedom, and the supply does not accumulate to any extent. We quote at 33c. @ 35c. for new; and 22c. @ 23c. for old, according to quality. Yellow metal is selling moderately, and remains steady at former rates, viz: 27c. from manufacturers' hands, and jobbing figures in proportion. Ingot copper has met with scarcely any demand, the supplies are increasing, and the market generally is in a very dull and unsatisfactory condition. Prices have undergone a material modification, without increasing trade in the least, and at the close are still weak and unsettled. Several parcels recently taken on speculation are said to be pressing the market. We quote at 22 1/2 @ 23c. per M. Scotch pig iron held at about former figures, and not very liberally offered, but the supplies and assortments are gradually increasing, and buyers hopeful of soon gaining easier terms operate cautiously, seldom exceeding immediate necessities when purchasing. We quote at $40@45 per ton. American pig iron within our previous range of figures has shown considerable irregularity during the past week, but at no time was trade active, and only a few small jobbing sales were reported. There is no great pressure to realize, but less general strength than heretofore, owing to the settlement of the so-called strikes in the coal region. We quote at $41.00@42.00 per ton for No. 1; $38.00@39.00 do. for No. 2; and $36.00@37.00 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is extremely dull, and values nominally unchanged. We quote at $85.00@87.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00@92.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@155.00 for rods, 5-8@3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron continues to sell almost entirely in a jobbing way with former figures, current though in a great measure nominal. We quote at 5½¢@6½¢ for singles, doubles, and trebles. Galvanized sheet in very good request, and steady at 20@25 per cent. off list. Russia sheet shows no change worth mentioning on values, but sellers appear quite willing, in fact rather anxious, to operate, and with only a slow response from buyers, the tone is not over firm. We quote at 11½¢@13½¢ gold, according to number. Pig lead is without much activity, but as stock arrives only about in proportion to the sales, holders remain firm at full former figures. We quote at 6½¢@6¾¢ per M. Bar lead 10½¢ and sheet and pipe 12¢ less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin is in an unsettled and nominal condition, and quite dull. All the large parcels are held in store as stiffly as before, but a number of small outside sales are daily making to consumers on easy terms. We quote in coin at about 30¢ for English; 29½¢@30¢ for straits; and 34¢ for Banca. Tin plates are dull, and the tendency of prices in buyers' favor. Zinc has met with very little demand, and is easier at 12½¢@12¾¢ from store. The latest reported imports are 38 tons iron hoop; 3,075 tons bar iron; 18,540 R. R. bars; 82 tons sheet iron; 1,804 iron tubes; 9,961 pigs of lead; 26,140 boxes tin, and 27,562 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—Several dealers report quite a fair increase in the number of orders, bar cut nails at hand from the interior, and on local account there has also been a larger amount of stock sold, some of the jobbers having run out their early spring purchases; while exporters in small lots have considerably increased the aggregate of business. Taken altogether, however, the trade is not up to the usual average, and manufacturers obtain but little encouragement from the position. The supplies are large and well distributed. We quote at 4½¢@4¾¢ in large parcels; 5¢ in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch dull at about 6½¢@6¾¢, with choice at 6¾¢. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5½¢@5¾¢ for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5¼¢@5½¢ for 5d., and 5½¢@6¢ for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18¢ for zinc; 27¢ for yellow metal; 40¢@42¢ for copper. The exports are 1,767 packages, valued at $7,853, against 179 packages, valued at $1,920, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 5,097 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market for all grades of paints, &c., is extremely dull, amounting on some styles to complete stagnation, and dealers appear much discouraged with the prospect ahead, though as yet the loss of confidence is not enough to cause any undue pressure to realize, prices generally ruling quite steady, except probably on white lead, which has been shaded a trifle within a day or two. Paris white is merely nominal, owing to the absence of stock. Some lots are nearly due, but have pretty much all been sold, and will not afford any great relief to the market. As a rule the jobbing trade is also light, but we find a few dealers quite busy. The demand from the South and West is light, but orders are at hand every day from the East, this State, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, &c. Glue is dull and nominally unchanged. Linseed oil continues to meet with a very moderate demand, shippers and consumers refusing to exceed immediate wants to any extent in making their purchases. Stocks in the meantime have accumulated, seed is more plenty and lower, and crushers have very reluctantly been obliged to reduce values. At the decline a few back orders were filled, but there is no general demand, and the market closes dull. We quote at about $1.02@1.05 in casks; and $1.05@1.07 in bbls., but outside parcels are plenty at $1.00@1.01, and a few sales were made still lower. Exports of 123 packages paint valued at $1,741.

PITCH.—The market remains very dull, all classes of buyers wanting only small job lots, and the tendency of values has been rather downward throughout the week. The production is not large, but free enough with the prevailing small outlet to cause a gradual accumulation of supplies, and some dealers are a little anxious to work off their surplus stock even at a slight concession. Exporters have no profitable margin at present, and are working only on positive orders. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.75@3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store $3.12½@3.25 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 10 bbls. Exports for the week 163 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,052 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,928.

PLASTER PARIS.—White Nova Scotia lump is selling with a fair amount of freedom for "up the river" shipment, though of late rather more has been called for on local account. Vessels, however, are plenty, freight reasonable, and a supply equal to all wants is easily obtained. Prices are quoted as before, say about $4.50 per ton, with small lots higher, and some in instances under peculiar circumstances the terms have been easier. Calculated continues in fair steady demand at former rates, local buyers taking larger amounts than before. We quote at $2.40¢@2.50¢ per bbl. for city, and $2.25¢@2.35¢ for country. Receipts for the week 2,650 tons lump; and 2,490 bbls. calcined, the latter from Hillshoro, N.S. The shipments are 500 bbls. calcined to British Australia, and 615 do. to San Francisco.

SLATE.—Dealers report a very general stagnation of trade, but none particularly on city account, from whence an order just now would be a decided rarity. Stocks in yard are ample and well assorted, but for the time being are of no service. Prices are nominally as before, but show much irregularity, and probably few if any sales reach our outside figures. At the quarries business is also slack, slates are piling up rapidly, and dealers here complain that quarriesmen are offering goods in small quantities to consumers than they will furnish the regular trade, though with the prevailing light call, this does not increase the number of buyers.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The demand from day to day since our last has run very moderate, and been confined almost exclusively to such small lots as were required for immediate distribution by the local jobbing trade. Exporters have received very few orders, and find nothing to warrant speculative shipments, while the home demand for investment appears to have entirely subsided. Add to the above a free supply and steadily increasing stock, and it is not surprising that prices have further declined on all grades, and shown an irregular tone. At the close the demand is still light, and the market flat and nominal. We quote at 43@43½¢ for merchantable and shipping order; 44@44½¢ for New York bbls.; and 45¢@46¢ for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,805 bbls. Exports for week 433 bbls; since January 1st, 7,533 bbls., and for same period last year 5,207 bbls.

TAR.—There has been a little trade doing nearly every day since our last, but the aggregate for the week falls up small, and the general position of the market is dull and uncertain. Exporters though filling orders to some extent are not free operators, while the call on local and interior account is less than previous anticipations, and to induce buyers to operate it is found necessary to offer pretty easy terms. The general range of prices is continued, but they are somewhat nominal, and to reach outside figures stock has to be of the most desirable quality. We quote at $2.50@2.62½¢ per bbl. for North County as it runs; $2.75@3.15 for Wilmington do.; $3.25@3.50 for rope; and occasionally $3.62½¢@3.75 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 756 bbls. Exports for week 8,280 bbls.; since January 1st, 28,757 bbls., and for same period last year 5,393 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus report for the week ending June 8, 1869, says:

The trade throughout the district has been fair. Prices have undergone but slight variation. The demand from New York city has been slack, and from other points only moderate. The receipts, as is usual between old and new stock, are moderate and stocks fairly assorted. The accounts from both Canada and Michigan state that owing to the light receipts of logs, from four to six weeks' sawing has been lost, and that at present, owing to the same cause, but few mills are enabled to run night as well as day. This may result in placing on the market large receipts during July and August.

The receipts at Chicago for the week (less one day ending, June 11th, were 39,205,000 feet, against 19,744,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 14,189,000 feet, against 14,730,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 222,105,000 feet, against 288,825,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 242,112,000 feet against 238,516,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 14th, 1869 and 1868:

Buffalo.....	8,102,400 feet.	7,457,100 feet.
Oswego.....	7,874,200 feet.	9,273,600 feet.
Total.....	15,976,600 feet.	16,730,700 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the second week of June, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1869..	16,478,300	2,529	336,000
1868..	21,855,300	1,150	2,649,400

Of the Boards and Scantling received 11,182,900 feet were by the Erie, and 5,295,400 by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to June 15th, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1869..	71,986,600	7,524	766,000
1868..	84,622,700	7,578	41,973
			7,902,100

ARCHITECTURAL CRITICISM.—NO. 2.

WE continue our remarks of the 19th inst. by observing that if beautiful outline and proportion be lacking, in a structure of some pretensions particularly, meretricious ornamentation can no more supply the deficiency than can the rouge-pot virtually and effectively transform dilapidated wrinkled age into the bloom of youth and beauty. And herein the old architects had a grand secret, which ours seem, only during the past three years, to have begun to discover, i. e. the enormous and valuable accession to be gained by sculpture as an adjunct to architecture. Let us be understood; by sculpture, we do not mean the mere repetition of carved mouldings, leaves, fruits, flowers, and suchlike commonplace designs; but the introduction of the human form, and even of birds, beasts, and fishes, and animals in general, interwoven into symbolic and pleasing services and attractive combinations. View any of the buildings of the old world, ancient or modern, that must challenge our admiration, and we shall probably find this subject the great distinguishing feature we have hitherto so strangely neglected in our own street architecture, leaving our residences and warehouses one long range of similar insipid masses of brick, iron, stone, marble, granite, &c., as the case may be, with their many extravagantly formidable contortions.

Those three charming sisters, architecture, sculpture, and painting, should never be separated, and are never seen to such advantageous perfection as when side by side, lending each their beauty, and enhancing each other's merits and graces.

And why have we so long neglected this appreciable idea in our buildings? Certainly not owing to the cost, for in many cases the similar amount of dollars frittered away in paying ordinary stone-cutters, to carve crude, indigestible and unmeaning "ornaments" (?) over the whole surface of a building, would have been adequate to employ the talent and skill of some genuine sculptor, in producing grand isolated features of thought and beauty in a frontage, more than enough to counterbalance whole acres of trashy chiselling in stone. We are of opinion that the sculpture work, however, has been over-wrought and much too crowded for the front of a building so narrow as the National Park Bank structure. The first decidedly successful effort in this direction which ever occurred on the streets of this metropolis was in the erection of the "Institution of Fine Arts" for the "Dusseldorf Collection of Paintings" on Broadway, now converted into commercial purposes, but which, at the time, failed not to attract considerable attention. On this building Mr. J. R. Hamilton, the architect, introduced three colossal figures in the façade, representing architecture, painting, and sculpture, supporting the arches of the second story, each sister bearing in her hand her appropriate emblems; while over the entrance doorway pediment was a globe, which approvingly illustrated the cosmopolitan nature of art, and there were two cherubs reclining thereon, bearing the olive-branch of peace. Such are true representations of what we intend to illustrate. We also highly approve of all the sculpture work on Pike's Opera House, on Eighth avenue and Twenty-third street, representing Mozart and Shakspeare, as well as Tragedy and Music, standing on the attached Corinthian columns in centre of the main front on Eighth avenue. All the sculpture at this theatre, is from the studio of Mr. John M. Moffitt, an English sculptor of great celebrity in this city, who also produced the "Arctic Monument" at Greenwood, the "Soldiers' Monument," in Connecticut, and the massive altar for the new church in New Haven, &c. Mr. Moffitt also produced the colossal "Eagle with her Young," which adorns the front of the N. Y. Life Insurance Co's building, corner of Leonard street and Broadway; and he has always been eminently successful in his art.

But while the most splendid results can be achieved by the judicious use of sculpture thus applied, and used in skilful hands, nothing is more likely to degenerate into the ludicrous by the injudicious abuse of it in unskilful hands. The standard of excellency in this case, which is nature itself, is so clear and unmistakable, that the most untutored eye, even while unable to detect the shortcomings of ordinary carving in stone, will always be able to discern whether a figure approximates or not to the human form as correctly delineated in nature. Fashion is, however, so very potent here, that we need be on our guard, lest we overstep the limits of propriety in our works of art. We remark the power of fashion wonderful indeed, in the sudden and universal application of the Mansard roof among us. A very short time ago nobody seemed to know that our buildings had any roofs at all, and that roofs are not necessarily things to be hidden, but to be seen and ornamented. Suddenly, however, a sort of epidemic seemed to seize us; and now, no building, great or small, can be a building, without its Mansard or French roof, even when the building itself is so low, that some other treatment would be obviously better. In future impressions, we shall continue these criticisms on our City Architecture.

TAXATION IN NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.

A NEW YORK city paper has the following, which has some point to it:

The assessors of the city of Brooklyn have felt themselves compelled to an act which will not, we hope, be limited in its consequences to that municipality. Finding that the assessed value of the estates, real and personal, in that city for 1869 would require a rate of taxation equal to nearly five per cent. on the valuation, the assessors have decided, by a vote of five to one, to add twenty-five per cent.—or thirty-six million dollars—to the assessed value of the real estate, thereby reducing the rate of taxation to a little less than three per cent. The necessity which, in the judgment of the assessors, render this step necessary was the hardship of imposing a five per cent. tax upon the incorporated companies having their principal offices in Brooklyn. These, it was urged, would, under such taxation, transfer their business to New York. The remedy adopted, however, bears hardly upon the real-estate interest of Brooklyn; for, while the increase of thirty-six millions upon its valuation reduces the rate, it also increases the total burden, as the State and county taxes will be apportioned upon the gross amount. It is true that the State assessors have power to "increase or diminish the aggregate valuations of real estate in any county by adding or deducting such sum as, in their opinion, may be just and necessary to produce a just relation between all the valuations of real estate in this State;" but the action of the State Board of Equalization has not been such hitherto as to justify a belief that Brooklyn will receive substantial justice in the extreme measure to which her necessities have driven her. It is true that New York did receive the benefit of a slight abatement last year, but it was far less than was her right in equity.

It is quite time that attention be directed to the delinquency of assessors throughout the State. They are required by law to estimate and assess real estate "at its full and true value, as they would appraise the same in payment of a just debt due from a solvent debtor." In no county and in no case is either the letter or the spirit of this law complied with. In most of the counties, the valuation does not exceed forty per cent. of the "full and true value," and in many of them the assessor's estimate does not exceed twenty-five per cent. of the true value; while in New York and in Brooklyn, under her revised assessment, the assessed valuation is something near sixty per cent. of the true value.

Attempts have been made from time to time to revise the tax law of this State, but in every instance the changes proposed have been so radical and the method so inquisitorial, that they have failed, as similar attempts will be pretty sure to do. The inequalities which now exist are not so much the fault of the law as of its administration. A fair compliance with the requirements of the existing law throughout the State would reduce the rate of taxation in the City of New York to one per cent., and relieve our Brooklyn neighbors from the necessity of imposing a rate which operates to expel personal estate liable to taxation. The rate of taxation in New York for the current year, if no material relief be afforded by the State Board of Equalization, will probably be from 2.05 to 2.10 per cent., and in Brooklyn, under its increased valuation, 2.90 per cent. The awakening of public attention to the gross inequalities that now exist may arouse the State assessors to do something like justice to those cities which have never meanly shirked their share of the State burdens.

What is needed is a revision of the law by which all real estate will be fixed at a fair and uniform valuation. The present system is any thing but just to the city.

FARMS NEAR NEW YORK.

MUCH of the real estate within 150 miles of New York is in a very anomalous position. This proximity to a great city causes an enhanced value, not only in the eyes of the owner, but also in the eyes of the tax assessor, whose levies upon this description of property are correspondingly high, for, of course, unimproved land, upon which a high value is put, can only be used for one purpose, that is for farming; but it does not pay to farm land at much more than seventy-five dollars an acre. It is true that market gardeners in the immediate vicinity of the city can afford to pay over one hundred dollars for land, and, by dint of hard work, make out of it quite a fair living; but for ordinary crops—rye, wheat, oats, and corn—it does not pay to give more than seventy-five or eighty dollars an acre. Hence we find that farming is falling into decay in all the country immediately adjacent to New York city, except, of course, where vegetables or choice fruit is raised. Go through the upper end of Westchester county, or ride over Putnam, Dutchess, or Rockland counties, in this State, and it will be noticed that farms are very often falling into a state of decay, and property is held for fancy purposes, that is for choice villa residences. The hopes of owners are all upon railroads that will bring their villa sites within the possibilities of rich New Yorkers. It is believed that, take the average farming of Dutchess county, and at the rate at which property is held, it does not pay more than four per cent.; and that too with a world of hard work on the part of the owner.

There is another cause in operation against the farming class in the immediate vicinity of New York, and that is, the facilities which are now afforded of bringing Western produce to the city. It no longer pays to run small farms in this country. Machinery, to be used economically, involves large farms; it cannot be used with advantage upon small ones; hence, all over the country, we find a steady addition to the size of farms. The large farmer is buying up all the small ones. The farms of the future, those which can be run most economically, will be from one to twenty thousand acres. This is already getting to be the normal size of the farms in Illinois, indeed throughout the entire prairie region of the West. The near-by farmer no longer depends upon his crops for a livelihood; he hopes that the elevations of his farm may be taken for building sites, and in imagination marks out city lots all over his broad acres; hence, farms begin to look seedy, at those very points where one would suppose they ought to be best cared for.

REAL ESTATE IN CHICAGO.

THE era of speculation in Chicago real estate seems not to have passed away as many had supposed. The sale of land belonging to the Seymour and Price estates, which took place on Wednesday, was the occasion of some speculative transactions which, for the quick return of profits, exceed, perhaps, any operation of the present year. The land belonging to the Seymour estate was in tracts, scattered in various directions, just beyond the city limits. The sale was peremptory, and, notwithstanding it was well advertised, the attendance was only moderate. After the greater portion of the land had been sold, the audience seemed all at once to have thought that the land had been going very cheap, and offers were made on the spot to the purchasers at considerable advances on the prices they had paid. A tract of fifty acres, which had been sold for $120 per acre, was resold by the purchaser on the same day for $150 per acre. The next day the original purchaser found he could have obtained a much higher price. Accordingly he repurchased it at $170 per acre, and sold it again the same day to a third party at $200 per acre, making $1,500 on each of his two purchases of the same fifty acres. A tract of forty acres, lying just west of the new city limits, was sold at the auction for $400 per acre; the purchaser has since resold thirty acres of it at $550 per acre, and asks $600 for the rest. A tract of eighty acres near the north end of the proposed boulevard on the West Side was sold at auction for $613 per acre, and the purchaser has since been offered $800 per acre, cash, by a well-known capitalist of this city. Several other offers for other tracts purchased at the sale, and at equal advances, are said to have been made, but the above-mentioned transactions we have reason to know are authentic, and we learn that one gentleman has made $6,600 since Thursday on tracts of land bought at the Seymour sale.—Chicago Tribune of June 22.

THE fashion has very recently sprung up of giving lunches at real estate sales. We say recently, as nearly all the late sales have been accompanied by lavish lunches, and the thing has got to be somewhat of a pest. The theory of this practice is somewhat difficult to justify. True, if a crowd of people are taken to an out-of-the-way place, where there are no large hotels, it is very desirable that they should have something to eat, until they get back to a region where food is plenty; but when people come to buy property involving large amounts of money, it is improbable that a general feed of bread and wine has any effect upon the bidding. And yet sellers must have some such theory, or else they would not provide these free lunches. From what we hear among the best members of the trade, we are inclined to believe that this free-lunch business has now been overdone, and that it ought to be discountenanced altogether. Its tendency is to bring people together who care nothing about the sale, and whose only concern is about the lunch. This practice should be discountenanced. Let us have no more of this humbug.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE following plans embrace all these buildings that have been submitted to the approval of the Superintendent since our last :

CHERRY st.—No. 54 Batavia st.; four 5 brick stores and tenements, 36.6x70, 28.4x46, 56x48; owner, M. Levy; architects, W. E. Waring; builders, O'Brien, Geissler & Farrell.
PARK av. & 37TH st.—S. e. cor.; two 5 story brick first class dwellings, 61.4x69, 35x61.4; owner, James Brown; architects, C. W. Clinton & W. A.
Patter; builder, Alex. M. Ross.
PARK av.—W. s., 100 ft. n. 38th st.; one 4 story brick and brown stone first class dwelling, 25x65; owner, Bryan McKenney; architect, S. D. Hatch.
10TH av.—W. s., between 82d & 83d sts.; one 2 story frame and wooden dwelling, 18x20; owner, &c., E. Weisner.
W. 48TH st.—No. 12; one basement and 4 story brick and brown stone first class dwelling, 25x60; owner, Henry Iveson; architect, Robt. Mook; builder, Bart. Smith.

56TH ST.—N. s., 200 ft. w. 7th av., one 1 story brick chapel, 40x95; owners, Central Presbyterian Church Society; architects, D. & J. Jardine; owner J. Laimbeer.

65TH ST.—N. s., 250 e. 4th av.; one basement and 4 story brick and brown stone first-class dwelling; 15x55; owners, Fitzgerald & Sullivan; architect, W. M. McNamara.

68TH ST.—S. s., 175 e. 11th av.; one 2 story frame and wooden tenement; 25x35; owner, Geo. Ferber; architect, John M. Forster.

78TH ST.—N. s., 100 w. 3d av.; one 5 story brick tenement; 25x55; owner, Thomas Burrows.

105TH ST.—S. s., 300 w. 3d av.; one 2 story frame and wood dwelling; 17.6x41; owners, J. W. Carroll & L. Fisher; architect, Charles Bragg; builder, M. R. Francis.

105TH ST.—N. s., 106 w. 2d av.; eight basement and 3 story brick first-class dwellings; 16.3x40; owner, Patrick O'Connor; architect, William McNamara.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

MATTERS still assume a very quiet shape, and there is nothing of interest to record. It will be seen by our list of conveyances, that the names of buyers of property at the present prices include those of our shrewdest and most successful men. There can be no doubt but that real estate is as dull, and the price as low as any one can hope for, and any change must be for the better to holders. The sales of country property are, most of them, perfectly satisfactory to all parties interested. The sale of Islip lots by Messrs. Johnson and Miller was highly successful. The sale of Staten Island property was postponed from Wednesday to Friday, on account of the threatening state of the weather. About 400 people attended the sale at Dunellen, which took place on Wednesday, under the direction of Col. A. D. Hope, the General Agent of the New Jersey Central Land Improvement Company. The prices obtained were fair, and, in regard to the number of lots disposed of, was highly satisfactory. The number of houses composing the village has increased 20 within the past year, and a number of new ones are projected.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—For all first-class lots of common hard brick the demand still about equals the supply, and values are sustained quite easily, but the inferior grades have become extremely dull, and on these we make a general reduction in quotations, the market closing unsettled, though with the bulk of the advantage in buyers' favor. The arrivals are only fair at present, and this prevents a very excessive accumulation of the undesirable grades, but still there is a gradual increase of stock at the various depots, and dealers evidently begin to make preparations for a further drop in prices, particularly as it is very generally supposed that after the 1st proximo the supplies will come forward with greater freedom. The weakness is most marked just now on the New Jersey stock, as manufacturers can work rather cheaper than those on the North River, and thus afford to sell at a lower range, the reduction on the poorest amounting to about $1 per M. and all kinds selling 50c. per M. off, bringing figures down to $7@8 per M. On the choice styles of Haverstraw brick $10 is still realized, with a great many lots very good at $9.50, but from this down to the poorest grades North River there is a decline of at least 50c., and inside quotations may be placed at about $7.50 per M. Our city retail jobbers continue to buy stock as they require it, finding no inducement to lay in a supply during the prevailing condition of affairs, and the sales direct to consumers are about up to average of last week. Shipments eastward are still being made, and it is thought this trade can be made a very fair one during the present season, particularly if stock can be laid down at the ports on the "Sound" for $10.50@11.00 per M. or less, anything in excess of the above figures bringing the home production into competition. We do not learn of any contracts being made for future delivery, nor is there much desire to do so, buyers hoping for a further decline, and sellers knowing from experience that should a decline take place, receivers will have so many faults to find, and rejections to make of stock offered as per engagement, that the margin for profit will soon disappear. No Long Island stock, worthy of note, has come to hand this season, the Eastern markets being found more profitable for shipments. Pale brick continue in very good demand, but the supply is larger and values reduced about 50c. per M, closing at $5.00@5.50 per M. The first arrivals of Croton fronts have occurred during the week, but they do not meet with a very brisk demand. All grades are now quoted at $16@18 per M. Philadelphia fronts have met with some little demand, partially supplied by recent arrivals of old stock. For the new crop manufacturers are asking $35 per M, which with the freight and other expenses, makes the cost laid down here about $42 and upwards. In retail lots $45@48 per M. Shipments of 1,250 bricks to Danish West Indies, and 15,000 to Cuba.

CEMENT.—The agents of the leading companies report a continued brisk demand, and a strong healthy market at full former rates. Eastern orders are probably scarcely so free as last week, but still very fair, while business with points to the southward and through the interior rather increases, and the movement on California account continues. The demand from local dealers is good and quite regular, the consumption by builders liberal, owing to the finer quality of the work in hand, and manufacturers are still using considerable stock. Producers, therefore, find no accumulation of unsold supplies, while many have been unable to run their mills fast enough to keep pace with the orders, and are a week to ten days behind. An advance in price has been seriously talked of, but as yet no general or quotable alteration has been made, and we still place Rosendale at $1.90 at Rondout, and $2 per bbl. delivered here. Shipments of 175 bbls. to British West Indies, and 902 bbls. to San Francisco.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—The general aggregate of business has of late been rather larger, but the demand spasmodic and uncertain, and manufacturers, as a rule, appear dissatisfied with the position of the market. Former price lists are still given out as the current rates, but are not adhered to closely when buyers can be secured by offering them reasonable modifications. The stock is ample for all calls, and very well assorted, enabling the few buyers to make selections with ease. The call for goods is, in the main, on shipping orders, the local consumption footing up very small, though some few fair sized orders have been filled for suburban cities and towns.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The position of the wholesale market is still a quiet one, owing in part to the continued small supplies, but we find less general strength than previously noted, on most goods. Nothing warrants an actual reduction in figures as yet, but the parcels on sale are offered in such a manner as to indicate that owners are rather more anxious to realize, and would accept easier terms, for the purpose of doing so. As yet buyers have shown no disposition to improve the opportunity, the assortment offered not being altogether acceptable, most local jobbers already fairly supplied, and exporters, as before, finding no margins for free operations. The jobbing trade from yard is fair on local account, with now and then a very respectable shipment to the interior, and full former prices are obtained, particularly on choice goods. No exports this week. The receipts reported embrace the following: From Santa Anna 237 logs and 12 ends of mahogany; from Manzanilla 221 logs, 143 crotches of mahogany, 4 crotches and 133 logs cedar.

GLASS.—In foreign window glass there is no important variation from last week, a very fair general demand prevailing, and importers, as a rule, showing a pretty steady tone. The trade, to be sure, is mainly on small orders, as wanted by jobbers to fill out assortments or to meet some particular call, but in amounts to a pretty good aggregate in the course of the week, all things considered. The most recent call has been from the extreme West, and from nearby country towns, very little going out on local account. Some few importers have reduced their stocks a trifle, but as a rule, the supply holds out fairly. We quote English at 35@40 per cent. off list; and French 40@50 per cent. do. American glass is meeting with some inquiry, and selling at 50 per cent. off list. The last reported imports are 15,397 pkgs. window glass, valued at $30,757 and 124 glass plate, valued at $13,526.

HARDWARE.—The interior shipping demand for builders' hardware continues very moderate, the few orders to hand calling for just enough goods to meet the pressing wants of the buyer, and with a light local business, the general market presents a dull tone. Stocks are ample for all present wants, and generally well assorted, but there is not an excess, as the condition of trade has at no time during the season warranted a free production. Dealers predict a continuation of the present condition of affairs during the summer, but look for an improvement in the fall. The combination of lock-makers have of late been in session and revised their rates, the changes being reported as follows: 4½ inch Janus-face Rim Knob Lock (No. 700), $4.25, formerly $5.25; do. do. Western (604 and 610), $4, formerly $4.75; Horizontal Rim Knob Latch (400), $2.50, before $3; do. Slide Bolt (412), $3, before $3.50; do. Janus-face with Stop (406), $2.50, before $3; and 4½ inch Up-right Janus-face Rim Knob Lock, reversible Latch Bolt (No. 600), $3.75, all without knobs, 7½ per cent. off for less than $1,500, and 10 and 7½ over $1,500, prices guaranteed till Dec. 1st. Mineral Knobs japanned, are quoted at $1.75 per doz., less 7½ per cent. for less than $1,500. Padlocks have advanced to 10 and 7½ per cent. off. On a few other goods we quote as follows: Wrought Butts-fast joint 20@25 per cent. discount from list; do. do., broad and loose joint, 25@30 per cent. do.; Cast Butts, fast joint narrow, 20 per cent. do.; do. do., broad and loose joint, 30 per cent. do.; Table and Back Flaps, and Hinges, wrought, strap and T 15@20 per cent. do.; Door Bolts, east bbl. square, spring, tower and shutter, 25@40 per cent. do.; Plate locks 15@7½ per cent. do.; Shingling Hatchets, cast steel, best brands, Nos. 1 to 3, $7.25@8.50 per doz.; and do. ordinary, $5.50@6.50 do.

LABOR.—We can discover nothing worthy of extended notice in the labor market at present, the supply of workmen rather exceeding the demand, in most branches of mechanics directly connected with the building interests, and employers experience no difficulty in securing journeymen. About last year's wages are paid, which is, in reality, considerably in workmen's favor, owing to the reduced cost of food, rent, and living generally. The eight-hour law is occasionally agitated by the unions, but the men are wise enough to refrain from indulging in a "strike" for its enforcement. The German window-framers have been on strike for increased wages, but thus far have met with poor success, not a single employer having acceded to the demands of their men. Quite a large number of the men have gone back to work at old rates, while many others have found work at house carpentering. The housesmiths, however, have been rather more successful. Their wages range from $3 to $5 per day, and they asked an increase of 25c. on all working under $4 per day, which was paid by most employers. The finishers and chippers of iron house-work are perfecting an organization for the purpose of demanding an increase of wages during the present season. In Europe employers are using considerable energy to protect themselves against continued strikes. The Hanoverian Courier states that the attempts made of late by workmen to extort higher wages by means of strikes have led manufacturers to reflect on the best measures to be adopted for opposing unjust demands made on them by those in their employment. "In Hanover," says the Courier, "a society has been established, not for the purpose of oppressing the workman, reducing his wages, or lengthening his hours of labor, but in order to fix the best ways and means of procuring a perfect and salutary co-operation between labor and capital, under the most favorable conditions for both; at the same time it is proposed to combat energetically every agitation tending to thwart the union of employers and employed." Something like the above is just what we require in this country and more particularly in this city, and if properly organized and conducted, cannot fail to prove beneficial to both employer and employee. Now that the season is dull and time comparatively plenty, will not some of our employing mechanics give the subject their attention?

LATH.—The apparent weakness, referred to in our last report, did not amount to much, a few receivers, somewhat alarmed by the temporary accumulation of supplies, giving way 5c. per M, and selling out their cargoes at $2.70. The demand, however, seemed to revive to a certain extent, and finding that there was likely to be an outlet for all the stock here or to come for several days, dealers easily recovered the decline, and up to the present writing the market has ruled quite firm, with everything desirable sold out. At the moment, from all accounts, there is not many cargoes afloat for this port, but the production continues without much interruption, and with the prospect of any further advance in this market our supplies would undoubtedly be increased. One or two parcels were sent out of town early in the week, the object being to lighten the stock, but, as a rule, the best customers have been found among our own local jobbers, who report the call for parcels from yard for immediate consumption to be on the increase, and though not by any means active, enough so to warrant stocking up a little. The quotations may be placed at $2.25 per M for hemlock, and $2.75 do. for spruce, with sales for the week of 2,100,000, mostly early.

LIME.—With a more moderate supply and a continued good steady demand, the market for Eastern lime has retained the firm uniform position noted last week, and nothing remains afloat unsold as we close this report. No one dealer is buying largely or with much avidity, but nearly all are taking as little stock as their previous purchases become exhausted, and by this means a fair outlet is kept open, and receivers find it a comparatively easy matter to secure customers for the few cargoes dropping in from day to day. Common lime goes into consumers' hands a little slowly at present, but is steady at $1.25 per bbl. For lump, however, the market is better, the inquiry for finishing lime almost daily increasing, and as the position gives sellers the advantage, an advance of 25c per bbl. has taken place, bringing the cost up to $1.75. We learn of nothing new from the kilns, manufacturers continuing to burn to a certain extent, through necessity, but all complaining of the unprofitable condition of the market, and anxiously looking for some turn in their favor at this point. The Glens Falls, Bald Mountain, &c. limes are in fair supply and at about the same price as Rockland meet with a pretty good demand, though not enough to prevent an occasional accumulation. Some of the inferior and unknown Northern and country limes are selling irregularly from 75c for the poorest to $1.25 for prime common, and lump at $1.25 to $1.30 per bbl. The receipts reported from the Eastern coast are only 5 cargoes.

LUMBER.—The yard trade presents few if any new features of importance since our last, some dealers reporting a slight falling off in their sales, and others a corresponding increase making the aggregate amount of stock going into consumption much the same as before. On prices, however, we find there is less general firmness and a revision of our table of quotations shows several modifications, sellers thinking it advisable to encourage all the demands there is, by reducing the cost of goods, particularly as the prospect of replacing any falling off of stock that may result therefrom, never was better, and the position seems to indicate that supplies can be laid in next fall at a price that will make good the present decline. We must still refer to black walnut, however, as an exception to the above rules, this, instead of declining, rather taking the upward turn on all the prime to choice seasoned stock, a recent purchase in Albany of some two hundred thousand feet, through by rail from the West, placing the bulk of the desirable goods under easy control, and holders now, if anything, are rather indifferent sellers. Common sorts, however, are plenty enough and not inquired after, prices showing much irregularity, with the probability that first-class buyers could operate on comparatively easy terms. The present outlet for lumber is nearly all local, though a few country buyers can occasionally be found looking around and picking up such stray cheap lots as may happen to offer. Most reports agree that the assortment now accumulated in yard, though nothing extra, is very good, and almost any grade could stand a moderate run quite easily. The arrivals have continued fair, and a few of the points at which stock mostly concentrates being to show pretty large piles of lumber. From Albany we learn by private letters that in the majority of cases prices hold their own, and the market has a nominally steady position with a slow but fair trade doing with the East, &c., and a few New York buyers on hand, taking such lots as are likely to meet with a ready re-sale. There is, however, an undertone of weakness, which will in all probability develop itself more fully when the receipts per canal begin to increase, the amount now coming forward footing up quite small and about balancing, the demand enables sellers to check a decline. Freight accommodations are ample and cheap, both on canal and river.

The wholesale market has continued very fairly active, but less so than last week, dealers not having quite so many parcels to offer, and prices show greater uniformity. The call is, as usual, chiefly on home account, with exporters on hand, however, and securing any such parcels as the state of exchange or the freight market may offer a respectable margin upon. Eastern spruce has been less plenty, the favorable wind of last week having evidently brought forward the principal part of the cargoes aloft for this point, and as buyers evince a disposition to operate well up to the supply, prices have not only been sustained, but on the average random cargoes may be called a shade better. This does not affect the general range of figures, however, and we still quote at $19@21 per M, with $21.50 asked for extra lengths. Our dealers, though consuming all the present supplies, are only buyers because they have completely exhausted their stocks, or must have certain length sticks to complete contracts, and this they declare is the position they intend to adhere to until they gain material concessions. White pine has been a shade more active, in part on shipping account, with some little call for home use, and about former prices remain current with a steady tone to the best grades. The supplies though not large are increasing, and are very fairly assorted. We quote at $20@25 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $26@30 for good to choice do. Piling less plenty, but the demand not very active, and values have undergone no important variation, closing steady. We quote at 6½c@7½c for inferior to good; 8c for prime; and 8½c@9c for extra to choice. Of pickets a few odd lots have been sold at prices not made known, but said to be on a basis of $5.50 for ¾ inch. Yellow pine presents no new feature, except a slight increase of the supply, and consequently of the sales. Former prices were obtained, and the tone is steady, though buyers do not appear remarkably anxious to secure stock at ruling rates, unless it be of extra fine lengths, &c. We quote at $30@34 per M for timber and flooring boards. Eastern pine shingles dull at $4.50. Southern shingles in liberal supply, and prices depressed, owing to the slack demand. Sales of 1,150,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $18@21 per one choice lot, reported at $23; 600 pces piling at 7c@8½c; 210,000 feet yellow pine, part before arrival, at $31@33, and 200,000 Cypress Shingles at $13 for 20 inch, and $19 for 24 inch.

We also notice shipments of 1 mast, and 80 bundles of shingles, to Hayti; 6,000 staves to Hamburgh; 200 do. to Liverpool; 6,000 do. to London; 3,600 do. to Bristol; 4,000 do. to Glasgow; 4,800 do. to Gibraltar; 33,600 do. to Bordeaux; 29,000 do. to Alicante; 16,800 to Cadiz; 6,000 do. to Barcelona; 127,600 do. to Tarragona; 42,360 do. to Funchal; 26,400 do. and 790 pieces lumber to San Francisco. From San Francisco shipments have been made of 25,000 feet of lumber to Hong Kong; and 324,288 do. to Callao. The receipts reported at this port embrace 158,613 feet boards from Charleston; 121,000 feet lumber from Apalachicola; 150,000 feet do. from Georgetown, S. C.; 357,716 feet do. from Darien, Ga.; eleven cargoes lumber, and four cargoes piling from the Maine coast.

A recent Chicago report says:

"There was no improvement in the general features of the market yesterday. On the contrary, with a large fleet at the sale docks, and only a small attendance of buyers, trade was sluggish throughout and, although sellers succeeded in realizing $15@15 for cargoes of Muskegon and Oconto mills, the average prices paid were little, if any, over $18, while coarse cargoes of scantling, joist and common boards sold as low as $11@12, and, although sellers still refuse to report their transactions, it was currently reported that sales of low grades were made at $10.50. In other words, while cargoes from a few mills having a good reputation are in demand at $14@16, as to grade, the market as regards the bulk of the offerings is weak and unsettled, and the tendency downward, and, as compared with the ruling rates paid during June, 1868, prices are $1.50@2.50 per M ft lumber. At 10 o'clock in the forenoon, yesterday, there were 26 cargoes at the sale docks, with quite a number of arrivals on owners' account. Buyers are generally of the opinion that prices will further recede, hence they are filling orders sparingly."

And later still we have the following:

"With the exception of a few cargoes of Muskegon and Oconto cut, the bulk of the sales were made at a reduction of $2 per M ft from the current rates of last week. The ruling prices paid were $14.50@15 for good cargoes of boards and strips; $13@14 for medium to fair, and $10.50@12.50 for inferior and coarse cut generally. Sales of 130,000 ft common mixed at $11; 95,000 ft 1-2 strips, remainder mixed, at $14 and $12; 135,000 common at $12 60,000 ft, 61 per cent. strips, at $15; 20,000 pcs lath at $2.37; 150,000 ft, 45 per cent. strips, at $14.50; 160 M ft joists and scantling, at $12; 10 M ft 1st, 2d and 3d clear, at $10; 150 M ft scantling, joist and small timber, at $12; 160 M ft strips, boards and 2-inch, at $13; 160 M ft, 2-3 strips, at $13.50; 116 M strips and boards, coarse, at $18."

The Saginaw Enterprise of recent date says:

"Quite a number of lumber sales took place last week, the following of which are reported: Rnst Eaton & Co., 1 cargo of green lumber, at $6, $12 and $35; D. F. Rose & Co., to Ohio parties, 100 M uppers, at Bay City, at $32, $36 and $41; D. F. Rose & Co., to Buffalo parties, 150 M uppers, at $30, $35 and $40; same firm to Ohio parties, from Barnard & Binder's mill, 1,500,000 at $6, $12, $30, $35 and $40; same firm to Cincinnati parties, 300 M at $6, $12, $30, $35 and $40; same firm to Zanesville parties, from Thompson & Co's mill, 250 M at $6, $12, $30, $35 and $40; Estabrook & Mason from McLean's mill, 200 M at $6, $12 and $35, to Ohio parties. Another large sale took place during the week at the same figures, but the names of the parties in the transaction are not given. The market at present is in a healthy condition, and lumber is selling easily at the ruling figures. We have heard of no sales below $6, $12 and $35. There is quite a demand for the upper grades, and it is difficult to obtain them. The stock on the river unsold is principally coarser grades."

At Boston the demand for lumber is good and prices generally quite firm, though at a slight reduction.

The following were the surveys at Boston for the week ending June 18, 1869:

From Baltimore we learn that the market is very dull for all descriptions, and we hear of no sales worth noticing this week. Prices are lower, and we now quote Carolina Yellow Pine flooring at $20@21, and Georgia do at $23@25 per M, with the tendency still downward.

From the Southern markets we have nothing new or interesting.

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@12 00 per M. feet for mill timber, $9@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@23 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices as follows: Steam sawed $5.00@30.00 per M.; hoards and scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00, mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

METALS.—Copper sheathing is rather less active than last week, but still the demand may be called fair, and the general market presents a good steady tone. The falling off has been mainly on country orders, while local buyers are operating with fully as much freedom as heretofore, and in some cases have rather increased their purchases. We quote at 33c@35c. for new, and 22c@23c. for old, according to quality. Yellow metal in very fair request and value sustained. We quote at 27c@29c. in wholesale and retail parcels. Ingot copper has further declined, and throughout the greater portion of the week was extremely dull and heavy, but as we write there is apparently a better demand developing itself, and the feeling is much more uniform, with a slight tendency towards buoyancy. We quote at 22c. per lb., and sales to arrive have been made at 22 1/2c. Scotch pig iron has met with very little demand during the past week, and though a few holders still refuse to name any important concession, the market has been unable to resist the influence of the gradually increasing supply, and goods can be bought about $1.00 per ton easier. The sales are almost entirely in job lots. We quote at $39.00@44.00 per ton. For American pig iron there has been rather more inquiry, but not much general activity, as holders are pretty stiff in their views and refuse to place stocks on the market with any freedom. The production is fair and supplies rather have an increasing tendency. We quote at $41.00@42.00 per ton for No. 1; $38.00@39.00 do. for No. 2; and $36.00@37.00 do. for forge. Bar iron from store appears to be entirely neglected by all classes of buyers, and the tone very heavy. The supply is large and gradually augmenting notwithstanding the fact that many manufacturers are running on half time only. Prices are given nominally as before, but would hardly be insisted upon with responsible parties who might show an intention of making anything like a respectable purchase. We quote at $35.00@37.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $30.00@32.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@135.00 for rods, 5-5@3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron is without new features, the demand running moderate and former figures about covering the range of values. We quote at 5 1/2c@6 1/2c. for singles, doubles and trebles. Galvanized sheet meets with an average demand and is reported as firm at 20c@25c. per cent. off list. Russia sheet continues plenty and is offered pretty freely, but as holders do not name a concession buyers refuse to operate, and the market closes dull with rather an uncertain feeling current as to values. We continue to quote, however, at about 11 1/2c@13 1/2c. gold, according to number. Pig lead remains quite steady, the continued light supply more than balancing the influence of a slow demand, and holders do not appear anxious to realize. We quote at 6 1/2c@6 3/4c. per lb. Bar lead 10 1/2c. and sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin is selling at about former figures, but mainly in retail lots, there being nothing to induce speculative operations at ruling figures, and holders generally refusing to make concessions on their stocks, though it is rumored that several large invoices have recently changed hands quietly at lower figures. We quote in coin at 30 1/2c. for English; 29 1/2c. for Straits; and 34c. for Banca. Tin plates without change in price, but meet with a very light demand. Zinc is dull and still quoted at about 12 1/2c. @12 3/4c. from store. The latest reported imports are 114 tons iron hoop; 2,000 tons pig iron; 35,298 R. R. bars; 191 tons sheet iron; 1075 iron tubes; 14,919 pigs of lead; 38,361 boxes tin; 2,703 slabs; 256,255 lbs do; and 91,037 lbs zinc.

NAILS.—The market for cut nails is in an extremely dull and unsatisfactory condition, the apparent improved demand noted last week continuing only a day or two and taking nothing but small lots. Manufacturers have reduced the production as much as possible, but with the small outlets at present to be found, stocks slowly accumulate, and in some cases are becoming uncomfortably large. As yet there has been no great pressure to realize, but to effect sales dealers are not unwilling to make some slight concessions, particularly on large invoices. We quote at 4 1/2c@4 3/4c. in large parcels; 4 1/2c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch dull at about 6 1/2c@6 3/4c., with choice at 6 3/4c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5 1/2c@5 3/4c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2c@5 3/4c. for 5d., and 5 1/4c@6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 15c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 40c@42c. for copper. The exports are 63 packages, valued at $540, against 1567 packages, valued at $7,558, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 650 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—We find no great improvement in this market since our last, all grades of stock moving slowly, and the general range of prices standing as before. In one or two cases a little spirit of activity took place, but it proved to be merely the result of a few jobbers happening in the market together, and had no permanent effect. Paris white continues scarce, and a number of tons could be disposed of to advantage immediately upon arrival, but otherwise the supplies and assortments are fair, and selections can be made with comparative ease. The jobbing trade, in most instances, is also quite dull and unsatisfactory, though one or two leading houses are supplying a fair number of out of town customers. Glues unchanged. Linseed oil remains in much the same condition as previously noted, with the range of prices still further slightly reduced. Buyers are not plenty, and such as do make their appearance call for very small parcels, and which many find convenient to purchase from outside parties who are selling below crushers' rates. The light call is entirely local or for near-by country use. We quote at about $102@104 per gallon in casks; and $104@106 in bbls from crushers' hands; and $1.00 for outside parcels. Exports of 10 packages paint valued at $340; and 101 bbls oxide zinc valued at $1,568.

PITCH.—Early in the week there was a trifling increase of the demand, but the market soon relapsed into a dull and heavy condition and remains so at the present writing. The export call has taken almost nothing, shippers finding no inducement whatever to operate, except on positive orders, and these are very scarce, while the home trade have reduced their purchases to just such lots as they can get along with for the time being. Prices cannot be altered, but they lack strength and uniformity, and extremes would not be insisted upon if likely to prevent sales. The supply has rather increased both of city and Southern. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.75@3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12 1/2@3.25 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 276 bbls. Exports for the week 90 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,175 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,957.

PLASTER PARIS.—The demand for lump continues fair, but is less active than heretofore, and for the present the market has rather a dull tone. City manufacturers appear to have been quietly accumulating a stock, and nearly all now have enough to meet their probable wants for some little time to come, while, in a few cases we notice that a large proportion of available storage-room is occupied with lump awaiting grinding. From the river counties, etc., a few orders come forward, and these are rapidly and easily met by dealers, as the facilities for transportation continue good. Prices remain steady, and white may be quoted at about $4.50@4.65 per ton. Calcined is selling rather more freely on local account, and continues fairly active on shipping orders, prices ruling steady and uniform at $2.40@2.50 per bbl. for Eastern and city. Country ground stock is worth about $2.25@2.35 per bbl. Receipts for the week, 1,470 tons lump. Shipments of 840 bbls. calcined to San Francisco.

PLUMBERS' MATERIALS.—The general range of prices on all the leading articles remains without any important alterations, owing in part to the firmness on crude materials, and dealers talk confidently of their ability to sustain the market during the summer. The demand from the South and from California has in a great measure subsided, and Western buyers are as scarce as ever; but the local trade has of late improved somewhat, with a fair call for near-by interior shipment. The assortments are good. Solder has been irregular, but closes very firm at 26@27c. for No. 1; and 25@26c. for No. 2, according to quantity.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Holders have continued to offer their stocks with considerable liberality, and prices further receded, a few sales being made at 40@40 1/2 c. per gallon. These figures, however, appeared to draw out local dealers quite freely, as well as to increase country orders, and there was an almost immediate reaction of 1c. @1 1/2c. per gallon, the market ruling quite steady, and, as we close this report, showing considerable tone. The supply has been very good, and the stock in yard has somewhat increased. Exporters have a number of orders awaiting execution, and are willing to operate at current prices, but find themselves obliged to remain quiet, owing to the difficulty experienced in obtaining ocean freight-room. The local jobbing trade is rather better, and dealers are reducing their stocks somewhat. We quote at 42@42 1/2c. for merchantable and shipping order; 42 1/2@43c. for New York bbls.; 44@45c. for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,733 bbls. Exports for week 410 bbls.; since January 1st, 7,963 bbls., and for the same period last year 5,466 bbls.

TAR.—The arrivals have been moderate, but fully equal to all wants, as the market remains in the same dull and listless condition of the past two or three weeks, and buyers cannot be induced to operate, unless actually driven to it by pressing necessities. The scarcity and high cost of freight-room prevent exporters from operating to advantage, and most local dealers have a supply on hand large enough to meet the present consumptive demand. Prices are still without quotable change, but favor the buyer, and as the assortment is very good, all grades feel the weakness. We quote at $2.50@2.62 1/2 per bbl. for North County as it runs; $2.75@3.15 for Wilmington do.; $3.25@3.50 for rope; and occasionally $3.62 1/2@3.75 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 101 bbls. Exports for week 30 bbls.; since January 1st, 28,817 bbls., and for the same period last year 5,950 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending June 22, 1869, says:

There has been a fair business throughout the district since our last report. The receipts by canal have been good, when we take into consideration the shortage of logs at the mills in Michigan and Canada, by which it is estimated that at least four to six weeks' sawing was lost early in the season. In the opinion of some receivers this will materially affect the aggregate season's receipts; while others think the receipts, though late, will be full as large as those of 1868.

There was a fair sprinkling of buyers in the district today; but the light stocks and an indifferent assortment checks business.

The demand for New York city is very slack, and the South and East are but moderate purchasers.

The receipts at Chicago for the week (less one day) ending, June 18th, were 32,369,000 feet, against 33,105,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 19,456,000 feet, against 17,790,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 260,690,000 feet, against 303,676,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 256,128,000 feet against 211,522,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 21st, 1869 and 1868:

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo.....	3,644,100 feet.	8,565,900 feet.
Oswego.....	10,435,500 feet.	11,495,400 feet.

Total.....14,079,900 feet. 20,061,300 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the third week of June, were:

1869.. 21,794,000	2,296		680,000
1868.. 21,441,300	3,557		1,810,000

Of the Boards and Scantling received 72,966,200 feet were by the Erie, and 8,827,800 by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to June 23d, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1869.. 93,780,000	9,820		1,446,000
1868.. 105,064,000	11,135		41,973 9,712,100

ARCHITECTURAL CRITICISM, No. 3.

No city in the world has taken such rapid and huge strides as New York in the art of building; for the present style of structures, shown either in the stately and costly up-town residences, or in the colossal edifices in the down-town portion of the city, devoted to commerce and trade in their more advanced degrees of development, exhibits the highest order of art, ennobled by all the perfection of architectural beauty. And something more than mere beauty has been achieved. Beauty, as vulgarly expressed in the filigree work of gingerbread decorations, is very little seen. The beauty of our modern metropolitan architecture is of the old classic period—chaste, simple, massive, grand. What is incomparably important besides, is the material from which this beauty is eliminated—being lasting, principally brownstone, granite, marble, and iron. Within the past four years and a half—in other words, since our war—this class of buildings, now so abundant, have all been erected under our own observation and cognizance; a fact evidencing, not alone our past and present progress, but the unerring index as well of our city future greatness. While descanting on the condition of architecture in our city, it is but fair to say that a due appreciation of the true merits of this glorious art is as necessary for the production of grand results, as the existence of distinguished architects among us; for the latter are useless without the aid of the former. Were architecture, as a fine art, really as well understood by our people generally, by the literary, commercial, and scientific world, as it was by the people of the Italian States, the opulent merchants of Venice, Florence and Genoa, a pure style of architecture would equally predominate and embellish our streets, villas, and mansions, as they did the piazzas, palaces, and villas of beautiful Italy. By a close scrutiny, deep study, and undeviating perseverance, the patrons of art would become men of taste; and knowledge of art, in detecting and dismissing into well-merited contempt assuming, arrogant pretenders, and extending the dexter of countenance to deserving talent, would conduce to the solid growth and permanence of a pure taste among us, redounding to the glory of the city, and to the credit of so vast and majestic a metropolis. There is not a structure erected in this huge Manhattan, even upon a limited scale, but adds its quantum to the good or bad impression indelibly stamped upon the public mind; thus every one who builds is unthinkingly enhancing or deteriorating the public sentiment and taste, and the aggregate result of such procedure is a matter not to be underestimated. What says RUSKIN, that celebrated English lecturer on architecture?—"In a separate street front there may not be any high sense of emotion; but the great concerted music of the streets of a city, where turret rises over turret, and casement frowns beyond casement, and tower succeeds to tower along the farthest ridges of the inhabited hills—this a sublimity capable of exerting almost the deepest emotion that art can strike from the bosoms of men." In a lecture delivered in London by this RUSKIN on "Character in Architecture," he further states, "Why should we build a Christian church in imitation of a Pagan temple, or a retreat for the unfortunate, which would answer as well or better, from its outward appearance, for a jail or a morgue? On the contrary, cheerful influences have a salutary effect on the mind, which is half the battle against disease; and a happy frame of mind can hardly be more easily effected than by giving the patient a pleasant and elegant domicile, as contrasted with the dread a person would naturally have of entering a hospital which might better be a prison." Contrast the appearance of The Woman's Hospital, The German Hospital, and St. Luke's Hospital, on the one hand, with Bellevue and the other Institutions on Blackwell's and Ward's Islands, and in these the reader will find our illustration. More than this, architecture is always a monumental index of the age. As an art, it had but a feeble existence in the earlier days of this Republic—then the buildings were mostly of a temporary nature, and art could not find a foothold; but in our time, more millions are every year invested in costly edifices, which wealth can make substantial, and which will stand through many generations. It is strange that either our pride does not more foster arts, or that as a majority we have so poor an appreciation of the poetry of form. We cannot but highly commend the course taken with these new buildings, above contrasted with the antiquated prison dens called hospitals (Heaven save the mark!), and should be happy to have to chronicle more efforts of a similar tendency. We much admire the Young Men's Christian Association building in this city, St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn, Rev. D. Scheneks, and St. Paul's Church; also in Brooklyn Rev. Dr. Dronne's; these are monumental comments on our improved taste in architecture and the arts in general.

DOCKS AND BASINS FOR NEW YORK.

SOME time ago a gentleman in this city showed us some plans and diagrams of an improved system of docks, basins, and warehouses for this city, which appeared to us to possess great merit. It is quite obvious that these are very much required, extending in conjunction with a length of pier north, south, and east of Manhattan Island, with a wide promenade skirting and bordering these three sections, such as is to be seen on the river Mersey, which hems the Liverpool borough. This can be done. Then, why not at once? The plan suggested by the projector is to construct a number of large enclosed docks, on the retaining walls of which are to be erected fire-proof warehouses. The lower story or ground floor of these warehouses is to be used as a covered street or passage for carts, &c., which convey merchandise to and from the warehouses and vessels. The second story is to be used to receive the cargo discharged from vessels lying in the dock, and the upper stories for the storage of goods. These warehouses are to be so constructed that no entrance or exit can be obtained except through the gates, so that all stealing or loss of goods can be effectually prevented. There is in this plan an entrance-basin 400 ft. by 700 ft., with a lock 120 ft. wide. Into this basin open four docks, two on a side which are 1,200 ft. long by 300 ft. wide, with entrance locks 60 ft. wide. Each dock will accommodate twenty-five vessels, so that these docks can hold one hundred vessels of the largest tonnage while discharging their cargoes. The docks are to be surrounded by warehouses 100 ft. deep. On the water-front, outside of the warehouse, there is to be a street 50 ft. wide, and thus the greater part of the river frontage could be used for general purposes. On the North River, a system of docks such as has been just described would begin at the Battery, and run up to Fulton street. The space between Fulton street and Chambers street is in the plan reserved for ferries &c.; then there is another system of docks running north as far as Canal street, with another vacant space, between Canal and Hammersley streets reserved for ferries &c., and so on to the extent demanded.

The docks on the East River are divided in like manner, with greater space for docks and warehouse purposes, leaving vacant also ample and necessary spaces for the ferries. From our observation of the London and Liverpool docks, we hesitate not to say that the entire frontage of these proposed docks is much larger than of the former, and in them six hundred vessels could simultaneously discharge or take in cargo. This certainly would be a great achievement, as it would, in all probability, afford a much greater accommodation than the city of New York will require for some years and as each dock is entirely distinct, these docks could be built separately, and, if necessary, by different companies. The first range of docks—viz., those from the Battery to Fulton street—has a front of considerably over two miles, along which vessels may be discharged into warehouses; and there is in addition more than half a mile of river-front, which can be used for general purposes. Thirty-six and a half acres of water, and twenty-one acres of warehouses, are covered by this plan. Were the whole of these docks built, they would have about seventeen miles of frontage for the discharge of vessels into the warehouses, and three and a quarter miles of frontage for general ferry purposes. They would enclose two hundred and twenty acres of water, and one hundred and eighty acres would be occupied by warehouses, which would hold eight million tons of merchandise; besides the wines and spirituous liquors could be stored in the vaults. That these docks would pay a very good interest on the capital invested in their construction, needs no confirmation from us, for this is palpably shown by the history of every dock corporation which has ever been formed. The construction of these docks would not, we are assured, be attended by great engineering difficulties. The Atlantic Dock of Brooklyn is probably the best of its kind in this country, and the equal in most respects of any in Europe. It begins at the foot of Hamilton Ferry, Brooklyn, and extends southward for three-fourths of a mile along the river-front. Immediately behind this long line of docks and warehouses, directly upon the river, there is a large basin covering forty acres surrounded by store-houses, which stretch over fifteen acres of ground, and present a frontage of a mile in length around the basin. Most of these warehouses belong to a company, but some are the property of private individuals. This is more particularly the case with those on the river-front. The Atlantic Basin and docks can and do accommodate one-tenth of all the shipping and one-third of all the canal boats that come to the port of New York. The warehouses proper are not strictly fire-proof, but are built of the same material, and in much the same manner, as those of the Liverpool docks, which are termed fire-proof. The hoisting apparatus is, composed of eight steam elevators, by means of which four hundred thousand bushels of grain can be handled in a day, and every facility is offered for loading and unloading that can be afforded by docks, machinery and store-houses, all kept in thorough repair. The Atlantic Dock Company was incorporated in 1841, with a capital of half million of dollars. The building of their docks, basins, and warehouses obliged the company to contract a debt of a million dollars, represented bonds bearing seven per cent. interest, which have an excellent name in the market, and on which the interest has always been duly paid, although the company had to struggle through many difficulties during the earlier part of its existence. The greatest of these difficulties was, and is still, the rate of wharfage prescribed by the legislature. The amount allowed by law for wharfage in this port is substantially the same as that prescribed by the law of 1803.

OUR PROPORTION OF STATE TAXATION.

UNDER an act passed by the Legislature of our State, April 14, 1859, a Board was created to remove the disproportion that existed in the valuations of property in the various counties of the State, as the basis of State taxation. It was made the duty of this Board to examine and revise the valuations of the real and personal estate of the several counties, as returned to the office of the Comptroller, and fix the aggregate amount of the assessment for each county on which the Comptroller shall compute the State tax. Power was granted to this Board to increase or diminish the aggregate valuations of real estate in any county, by adding or deducting such an amount as in its opinion would be just and necessary to produce an equitable relation between all the valuations of real estate in the State. The valuation of the property in each county is determined annually by the local Boards of Assessment in each county. These local boards make up their assessment of the property in their own districts, without regard to the other counties.

In this manner, it happens that one county bears more than its just share of the State tax. To remedy this injustice this Board was created. How well these State assessors have done their duty, may be seen from the letter addressed to their board from the Citizens' Association, which sets forth the above facts, and gives the following figures, from which it will be plainly seen how much greater a proportion of the burden is carried by New York and King's counties than by the fifty-eight other counties in the State:—

Valuations by local Assessors of Property in our City.

Year.	Amount.	Year.	Amount.
1852.....	$331,768,426	1864.....	$634,615,890
1854.....	462,021,734	1865.....	608,792,335
1856.....	571,740,491	1866.....	736,989,908
1858.....	531,194,290	1867.....	830,594,713
1860.....	577,230,956	1868.....	907,815,529
1862.....	571,967,345	1869.....	1,000,000,000

It will be seen that in seven years the valuations in this city have been increased nearly one hundred per cent. by our local assessors. We can see at a glance in what proportion the taxable values of the rest of the State have increased in seventeen years:

1852—Values in the fifty-eight other counties, except New York and Kings.....	$742,391,247
1868—Values in the fifty-eight other counties, except New York and Kings.....	$758,613,085

Thus it will be seen that while in seventeen years the values in New York city are said to be increased over 200 per cent., the values in the fifty-eight other counties are returned as having increased only six per cent. The following facts and figures were presented by Supervisor Little at a conference held at the Brooklyn Court House, on the subject between State Assessors and Mr. Little, and Assessors Field and Breen.

In King's county the gradual increase in valuation can be seen from the following figures:

1854.....	82,925,118	1866.....	143,817,295
1856.....	101,500,032	1867.....	159,975,047
1858.....	104,296,566	1868.....	159,991,259
1860.....	109,515,737	1869.....	200,000,000
1862.....	111,381,575

This was an increase in seventeen years on the total valuation of King's county of 209 per cent. In New York the valuation was as follows: 1852, $351,768,426; 1869, $1,000,000,000.

Here the increase in seventeen years was 186 per cent. Brooklyn, in proportion, had increase just one-twentieth more than New York. The assessed valuation of King's county, in fact, was but little less than one-fourth the entire valuation of the State, leaving out New York county.

BROOKLYN REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

WE are informed that one consequence of the collapse in rents, and extravagant prices of real estate, will be that builders will become discouraged and contract their plans for this year's work. Men connected with building trades will be likely to enjoy their summer's idleness without the trouble of striking or the necessity for a strike, and the reflection that it is enforced upon them by circumstances, instead of being brought upon them, as it was last year, by their own will and pleasure. They will therefore be wise if they do not exceed the bounds of modesty in their demands, and may consider themselves lucky if they can keep themselves in work at any profitable terms.

Speculative house-owners will be despondent, and, as a general thing, glad to get their property off their hands on the best attainable terms. Provided purchasers do not come too much at a time, the summer will be a better season for buyers than people in want of houses have enjoyed for several years.

As the number of houses to be built this year will not be very great, a partial recovery from the depression of the present may be looked for next fall.

The demand for houses will be about equal to the supply, and owners and landlords will become more cheerful.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

Sackett street, between Smith and Hoyt streets—two first-class 5 story brick and brown stone front dwellings 20x42; Messrs. Arnold & Johnson, No. 3 Butler street, architects, owners, and builders.

These buildings will cost each $13,500, and will be supplied with all the modern appliances to render them first-class in all respects.

Hicks street, Nos. 7 and 9, two 4 story brick stores and tenements, 25x25; Mundell & Teckritz architects; Jacob Hart builder; T. J. Tunswell owner.

N. e. corner of Cranberry and Henry streets, one 4 story brick and iron carpet store. 33x60; Glover & Mumford architects; Abraham Allen and Wm. Knowles, builders; T. B. Stewart owner. This building is partially fire-proof; cost, $30,000.

To the Editor of the REAL ESTATE RECORD.

I RESPECTFULLY submit for the consideration of the City Fathers the following plan of relieving Broadway and Fulton street from the interminable "blocks" which now obstruct travel at the crossing of these two streets. Upon the principle that two bodies find difficulty in occupying the same space at the same time, it follows that at the point of crossing of two equal currents of travel, as at the crossing of Broadway and Fulton street, double the space is required—to allow the currents to pass through each other—that is required at any other point. At the said crossing the difficulty is simply that this additional space is not provided to remedy the evil. Let a clear circular space be made of one hundred feet radius, struck from the point of intersection of the two central lines of the streets as a centre. The city cannot afford to widen such streets throughout their length, but will have to confine its efforts to the locality of the evil. This plan will save from destruction whole blocks of fine buildings, taking only the corners of them as a small sacrifice for the benefit of the community.

IMPROVEMENT.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

A SUBSCRIPTION list is posted at the Wall Street Ferry, Brooklyn, inviting subscribers to contribute, in the aggregate, the sum of $400 for an awning, by Mr. Gerau, which it is proposed to erect, extending from the ferry-house to the stairs, on each side, opening into Montague street. The sums range from 5 cts. to $50. Mr. Gerau undertakes to furnish the awning, and keep same in repair until worn out. Are the Brooklynites so susceptible to the torrid rays of Sol as to need such a covering, which will only shelter them some thirty or forty seconds, in their passage from the ferry-house to the bridge?

THERE is one curious tendency all over the country with respect to real estate which is worth noting. The census about to be taken ought to throw some light upon it, though we fear it will not. We refer to the growth of large landed properties in this country. The small farmers east of the Mississippi are dying out and their properties are falling into the hands of large holders of landed estates. True, some small holdings obtain still near the large cities, but they are only truck or vegetable farms. It does not pay any longer to raise meat or grain on small farms. To farm economically—that is, to use labor saving-machinery with advantage—large farms are indispensable. The small farmers cannot compete on equal terms with the owner of machinery, hence he must go to the wall, that is, he must sell out. All over the Middle and Eastern States these tendencies are in operation. Rich farmers are getting richer not only in money but in land, while the small farmers are selling out, their sons becoming mechanics or small merchants. This tendency is a real one, and it behoves our property-holders to consider it.

THEY talk of building a railroad between Nyack and Piermont. If done, this will make a charming country, acceptable to New Yorkers. The hills above Piermont will make the finest villa sites anywhere near New York City. There are some fine sites on the Northern New Jersey Road, this side of Piermont, but they cannot begin with the country just this side of Nyack, in Rockland county.

SOUTHERN Jersey is beginning to look up. We hear of new railroads soon to be opened, and extensive improvements are under way. In time this now forbidding country will be the garden spot, or rather the kitchen garden spot, of America. With such markets as New York and Philadelphia on either hand, and manufacturing towns like those which line the railroads—Trenton, Newark, Camden, Jersey City, and the like—there cannot be too many vegetables and too much fruit raised, and Southern Jersey is just the place to raise them.

THERE are people who predict that Newark will yet have a population of half a million of people. Its advantages are certainly wonderful. It has admirable facilities for manufacturing which will yet be improved to the uttermost—indeed, already it is the third manufacturing city of the Union. Its potent advantages are: 1. Its water facilities, whereby it can transport all its heavy manufactures to New York very cheaply. 2. Its nearness to the great city by rail and water, making it in fact a part of the metropolis. 3. Its ability to spread in every direction. 4. The large number of railroads that centre at that point; and, 5th, the cheapness with which coal and iron can be procured for manufacturing purposes.

In time all the country this side of Orange Mountain will be a part of Newark. People who have money to invest could not do better than put it into Essex county property. Just look at it.

OFFICIAL RECORD OF MORTGAGES —NEW YORK COUNTY.

In the arrangement of the following mortgages, where no description of the property follows the names, it is to be understood that there is a corresponding transfer under the same or nearly the same date in our columns, and the amount set down is what remains on bond and mortgage.

MARKET REVIEW.

DURING the past month, as our reports have indicated, there has been some slight increase in the amount of business transacted in many of the leading articles embraced in this review, owing in part to a pretty general modification of values, but, with a few unimportant exceptions, sellers have found it necessary to depend largely upon out of town customers, the local consumptive demand running too small to afford much of an outlet for goods. It is noticeable, however, that nearly all city buyers, and the bulk of the shipping orders, insist positively upon having the very best quality of stock, which indicates a much superior class of buildings in course of erection than last season. The production has been good, and fully equal to all wants, and the accumulation of supplies begins to manifest itself at some points, particularly of common grades, owing to the comparative neglect they have received, and it is not improbable that before summer closes we shall be called upon to record a few more reductions in prices. Not much trade is looked for during the next two months, but the opinion appears to be quite general that as autumn approaches a more encouraging state of affairs may be anticipated. The absence of important strikes by the workmen has undoubtedly increased the building operations in this city, small in the aggregate though they be, and, as we have always contended, the journeymen, by refraining from forcing employers to terms, are doing fully as well, if not better, than ever before.

BRICKS.—Few if any changes have taken place in the general position of the market, and we are without new features of interest to advise since our last. The demand for good to prime qualities of hard brick appears to keep well up to the average of the past three or four weeks, and nearly all dealers inform us they seldom find more of these grades on hand than they know what to do with, prices in the meantime holding up well, the finest cargoes realizing $10 per M, without difficulty, while any price below $9.50 is not accepted unless the quality of the stock is very undesirable. The city consumptive demand is still good, and a few jobbing dealers have recently laid in a small supply, particularly those well up on the east side of the town, and at Brooklyn, &c., as they find the call for distribution sufficient to warrant purchases somewhat in excess of immediate wants. The Eastern trade also continues good, in fact has become quite regular, and this is probably one of the main reasons why we have no accumulation of fine brick. For the inferior grades of hard brick there can scarcely be said to exist any regular market at present, and it is impossible to fix upon any fair basis of quotations. Sales are making anywhere from $8.50 down to $6.50 per M, according to quantity, quality, and other circumstances which may tend to give either the buyer or seller the advantage, but the position is, as a rule, in favor of buyers, as they are too few and far between to be permitted to depart unsatisfied, when they show the least disposition to enter into actual operations. The inquiry, as compared with the arrivals, is unusually small, and the supplies increase so rapidly that many receivers begin to complain of them as a nuisance, and hence in their anxiety to realize and work off stock the low rates above noted are accepted quite readily. The production of all kinds continues unabated, but "up-river" manufacturers in some cases complain of current low figures on common stock, and threaten to stop their kilns, on the plea that they are working at a loss. The New Jersey yards are forwarding a regular and liberal supply of a quality about up to the ordinary average. At the reduction noted in our last, pale brick have sold to a fair extent, but buyers are not particularly eager, and with fair arrivals the supply rather exceeds the outlet. On the ordinary run of quality, prices may be placed at about $5 to $6.50 per M. Croton fronts are in fair and slightly increasing demand, and prices quite steady, at full former figures, with a rather light supply. We quote at $16 per M for brown; $17 do for dark, and $18 do for red. Philadelphia fronts are not very active, but owing to the small supply quite firm at $45 to $48 per M, according to quantity, &c.

CEMENT.—The general demand for Rosendale shows no abatement that we can learn of, and the market continues to be fully sustained without difficulty, manufacturers realizing $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2.00 per bbl. delivered here, with a proportionate advance from retailers' hands. Our city jobbers having obtained a fair supply have of late partially withdrawn, but the direct demand from large consumers has more than offset this, to say nothing of very free shipments Eastward. The wants of California buyers are still quite liberal and a few cargoes go South, though the shipments in the latter direction have not as yet commenced with much liberality. Country towns and villages require a considerable amount of stock, and the wants of pipe manufacturers, &c., are as large as ever. The mills continue to run regularly to their full capacity, and in some instances are still behind their orders, though not enough so to cause any serious inconvenience. Foreign styles have met with a fair inquiry, the fine to choice grades in particular, and prices are firm. The call is mainly on Western orders. We quote at $9.50 @

$10.00 per bbl. for Roman; $10@10.50 for Portland; $11.00 for common Keenes, and $16.00 for choice do. Shipments of 1,926 bbls. to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—There has been very little life displayed in this market since our last, and the general tone is still flat and unsatisfactory, with considerable irregularity on values. Some of the most fancy styles of woods are quite firm and in very small supply, while the ordinary grades, without being abundant, are somewhat in excess of present wants, and sharp buyers can occasionally gain rather easier terms than heretofore, though holders are not, as a rule, disposed to force sales. Such demand as there is comes mainly from local jobbers, with now and then a small order for goods to be shipped to the interior or coastwise. Exporters have been looking around the market but found very little opportunity for purchasing, owing to the high cost of freight room and the dull condition of the markets abroad. Mahogany has lately arrived with rather more freedom, and the general supply and assortment is now very good. The retail business doing is fair in the aggregate, but mostly in small irregular lots, buyers operating very cautiously and in nearly all cases refusing to take more goods than can be used to immediate advantage. The exports are as follows: To Bremen 87 crotches mahogany, valued at $628; and 186 pieces lignumvite, valued at $350; to Liverpool 19 logs satinwood, valued at $150. The receipts are as follows: From Chiltepec 197 logs, five ends mahogany; from St. Andrews 67 logs mahogany; from Surinham 57 logs cedar; from Porto Plata 55 logs mahogany; 70 crotches do.; 2 logs satin wood; and 115 pieces lignumvite.

GLASS.—Foreign window glass is still selling to some extent on small jobbing orders, but the total amount of business doing from day to day is less than during the early portion of last month, and the market appears to be falling back into a flat and stagnant condition. All the operations of buyers it is evident are guided solely by the necessities of the hour, and it is probable that this policy will be adhered to while the distributive demand continues as light as it is now. Importers do not find it necessary as yet to force business but are willing sellers, and are less rigid in regard to discounts than a short time ago. The arrivals have been rather moderate, but the stock already accumulated was ample and the assortment good. We quote English at 35@40 per cent, off list, and French 40@50 per cent, do., with sometimes 5 per cent, better allowed on a large order. American glass in moderate request and somewhat irregular, but may be quoted at about 50 per cent, off list. The latest reported imports are 2,709 packages glass, value $7,288; and 84 plate, value $15,602.

HAIR.—The market continues in a slow and unsatisfactory condition, the wants of city consumers and dealers amounting to a very small aggregate, and the out-of-town demand, though at times fair, is too spasmodic and uncertain to afford any encouragement to the hope that a regular outlet for stock can be kept open. A few weeks ago California orders were quite liberal, but they have apparently all been met. The accumulation of stock in this city is very large and the tendency is rather to increase than otherwise, though the production is restricted as much as possible. Prices have undergone no recent alteration and we still quote at 25@30c. per bushel for cattle, and 35@40c. do., for goat, and though these figures barely cover cost and sometimes entail a loss, it is deemed advisable to prevent an advance in order to shut off competition from English importations, which can not be sold quite as low as the rates current on domestic.

LATH.—There has been a fair amount of business done during the week under review, at very irregular prices, though on the whole, buyers have been enabled to operate on rather more favorable terms. For the two preceding weeks, the sales to city jobbers have been quite liberal, and nearly all were enabled to secure stock, a little in excess of immediate wants, and this state of affairs being followed by continued full arrivals, receivers experienced greater difficulty in placing their cargoes, except at a concession, particularly as the last week in June, and the two first weeks in July are generally the dullest season for lath. In one or two cases, where offerings happened to meet parties just in want of stock, who were too hurried or too indifferent to shop around, $2.75 per M was obtained, but larger amounts of goods changed hands at $2.70 down to $2.65, and some at $2.60@2.62½. The latter were mostly forced sales by receivers, who, having held cargoes over for several days, and finding it necessary to realize or pile out their lath, made the best compromise possible with buyers, most of whom will only bid about $2.50 per M, unless they have immediate use for their purchases. There is said to be only small amounts on the way to this port, but we shall probably have all the stock required for several weeks to come. Sales have been consummated to the extent of 1,950,000 lath, all on local account, the shipments to other cities leaving too small a margin after the additional expenses have been paid. The business from jobbers' hands is moderate, at former rates.

LIME.—As compared with the receipts, the demand for Rockland is active, everything selling upon arrival at full prices, but it should not be forgotten that the receipts are unusually small, and a very slight increase would unquestionably throw the bulk of the advantage in buyers' favor. To a certain extent, lime must be used, and some of our consumers will have nothing but Eastern, and this call is just about active enough to exhaust the supply. Common is still selling at $1.25, and lump at $1.75 per bbl, is steady, and jobbing lots are regulated accordingly. A few manufacturers who are obliged to keep their vessels running to and fro, have one or two kilns burning steadily, but it is thought that even these will soon be closed, as the haying season draws off pretty nearly all the workmen, owing to the better wages paid. The Northern limes are in rather light demand and very irregular, though quoted nominally the same as Rockland. In a few cases common has sold at $1.65@1.12½, according to quantity, and lump can still be bought at $1.50 per bbl, though 12½@25c. per bbl. higher is commonly asked. The receipts have been quite liberal, mainly on contract, though a few lots remain unsold. The production has of late been materially curtailed, manufacturers finding no inducements for the free running of kilns at current rates, and not caring to overstock the market. There has been eleven cargoes reported from the East during the week.

LUMBER.—Business at the yards in many cases continues fair, but as a rule there is some falling off from the slight disposition to activity noticed during the past two or three weeks, and the market now presents rather a dull tone. It is a season, however, when some contraction of trade is generally looked for, and we hear of few complaints at the position, particularly within a day or two, when dealers, after overhauling and footing up books for the past month, have discovered that their sales make a very respectable show. Such demand as does prevail is almost entirely local, and merely calls for parcels sufficient to meet the immediate wants of buyers, as both builders and manufacturers continue hopeful of further reductions in the cost of lumber as the season advances. At the revision of figures noted by us last week, however, the general feeling at the moment is comparatively steady, and it is not probable that any further immediate changes will occur unless values give way somewhat at the points from which our supplies are drawn. The purchases by New York dealers at Albany continue moderate, and mostly of such very desirable lots as may happen to offer at rates considered reasonable, or of some little bill of goods, which unexpected wants make it necessary should be secured as quickly as possible. But this does not materially check the receipts at this point, a great many parcels coming through direct from the mills, and from purchases made at Buffalo, &c., causing a gradual accumulation of stock in this city, and increasing the facilities for making selections as the assortment improves. Common grades of pine are plenty and somewhat irregular, but the choice styles are in small enough supply to cause holders to feel a little indifference about selling except at very full figures. Black walnut, if at all good as to size and seasoning, commands outside notes without any difficulty, and cannot be found except in certain quarters, while the supply at the West is said to be entirely exhausted. At Albany trade is very dull, and though prices are held up as stiffly as possible, there is an evident want of strength on all goods. The arrivals per canal are small, but an early increase is looked for.

Our wholesale market has been fairly supplied with stock, and shown a corresponding amount of activity, buyers operating with rather greater freedom and paying pretty full prices, in some instances a slight advance, whenever anything particularly desirable could be secured thereby, and taken altogether the feeling is quite steady, with no accumulation of unsold stock. Exporters continue to operate with caution and moderation, but occasionally manage to run a pretty good bill, when freight charges, &c., are favorable. Eastern spruce has not at any one time accumulated freely, but the supplies have come forward with considerable regularity, and taking the week through the aggregate receipts foot up very fair. The demand in the meantime has been good, and receivers report no trouble whatever in disposing of their cargoes, particularly if the specification run a little above the average, and the stronger tone noted at the date of our last has increased some of the upper grades, showing a slight advance. The call as before comes almost entirely from local dealers, and though none are buying extensively, the majority are in the market, and it requires considerable stock to give all hands even a small amount each. Taken as a whole the market is in a much healthier condition than for a long time past, and with prospective light receipts receivers are inclined to the opinion that bottom rates have been reached for the present. We quote at $19.00@21.00 per M. for inferior to good, $21.50@22.00 for prime to extra; and now and then something very choice somewhat higher. White Pine of good to prime quality is not very plenty, in steady demand, and commands full prices without trouble, but the common grades are increasing, and finding rather a slow sale, show some irregularity. The sales now making are in the main on home account, though a few export orders have been filled. We quote at $20@25 per M. for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; and $26@30 for good to choice do. For piling the inquiry and arrivals about balance, and the market preserves a uniform tone. A few lots have recently been sent a short distance up the North river. We quote at 6½c. @ 7½c. for inferior to good; 8c. for prime; and 8½c. @ 9c. for extra to choice. Pickets are extremely dull, and scarcely have a marked value, so seldom is it that even a bid can be drawn out. For yellow pine the demand has been moderate, nearly all the jobbers holding a supply equal to current wants, and contractors ordering sparingly. Several cargoes have recently arrived, but nearly all came in on contract, and have been previously reported. Prices remain as before, and are steady. We quote at $30@34 per M. for timber and flooring boards. Black walnut logs dull and nominal. Shingles of all kinds are plenty, and meeting with only a moderate retail demand. Sales of 950,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $19@22 per M; 160,000 feet yellow pine at $32 per M; 250 pieces piling at 8c. per foot; 50,000 Eastern shingles on private terms; and 125,000 Southern shingles at $15@17 per M.

We also notice shipments of 11,000 shingles to British West Indies; 112 bundles do. and 126 bundles lath to Peru; 12,000 staves to Bremen; 2,000 do to Liverpool; 34,340 do to London; 9,600 do to Bristol; 2,400 do to Glasgow; 2,400 do to Londonderry; 7,200 do to Gibraltar; 2,000 do to British N. A. colonies; 2,000 do to British Guiana; 52,800 do to Cotte; 54,720 do to Barcelona; 63,960 do to Farragosa; 7,200 do to Vigo; and 1,200 do to San Francisco. The receipts reported are as follows: From Shulce, N. S., 1,115 pieces piling; from St. Georges, N. B., 551 pieces piling, 119,000 feet deals and timber and 116,600 laths; from Pensacola, Fla., 220,000 feet lumber; from Jacksonville, 110,000 feet do; from Brunswick, Ga., 175,000 feet do; from Charleston, 74,000 feet do. From the Maine coast there has been reported 21 cargoes lumber, 5 cargoes lath, and 1 of spiling. We have reports of exports from Baltimore, as follows: To Liverpool, 6,023 staves; to Amsterdam, 9,465 do; to Rotterdam, 11,000 do; to Bremen, 5,000 do; to St. Domingo, 6,000 feet lumber and 1,000 shingles; to St. John, P. R., 19,000 feet lumber; to Nassau, N. P., 10,000 feet do; to Paysandre, (Trinidad), 64,000 feet do; and to Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, 230,000 feet lumber.

Accounts from the western markets generally report quite a dull trade on all grades of lumber, stocks accumulating and prices taking the downward turn, some stringency in the money market adding to the depression. A recent Chicago report says:

"The market was weak and unsettled yesterday, and notwithstanding the demand was fair, and that a few good cargoes from well-known mills at Muskegon and Oconto sold at $15@16, the average sales of fair to good mill-run, boards, and strips were made at $13@14; while coarse common cargoes sold down as low as $9@10. There is no disguising the fact that low grades, or rather common to medium qualities of mill-run, have a strong downward tendency, and notwithstanding that present prices are fully $3 per 1,000 feet lower than at this date in 1868, there are indications that the bottom is not yet reached. The interior demand this season has been much less than during the same period in 1868, owing to which fact the yards have done a larger amount of piling than usual, in most instances the stocks of green lumber being much larger than at this date last season."

Later than the above we learn of the following sales: 190,000 feet mill run, principally stocks and inclined widths, at $18; 110,000 feet joist and scantling, with fine Norway boards, at $12; 66,000 feet lath, at $13; 100,000 feet boards and strips, at $12; 60,000 feet coarse mixed, at $11; 100,000 feet scantling and joists, at $12; 110,000 feet strips and boards from good flat river logs, 70 per cent, strips, at $15; 2,000 flat pickets, at $10; square pickets at $12; 65,000 feet coarse mixed, at $10.50; 85,000 feet fair mixed, at $11; 200,000 shingles, at $3.37½; 100,000 shingles, at $3.50.

A report on the St. Louis market for the week ending June 26, says:

Receipts of white pine have been light, and the demand has been active for all grades, choice especially being in request. Sales on the bank were: 200,000 feet common Wisconsin at $17; 300,000 do at $17.50; 450,000 do at $19; 600,000 good do at $20; 350,000 do at $21; 1,450,000 choice do at $23.50; 400,000 do at $25.50. In the water—600,000 feet Culppeva (last week), for future delivery, at $17; 300,000 Wisconsin at $18; 250,000 do at $19; at Quincy—400,000 do at $18, and 400,000 choice at $25. Parties at the close Friday were in treaty for the bulk of the stock on the market unsold.

Yellow pine flooring continues in fair demand at $27@29 for dry, and $22 to $24@26 for green; short dimensions dull at $17@18. Poplar boards and strips active at $25@27. Black walnut in demand at $35@45 for good to choice. Cypress boards and strips unchanged at $24@27. Oak salable on orders at $25@30. Ash dull at $24@26. Red Cedar $25@30. No sale for hickory, sycamore, maple and pecan.

At Milwaukee the lumber market is rather dull; receipts are increasing, and though no very heavy decline can be quoted the tendency of prices is downward. Recent cargo sales as follows: 100 M strips and boards, $12.00; 78 M strips and boards, $12.50; 76 m scantling and joist, $11.00; 85 M mixed, $12.00; 77,234 feet common mixed, $11.25; 50 M mixed, $12.00 for inch and $11.00 for two-inch; 125 M all boards, cut from good logs, $16.00; 100 M mill run, $12.50; 76 M strips and boards, $13.00; 60,575 feet scantling, joist and short timber, $11.50; 65,971 coarse common, $10.50; 62,825 feet (poor common) joist and boards.

A correspondent writing from Saginaw says: "The river from East Saginaw to Bangor, a distance of about fifteen miles, is thickly studded with lumber mills, some of which have docking facilities for 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 feet. When there are full stocks on hand, there is lumber enough to build up towns and cities requisite to constitute a respectable State, and hence them all in. There is, of course, an immense amount of capital invested, and the condition and prospects of the trade are at all times a matter of great concern. The early part of the past winter was unfavorable for logging, and, as is commonly the case under such circumstances, unusual exertions were put forth to secure logs, the result of which was rather a larger stock than usual, owing to the protracted sleighing throughout the latter part of the season; but the increase is not great enough to affect the market. The stock of choice lumber is proportionately small, and the prices for that quality will be much more likely to advance than recede. The amount of logs got out on the Tittabawassee, according to the estimate of the Boom Company—always accepted as good authority—is 250,000,000 feet, which is pretty well secured, not over 60,000,000 being behind or 'hung up.' The amount last year was $28,871,300. The amount on Cass River is known to be $68,000,000, against $3,740,000 last year. The stock this season is all secured, and will be down in about three weeks. Bad River has about 20,000,000, against 15,700,000 last year. Rifle River, on 'the Bay,' has got 150,000,000, of which 25,000,000 are being hung up beyond all hopes of securing this season. The amount last year was 18,800,000. The logs from Rifle and An Gres Rivers include all from the bay that are towed to the mills above for manufacturing. Towing up the bay is sometimes a risky business. Last week three rafts were lost, a moiety of which will be saved.

"There has been considerable hanging back this season among buyers, but they are beginning to flock in, and the light stocks throughout the Eastern States insure a fair trade. Until within a few years the valley depended largely upon the Chicago market to absorb its surplus. Dealers, owing to the large proportion of 'weak' holders, were then perfectly at the mercy of Chicago buyers, and no money was made. At present the Chicago market probably does not take fifty million feet of Saginaw lumber in a year, the great bulk going to the Eastern States, Ohio, etc. Furthermore, it is now in strong hands, who are able to hold in case of emergency. The firmness and unanimity of sentiment, this season, among the entire lumber interest has been the theme of frequent comment, and we may say, admiration.

"The region in which the best pine is produced, will soon be under cultivation. Last winter above 50,000,000 feet of logs were put in by actual settlers. The best pine timber is from land where hard wood abounds, which is, of course, good farming land. Those in quest of choice pine lands always give the go-by to tracts which produce nothing but pine. In Saginaw County, it is doubtful if a tract of eighty acres can be found which does not contain more or less oak of the largest size; and doubtless the same is true of other counties tributary to the valley. Although considerable is being done in the way of purchasing timber only, shrewd lumbermen are exceedingly anxious to secure pine lands, and all the surplus money at their command is invested in that way. This, however, is very natural, in view of the almost fabulous rise in that description of property. As illustrative of this point, we will present a few examples. A tract of 920 acres on Rifle River, which in 1863 sold for $1,410, brought $11,600 in 1868. A tract of 1,800 acres on the Pine of Saginaw, which in 1863 sold for $2,655, changed hands last winter at the modest figure of $18,000. Another tract of 600 acres, which in 1863 cost $1,30, sold last winter for $6,000. Another tract of 280 acres, which in 1863 sold for $350, brought $2,900 in 1868. I have still another instance, wherein a tract of 335 acres which, in 1863 sold for $340, and which changed hands in 1868 at $5,370. These instances, which are by no means exceptional, show an appreciation of from 700 to 1,000 per cent. within five years! In the case of lands now purchasable at from $10 to $15 per acre, it is an open question if there are not some as good bargains still to be had as any that have been secured at any time within the past few years."

From Boston we learn that the demand continues good for consumption, and there is a fair inquiry for export. Prices remain quite steady, and the sales have been at quotations.

Boston prices are as follows:

Clear pine $15@50 for No. 1; $65@70 for No. 2; $55@60 for No. 3; $38@42 for No. 4; and $28@32 for No. 5. Coarse pine $20@22 for No. 5; and $14@16 for refuse. The Southern markets are fairly active, and prices generally steady, though in some cases buyers were gaining rather better terms. Exporters were the principal operators, coastwise orders footing up comparatively small.

METALS.—For copper sheathing there has been only an ordinary jobbing demand, mainly from the local trade, country orders having almost entirely disappeared for the time being, and the reduction of stock is, in consequence, very small, if indeed it has not increased, as most manufacturers continue to produce to some extent. Prices have not changed, but do not show a great amount of strength, and can only be called nominally steady. We quote at 83 @35c. for new, and 22@23c. for old, according to quality. Yellow metal in good supply, moderately active and steady. We quote at 27@29c. in wholesale and retail parcels. The buoyant feeling on ingot copper, referred to in our last, did not result in any advance, but holders generally have remained pretty steady, and former rates are sustained. The demand at the moment is, in the main, for small lots, but buyers are operating with less restraint, and the market shows a pretty healthy feeling. We quote at 22@22 1/2 c. per lb. Scotch pig iron shows no change in price, but is firm and not very freely offered, owing to an increasing business. The demand is chiefly from regular dealers, who having exhausted supplies, are obliged to come into the market and re-stock, though all purchases are evidently guided solely by immediate wants, and an attempt to advance values at the moment would shut off the moderate business doing. The arrivals are fair, and the supply is slightly increased. We quote at $39@44 per ton. American pig iron has sold slowly in jobbing lots as wanted by consumers to fill pressing wants, and the market shows no new features of striking interest. Prices about as before, but paid with much reluctance, and the market is a trifle heavy. We quote at $41@42 per ton for No. 1; $38@39 do. for No. 2; and $36@37 do. for No. 3. Bar iron from store remains at an almost complete standstill, and prices, though quoted nominally as before, are much depressed. Sales are frequently made below given figures, rather than allow a customer to depart without operating. We quote at $55.00@57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $50.00@52.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@155.00 for rods, 5-8@3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron remains very quiet for all grades, and values unsettled, with most holders quite willing to operate whenever a buyer can be found. We quote at 5@6 1/2 c. for sing. cs, doubles, and trebles, and in a retail way about 1/2 c. higher. Galvanized sheet in very good request and steady at 20@25 per cent. off list, with a fair stock on hand. Russia sheet is still quite dull, the arrivals are fair, stock increasing, and the general tendency is in buyers' favor, but as yet importers have refused to name any concession, and values remain as before. We quote nominally at 1 1/2 @1 3/4 c. gold, according to number. Pig lead has been rather dull, and some parcels were sold ex-ship at a slight decline. Goods in store, however, remain comparatively steady, and, as a rule, are not offered with much freedom. We quote at 6 1/2 @6 3/4 c. per lb. Bar lead 10 1/2 c. and sheet and pipe 12c, less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin has been very quiet of late, and entirely devoid of excitement, no outlet for stock presenting itself, except a small jobbing trade. Prices shaded somewhat, and close nominal. We quote in coin at 30c. for English; 29 1/2 @30c. for Straits, and 33 1/2 @34c. for Banca. Tin plates are at a complete standstill, and values uncertain. Zinc plenty and dull at 12 1/2 @12 3/4 c. from store. The latest reported imports are 65 tons iron hoop; 1,876 do pig iron; 79 do sheet iron; 3,225 iron tubes; 17,844 R. R. bars; 12,804 pigs of lead; 24,885 boxes tin, and 201,821 lbs. zinc.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market for the various grades of paints and their bases has ruled extremely dull throughout the week, the only call being for such small lots as the immediate or unexpected necessities of jobbers compel them to purchase, and dealers do not appear to anticipate any immediate improvement in the demand. The few buyers are mostly local, Western and Southern orders seldom coming to hand. Such lots of Paris white as come to hand were immediately consumed on back orders, and there is still a dearth of stock both on the spot and to arrive, causing a stiff tone to values. All other goods, however, are evidently in large enough supply to meet present wants, and though we learn of no serious decline, prices lack uniformity and strength. The stringency in the money market is felt to some extent, and commission dealers and speculators with a growing desire to realize are quietly offering a few concessions, without as yet attracting much attention. The jobbing trade is also quite free, even the large houses which have been selling quite freely, reporting a falling off in orders, but the general range of values holds about as before and our figures are unchanged. Glues, both foreign and domestic, are quiet and nominally unchanged. Linseed oil has been in moderate demand, mainly to supply the immediate wants of local jobbers, with now and then an order from the interior, and with a great many holders of speculative lots anxious to realize, and crushers offering with greater freedom, prices have further declined. As we write, trade is dull, and the market not over firm, though reports of a short supply are industriously circulated in order to strengthen values. We quote crushers' rates at $1@1.02 in casks, and $1.01@1.04 in bbls, with outside lots, however, selling at 96@95c. The only exports are 71 packages paint, valued at $411.

PITCH.—There has been some little inquiry from exporters for small parcels, but nothing of consequence sold on home account, and the market again closes flat and lifeless. On the general range, prices remain just about as previously given, but the outside figures are seldom reached, and may be considered as the extreme. Sellers, as a rule, are strong enough to refrain from pressing the market, but increasing supplies and small outlets cause some uneasiness, and odd parcels could be bought cheap. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.75 @3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12 1/2 @3.25 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 260 bbls. Exports for the week 100 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,275 bbls.; and for the same period last year 1,957.

PLASTER PARIS.—The deliveries of white Nova Scotia lump on contract continue very fair, and occasionally a fresh order comes to hand, mainly from out-of-town buyers, but the general market is without unusual animation, and prices not remarkably strong. City manufacturers as a rule hold a fair stock, and some have accumulated liberally, making it very improbable that we shall see any immediate check to grinding. According to latest sales quotations stand at about $4.38@4.62 1/2 per ton. The low price of white has occasioned an almost total neglect of blue during the greater part of the season, but of late the business has improved somewhat, and we note sales of about 1,300 tons at $3.00@3.40, according to quantity, place of delivery, &c., &c. Calcined is steady and in very good shipping demand, with a fair call, all things considered, in the city trade. We quote city at $2.40@2.50 per bbl, and country $2.25@2.35 do. Receipts for the week of 515 tons lump. Shipments of calcined to Cuba 515 bbls.; and to Peru 5 bbls.

SLATE.—In this market business is reported as almost at a complete standstill, particularly on local account, and to move their stocks freely, dealers would allow very reasonable terms. Such demand as does prevail is mainly in a jobbing way for a few squares as wanted to work up immediately. Advances from the West report indications of a revival of trade, and our dealers are awaiting the result with some anxiety, while a few have gone out to endeavor to secure some fairish contracts advertised for. The receipts here have not been large, but the previous accumulation was liberal and well assorted. At the quarries stock continues to fill up with great freedom, and owners are becoming very anxious to realize, offering to sell in quantities to suit, and to deliver promptly, and on much more reasonable terms than heretofore. Taken altogether, the slate market is not in first rate condition, and but little improvement can be looked for until autumn.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Following our last report, prices further improved somewhat, but not being backed up by any demand, sellers found it necessary to give way again, and the market now stands about as previously quoted, with some little irregularity and a not over firm feeling, as buyers are still operating slowly and cautiously. The receipts are fair, and holders are disposed to look upon this as a favorable indication for full prices; while buyers claim that the stock is already too large for the demand, and a reduction in cost is the only way in which it can be worked off. Exporters are still much restricted in the execution of their orders by the scarcity and high cost of freight room, but the stock wanted by them will not greatly reduce our supplies. We quote at 41 1/2 @42c. for merchantable and shipping order; 42@42 1/2 c. for New York bbls.; 43@45c. for small parcels, with retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,537 bbls. Exports for week 311 bbls.; since January 1st, 8,274 bbls., and for the same period last year 6,501 bbls.

TAR.—About former prices are still given as representing the current values on the various grades, but the market has very little strength, and sales are frequently made at a liberal concession. The demand from all quarters has been unusually light, and in every instance for parcels that were just large enough to meet pressing wants of buyers, and receipts in the meantime increasing, holders feel somewhat discouraged. The home trade are the only buyers, exporters finding no margin at the present cost of freight room. The assortments are good, and almost any grade, from inferior to choice, can be easily procured. Our figures for the present must be looked upon as in a measure nominal. We quote at $2.50 @ $2.62½ per bbl. for North County as it runs; $2.75 @ $3.15 for Wilmington do.; $3.25 @ $3.50 for rope; and occasionally $3.62½ @ $3.75 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 1,957 bbls. Exports for week 5 bbls.; since January 1st, 28,822 bbls., and for the same period last year 7,004 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending June 29, 1869 says:

As is usual about the 4th of July, trade throughout the District has been moderate. The receipts have been light, indicating much lower figures than for the corresponding week last year. The Eastern inquiry is steadier and larger than that from New York or the South, or both combined.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending June 25th were 38,809,000 feet, against 34,398,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 18,899,000 feet, against 17,562,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 294,909,000 feet, against 3,996,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 264,527,000 feet, against 229,054,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 25th, 1869 and 1868:

Buffalo.....	7,620,400 feet.	9,671,600 feet.
Oswego.....	12,667,000 feet.	10,343,000 feet.

A PATENT ARTICLE OF GOOD THICKness and durability, suitable for roofs of wooden and brick buildings—can be applied by an ordinary mechanic.
Can be used without gravel on cow-sheds, or out-houses, which makes it more economical than any other material used. It comes in rolls of good width and length. Sold in quantities to suit purchasers. Buy it in preference to the thin paper felting cemented together.

To House owners and Builders—Buy the Patent Felt for lining the walls of every house you are building. It is a perfect security against dust and dampness, it keeps out the cold of winter and heat of summer, thus preserving an even temperature in your residence. It ought to be put under the slate of every roof to prevent leakage from snow. Cheap and durable. For sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

THE N. Y. DRAUGHTSMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

ON Wednesday evening last, we had the pleasure of attending a highly interesting meeting of the above organization, specially convened at their rooms, No. 38 Broad street, to listen to Mr. John Buckingham's criticisms on "Iron Construction" in New York, and on the city's architecture generally; as also to award the prize of $10, with a magnificently wrought diploma by the Association, for the best and most original design of a "Column Capital;" which was, during the course of the day, decided by Arthur Gilman, Emlen T. Littel, and John D. Hatch, Esqrs., three well-known architects in this city, acting as referees, in favor of Mr. Wm. H. Foggett, a draughtsman in the office of George Hathorne, Esq., of Trinity Buildings, for the excellence of the drawing, and it having also, by Mr. Foggett, been prepared in strict obedience to the conditions laid down for the competitors entering this artistic arena. The conditions were as follows:

1st. Competitors must be members of the Association.

2d. Designs to be shown by full-sized geometrical drawings.

3d. The shaft to be circular and one foot in diameter.

4th. The character and style at the option of the designer.

5th. The design to be so treated as to be appropriate for cutting in freestone.

6th. To be drawn in line and shaded in India ink.

7th. To be submitted before the 1st July, addressed to the President, at the rooms of the Association.

8th. Each design to have a distinctive mark or motto, with sealed envelope attached, inclosing the name and address of the designer.

9th. A prize of $10, together with a diploma, to be awarded to the most original and meritorious design.

10th. All designs will be exhibited in the halls of the rooms after being submitted to the judges.

11th. The prize design will be the property of the Association; all other designs will be returned to the competitors before the 1st August.

12th. The judges to consist of three architects of recognized ability who are willing to act in that capacity, to be chosen by the members of the Association.

The referees' report, read at the meeting, was thus:

"That they have unanimously agreed to award the first place, in point of excellence, under the conditions of the competition, to the design marked 'ALPHA.' The design marked 'OFF-HAND' was considered to exhibit much originality; but as it violated the written conditions in two respects—viz., in being drawn for a column of nine inches only, and also in being in perspective—it was decided to be ineligible. The design marked 'A SKETCH FROM NATURE,' also received highly favorable consideration.

(Signed)

"E. T. LITTEL.

"ARTHUR GILMAN.

"JOHN DAVIS HATCH."

The prize and diploma will be presented at the next meeting; the latter will be on a magnificent parchment, elaborately adorned and artistically prepared at the expense of the Association.

All the drawings were sent in under a nom de plume, also the envelopes containing the draughtsmen's names were sealed, so that neither the referees nor any other person could discover the winner until these were opened and announced at the meeting; hence the greatest curiosity was excited among the members present, and the competitors particularly. The unsuccessful candidates were Messrs. Arthur Lett, George Welsh, Max Schroff, Samuel Lane, F. W. Klempt, and T. P. Chandler, Jr. The designs were seven in number, and were adjusted to the walls of the room; and in our opinion they were all elegantly and tastefully executed, some of them being really handsome and highly meritorious in their finish—a credit to these young men. The styles were Gothic, Doric and Corinthian combined, Early English, Classic, and Moorish.

Mr. Jones gracefully moved, seconded by Mr. Schroff, "that the thanks of this Association be, by official letter, tendered to the architects who kindly acted as referees in the competition, and whose decision has given universal satisfaction:" unanimously carried. The officers of the Association are: R. M. Charlton, President; A. E. Sargent, Vice-President; Max Schroff, Treasurer; Isaac Reid, Secretary; George Wheeler, Assistant Secretary; Samuel Godsmark, Editor of the Association.

The greatest cordiality prevailed during the meeting, and friendly courtesies were extended among the members one to the other; there were no bitter or envious exhibitions of feeling, nor any discordant sound to render matters uncomfortable to the successful competitor; while he acted his part well in behaving unostentatiously and with gentlemanly deportment. The meeting separated at 10½ o'clock, all the members retiring gratified. A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to the Press of New York, for courtesies invariably extended to the Association; on which resolution the President made some very gratifying remarks on the entire Press of the city, which were supported by the acquiescence of all present. We recur now to Mr. John Buckingham's address on "Iron Construction," of which, however, we can only give a very synoptical account, our space being already crowded. The constructive portion of a building was more the engineer's business than the architect's, though the architect is connected with some. In 1848 the first iron store in this city was erected, and to the present time, after such a lapse of years, no improvement had been attained commensurate with our progress in the other arts and sciences. The speaker made some very sarcastic remarks on the building on Broadway occupied by Grover and Baker, that it was "just a big iron window stuck in front, without a particle of design about it." He also remarked on the absurd style of A. T. Stewart's building on Broadway, 9th and 10th streets and 4th avenue—that "it was a signal failure, and a miserable daub of white paint;" which went to illustrate some other remarks of his, that "we were ashamed of our building materials, while we had cause, on the contrary, to be proud of them all." He disapproved of the gingerbread work on some of our buildings, and deplored the monstrous idea of painting and ornamenting everything, which would appear to better advantage in their original state. The man who builds a store makes more money on it than on any other piece of architecture. These stores were all iron shells, iron bolted, iron, in fact, all through, but at the same time not substantial or solid; iron was the rage, but was injudiciously used on many of our prominent public structures. On another occasion, we shall be pleased to lay before our readers a fuller statement on "Iron Construction" than at present our space will allow. Mr. Buckingham received a vote of thanks for his address. Mr. James H. Gyles, architect, of No. 160 Fulton street, was announced to lecture before the Association, when other architects would be invited to follow, for the improvement and edification of those who may desire to attend these lectures, to which the public at large would be admitted.

SAVE OUR FORESTS.

Is it not time that the National Government interfered to preserve some of our forests? One of the most lamentable facts in connection with the future of the country is the rapid cutting down and demolition of all the woodland east of the Mississippi. Even the apparently inexhaustible supply of the Northern belt of country extending from Maine to Minnesota, is beginning to show signs of giving out. Unless we annex Canada, the next generation of this country will suffer extremely from a want of a scarcity of lumber. The discovery of anthracite coal seems almost providential, for in addition to the ordinary waste of wood for building and mechanical purposes, by this time we should have had an absolute famine had wood been needed for cooking and warming purposes besides. In the far West they have begun to plant trees in that now treeless country, all of which will be of great benefit to the millions who are yet to occupy the Western prairies. But the growth of wood in the West hears no sort of comparison to the destruction south, east, and north. This is really a matter to which the attention of the scientific societies should be directed, so that State and National action might be obtained to preserve such woods as we now have, and to add to their number by judicious planting. It is, moreover, desirable that a topographical survey of the country should be made, with a view to setting apart certain places in the country as woodland. One of the bad effects of the cutting down of our forest trees has been witnessed in the annual freshets which create such havoc. Of the Connecticut, Hudson, Delaware, Susquehanna, Potomac, and other Eastern rivers, the forests used to retain the moisture when the snow melted, and so prevented any sudden accession to the waters of these streams. Freshets were in fact unknown before the cutting down of the forests; now they are an annual occurrence, and of increasing destructiveness. Then let the subject be agitated of setting apart large tracts of country for the purpose of growing wood. Indeed, many of the worn-out farms in our Northern States could not be utilized for a more lucrative crop. In the immediate vicinity, for instance, of Saratoga are old worn-out farms which are useless now for the purpose of raising crops, but which, if planted, in fifteen years would raise a most abundant crop of chestnut and larch trees. However, this evil will in time correct itself, as wood is already becoming so scarce as to make it profitable to devote large quantities of land to the special purpose of raising it.

THE newspapers all over the country are discussing the Chinese problem. It seems to be inevitable that we shall have a large Chinese emigration. It is quite idle to say anything about the undesirability of this population, for come they will. Labor is very cheap in China, and is very dear in America; this the Chinese have found out, and they are preparing to emigrate in myriads. A great many foolish laws will be passed to discourage them, but a fleet stationed before every port in the Pacific would not avail to keep them out or prevent them from effecting a landing. Now what is to be done? It is universally admitted that the Chinese constitute a most undesirable addition to a population. True, they are patient, hard-working, ingenious, and supply all we need of cheap labor; but then they are heathens, of an inferior race, practice vices which are nameless, and almost unknown even in the lowest strata of our population, and it seems in every sense a real misfortune that they should form a part of the great nation we have founded here. There is one solution of the difficulty which has not yet been thought of, and which we very much fear will scarcely commend itself to the mass of our population when proposed; and that is, the propriety of interdicting the propagation of the Chinese upon our own soil; in other words, allowing only Chinese men to come here, and prohibiting them from intermingling with the population; or if Chinese women must come, to compel both sexes to observe those practices which are the custom in the Oneida community. Those who are curious and desire a knowledge of what those practices are, would do well to address J. H. Noyes, Oneida, New York.

It is to the discredit of the people of Western Jersey that they have not taken efficient means to redeem what are known as the Newark Flats. This vast marsh ought to be extremely valuable land for building and garden purposes, where it now breeds nothing but mosquitoes and fevers, and is utterly useless for any manufacturing, farming, or building uses. Some time since Mr. S. N. Pike organized a company to redeem a large portion of this swamp, and dykes were built for miles along the Passaic and Hackensack rivers. For some reason or other the attempt has not succeeded, due, doubtless, to the want of proper engineering skill. A wise thing to do would be to organize a company for the purpose of bringing over several thousand Hollanders, who are well acquainted with dyking, and who could eventually be useful in founding gardens on the ground thus redeemed. The accessibility of this property to New York ought to make it of immense value and importance to those who would do much to rid all Western Jersey of the plague of that beautiful region, the mosquito.

VALUATION OF CITY PROPERTY.

THE following is the relative value of the real and personal estate in the city and county of New York as assessed for 1868 and 1869:

	Assessment for 1868.	Assessment for 1869.
Real Estate	$623,236,555	$684,140,768
Increase in one year		$62,843,813.

Of this amount of increase nearly $43,000,000 is in five wards of the city, to wit: the Twelfth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second, and upwards of twenty-five millions is in the Twelfth and Twenty-second wards alone. The largest increase of any one ward is that of the Twelfth, the valuation of which has been raised $14,505,860.

The following is the assessment of taxable personal property in this city and county for the present year:

Residents	$175,990,396
Non-residents	29,422,299
Shareholders of banks	74,547,134
Total	$279,959,829

In 1868 the valuation of personal estate was:
Residents	$177,360,146
Non-residents	31,841,607
Shareholders of banks	75,998,019

Total $285,199,772

This shows a decrease in the value of personal estate of $5,239,943.

The total valuation of real and personal estate for 1868 was $908,436,327. The total valuation for this year is $964,100,597.

The total increase is, therefore, $55,664,270.

So soon as the rolls have been examined and confirmed by the Board of Supervisors, the rate of taxation for the present year will be determined.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

MR. JAMES MCGREGOR, Superintendent of Buildings, reports as to new buildings from January 1 to July 1, 1869, as follows:

Plans and specifications for new buildings submitted, examined, and passed upon, from January 1 to July 1 were 727. Of these 531 were approved, being in conformity with the law; 121 were not fully in accordance with requirements, but, being subsequently corrected, were approved; 75 indefinitely drawn, or containing provisions in violation of the law, were rejected. The number of buildings proposed to be erected is 1,289, and are classified as follows:

First-class dwellings	452
Second-class dwellings	250
Third-class dwellings	283
First-class stores	68
Second-class stores	14
Third-class stores	23
Factories	90
Schools	5
Stables	72
Churches	13
Public buildings	19

Total 1,289

SAGINAW LUMBER FIELDS.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Chicago Tribune, writing from Saginaw, gives the following account of the state of affairs in that region:

"The river from East Saginaw to Bangor, a distance of about fifteen miles, is thickly studded with lumber mills, some of which have docking facilities for 5,000,000 to 8,000,000. When there are full stocks on hand, there is lumber enough to build up towns and cities requisite to constitute a respectable State, and fence them all in. There is, of course, an immense amount of capital invested, and the condition and prospects of the trade are at all times a matter of great concern. The early part of the past winter was unfavorable for logging, and, as is commonly the case under such circumstances, unusual exertions were put forth to secure logs, the result of which was rather a larger stock than usual, owing to the protracted sleighing throughout the latter part of the season, but the increase is not great enough to affect the market. The stock of choice lumber is proportionately small, and the prices for that quality will be much more likely to advance than to recede. The amounts of logs got out on the Tittabawassee, according to the estimate of the Boom Company—always accepted as good authority—is 250,000,000 feet, which is pretty well secured, not over 10,000,000 feet being behind or "hung up." The amount last year was 228,871,300. The amount on Cass river is known to be 68,000,000 feet, against 88,740,000 last year. The stock this season is all secured, and will be down in about three weeks. Bad river has about 20,000,000, against 15,700,000 last year. Rifle river, on "the Bay," has got 150,000,000, of which 25,000,000 are being hung up beyond all hopes of securing this season. The amount last year was 48,000,000. The River Au Gres has 45,000,000 cut, of which 20,000,000 are hung up. The amount last year was 18,800,000. The logs from Rifle and Au Gres rivers include all from the bay that are towed to the

the stump
With regard to Mr. Yaryan, who procured it, may or may not be a despotic control of Yaryan's brief and despotic manner of dis-revenue officers, but his high toned manner of dismissing the matter with a wave of the hand will not end it.

There is now in Washington a person (then a revenue agent) who was present at the Burnet House, Cincinnati, when Hoge, Brasher and Yaryan made their plans to go to St. Louis on the memorable trip of 1872, when, it is alleged, the blackmailing took place. The three were intimate and inseparable. Two of them are fugitives from justice, charged with corrupt activities that period of intimacy, and signed his name to

mills above for manufacturing. Towing up the bay is sometimes a risky business. Last week three rafts were lost, a moiety of which will be saved.

There has been considerable hanging back this season among buyers, but they are beginning to flock in, and the light stocks throughout the Eastern States insures a fair trade. Until within a few years the valley depended largely upon the Chicago market to absorb its surplus. Dealers, owing to the large proportion of "weak" holders, were then perfectly at the mercy of Chicago buyers, and no money was made. At present the Chicago market probably does not take fifty million feet of the Saginaw lumber in a year, the great bulk going to the Eastern States, Ohio, &c. Furthermore, it is now in strong hands, who are able to hold in case of emergency. The firmness and unanimity of sentiment this season, among the entire lumber interest, has been the theme of frequent comment, and, we may say, admiration.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The market for common hard brick has been rather less active than last week, though the demand may still be called very fair, and with some reduction in the supplies, no accumulation of stock likely to cause any inconvenience has taken place. Prices have softened somewhat, though no actual decline can be quoted, and there are still sales enough making of the best grades at $10.00 per M to warrant the retention of that figure as the extreme value. It must be remembered, however, that only the very finest grades of Haverstraw, made brick reach so high a rate, and that the bulk are placed at prices varying from $8.50 up to $9.50 per M. and some of the poorer cargoes of "up river" stock cannot be realized upon except at a much lower figure, even then showing a great amount of irregularity, owing to the continued strong competition of the New Jersey manufacturers. By considerable good management receivers have managed to keep pretty well sold up, and still report a fair call, but do not appear altogether satisfied with the position at the moment, awaiting a little anxiously the result of the next two or three weeks' business, which it is thought will be likely to effect some decided changes in the market. Should the present inquiry continue, a higher range of values is predicted, as it is generally understood that the receipts are to be reduced. This falling off in the supplies will not be the result of any trouble in the process of manufacture, but simply the carrying out of a set plan by producers, who have for some time expressed a determination to withhold stock until they can force prices up. On the other hand, however, it is claimed that there are too many new yards working, which must realize almost as fast as stock is turned out, for the above arrangement to become general or more than temporarily successful; and also that as soon as prices are advanced to any extent, the local consumption will fall off, the Eastern demand be withdrawn, and we shall immediately find stock commencing to pile up, not only from the North river and Jersey, but from Long Island, the latter point having sent into this market scarcely any goods at all as yet this season. Pale brick have been in rather better demand, almost entirely on city account, and the stock has become somewhat reduced. Prices are more uniform, and close quite stiff at $5.00 to $5.50 per M. Croton fronts come forward slowly as the demand does not materially increase, and is almost entirely for very small lots. Prices without change, and we still quote at $1.60 to $1.75 per M, according to shade. Philadelphia fronts at the kilns are worth $3.50 to $3.85 per M, but here are selling out from yard at $4.50 to $4.85 per M, according to quality. Foreign tiles are in fair demand and steady. We quote English at 35c. per square foot for flooring; and 45c. do. for malt house.

CEMENT.—During the past week there has been some falling off in the sales of Rosendale, and the market has shown a rather slow tone, though most of the companies are still in receipt of orders, and appear fully satisfied with the position. In fact, as compared with other building materials, cement is doing remarkably well, and manufacturers have every reason to congratulate themselves upon the successful disposition of their production thus far. The season opened with the price fixed at 25c. per bbl. above last year, and as building operations were stagnant, and bricks, lathe, lime, lumber, &c., were all tending downward it was thought a reduction would be necessary a soon as the usual early spring rush for supplies was over. Contrary to expectations, however, there has been found a free outlet for goods as rapidly as produced, and a great many of the leading mills have been unable to keep up to their orders, prices of course under the circumstances ruling firm throughout. The principal causes of the activity are to be found in the liberal orders from California and the Eastern States, the greatly increased calls from drain and sewer pipe manufacturers, and the more substantial quality of buildings in course of erection, upon which cement has largely superseded lime. The present lull in trade is mainly on city account, though current shipments are a trifle below the average. We quote at $1.90 delivered at Rondout; and $2.00 delivered here. Foreign grades are also a little dull, but the stock is not large, and our late quotations are sustained. Shipments of 200 bbls. to British North American colonies; and 1,750 to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The volume of business does not increase, and for all grades we find a slow dragging market, with sellers rather more anxious to operate than buyers, and occasionally some little pressure to realize, owing to the stringency in the money market, though the reduction in prices is too small as yet to warrant an alteration in quotations. The distributors' demand is too small to induce jobbers to purchase any more goods than the necessities of the hour require, while exporters still find the foreign advances discouraging for free shipments, and lots going abroad seldom have more margin than will pay expenses of cost, freights, and light commissions. There have lately been more liberal arrivals of rosewood, and fair amounts of other styles coming forward, and the stock and assortment is now equal to if not in excess of the outlets. Cedar, as usual, may be considered as an exception to the general rule, but even this style of wood partakes of the dullness to some extent, and an occasional small parcel received from Cuba, or other points, has of late been known to lay a comparatively long time before a customer could be found willing to pay the extreme figures asked, particularly if wanted for cigar box use, as the domestic woods are gradually working into favor. At the retail yards there has been scarcely any goods sold during the present week. Exports of 39 logs satinwood, valued at $944, to Liverpool. Receipts as follows: From Bohia, 524 logs rosewood; from Curacao, 25 tons lignumvite, from Ponce, P. R., 135 pes. do.; from Cat Island, 3 pieces mahogany, and from St. Domingo, 44 pieces do.

GLASS.—The inclination to dullness noted in our last report has considerably increased during the week under review, and we now find a very quiet market for all styles of foreign window glass. Nearly all the large dealers complain of the unusual absence of Western orders, and report the bulk of their trade to be in small lots as wanted by jobbers within a radius of a few hundred miles of this city. The already liberal supply is almost daily receiving additions, and though there is now and then a disposition shown to hold out the idea of a scarcity of certain grades, the assortment is undoubtedly ample for all calls that are likely to arise for the present. Prices are quoted steady, and as far as general trade goes, may be so considered, but well-known customers, and any cash buyers have of late been able to operate on pretty easy terms, with the tendency still in their favor, as the scarcity of money is beginning to be felt. We quote a little nominally at 35 @45 per cent. off list for English, and 40 @55 per cent. off for French. American stock is also rather dull, with the production slightly exceeding the demand at present and stock accumulating. We quote at about 50 @55 per cent. off list. The latest reported imports are 8,977 packages glass, value $19,223; and 76 glass plate, value $10,566.

HAIR.—Business is still very moderate in this market, city jobbers holding enough stock to meet all calls from consumers, and coastwise shipments being apparently entirely suspended for the present. A few orders are received from the near-by small towns on the various railroads leading from this city, but not large enough in the aggregate to make any perceptible impression upon the accumulated stock, if indeed they equal the additions. Prices remain about as before, but are partially nominal. We quote at 25 @30c. for cattle, 35 @40c. for goat. It does not pay to prepare mixed hair, and there is none offering.

LATH.—The reports of small amounts of stock en route for this port, current at the writing of our last report were not well founded, the market having been abundantly supplied throughout the week now under review and buyers enabled to secure all they required without difficulty. The natural result has been to still further reduce the cost and cause receivers to offer their cargoes pretty freely, it being very evident that the position of market at present would not warrant the filling out or holding of parcels for any length of time. A few very choice lots were sold early at $2.60, but the great bulk of the transactions were at $2.50 per M, and at the close this is about the market rate with a not over-strong tone. Dealers in most cases have not shown any great anxiety to operate, but thinking that a much greater reduction in values would probably have the effect to shut off receipts, they deemed it advisable to lay in a fair amount of stock making a demand active enough to consume about all the cargoes at hand. Manufacturers have been making a strong effort all the season to keep values up to the average of last year or about $3.00 per M, but thus far without success, and unless the consumption very materially improves they will probably be obliged to content themselves with smaller profits than last year. In fact $2.50 @ $2.75 appear to be about the figures upon which buyers have fixed as a fair range, and that the outside rate at least pays the producer a good profit is evinced by the immediate increase of supplies forwarded when the market approaches that point. As to the amount now on the way we can gain no reliable information, but it is probable that few fresh cargoes will be loaded for this point until our market shows signs of recovery. A few lots have been sent to neighboring cities, even as far as Philadelphia, but the trade has been mostly with city jobbers. Sales of 2,100, 000 @ $2.50 per M for spruce, and $2.00 @ $2.25 for hemlock.

LIME.—Buyers can still be found for pretty much all the Rockland lime very soon after arrival, and the general market may be called fairly active and steady, former rates ruling current as we write. The outlet, however, is neither liberal nor likely to materially increase for the present, and we do not learn that receivers contemplate making any further advance in the cost for some little time to come. Common is inquired after to some extent for consumption, but lump or finishing lime is selling with the greatest freedom and is relatively firmer than the lower grade. The cargo sales are almost entirely to city and near-by out of town jobbers, who in turn report a distributive demand of fair magnitude, but much below the average even at this usually dull season. We quote common at $1.25 per bbl; and lump at $1.75 do. The prospect for supplies is somewhat doubtful, though there is some indication that they may increase, as coal is commencing to move eastward and if vessels can secure paying return cargoes they may be forwarded more freely with lime even if the freight only covers expenses to this point. The northern lines from well known companies meet with a fair demand from regular sources, but in a general way are selling very slowly, and notwithstanding the reduced production come forward rather faster than wanted. For the best grades about the prices given above may be called the nominal rates but they are not in all cases adhered to, particularly when an opportunity for making a good sale presents itself. Many lots of inferior make are to be found, and sell at prices ranging from $1.25 down to 75c per bbl. There have been sixteen cargoes reported from the eastern coast during the week.

LUMBER.—Retail dealers have had a very light trade in all styles of lumber during the week ending with this report, and we find few new features of any general interest to advise. The receipts have been very fair, but not heavy as with the current outlet for goods; there is no necessity for free purchases, and we find that a great many of the parcels coming in are merely such as are always secured during the winter. The late arrival of logs at the mills, and the consequent delay in the production, also has some effect, as dealers look for more liberal offerings and, in all probability, easier terms, before it shall become necessary to stock up for the coming fall and winter trade. Notwithstanding the comparatively small accumulation of supplies, however, both here and at Albany, nearly all reports agree that the assortment is good, and calls for any of the ordinary styles can be met, to a fair extent, without inconvenience. Prices, as a rule, may be called steady, and extremes are, in most cases, obtained on the small lots now moving, but, as usual on a dull market, old and first-class customers can generally obtain some modifications when they desire to operate. Immediate wants still appears to be the guide for all buyers, except occasionally where a little stock is being laid in for manufacturing purposes. The first six months of the present year have not been remarkably profitable, or quite as satisfactory to the majority of our dealers as they had calculated upon, but we are not aware that any serious losses have occurred, if any at all, and in some few cases where very choice qualities were controlled, the result proves almost equal to last season. The Albany market, according to our latest private advices, remains sparsely supplied, but there is a little of all kinds of lumber offering, and the few buyers in attendance manage to secure about all they require, at former figures. For the South, New Jersey, the river towns, and this market, nothing important was called for, but the Eastern demand continues to take off enough stock to prevent complete stagnation.

In our wholesale market there continues a fair degree of activity on certain desirable grades, and the stronger tone noticeable last week is well sustained, though we do not find that higher rates have in any case been obtained, and buyers, while operating quickly when goods to suit them are offered, still refuse to go beyond current wants. The call for city consumption as usual requires the largest amounts, though notwithstanding the many adverse influences operating against them, exporters still can now and then manage to purchase to advantage. Eastern spruce has been in very fair supply, but not in excess of the wants of trade, and all cargoes have been sold, before arrival, at full former prices, the strong, healthy tone noticeable last week still showing itself very plainly up to the close of this report. Dealers, as a rule, are not free buyers, but having operated from hand to mouth ever since navigation opened, in constant expectation of lower rates, frequently find themselves without stock to meet maturing contracts, and have to secure the first desirable specification offering, even though the cost leaves them a very small margin for profit. We quote at $19 @ $21.50 per M for inferior to good, and $22.00 @ $22.50 for extra and choice lengths. It is thought in many quarters that current figures will soon draw out larger and better assorted supplies; but on the other hand it is claimed that for the present this will be impossible, as manufacturers cannot greatly increase the shipments in this direction, let the market remain as strong as it will. Early in the spring, when everything looked very depressed and nothing appeared to prevent a heavy decline in our market, offers from points along the coast, previously rejected as too low, were suddenly accepted, and in meeting these contracts, most of the mills are now busily engaged, some working on rather short supplies, owing to the fact that a great many choice logs were hung up for want of sufficient water. High prices, however, in most cases develop supplies at unexpected points, and we do not anticipate any great scarcity. White pine continues moderately active, both on domestic and shipping account, and with a very fair assortment buyers make selections with comparative ease. The scarcity and firmness at the points of production, however, engender a feeling of confidence on the part of holders, and nothing worth handling can be bought at any reduction from previous figures. One or two pretty liberal purchases have recently been made for manufacturing purposes. We quote at $20 @ $25 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $26 @ $30 for good to choice do. Piling has been plenty and rather in excess of the demand, making it necessary to float out some stock, and causing a dull market with some weakness in values. We quote at 6 1/2 @ 7 1/2 c. for inferior to good; 7 1/2 @ 8 c. for prime, and it must be something extra long and heavy to exceed 8 1/2 c. per foot. A few pickets have come in with lumber cargoes, and sold low; but the price was not made public. Yellow pine has sold to a moderate extent to arrive, but the market, as a rule, is dull. Prices remain as before, and if anything are stiffer, in view of prospective light receipts, as at this season it is difficult to engage crews to run their vessels to the Southern ports, owing to the probable prevalence of fevers, &c. We quote at $30. @ $34 for timber and flooring boards, and $35 for choice boards. The Southern markets are said to be a little unsettled, with the tendency rather in buyers' favor. Black walnut logs remain nominal. Eastern shingles have been offered at $4.00, without buyers. Southern shingles are dull and without fixed value. Since our last, about 2,000,000 feet Eastern spruce have been reported, at $18.50 @ $22.00 per M; 150,000 feet white pine boards, at $27 do.; 85,000 feet yellow pine, at $31.50 do.; 975 pes. piling, at 6 1/2 @ 8c. per foot, and 100,000 cypress shingles, at $15 @ 16.50 per M. As we go to press, we learn of some anxiety to force sales, from the recent very liberal arrivals of Eastern spruce, and a rather heavy feeling.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:

We also notice shipments of 17 sticks yellow pine to British North American Colonies; 88 bundles shingles, and 200 bundles pickets to New Granada; 10,800 staves to Hamburg; 2400 do. to Liverpool; 12,000 do. to London; 3600 do. to Glasgow; 3600 do. to Penarth Roads; 15,600 do. to Gibraltar; 18,200 do. to Havre; 7,200 do. to French West Indies; 182,160 do. to Cadiz; 20,214 do., 361 pieces plank, and 181 pieces scantling to San Francisco. The receipts reported are as follows: from Brunswick, Ga., 160,000 feet lumber; from St. George's, N. B., 701 spruce poles, and 809,000 lath; from St. John, N. B., 325 spruce poles, 126,674 feet deals, and 82,000 lath; from Musquash, N. B., 790 pieces piling; from Beaver Harbor, 575 spruce poles; from Two Rivers, N. S., 470 spiles; from Windsor, N. S., 1925 pieces piling, 758,900 laths; and from Shulee, N. S., 725 pieces piling. From the Maine coast there has been reported two cargoes of lath and fifty-one cargoes of lumber, but a great many of the latter go direct to Newark and other New Jersey towns. We have advices of exports from Baltimore as follows: To Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, 206,000 feet lumber; to Curacao, 70,000 feet lumber and 24,000 shingles; to Porto Rico, 40,000 feet lumber; to Matanzas, 131,000 feet lumber; to Havre, 6817 staves; to Rotterdam, 16,000 do.; and to Demerara, 12,000 do.

Western advices are still decidedly adverse to the selling interest, and dealers generally are reported as feeling rather "blue." The closing week of June at Chicago was reviewed by the Times as follows:—

The past week was by no means a fruitful one for sellers in this branch of business. The scarcity of money, together with liberal receipts, had a depressing influence upon the market, and notwithstanding sellers struggled hard to sustain prices, their efforts proved a failure, and a reduction of 50c. per 1,000 was suffered on good to choice cargoes, and $1 on common to coarse cut. In a few instances the latter description was sold as low as $9 @ $9.50, being the lowest rates paid for such quality for some years back. The bulk of the sales, however, were made at $14 @ $15.50 for good qualities of boards and strips; $12 @ $13.50 for medium grades; $9.50 @ $11.50 for inferior and common course cut. In a few instances, during the early part of the week, $16 was realized for cargoes from Muskegon, cut by mills enjoying a good reputation. The general tone of the market yesterday was decidedly against sellers, and quite a number of cargoes were unsold at the close.

Shingles.—This department of the market was also dull, at a depreciation in value at 25c. per 1,000. The receipts were in excess of the demand, and sellers toward the close of the week found it difficult to realize $3 @ $3.25 for "A" sawed alloat, the same quality being a little less than nominal at $3.50 on truck. No. 1 sawed sold to a limited extent alloat, at $1.50 @ $2.00.

We have several days later reports, but they do not differ materially from the above. Messrs. Woolser & Garlicks dealer of the 1st instant, has reached us, and we extract the following:—

During the month of June the receipts of lumber at this port have been very large; the aggregate amounting to about one hundred and fifty-five million feet, which exceeds any previous month, except the month of August, 1865, when the receipts were over one hundred and sixty millions. However, the total receipts fall as yet short of those reported up to the same time last year, being 322, 735,467 feet, compared to 355,773,822 feet in 1868. The shipments are far ahead of last year, amounting to two hundred and seventy-four millions, whereas they were only about two hundred and thirty-three millions the previous season.

Shingles have also arrived in large quantities, the receipts for the past month amounting to 96,639,000, and for the year thus far to 320,529,000, which is an excess of over eighty-five and a half millions compared with last year, however the shipments aggregate 257,664,750, which is almost fifty millions more than last year.

With such data as the above, it is no wonder that the market is heavy and depressed, which is undeniably the case; but the cause for this depression is not solely in the quantity of arrivals, but originates to a large extent, in the inclemency of the weather, which, during the latter part of the month, reached the very climax of meanness; but very few days have passed when it did not rain heavily and to such an extent that most railroads have been unable to run trains on time, and at many places the water has raised from six inches to two or three feet over the fields. It is self-evident that such a state of affairs produces complete stagnation, and causes all trade to be suspended. One other cause for the depression in prices is to be found in the fact that more cargoes are being forced on the market this year than formerly. A large quantity of lumber is being sold by the cargo aloft, which last year was placed by the manufacturer on yards; this has a tendency to glut the market and prove a serious detriment to the general trade. In spite of all this our figures show that the demand for lumber is really good, and would be better, at more remunerative prices, if it were not for the above-mentioned circumstances; how long these will continue is hard to predict; as yet the clouds seem to be full to completion, and threaten us with renewed deluges, and in that case the worst has not yet been reached; the crops must inevitably rot and the whole North-west be prostrate. Should, on the contrary, the incessant rains give place to warm and dry weather, much may yet be remedied and saved, but even at the best some considerable time must elapse before any extended trade in the country can be transacted, as the farmer is far behind with his most pressing labors. In our report a year ago we had to chronicle the suspension of all canal boat traffic on the river on account of the low stage of water, whereas at the present writing all the river bottoms are overflooded.

As regards shingles, much the same be said as about lumber, only that the supply is so much in excess of last year; but the shipments show that they are wanted. They cannot be used up whilst it rains incessantly, and consequently they have been forced down to a price involving a heavy loss on the producer.

Taking a general view of the trade, we are compelled to admit that for many years we have not seen it in so precarious a condition, and when so much depended upon events to occur during the next thirty days; it will either recuperate materially by the assurance of good crops and passable roads, or it will grow worse and prove ruinous to the producer, who is compelled to seek a market on arrival here.

The three enacted daily on Lumber Exchange, called "reporting sales," might as well be dispensed with, as it does not give the slightest idea of the reality; not one cargo in twenty is reported at all, and generally those only that bring a fair price on account of their good quality. But very few cargoes first-class good lumber have arrived, and the demand for these is brisk and at prices considerably in advance of our outside quotations, but they are exceptions.

Messrs. W. & G. also furnish the annexed figures, which explain themselves:

The following are the shipments from Bay City for the month of June, and also for the corresponding month last year, showing a pretty large increase:

	1869.	1868.
Lumber.....	34,915,084	24,359,621
Lath.....	5,199,500	1,802,850
Shingles.....	2,699,000	851,000

Salt.....	47,309	34,320
Timber.....	84,383	44,000
Hoops.....		45,500

The greater part of the lumber has been shipped on barges, comparatively few sail vessels having loaded with it during the month, probably on account of the low freights offered early in the season. The mill docks are pretty well filled with lumber just now, so much so, in fact, that in one or two instances the mills have shut down for a few days for lack of dock room.

We learn of no important features from the Eastward.

The following were the surveys at Boston for the week ending July 2, 1869:

A recent Savannah report says:

TIMBER AND LUMBER.—A few rafts have arrived by rail, river and canal, principally of mill quality, and small. These have met with ready sale within range of our quotations. Both shipping and mill timber wanted, especially the latter—none on the market.

From another source we learn that all the country mills are at work on orders, but with one exception those in the city had shut down. In coastwise freights there was not much doing, the few vessels arriving being in most cases already engaged.

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $11, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $9@ $9.50. Timber to Philadelphia $10, lumber $8. Lumber to Baltimore $7. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@ $11. Lumber and timber offering from Darien at $1@ $2 advance on above rates.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@ $12.00 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@ $15 for small shipping do., and $14@ $20 for large do. Lumber $20@ $23 for ordinary sizes; $25@ $30 for difficult sizes, and 24@ $26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@ $5 per M.

Charleston prices are as follows: Steam sawed $5.00@ $30.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00@ $25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@ $38.00; mill timber, $6.00@ $8.00; and shipping, $11.00@ $12.00.

Wilmington quotations are as follows:

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.
Flooring, 1x4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.
" dressed, 25 to 27 " "
Ceiling, 3/4, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.
Planks, 1x10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.
" 1x2 " 15 to 17 " "
Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 80 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.
80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—Copper sheathing is still quoted at former figures, and most manufacturers, not finding it necessary to realize, appear quite steady. Owing to the recent reduction in the cost of ingot, however, there is an evident undertone of weakness, and it would be simply impossible to sell with any freedom unless a concession was granted.

The demand at the moment is very light, even the ordinary jobbing trade having subsided, and the market closes dull. We quote nominally at 32c@35c. for new, and 22c@23c. for old, according to quantity. Yellow metal dull and rather heavy at 27c@29c. in wholesale and retail parcels. Ingot copper has not been very active, but the disposition to steadiness noted as prevailing at the date of our last still continues, and no alteration in figures is necessary. Such sales as are made appear to be for the wants of the regular dealers, though a slight speculative feeling is said to exist. We quote at 22c@22 1/2 c. per pound. Scotch pig iron is less active than at the date of our last report, dealers having secured enough stock to meet all present wants, and withdrawn, and no other outlet presenting itself. Importers, however, do not appear to have lost any confidence, and with continued small offerings the market remains firm. The arrivals have been more moderate. We quote at $39@ $44 per ton. American pig iron is still in moderate request from the trade, and as the supplies do not come forward with much freedom sellers are quite steady; in fact, on prime grades are asking a slight improvement for small parcels. We quote at $41.50@ $42.50 per ton for No. 1; $38@ $39 do. for No. 2; and $36@ $37 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is not only dull but almost completely prostrate, and the market very unsettled. Most dealers continue to give former figures as the market rates, but very few are realizing them, and in order to effect sales the concessions are frequently quite liberal, particularly if a cash customer appears.

Our figures must be considered as nominal. We quote at $55.00@ $57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00@ $92.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@ $122.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@ $150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@ $155.00 for rods, 5-8@ 3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron has met with some little jobbing demand, but the general wholesale market is dull. Prices steady for best brands. We quote at 5c@ 7c. for singles, doubles and trebles, and in a retail way about 1/2 c. higher. Galvanized sheet fairly active and steady at 20@ 25 per cent. off list. Russia sheet iron, considering the supply and demand, keeps up very well, and we again repeat quotations. The outlet for stock, however, is very small, and importers refrain from forcing the market. We quote at about 11 1/2 c@ 13 1/2 c. gold, according to number. Pig lead finds few buyers, but with a supply on hand reaching only about 1,600 tons, and rather light amounts on the way, holders continue firm, and all sales are making at full former figures. We quote at 6 1/2 c@ 6 3/4 c. Bar lead 10 1/2 c.; and sheet and pipe 12c, less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin remains in much the same position as last week, the demand very moderate and directed mainly towards small outside lots offered cheap, while the large holders ask full figures, are not offering stocks. We quote in coin at 30c. for English; 29 1/2 c@ 30c. for Straits; and 33 1/2 c@ 34c. for Banca. Tin plates are dull and unsettled, and prices a trifle more in buyers' favor. Zinc is a little more active in lots from store, and steady at 12 1/2 c@ 12 3/4 c. per pound.

The latest reported imports are 41 tons iron hoop; 1030 tons pig iron; 24,063 L. R. bars; 62 tons sheet iron; 1,422 iron tubes; 9,762 lbs. of lead; 19,925 boxes tin; 3,153 slabs do., and 257,776 lbs. do.; and 55,404 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—Cut nails have by their cheapness attracted more attention, and at times the market has shown considerable animation as compared with the previous two or three weeks, causing a stiffer and more uniform tone to values. The volume of trade, however, has not been unusually large, and agents and manufacturers would gladly and could easily fill much more liberal orders. The call has been pretty general, including shippers, country buyers, and the local trade improving the opportunity to stock up somewhat. Clinch have also done a little better on sales, but are no higher. We quote cut at 4 1/2 c@ 4 3/4 c. in large parcels; 4 3/4 c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch at about 6 1/2 c@ 6 3/4 c., with choice at 6 3/4 c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5 1/2 c@ 5 3/4 c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/4 c@ 5 1/2 c. for 5d., and 5 1/4 c@ 6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 38c@ 41c. for copper. The exports are 234 packages, valued at $1,449 against 235 packages, valued at $1,260, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 25 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—A few odd and irregular orders continue to drop in from day to day, just about enough in the aggregate to prevent complete stagnation amongst the wholesale paint dealers, and this constitutes all the business doing, the market closing with a decidedly flat and uninteresting tone. Taking the general range of prices there are no alterations to make; but a buyer, willing to undertake anything like a free purchase and operate for cash, has no difficulty in getting some deductions from the quoted figures. Holders are not forcing business, however, and the easing up on prices is only the usual occurrence of a slow market. There continues to be an unusual absence of a call from the West, and such sales as are consummated go mostly to local and State dealers. The stocks though not heavy are fair and well assorted, and selections as a rule are easy. Paris White continues to be an exception to the above, having been allowed to run so low that it requires a long time to restock, but most back orders have now nearly been filled and future arrivals will go to increase the stock. The jobbing trade has come to an almost complete stand, and prices for the time being are somewhat nominal. Glues steady, but quiet. Linseed oil has been fairly active, but in a very irregular condition. At one time it was said that speculators had nearly sold out, and that nothing more could be bought below 99c.; but since then free sales have been made at 95c., and crushers accepted $1 in casks. At the close there is again some reaction, the offerings being comparatively moderate, and prices firm on all parcels, at our last given figures. We quote crushers' rates at $1.02 in casks, and $1.01@1.04 in bbls. with outside lots selling at 96@98c. The exports are $6 packages paint, valued at $1,972; 499 gallons linseed oil, valued at $574, and 800 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $3,726.

PITCH.—The market has shown no life since our last, the demand for goods calling for only very small retail parcels suited to the immediate wants of buyers, and at the close the feeling is quite unsettled, with values to a great extent nominal. We retain former figures as there have been no sales made to indicate a change, but it is probable that somewhat easier terms would be offered in order to hurry sales. The few parcels recently moved have been mainly on domestic account, exporters finding no margins as yet. The actual supply is doubtful, though said to be large. We quote at $2.75@2.85 for city; $2.75@3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12@3.25 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 250 bbls. Exports for the week 85 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,360 bbls.; and for the same period last year, 1,983.

PLASTER PARIS.—The demand for Nova Scotia lump during the past week has been very light, and we hear of only a few additional sales, but dealers have been kept quite busy delivering on previous contract the very liberal arrivals. The stock in this city has become very large, and some manufacturers are at a loss to find storage room for all their rock, the call for the manufactured article having been too small to work down the supplies with the rapidity anticipated. White is still the favorite style, particularly as the recent sales have all been at inside figures, or about $4.37½ per ton, but a few parcels of blue have been sold at $3.00@3.75 per ton, according to delivery, &c. Calciné continues to job out to a fair extent to city retail dealers, but otherwise the market at the moment is devoid of animation, the call for shipping running very small. We quote city at $2.40@2.50 per bbl., and country $2.25@2.35 do. Receipts for the week, 2,990 tons lump. Shipments of 82 bbls. calciné to Cuba; and 50 bbls. do. to Cisplatina Republic.

STONE.—Dealers and agents report a very good trade doing in brown and free stone, and the deliveries large enough from week to week to require pretty close attention. In some cases contracts made early in the season have been thrown up by original buyers, but a resale was immediately found for the goods, and stock has not accumulated. A few parcels of New Brunswick stone have come to hand, but the receipts are much smaller than last year. In blue stone there is a little dullness, particularly on city consumptive account. All corporation work is selling well, but building stock, sills, lintels, &c., do not appear to be wanted except on small jobbing orders. There is a fair amount shipping coastwise, and this outlet is the main dependence of producers in this as well as most other styles of building material. Everything is working smoothly at the quarries, and the consumption could be considerably increased if necessary. Prices remain at about the figures decided on at the opening of the season, and the general tone of the market is steady.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The arrivals have continued very fair and the demand only moderate, but the market has shown a strong and rather buoyant tendency throughout the week, and our range of prices is higher, with the advantage still rather in sellers' favor at the close. We find a great many dealers who look upon current values as cheap, and though there is no unusual excitement and not much inclination to invest heavily, a great many small odd lots are being secured in anticipation of a rise. The export business continues moderate, but orders are still coming forward and a good shipping is likely to spring up at any moment. The stock in yard on the 1st inst. was estimated at about 1,650 bbls., and the arrivals since have been about equalled by the sales. We quote at 42½@43c. for merchantable and shipping order; 43@43½c. for New York bbls.; 44@46c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week, 1,528 bbls. Exports for week 192 bbls.; since January 1st, 8,466 bbls., and for same period last year 6,951 bbls.

TAR.—The market remains in much the same general position as last week; business from day to day footing up extremely moderate, and there being no fixed basis of quotations. Some holders feeling pretty strong have withdrawn their stocks to await a reaction, while others, with no confidence in the future, or feeling the necessity of realizing as early a day as possible, are willing to accept a shade lower figures as an inducement for buyers to operate. The demand, however, does not improve either on domestic or foreign account, and at the close we note a continued flat and unsatisfactory condition of affairs. Our figures are still simply nominal. The stock in yard on 1st inst. was about 6,800 bbls. We quote at $2.50@2.62½ per bbl. for North Country as it runs; $2.75@3.15 for Wilmington do.; $3.25@3.50 for rope; and occasionally $3.62½@3.75 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 151 bbls. Exports for week 263 bbls.; since January 1st, 29,055 bbls., and for the same period last year 7,046 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus report for the week ending July 6, 1869, says:

Contrary to general expectation that the week preceding the Fourth would be a quiet one, there has been a good trade through the district since our last report. Buyers were in attendance throughout the week. Prices are without change of moment. The stock of old lumber is about used up and new comes forward slow. This has a tendency to keep prices at their present figure. Of green and dry lumber the stock is fairly assorted, but the assortment of old seasoned is broken up. Vessels are in good supply, especially for Philadelphia, owing to the slackness of the coal trade.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending July 2, were 38,827,000 feet, against 33,598,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 16,400,000 feet, against 15,961,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 337,827,000 feet, against 374,780,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 294,500,000 feet, against 245,045,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending July 5th, 1869 and 1868:

DRAUGHTSMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

A HIGHLY interesting and intellectual auditory were for three hours last Wednesday evening pleasantly seated at the rooms of the above organization, No. 38 Broad street—Mr. Charlton, President, ruling the meeting—to listen to the synoptical extract, read by Mr. Arthur Lett, from an able volume on English-Gothic Church Architecture, by Professor George Edmund Street, Fellow of the Royal Institute of Architects, London, of which Mr. Lett is also a Licentiate; and for the transaction of general business, as well as for the presentation of the Society's diploma to Mr. Wm. H. Foggett, of the office of George Hathorne, Esq., architect, at 111 Broadway. Mr. Lett's readings were well rendered. The business of the meeting pertained more to economical and general society's jurisprudence. Mr. Kirsch delivered a most able oration, in which he displayed considerable eloquence and sublimity of architectural thought; but unfortunately the Teutonic provincialism of the orator precluded our hearing all his syllabic utterances, which would have been preferable in his own vernacular. The President took occasion to pay a well-merited tribute to the Daily Star, THE REAL ESTATE RECORD and other sections of the press of New York, which rendered him quite popular and much admired by the unanimous applause which were vociferously ejaculated by the talented and skilful draughtsmen. Mr. Welch made some very sensible observations on the necessity of improving the fronts of our private residences, and a reward of some sum in the neighborhood of $100, with the society's handsome and elaborate diploma, is now upon the tapis of the artistic and mechanical arena.

Mr. Reed's position on the association's official staff having been declared vacated by his long absence from the society's meetings. Mr. Wheeler was respectfully desired to fill the Secretary's chair, which he did with satisfaction to the Association, and a credit to himself. An invitation having been tendered to

John W. Kennion, to lecture before the Association, the same having been accepted by him; the following resolution was unanimously carried, when moved and seconded by prominent members of the Association. The following is a copy of the motion passed:—

RESOLUTION.

"MOVED—That, John W. Kennion, of the English colleges, and a member of the New York press, having been invited to lecture on the "Classics," next Wednesday evening, and the invitation having been cordially accepted, he will therefore be present, and deliver his essay on The Importance of the Classics; the necessity of studying Classical Authors; their Origin, History, Pursuits, Writings, and End."

On the presentation of the address and diploma to Mr. Foggett, Mr. Samuel Godsmark, the able editor to the Association, occupying the opposite chair to the President's rostrum, the entire auditory stood, while in the following language Mr. Foggett returned his complimentary thanks:

"GENTLEMEN,—In rising to thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me this evening, I cannot adequately express my feelings. I little thought, when I entered the competition, of being the one to carry off the laurels, as I considered at the time there were older and more experienced hands than mine at work. However, when I did commence, there was no turning back; and it has proved to me that to be successful we must persistently persevere in anything we undertake, and success is almost certain to follow. I can only thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, and trust the next competition we have will be of a more comprehensive character."

Long after 11 o'clock the Society was still in session, and, not likely immediately to close their routine business, our corresponding editor left the room.

The inclement state of the weather rendered the evening particularly cool, as a gentle rain watered the atmosphere, and enubilated the dense pressure of the hitherto prevailing toridity of the season.

In connection with our previous remarks we inadvertently omitted to state that Mr. S. Godsmark, Editor of the Association, addressed the meeting at some length upon the origin, the present and future of the Draughtsmen's Confraternity; its bearing upon the profession generally, and benefit to themselves individually and as a body; and its powerful influence upon the cultivation and advancement of science and art throughout the world. This able address was received with applause; but on account of the lateness of the hour the speaker was compelled to defer the continuance of his remarks to the next meeting. Mr. Godsmark is the author of several poetical productions, and is well known in literary circles; and he proposes shortly to publish a periodical in the Society's interests, exclusively devoted to the arts and sciences.

APARTMENT HOUSES.

THE "apartment" house, after the Paris plan, in Irving Place, built by Mr. Stuyvesant, is naturally attracting some attention. To be sure, the prices he intends to charge are very high, but this business of renting suites of rooms will never become popular in New York, until it is first rendered fashionable by well-to-do people. Mr. Stuyvesant intends to charge $100 a month for suites of rooms on the first floor, and his cheapest rooms will approach the moderate price of $45 and $30 dollars a month.

We have always been inclined to doubt the feasibility of the Paris flats transferred to New York. Our people, we are afraid, would not take kindly to it. It is not and never has been fashionable here to rent apartments, and the American middle-class head of a family—the man who can afford to pay $800 to $1,500 a year—prefers to spend a couple of hours a day in going to and from a suburban village, rather than put up with apartments in the great city; hence we shall observe with a great deal of interest the progress of Mr. Stuyvesant's experiment. There is no doubt but that four times the number of people could live in New York on the same space that is now occupied. The average American is not prepared for living openly in a part of a house; people who live in hotels and boarding-houses necessarily occupy a house with other families, but the whole proceeding is disguised in a number of ways. Many people of moderate means rent four-story brownstone built houses, and in point of fact keep boarding houses, when they don't acknowledge it. The American wife whose husband has perhaps an income of $1,500 or $3,000, is willing to spend all that income in rent, and then provide food for a family and clothes for the children by letting out a portion of the house, or taking in a few boarders.

The right cure for the overcrowding of New York is to extend all our local steam railroad systems, with an abundant supply of trains running to every possible point to and from New York city. There will then be no necessity for Paris flats.

Is it not time some action was taken to utilize the sewage of New York City? The waste of valuable manure is unmistakably enormous, and this waste is more obvious in view of the fact that, within forty or fifty miles of New York, lands are to be found which, if this sewage was applied, would be of enormous value. The recent interest in earth closets is certainly a step in the right direction.

It has been found, that ordinary earth will deodorize human dejections as rapidly, as speedily, and as thoroughly as any disinfectant; and the earth which is commingled with faecal matter would have an enormous value, to be ap-

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The majority of the wholesale dealers still inform us that no changes are necessary in our quotations, as they continue to make sales at both the higher and the lower figures, with a very fair amount of trade doing, though the aggregate from day to day begins to show some little reduction. Local and near-by consumers are evidently calling for smaller amounts than a few weeks ago, and it is natural to look for a very light demand from jobbers at this season, while the shipments Eastward, though still fair, commence to fall off somewhat, as most of the leading points of inquiry have accumulated a supply sufficient for immediate necessities. All this, with the continued free arrivals, has its effect, and though up to the present writing, no positive alteration has taken place, the feeling is a little slack, and the turn rather in buyers' favor. As before, the common grades give dealers the greatest trouble, and cannot be sold to any advantage, while good to prime lots are offering, particularly to contractors engaged upon downtown work. The very best lots of Haverstraw brick, when selected out, are yet sold at $10 per M, but this is the outside rate, and a great many more sales of prime stock are made in the neighborhood of $9@9.50 per M, with good up-river stock at $8.50 and common do. at $7 per M. New Jersey stock is plenty, not selling with much freedom, and ranges at about $6.50@8 per M. From all points we learn that the production continues without interruption, and manufacturers, though continually talking about it, have not yet resolved to close their kilns. Neither is it probable that they will do so for the present, as it is now a season when brick can be manufactured lower than at any other time, and as vessels are plenty and transportation comparatively cheap, a suspension of operations would be foolish even should price fall off a dollar or two per M. As to the holding back of stock after it is ready for market, it cannot be successful to any extent, the lack of storage room and the continual running forward of cargoes by manufacturers, who must have the funds, would defeat the result intended. Pale brick continue to meet with a demand about in proportion to the business doing in hands, and are also quoted steady at former figures, say $5@6 per M for the bulk, and $6.25@6.50 for choice lots. Croton fronts are without unusual activity, but selling rather better than last week, both in large and small parcels, with prices still standing at $16 per M for brown; $17 do. for dark, and $18 do. for red. Philadelphia fronts moderately active and steady, at $45@48 per M from yard, with not much new stock coming forward as yet. Shipments of 12,000 brick to British Honduras.

CEMENT.—As compared with the corresponding time last month, the market for Rosendale is a little dull, though not enough so to cause any accumulation of unsold stock, or to give buyers an advantage. In fact, the gain appears to be mainly by manufacturers, who are enabled to catch up on back orders, and get their books, &c., straightened out, and everything in order for the fall trade. The present falling off in the demand is mainly from city jobbers, who, finding the distributive call very light for the time being, and holding fair stocks, think it useless to purchase until trade improves. Supplies continue to go on board for the California market at this point, and a number of fair sales have been made for near-by interior towns, while the direct shipments from the mills to the Eastern coast ports is apparently without interruption. We quote the market firm at $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2 per bbl delivered here. For the foreign grades the demand has not been unusually active, but nearly equal to the supply, and with the stocks reduced pretty low, prices rule quite firm on all qualities, the fluctuations in gold having no apparent effect. We quote at $9.50@10 per bbl for Roman, $10@9.50 for Portland, $11 do. for Keene's common, and $15.00@16 do. for Keene's choice. The shipments of cement are: 100 bbls to British North American Colonies; 58 bbls do. to New Granada, and 1,250 to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Dealers continue to report a dull and uninteresting market for most of the leading styles, with no immediate prospect of improvement, the prostrate condition of business, not only in this city but throughout the country in nearly all articles of foreign merchandise, and the generally unsettled condition of financial affairs, having the effect to induce a very cautious feeling on the part of buyers. Exporters find all their letters to be of discouraging nature, the European markets ruling about as dull as our own, and even the few orders received are difficult to execute, owing to the fluctuations in exchange and the scarce and costly transportation accommodations. Jobbers, both city and country, are obliged to operate to some extent, but as before, they are careful to take nothing which cannot be used to immediate advantage, and insist upon being served at very low figures. The stocks already accumulated in importers' hands, without being excessive are more than sufficient to meet all demands, are pretty well assorted, and the current arrivals are very fair. No changes are made in the general range of quotations, but there is considerable irregularity, and buyers have the greatest advantage. The retail trade from yard is also moderate, with dealers asking former rates, though cash customers are shown some favors not to be obtained on a quick market. The exports are as follows: To Hamburg 35 logs mahogany, valued at $1,350. Receipts as follows: From London 673 logs and 49 pes ebony; from Liverpool 3,451 pes do; from Bahia 93 logs rosewood; from Port-au-Plata 43 logs, 1,215 crotches, in mahogany, 5 tons, 13,580 lbs lignumvita, and 18 pes satinwood; from Para 133 logs cedar, and from Havana 60 logs do.

GLASS.—The market for all styles of foreign window glass is not only dull, but almost completely prostrate, and the position at the moment is anything but satisfactory to importers. The attendance of buyers is almost exclusively from the near-by small country towns, and to induce even these to operate requires considerable negotiation and very close figuring. The arrivals are hardly so liberal as last month, but still rather in excess of the demand, and the stock in first hands gradually increases in magnitude. The assortment is also of the most thorough description, no scarcity being reported except on one or two unimportant sizes for which there is no probability of a free call, even should trade improve. We are informed that the amounts in transit for this port are small, and that very little stock will be forwarded for the present, as manufacturers begin to look a little anxiously for returns on previous shipments, the payments not coming in with the promptitude or liberality of last year. On prices we learn of no further decided change, and importers generally express a determination to hold on steadily for the full rate, claiming that even now they are selling at a margin barely covering cost and expenses, and that further reductions would immediately entail a loss. We quote nominally at 35@45 per cent. off list for English, and 40@55 per cent. off for French. American glass is selling slowly and mostly in a retail way at irregular rates, though the advantage lay mainly with the buyers. We quote at 50@55 per cent. discount from list figures. The latest reported imports are 26,328 packages glass, value, $45,699, and 316 plate glass, value, $26,658.

HAIR.—We find a continued dull market on city consumptive account, but small lots are commencing to be called for from jobbers' hands, and an improved trade is hoped for. The shipping demand, however, is picking up considerably, and we hear of several very good orders filled by wholesale dealers for the Southern market. Prices remain as before at about 28@30c. for cattle, and 38@40c. for goat. Stocks large, but increasing less rapidly. There is a pretty good supply of foreign offering at 25c. or thereabouts, but consumers prefer paying the slight difference in cost for the better quality of domestic.

HAIRDWARE.—The market has been very dull throughout the past two or three weeks, dealers filling few orders either city or country and though most of the trade look forward to a good fall business, there are a few old and experienced houses not inclined to be over-sanguine. The slow market has caused a light production and stocks are now generally quite small. There is a particular scarcity of strap and T hinges; wrought butts fast joint, and wrought square bolts. Prices quoted nominally as before, but cash customers can do a little better than figures represent. We quote a few leading articles as follows:—

Wrought butts fast joint 20@25 per cent. discount from list; do. do., broad and loose joint, 29@30 per cent. do.; cast butts, fast joint narrow, 20 per cent. do.; do. do., broad and loose joint, 30 per cent. do.; table and back flaps and hinges, wrought straps and T 15@20 per cent. do.; door bolts, cast bbl. square, spring, tower and shutter, 25@40 per cent. do.; plate locks 15@17½ per cent. do.; shingling hatchets, cast steel, best brands, Nos. 1 to 3, $1.25@1.50 per doz.; and do. ordinary, $5.50@6.50 do.

LATH.—There has again been a very fair amount of business transacted, but the supplies have come forward in a manner enabling receivers to manage them with more ease, and the market has recovered from the depression of last week with the turn still in sellers' favor as we write, and nothing that we are aware of remaining afloat unsold. The demand comes almost entirely from local dealers, and though they cannot be called free operators, are still willing to take very fair amounts of stock just at the moment, owing to a good and rather increasing consumptive inquiry. The purchases made, however, seldom if ever exceed early wants, and any great advance in cost would probably lessen the demand, as buyers are evidently determined not to pay as high as last year for their lath. The decline of last week checked the shipments from the mills, and the present reaction has not as yet had the effect to cause any material increase, but there will unquestionably be plenty of stock forthcoming whenever it is required. The production continues without any perceptible abatement, and, notwithstanding the lower prices current, manufacturers appear to find it profitable to keep saws in motion. The sales reported embrace 2,150,000 at $2.55@ $2.60 for spruce; and $2.00@2.10 for hemlock.

LIME.—By a well-regulated system of shipments, manufacturers have managed to keep our market supplied with just about as much Eastern lime as current wants required, and the bulk of the cargoes coming forward have been disposed of upon receipt, with occasionally a buyer anxious enough to secure a lot before arrival. The demand centres almost exclusively upon lump at present, as building operations have reached a point where finishing lime is most required, and common, though forming only a small portion of the arrivals, is so much neglected as to cause some little accumulation of unsold parcels on receivers' hands. The burning of lime continues only fair, though in a few cases we learn of a disposition to start up a few patent kilns, for some time past lying idle, in order to increase the production of the comparatively free selling lump. Vessels are plenty and freights easy. The cargo rates are unchanged and we still quote at $1.25 per bbl. for common, and $1.75 do. for lump, with retail lots from yard at a proportionate advance. The cargoes reported from the Eastern coast during the week, number only four. Receivers of the regular brands of Northern lime report the market much the same as last week, a few of the principal dealers calling for about their usual average; but otherwise the demand very moderate and uncertain. Whenever possible, prices equal to those current on Rockland, are obtained, but if a reasonable shading of figures will secure a desirable sale, it generally takes place. The inferior qualities are very much neglected and have no fixed value at present.

LUMBER.—The general volume of trade at the yards, though still small, is very good for the season, and shows some improvement over last week, most dealers stating that they find no particular cause for complaint, and generally appearing hopeful of a much better state of affairs as fall approaches. The call at the moment is mainly on goods suited to building operations, manufacturers taking on small quantities and mostly of choice stock to supply immediate wants. The receipts have not been quite so liberal as heretofore, and at some yards a little increase of the supply would be welcome, though, as a rule, we hear few complaints of scarcity or poor assortment of the ordinary grades of lumber. Cedar pine of good quality is not plenty, neither is first class black walnut, and the demand for the latter both present and prospective is good enough to induce considerable competition and finesse among the leading dealers to secure all such desirable lots as may offer at any point here or at the West. The general range of values remains as before, and the tone is a little more steady. The outlet for lumber at present is mainly local, though occasionally a few small country orders are filled. Private advices from Albany report no important changes, and in most cases call the market there simply a nominal one, as there is no stock on hand of consequence, and the few New York dealers who now and then run up to get a small lot, find themselves unable to make selections. Old lumber has almost entirely disappeared, and the mills are forwarding slowly.

Our wholesale market has undergone some slight fluctuations during the week, but taken altogether, shows a pretty strong position, and on some of the leading grades higher prices have been obtained without much difficulty, particularly when local buyers having contracts to fill discovered something just suited to their wants, and did not allow a slight advance in cost to deter them from securing the lot of goods at once. Exporters can be found on hand to some extent, mostly after parcels to fill up unoccupied freight room though now and then an order is filled or a direct speculative shipment made under certain conditions of the market for exchange and freight charges. As we closed our report last week a very large supply of Eastern spruce was on the market, and holders a little nervous, some offering and selling the inferior lots at $18.50@19 per M. It was soon discovered, however, that dealers were pretty free buyers and willing to take any desirable stock at full figures, the effect of which was to immediately stimulate values, and sellers have since remained very firm, in some cases gaining a slight improvement. The local trade appears to have nearly all run out of stock together, and their simultaneous appearance as buyers has been of great benefit to receivers, enabling them to work off the largest accumulation this season, and at the same time obtain an advance. The inquiry still continues very fair, and the feeling at the close is quite steady and uniform. We quote at $20@21 per M for ordinary random cargoes; $21.50@22.50 for good to prime do.; and $23 for choice do., with the latter figure actually paid for 24@25 foot sticks forming a liberal proportion of the specification. The amount of stock on the way to this port is fair, with rather a tendency to increase, owing to current high figures, though manufacturers still find their operations in this direction somewhat restricted by coastwise engagements. White pine is very firm, and selling well in small lots to shippers and home consumers, but it is difficult to find any large parcels offering either here or at the mills, as about everything likely to be produced this season has been contracted for. Our market will get a fair proportion from the principal districts in Canada, though large amounts are being shipped abroad direct from point of production. An immediate drain upon the stock arriving here is the wants of the wooden pavement companies, not only in our own city but in the cities for many miles around; millions of feet being thus consumed, which would otherwise be obliged to seek an outlet in the ordinary channels of trade. We quote at $20@25 for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; $26@30 for good to prime do., and $32 for choice do. Piling has been in liberal supply, and though meeting with a pretty good demand it has been found necessary to chain out a number of lots and work them off gradually. Prices show considerable irregularity, but owing to the poor average quality of the stock have in most cases favored the buyer. We quote common Maine sticks 6@6½c.; good do. 7c. and Shilsee sticks 7@8c., with very choice in both length and thickness at 8½@9c., though the latter figures are very seldom reached. For pickets the market continues very dull, and we learn of only a few old lots at low figures. Yellow pine has become very dull, and the market heavy and nominal on all the ordinary grades, which may be quoted at about $30@33 for timber; $31.50@33 for ordinary to good flooring boards, and $34 to $35 for choice do. in a small way. There is some call for extra sizes, but at rates too low to induce the mills to accept the orders. Most previous contracts have been filled, and the receipts are now moderate. Eastern shingles are extremely dull, and though not plenty would be sold at low figures. We quote at about $3.50 for No. 2; $4@4.25 for No. 1, and $5@5.25 for clear. Cypress shingles are also neglected and quoted nominally at about $15@17 per M for two feet. Sales of 330,000 feet Eastern spruce at $20@23 per M; 750,000 feet white pine on private terms; 110,000 feet yellow pine $33@34 per M; 3,500 pes piling at 6@7c, per foot; 20,000 3-4 inch pickets at $5; 15,000 full inch do. to arrive, at $12, and 75,000 Cypress shingles at $16 per M.

We also notice shipments as follows: To Hamburgh 66 logs black walnut, valued at $1,936; to British West Indies, 15 spars; to British Honduras 40,000 shingles; to Havtli 100 bundles do.; to San Francisco 405 pieces lumber; to Liverpool 2,400 staves; to London 4,670 do.; to Glasgow 6,000 do.; to Marseilles 4,800 do.; to Valencia 18,000 do.; and to Oporto 30,950 do. The receipts reported are as follows: From Washington, N. C. 13,400 shingles; from St. John, N. B., 500 pieces piling; from Shulee, N. S., 650 pieces do., 20 sticks and 2,000 inches spars; from Templeton, C. W., two canal boat loads of lumber; from the Maine coast thirteen cargoes lumber, one do. lath, and one do. piling. The following charters have recently been made: A ship 1274 tons from Bay of St. Lawrence to London; deals at 15s. A British barque 623 tons from Le Haue, N. S., to River Plate, lumber, $17.75; a barque from St. John, N. B., to Montevideo, do. $17.00; a brig to Jacksonville in ballast, and back with resawed lumber at $11; a brig from Satilla to Bath, lumber, $15; a barque to Key West and Pensacola and thence to River Plate lumber, on private terms.

We clip the following from a recent issue of the Albany Argus:

"The fact that the lumber business of Albany last year aggregated the sum of about fourteen millions of dollars, should of itself give some idea of its extent. During the past winter, the facilities for adding to the business of the district has been increased by the construction of two new slips, which are considerably longer than any of the others. This makes the number of slips now in use thirty-two, and carries this improvement as far as lock number two. The facilities now afforded for the transaction of the lumber business in Albany, are now the best in the world. The arrangements for receiving and shipping lumber are unsurpassed, as an inspection of the locality will convince the most careless observer. With the Erie canal open on one side, and the Hudson River upon the other, it has only needed the improvements already completed, to make the district all that we have stated. Few of our citizens are aware of the immense quantities of lumber received and shipped from this point every year.

"It is a well-known fact that while the demand for lumber is increasing, the sources of supply are constantly growing less, or are becoming more difficult of access. But lumber must be had, no matter how far it is transported to market. The supply of pine, the leading article of the trade, is almost entirely exhausted in this State, and for a number of years past merchants have supplied their customers from the forests in Canada and Michigan. The great bulk of the lumber received here, comes from the lake regions of the West by way of the Erie Canal, and from Canada by way of Lake Champlain and the Champlain Canal. Large quantities of hemlock and spruce are yet to be found in the Northern counties of this State, and railroads are piercing the wilderness at various points in order to bring it to market. The active demand for lumber and the high prices demanded for it will eventually force the clearing up of our Northern wilderness to an extent but little dreamed of a few years ago.

"The lumber shipped from this port, or that passes down the Hudson river and is re-shipped from New York, reaches all parts of the globe. Up to the 26th of June over ten millions of feet had been exported from New York, bound for foreign ports. Of this aggregate, quantities were shipped to Africa, Australia, England, China, the West Indies and the South American republics. As we said before, all of this lumber thus exported, whether coming from the Western States or from Canada, finds its way to the markets of the world by means of our State canals and the Hudson river.

"It will be seen that the vast quantities of lumber yearly consumed is fast exhausting the forests, and that the distance of transportation to tide-water is constantly increasing. This increase of freight must be added to the price of the article, and hence its value must surely and steadily be enhanced. Another consideration. An immense amount of capital is invested in saw mills located contiguous to the existing forests. In a few years these mills will work up the timber within their reach, and then the machinery will be comparatively worthless.

"But no matter what obstacles may stand in the way, lumber must be furnished, and hence it is evident that an investment in good timbered lands cannot fail to be remunerative."

At the Western markets the position remains much the same as previously noted, common and inferior lumber selling low, and even choice barely holding its own. A recent Chicago report says:

"The demand continues slack, and prices rule weak, with a strong downward tendency. The bulk of the receipts was of a low grade, and sold at $11@13 for common to fair mixed, and $9@10.50 for inferior to common coarse cut, including scantling, joist, &c. For good cargoes of Muskegon and Oconto cut $14@15 could be realized. The market is nominally $1 per 1,000 feet lower, and, with but a beggarly attendance of interior buyers, the prospect for the future is not flattering. The receipts were large, and cargoes were unsold at the close."

Subsequent to the above the annexed sales were consummated.

125 M ft joist and scantling, at $10.50; 135 M ft joist, scantling and timber, at $11; 85 M ft scantling and joist, at $11; deck load timber and mill stuff, at $18; 65 M ft 2/3 strips and boards, balance mixed, at $11; 30 M lath at $2.25; 60 M ft coarse at $10; 70 M ft coarse mixed at $10; 210 M ft boards and strips at $15.50; 180 M ft 1/2 inch, balance mixed, at $10; 75 M ft coarse scantling and joist at $8.50; pickets at $10; 70 M ft plank at $10.5; 180 M ft mixed at $10.55.

A communication to the Chicago Evening Journal contains the following:

"The bottom to lumber has dropped out. Good fair cargoes are selling for $9, $10 and $11. Out of thirty or forty cargoes that are put on the market daily only two or three are quoted. The fact is that they are sold so low that sellers are ashamed to let it be known, but it will leak out. If it continues in this way manufacturers will soon find where their bottom is. They are not only throwing away their trouble but are borrowing money besides. Why not let the facts be known? It is as impossible to keep the prices down as it is to keep them up. Supply and demand will regulate this matter. Occasionally shoving a cargo on an order at prices above market rates, for slow pay, does not amount to anything. Keep up the cash basis, and let the lumber bring the money at either a high or a low price. It is as good as wheat, oats and corn, and who can buy either, except for cash.

"Let everything be quoted, and as soon as it is found out at a distance, buyers will flock in, and soon the market will be relieved, and prices will go up.

"LUMBERMAN."

From St. Louis we learn of sales on the Levee—18,000 feet black walnut on p. t.; 1,000 vineyard poles at 10c. each. At Depot—2 cars yellow pine flooring at $23@24; 1 do a $25; 1 do at $26; 6 do. partly seasoned, at $26.50; 1 do dry at $28; 1 car poplar boards at $16.

A recent report of the Dubuque market says:

"The tide has turned and since the decline in the river changes favor lumber sellers. The bottom prices have undoubtedly been reached and buyers' time is now or never. Already is a firmer feeling evinced among holders as the river declines from day to day and low water in prospect. It is only the poor low grades that has felt the depression the most; standard qualities hold up well to former prices. Ingram, K. & Day report sales of 40 M. Chippewa at $15.50, which if the quality is the same is only 50c below what early sales brought."

A "big" raft reached Duquaque about the middle of last month, and the Times spread itself on the subject as follows:

"For the purpose of showing what I done on the Mississippi in the lumber line, we propose to describe a small raft owned by the celebrated lumber-dealers, Knapp, Stout & Co., and destined for the Dubuque market. What the mastodon of the ancient world was to all his fellow quadrupeds, this raft is to all others that now float or ever have floated on the river. It arrived and was fastened to the shore a short distance above Eagle point, about 12 o'clock yesterday, having made the trip down from Reed's landing, at the mouth of the Chippewa river, a distance of 265 miles in four days. The average length of time required by the company is three days and a half, but the crew were delayed by high winds, which accounts for the tardiness in this instance.

"What will our readers think of a raft which contains one million eight hundred and thirty-five thousand and eight feet of lumber? That looks like a big story to tell, but that is what the raft contains to a fraction. Viewed from a short distance it looks like an island and covers an area nearly equal to five acres of ground. It has 224 cribs, 16 feet wide, and 32 feet long, making a raft altogether 54 feet long and 224 feet wide. In addition to the lumber mentioned the raft carries 610,000 feet of lath, 75,000 feet shingles, and 6,000 feet of pickets. This is the ninth raft brought down by Knapp, Stout & Co., the present season, all of the former averaging a million of feet each. This one is deserving of the broom and carries one conspicuously displayed on a pole near the prow. She can certainly sweep out anything of the kind that ever travelled down this way before as the common rafts do not commonly indulge in over ten strings, while this monster has fourteen.

"When Knapp, Stout & Co., get this raft broken up and in their yard ready for sale, it will have cost them exactly $1.37 per thousand to get it here. The regular contract price is, we understand, from a dollar to a dollar and twenty-five per thousand. The total expense incurred in getting the raft here from Reed's Landing, including boat stores, wood, wages, etc., was $430.76, amounting to a fraction over thirty-seven cents per thousand."

From away out at Puget Sound we learn that the lumber trade has increased very rapidly of late years. Upwards of 1,400 vessels were loaded with lumber from the mills on the Sound within a year past, and there is a demand for new mills to supply the California market.

Nothing very positive is at hand from the Eastern markets of supply, though we learn that there is no important interruption to the production, and that manufacturers generally are insisting upon about former rates.

A report published at Boston, says:

"Notwithstanding the stringency in money circles the past week, the tone of the lumber market, as a general thing, has been quite firm, and the demand very good, both for home consumption and export.

"The arrivals of the lower grades from the Eastward have been very large, and difficult to place all the cargoes at full quoted rates.

"The consumption is very large and would soon relieve the market of any excess; but if the supply continues so abundant, and the stringency in the money market prevails, prices may be somewhat lower next month."

From the Southern markets we learn of no important changes in prices, but trade rather dull for want of mill timber.

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $10.00@10.50, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $9.1, lumber $10. Timber to Philadelphia $9.50 @ $10, lumber $8.50. Lumber to Baltimore $7.50. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10@11.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@12.00 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@23 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and 24@26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices as follows: Steam sawed $5.00@ $30.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00 @25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00; mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.
Flooring, 1 1/2x4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.
" dressed, 25 to 27 "
Ceiling, 3/4, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.
Planks, 1 1/2x10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.
" 1 1/2x2 " 15 to 17 "
Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.
80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—For copper sheathing the demand has continued very moderate, and the weakness noted in our last report has been followed by some reduction in prices, particularly on large parcels selling for cash, though sales in this manner are now the exception instead of the rule, and the business is almost entirely in small jobbing parcels, as required by buyers to meet pressing necessities. The production is not liberal, but continues to some extent, and manufacturers find a slow but sure accumulation of supplies. We quote at 32c@34c. for new, and 21c@22c. for old, according to quantity. Yellow metal is in limited request and prices weak, though the general range is still placed at 27c@29c. for wholesale and retail lots. Ingot copper has been quiet and without new features of special importance. In small lots to the trade dealers are all selling to some extent, but no offers are made on large parcels at the moment. The disposition appears to be to hold quite steadily, and the market may be called nominally firm. We quote at 22c@22 1/2c. per pound. For Scotch pig iron we still find the demand very moderate and confined almost entirely to little retail parcels as wanted for immediate use by the trade and consumers. The arrivals in the meantime have been pretty large, and with the stock piling up freely in importers' hands, prices begin to show weakness, some of the common brands already selling at a slight decline. We quote somewhat nominally at $38.50@44 per ton. American pig iron is also quite dull, and the general position of the market unsatisfactory, but the supplies are restricted to small parcels and prices hold to about the previous range, though not being firm. We quote at $41.50@42.50 per ton for No. 1; $38@39 do. for No. 2; and $36@37 do. for No. 3. Bar iron from store shows no improvement, trade dragging along in small retail parcels as wanted by consumers for unexpected necessities, and the cost of good being very irregular, though in nearly all cases the buyer has the advantage. Our figures must be considered as nominal. We quote at $85.00@87.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00@92.00 for refined do.; $110 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@150.00 for scroll, and $97.50@155.00 for rods, 5-8@3-16 inch, all less 5 percent. Common sheet iron is still selling very slowly, and with a good supply on hand the turn is rather downward, though as yet no concessions have been granted warranting a change in figures. We quote at 5c@6c. for singles, doubles and trebles, and in a retail way about 1/2c. higher. Galvanized sheet fairly active and steady at 20@25 percent off list. Russia sheet iron has been a trifle more active, but at rather easier rates, importers finding it impossible to resist the depressing influence of the increasing stock and indifference of buyers. At the decline the feeling is steady. We quote at 11 1/2c@13 1/2c. gold, according to number. Pig lead is without change, holders asking full former rates, and buyers refusing to operate, except in small lots, as wanted to use immediately. We quote at 6 1/2c@6 3/4c. The receipts for the first six months this year, were 282,000 pigs, against 215,000 same time last year. Bar lead 10 1/2c. and sheet pipe 12c, less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin is selling in small lots to a fair extent, but the principal holders still refuse to offer their stocks, and generally appear hopeful of a better market as fall approaches. Some few sales have been made at a slight decline, but prices generally are pretty steady. We quote in coin at 29 1/2c@30c. for English; 29 1/2c@30c. for Straits; and 33 1/2c@33 3/4c. for Banca. Tin plates have been a shade more active, and holders are a little firmer in their views, though the tendency is to check trade. Zinc dull and nominally steady, though holders are anxious to operate at about 12c@12 1/2c. per lb. from store. The latest reported imports are 31 tons iron hoop; 1,582 tons pig iron; 39,065 T. R. bars; 67 tons sheet iron; 2,164 iron tubes; 7,119 pigs of lead; 22,771 boxes tin; 176 slabs do.; and 310,348 zinc.

NAILS.—The improved demand for cut nails noted last week, was of short duration and the market has again become comparatively dull, buyers in most cases calling for only retail parcels. Exporters have been very light operators, owing partly to difficulties experienced in obtaining freight room, and the trade has been almost entirely on interior account. The feeling on the part of sellers, however, appears quite confident, and former prices are insisted upon with scarcely any thing to be had at inside figures at the close. Clinch are in fair demand and firm. We quote cut at 4 1/2@4 3/4c. in large parcels; 4 3/4c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch at about 6 1/2@6 3/4c., with choice at 6 3/4c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5 1/2c@5 3/4c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/4c@5 1/2c. for 5d., and 5 1/4c@6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 38c@41c. for copper. The exports are 87 packages, valued at $551, against 234 packages, valued at $1,449, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 1000 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—We find no important change in the market for paints, &c., during the past week, all dealers agreeing that trade is no better, and few reporting matters as worse. On nearly all local account in small lots there are some few shipments taking place, and an occasional order comes to hand from the Eastward, but the Western and Southern demands have entirely subsided and the export call is very light. Holders, however, as a rule are not quite discouraged as yet, and a better state of affairs is hoped for as autumn approaches. China clay is somewhat scarce, and Paris white is not in full stock at yet, though commencing to accumulate. Prices on all grades remain as before, and on ordinary orders are steady, but desirable buyers can manage to obtain better terms by a little close figuring. Domestic glues steady but dull, with foreign grades selling fairly at irregular rates. Linseed oil is lower. Early in the week a strong effort was made to sustain prices, but without success, the necessities of holders compelling them to realize, and finally values receded 2c@5c. per gallon. This concession drew out buyers, and some liberal purchases were made on Western account, causing a firmer tone, though up to the present writing no reaction in values. The supply of linseed in the country is liberal and prices are easy, adding to the weakness on oil. Crushers ask 95c@1.00 in casks; and $1.00@1.01 in bbls., with outside lots, sold at 95c@94c., and offered at 95c. The exports are 188 packages paint, valued at $2,674; and 493 gallons linseed oil valued at $611.

PLASTER PARIS.—There is still an occasional call for lump, the recent reduction in values having drawn out an increased number of buyers, but the general market is without vim, and trade rather shows a tendency to gradually slack off. Our city manufacturers either hold enough stock for all probable calls, or have facilities for immediately replenishing, while country buyers are beginning to observe some decrease in the consumptive demand and are modifying their operations in accordance therewith. We quote white lump at $4.37 1/2 per ton, and blue do. $3.50 @ $3.75 do., with mongrel stock selling at $3.00 do. Calced is steady in price as far as the ordinary jobbing business is concerned, but owing to the lower cost of lump and the general dull state of trade, manufacturers do not object to making some modifications in order to secure liberal orders. We quote city at $2.40@2.50 per bbl.; and country-made $2.25@2.35 do. Receipts for the week: 675 tons lump. Shipments of 175 bbls. calced to Cuba.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—The amount of business doing in the various articles embraced by the above heading continues very moderate, and is confined almost entirely to city trade, country orders having gradually fallen off until now they have almost ceased entirely. The stocks are ample and well assorted, but the production at present is moderate. Copper goods have lately shown some irregularity, with the tendency rather downward, owing to the recent decline in copper sheathing, lagot, etc. Manufacturers' frame iron and lead are steady, at about former figures. Solder is easier, with sales at 23@24c. for No. 2; and 25@26c. for No. 1; and jobbing lots in proportion.

PITCH.—The demand from all quarters continues to run remarkably light and dealers complain of the unprofitable condition of their business. Prices, they say, are reduced to about as low a level as sales can be made, and leave a margin for expenses, and as the stocks do not increase with great rapidity the disposition is to remain steady as long as possible, hoping for a revival of trade. Exporters can do nothing except in small orders, and domestic jobbers find the consumption too small to warrant laying in stock. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.75 @ $3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12 1/2@3.25 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 13 bbls. Exports for the week 50 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,410 bbls.; and for the same period last year, 1,983.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The expectations of a good export demand referred to in our last were verified early in the week, and with a brisk trade doing, prices advanced materially, a few sales reaching 45c. Subsequently freight room became very scarce, and most of the pressing shipping orders being filled prices dropped off, and at the moment are a little unsettled. We notice, however, a pretty confident tone on the part of the wholesale trade generally, based on the small stocks here, prospective light arrivals, apparent strong gold market, and the probability that freight room will soon be plenty and cheap enough again to admit exporters as free operators, and very few large parcels are offering. The home consumptive demand has been rather moderate. The Southern markets are firm, and without any actual scarcity, can only be called fairly supplied. We quote at 42 1/2@43c. for merchantable and shipping order; 43@43 1/2c. for New York bbls.; 44@46c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week, 1,776 bbls. Exports for week, 2,085 bbls.; since January 1st, 10,551 bbls., and for same period last year, 7,618.

TAR.—There is still a decided want of animation noticeable throughout this market, exporters finding little or no margin for profit at current cost of freight-room and the home trade buying only to meet the ruling consumptive demand, which is very small. The arrivals in the meantime continue comparatively liberal and with a rapidly accumulating stock, and some necessity on the part of a few holders to realize. Prices are lower, closing quite irregular with more goods moving at inside than at outside figures. A portion of the recent arrivals have come in on contract to pavement companies. We quote at $2.50@2.60 per bbl. for North County as it runs; $2.62 1/2@2.80 for Wilmington do.; $3.12 1/2@3.25 for rope; and occasionally $3.50@3.62 1/2 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week, 1,385 bbls. Exports for week, 115 bbls.; since January 1st, 29,200 bbls., and for the same period last year, 7,946 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending July 13, 1869, says:

The attendance of buyers since our last report has been good, and we have had a more active business than is usual so near after the Fourth. Prices are without change of moment and are well sustained. The receipts, though somewhat in excess of those for the corresponding week of last year, are light and there has not been much addition to stocks.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending July 9, were 36,542,000 feet, against 32,230,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 11,296,000 feet, against 13,398,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 870,905,000 feet, against 401,608,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 305,349,000 feet, against 254,798,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending July 12th, 1869 and 1868:

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo.....	6,749,500 feet.	6,611,700 feet.
Oswego.....	12,283,900 feet.	9,567,400 feet.
Total.....	18,983,400 feet.	16,179,100 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of July, were:

1869.. 15,392,400	3,637	5,000	480,000
1868.. 12,520,000	625	9,122	1,573,600

Of the Boards and Scantling received 10,686,800 feet were by the Erie, and 4,706,100 by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to July 8, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs
1869.. 126,435,300	15,415	5,000	3,122,300
1868.. 189,743,000	13,675	51,095	12,075,000

The receipts of 1868 include some 11,000,000 ft. boards and scantling detained on the canal during the winter 1867-68.

We quote freights as follows. Vessels in good supply.

NOTICE EXTRAORDINARY.

MR. ERNEST CLIFFORD is a young man, about 23 years of age, light complexion, brown hair, smooth face, with light thin moustache, soft voice, dwells a little on his words, gray eyes inclined to redness of the lids, stands about 5 ft. 8 in. in height, and hails from Connecticut. All persons are hereby warned against him, and many people would call him a thief, as he has collected various sums of money for the proprietors of this Journal and has decamped for parts unknown. A liberal reward will be paid by the RECORD for any information which will tend to his arrest. The conviction is sure enough. Any person who may have paid him money will confer a favor by notifying

SAN FRANCISCO REAL ESTATE.

THE NEW FIELD OF SPECULATIVE EXCITEMENT.—The lull which at present prevails in New York real estate movements does not extend to the whole country. With the recent opening of the Pacific Railroad it became observable that the attention of capitalists and operators was suddenly turned to the immense fields and vast returns which have been opened up in that quarter. The tremendous results which the constructors of the Pacific Road itself have realized in their adroit conversion of the immense tracts of government lands into millions of first-class convertible securities, have aroused the capitalists alike of Europe as of this country to the importance of this unsurpassed basis for secure, profitable, and permanent investment.

The principle is now firmly established that our magic cities and almost limitless princely territories, can be turned into wealth as tangible, and readily convertible into current use, as if they were stocks or bonds, bills or coin. Especially in the West, along the course of that national gulf-stream of population which sets towards the golden gates of San Francisco, is this the fact. Everything points to the latter city as the grand entrance to this newly developed mine; but perhaps the most signal illustration of enormous value and profit will be found in the extension and development of San Francisco as proposed by parties who have recently visited this city, completed their financial and other arrangements, and are now on their way west to carry out their plans, meeting in Chicago on the thirtieth of this month.

These parties, it appears, have consummated agreements with the owners of a vast tract of some four thousand acres immediately southwest of the built-up borders of San Francisco, called the Visitation Rancho. They have also concerted measures with the adjoining owners of certain homestead and rancho tracts, by which these suburbs of the Golden City are to be treated in the manner which has given so much lustre and attraction to the upper portion of the city of New York.

The boulevard system as developed here is to be applied to the metropolis of the Pacific. We hear already of the Forest Parks and Tropical Gardens of San Francisco. With the wonderful climate and resources of the locality, there is no reason why they should not in time surpass everything else of the kind. There are the Boulevard San Francisco, the Boulevard San Bruno, the Boulevard San Jose, the Boulevard San Miguel—all so new and strange, and yet credibly promising to occupy their places with the grand and classic drives and thoroughfares of the older centres of population in the great cities of the world. And who will question it? There is not a doubt that San Francisco must double its population (at present some two hundred thousand) every three years, until it shall reach a million and a half. The rise of Chicago or Cincinnati must be but a very inadequate measure of its growth. Then think of the class of improvements. The buildings necessarily detached, and, to a large extent, two and a half stories high, because of the apprehension about earthquakes. This will spread the city in the Asiatic manner over a vast area, and the nature of the Pacific coast precluding any rival cities, the shape of San Francisco must take colossal proportions. Population is now rushing in there by every available conveyance. The older States vie with Europe and Asia in pouring their thousands into the vortex. By the compound multiplication resulting from this, San Francisco must rank with the first-class cities of the world in ten years, having at least a million of inhabitants. Should they benefit by the experience of the older cities, and take a timely opportunity for mapping out and arranging their cities upon the best models, the opportunity may materially contribute to the creation of a greatly improved civilization. We express only the unanimous public opinion in saying that the prospect is unprecedented, and the result ought to be endowed with the embodiment of the finest features of ancient and modern cities. Of course it is not to be wondered at that speculation in real estate should sustain itself in San Francisco. The prospects of no city were ever so obvious, and it appears that the common people are the most active in proceeding upon this conviction. The laborers and mechanics, the cooks, the barbers, and the chambermaids, all speculate in lots, and seem to treat their investments precisely as the same class do the savings banks here. There is accordingly a special law in California which provides for a homestead system, the peculiar operation of which authorizes the formation of corporations for holding and selling unimproved tracts in homestead lots, and the payment for the same in instalments as well as the transfer of the rights of the parties in the manner of corporation shares. The results of this law have proved most salutary. It has cleared up and settled titles in a responsible manner; it has broken up and subdivided indefinitely the ownership of tracts of land which have been thus brought more speedily into market and into improvement; it has, in fact, adjusted the sale and transfer of lands upon a basis which avoids delay and expense, and throws the whole field of operations open to a range which may yet become as active, facile, and extended as the stock market.

PRIZE DESIGN COMPETITION.

A HIGHLY intelligent meeting of the Draughtsmen's Association was convened on their regular evening, at their rooms, for the transaction of general business—and to arrange the stipulations for the next competition for a design, the prize being $20, and to be accompanied by the Society's diploma. The following are the conditions:

1st. That the designs be for a city residence of 37 feet 6 inches frontage, and containing 5 floors, including the basement.

2d. That the top floor may be in roof or below the cornice.

3d. That the materials and the style of architecture be at the discretion of the competitor.

4th. That the designs are to be finished in color, to show clearly the various materials employed.

5th. That the designs to be made to the scale of 4 feet to 1 inch, and the size of the paper to be "20x29," when sent in.

6th. That the competitors may accompany their designs with a written description of materials, etc., which is not to exceed one page of foolscap.

7th. That the prize shall be awarded to the design which, in the opinion of the judges, combines most beauty of design, with the greatest originality of conception and practicability of execution; while the avoidance of sham construction of all kinds is to be specially considered.

8th. That the judges are to be three well-known architects who are willing to act in that capacity.

9th. That the designs are to be delivered at the rooms of the Association, 38 Broad street, on or before Monday, September 13th, at 12 o'clock.

10th. Each design is to be sent in under a motto, accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the name and address of the author.

11th. The successful competitor shall be entitled to a handsomely embellished certificate, the expense of which is to be defrayed by the members of the Association.

HOW WE GROW AND SPREAD.

WITHIN the past two or three years, no subject has interested the inhabitants of Manhattan Island more than the question of rents, the increase in the value of property, and the immense, nay, marvellous, improvements that have daily appeared to our astonished gaze in the architecture of our city. The number of splendid buildings already and being erected, testifies forcibly to the advance of commerce in New York, and the success which marks the enterprise of her merchants. New York, as the metropolis of a republic, must depend upon her business men for her aggrandizement, her growth, spread, and ornamentation; and it is, therefore, that whenever one sees either palatial residences or gigantic commercial houses starting up, as by the magician's wand, that such is to be put down, and justly, too, as the result of her enterprise and the triumph of her trade. Many of the old monarchical countries of Europe pride themselves on the splendor of their buildings. Rome has her Vatican; Paris, the Tuileries; and London, St. James's; but who built them? They are not the result of enterprise, energy, perseverance, and legitimate industry. They are the property of idlers and drones, and the work of slaves. They are old, undoubtedly, and are monuments to remind one of the tyranny and despotism of the past. Here we have a democratic country; and our most fashionable avenues are occupied by men who fear not to work to-day as they did when young, and who pride themselves on their energy, their labor, and their enterprise, and who do not sit down in idle, slothful indolence, while all around are the din, the hum, and bustle of trade; and labor is incessant, and busy hands are developing the rich resources of the country. Capital conduces to capital, money makes money, and riches bring riches in almost all lands, but they generally remain in the same hauds, and are of no benefit to the general public; but in this country, especially in this city, it is quite different. Here the merchant is successful in trade, and his outlay is accordingly liberal. He builds a warehouse at almost extravagant cost, or he erects for his family a mansion, admirable in plan, splendid in design, and palatial in appearance, while its dimensions are formidable; and his work benefits not him alone—it is of service to the community at large, and adds materially to the beauty of the city. The new buildings of New York have been frequently referred to in the columns of the RECORD; and, go where one will in the city, in the avenues where houses have stood that could rival many of the aristocratic mansions of Europe, and yet one sees improvements on all sides, and new and more beautiful structures take the place of the old; and so great has this progress been, and so rapidly has it manifested itself, that it is considered by many that in a very short time a hotel at Central Park, or even nearer High Bridge, will be viewed as far more convenient and more easily approached than was the present Fifth Avenue Hotel at the period of its opening. As a proof of our growth and spread, and of our onward march up town, it may be well to remark that all the well-known proprietors of hotels, and those most experienced in trade down town, are trying to make arrangements towards carrying their business above Fiftieth street; and it is also said that a certain company is being formed which has for its object the purchase, for the same purpose, of several lots in the vicinity of St. Luke's; which tends to show that New York advances towards its northern boundary for a residence, while the lower portion of the city is to be devoted exclusively to commerce—it may be said to the wholesale trade, for the retail business is now forcing itself into the most fashionable quarters; and the period is not far distant when those avenues which are now the residing places of the wealth and fashion of New York, will be transformed and transmuted into regular business streets—for trade follows hard on the heels of the wealthy; and it is not too daring to assert that business tends to turn at Union square, down Fourteenth street to Fifth avenue, and thence to Central Park. Here is how we grow and spread and increase. This will take time, of course; and the more trade makes her inroads, the more valuable becomes the property; and the proprietors of real estate around the avenues are erecting, at a most liberal outlay, mansions excelling, in architectural beauty and finish, anything of the kind ever before projected. Fifth avenue bears testimony to what is alleged, for there some of the most costly residences have been erected within the past eighteen months; and where, twelve months ago, especially in the upper portion, vacant lots were visible, or unsightly wooden huts or shanties stood, to-day the ground is covered by the finest buildings that could possibly be desired. Instance Mrs. Jones's house, by R. Mosk, architect; Mrs. General Gaynes's house, by Mr. Hamilton, architect; the Roman Catholic Cathedral, by Messrs. Renwick & Sands; the Woman's Hospital and the German Hospital; A. T. Stewart's marble mansion, with various other noble private structures, as well as no end of ecclesiastical, public, and philanthropic institutions, which swell the aggregate, and go far to show how we grow and spread and prosper.

A GLANCE at our judgment list will reveal the fact there are quite a large number of women who participate in the excitement and uncertainty of a law-suit. It is a fact worthy of note, that they usually appear as plaintiffs, and that they are singularly successful in their cases. Whether this is owing to the inspiration and magnetism imparted to the defenders of their suits by the fair clients, or to the sympathies of the judges and juries in behalf of women, or to the fact that a woman seldom comes into court except her case be clothed in justice, the fact is upon record that they are seldom beaten.

OFFICIAL RECORD OF MORTGAGES —NEW YORK COUNTY.

In the arrangement of the following mortgages, where no description of the property follows the names, it is to be understood that there is a corresponding transfer under the same or nearly the same date in our columns, and the amount set down is what remains on bond and mortgage.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The market for hard brick remains in pretty much the same general position noted during the past month, neither buyer or seller gaining any decided advantage, though each are apparently hopeful of an early turn in favor of their respective interests. The supplies coming forward are pretty free, but are so managed that an accumulation of unsold stock seldom occurs, the demand being just about active enough to enable receivers to place their cargoes, without exhibiting an anxiety calculated to induce buyers to insist upon a concession. As noticed last week, however, the inquiry begins to show some trifling contraction, which, if continued for any great length of time must have its effect, as it unquestionably requires an open and pretty free outlet to prevent the current production becoming burdensome. This is particularly the case with the common and inferior grades, which are greatly in excess of the upper qualities, and cannot be sold even at their lowest cost when anything better is to be obtained. We quote common to good at $7@8.50 per M; prime $9@9.50 do; and a few very choice cargoes have again been sold at $10 per M, though this figure certainly represents the top of the market. From the New Jersey yards, stock continues to come forward with much freedom, and is comparatively slow of sale, though nearly all has been marked off within a range of $6.50@8 per M. Pale brick have sold with some irregularity, and at times were a little more plenty than was necessary, but buyers have finally been found for the bulk of the arrivals, and sellers quote rates steady at the previous range, viz.: $5@6 per M. for the majority of parcels, and $6.25@6.50 for choice selections. Manufacturers of brick continue to complain of the unremunerative condition of the market, and assert that they must stop work at an early day, but we do not learn that any of the old yards have as yet reduced the production, though it is said that some of the kilns started this season will set no more arches until the stock already turned out can be realized upon. At many points up the river where storage room is available, supplies have accumulated, and will be forwarded in quantities to suit the wants of business at this point. Croton fronts continue in very good demand, and some jobbers have lately exceeded current wants in purchasing. Prices steady, and may be quoted at $16@18 per M. for brown, dark, and red. Philadelphia fronts in slightly better demand, and steady at $35 @38, by cargo, and $45@48 per M. here from yard, in jobbing lots.

CEMENT.—There continues to prevail a very fair general demand for Rosendale, a firm uniform feeling on prices amongst the leading manufacturers, but buyers are operating with less animation than heretofore, and the volume of business is reduced somewhat. Local jobbers report a considerable falling off in the call from consumers, and naturally are not putting any goods in store at this season, beyond immediate wants, as a revival of trade can easily be met by fresh purchases from producers, and the trouble and expense of carrying stock saved. From the California market the orders have of late been rather moderate, and current shipments are mainly on account of purchases and government contracts made some time ago, but to the Eastward a number of cargoes go forward every day or two, and this latter outlet is the main preventive of an accumulation of supplies. All the manufacturers are still at work, a few on back orders, but the force employed is smaller, and the production reduced to some extent. We have heard intimations that sales were making at a slight shading from former figures, but cannot learn that any of the first-class companies have accepted concessions, and we continue to quote best brands at $2 delivered here, and $1.90 delivered at Rondout. Foreign grades are moderately active and steady at former figures. The shipments are 1,000 bbls. to San Francisco, and 20 bbls. to Mexico.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—Nearly all the leading manufacturers in this vicinity report some little trade doing, but as a rule, the market appears pretty dull, and stocks are slowly increasing and the assortments improving. The Southern dealers are now supplied against all probable wants for some little time to come, and near-by country orders are falling off, but on city account there is a fair amount of business doing in the styles and sizes ordinarily selected. In prices no quotable alterations have taken place, but as usual on a dull market, desirable buyers can frequently gain slightly easier terms.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPES.—There is some demand for the vitrified pipe, both on shipping and home account; but it amounts to nothing when compared with the trade generally doing at this season, and manufacturers who are dependent upon fresh orders find business decidedly dull and unsatisfactory. In a few cases, however, we learn of considerable life in the way of delivering on early spring contracts, mainly for corporation work at neighboring cities, and this keeps producers who are directly interested working pretty well up to the full extent of their facilities. Prices are given nominally as before, but are very irregular, and as a rule in favor of the buyer, and particularly on cash orders. Cement pipe has been very fairly active and with an improvement in the quality is apparently gradually growing in favor, and considerable has this year been used on contracts with the authorities of towns and villages in this vicinity.

FOREIGN WOODS.—On most grades of wood included under this heading the market remains in much the same dull and unsettled condition noted for several weeks past, and we have few if any new features to advise. Now and then a small order from the country or from near-by cities comes to hand but local dealers and jobbers are buying scarcely any goods, having already on hand an assortment sufficient to about meet the prevailing inquiry from consumers, which runs mainly on such lots as can be worked up to immediate advantage. Cedar of good to prime quality is still remarkably scarce, and we hear of no lots, except in the retail yards, but other kinds are plenty as compared with the wants of trade, and selections can be made with very little trouble. Prices are quoted on extreme figures about as before, but are without much regularity, and the rates finally concluded upon are in most cases decided by the necessities of buyers or sellers. The arrivals have of late been more moderate and the general supply has not materially increased, but there is enough on hand to supply all present outlets. The yard trade continues moderate, and buyers in nearly all cases are crowding for some reduction in values though only partially successful, as the amount of goods taken is not large enough to warrant dealers in making any great concessions. The exports are as follows: To Bremen 14 logs mahogany, value $66, and 90 pieces lignumvite value $70; to Antwerp 245 logs mahogany, value $15,296; to Liverpool 82 pieces satinwood, value $345; and to Argentine Republic 52 pieces mahogany, value $648. No imports.

FIRE BRICK.—A few orders are daily being filled, but they are almost entirely of a retail character, and the market continues dull and unsatisfactory. We retain former quotations, but they are nominal and rather above the figures actually accepted. Stocks are large and well assorted and there is no trouble for buyers to make selections. Foreign styles have also been dull, but are not very plenty and may be called steady. We quote at $80 @ $85 per M for Stanbridge; $80 do. for Leemoor; and $65 @ $70 do. for Welsh.

GLASS.—Foreign window glass remains very quiet, and we find no encouraging features for selling interest in any position of the market at the moment. Importers, however, appear to feel considerable confidence in a very good autumn and winter trade, and while a few are compelled to grant terms easy enough to permit them to realize moderately, the majority are inclined to remain pretty firm and hold their stocks in store for any reaction that may develop itself. The call at present is confined principally to such small lots as local and near-by interior jobbers require, none of the large Western or Southern operators being represented. The arrivals have been very fair and the stock is further increased, though dealers assert that there is very little glassware to come forward. We continue to quote nominally at 35 @ 45 per cent. off list for English, and 40 @ 55 per cent. off for French. American glass is supplying a little Western trade and selling to some extent to sash-makers, etc., but the general market is quiet and rather heavy. We quote at 50 @ 55 per cent. discount from list, and first-class customers frequently operate as low as 60 per cent. off. The latest reported imports are 22,516 packages glass, value $46,788; and 253 glass plate, value $25,411.

LATH.—The market has been rather irregular during the past week, but at present much the same range noted in our last, and we do not find that either buyer or seller gained any important advantage. The general tone, however, appears rather firm, and the demand has been active enough to take up all the supplies immediately upon arrival, leaving nothing now afloat awaiting a market. Receivers, as a rule, say they are not looking for very liberal supplies, and as the season is now approaching when lath is almost certain to sell well, the disposition is to insist upon full figures upon all arrivals, particularly as long as no unusual accumulation of stock occurs. Some few out-of-town orders have been filled, but our city dealers are the principal buyers. The sales reported for the week embrace 1,950,000, at $2.50 @ $2.65 for spruce, and $2 @ $2.20 for hemlock. At the usual advance on the above figures jobbers are doing a very fair and gradually increasing business, and in the ordinary course of trade considerable activity is looked for during the next three or four weeks. The stocks in yard are fair at the moment, though not large enough to stand any more than an ordinary call.

LIME.—The market for Rockland lime is still reported quite dull and prices without quotable alteration, though as before, the general supply about balances the demand, and receivers manage to work off pretty much all the current arrivals. The only accumulation is of common, for which there is no actual call, and the bulk of the receipts being made up of this grade, occasionally gives sellers some trouble. By insisting, however, that a fair proportion be taken with every purchase of lump, holders are enabled to dispose of the bulk of their supplies. Lump is still scarce and comparatively active, though a very slight increase of the supply would exceed present wants. We quote at $1.25 for common, and $1.75 per bbl. for lump. The production has not been curtailed to any extent of late, and we have reason to think that quite a number of cargoes are about due at this port, which are not likely to advance prices. Should a decline take place, however, manufacturers assert that they must immediately stop, as they are now barely clearing themselves on the production. The cargoes reported from the Eastern coast during the week number fifteen. The Northern lines, except where a few contracts are still to be filled, are extremely dull and quite unsettled. The best brands of lump do very fairly, and sell well up to $1.75 per bbl., but all other styles are almost entirely neglected and without a fixed quotation. The production is continued to some extent from necessity, but is reduced to the smallest possible limit.

LUMBER.—The retail trade as a whole is not remarkably active, but we find a few dealers reporting considerable animation and a very fair market, with supposed indications of an increase. The demand as before is almost entirely for jobbing lots suited to immediate necessities and fairly divided between the manufacturing and building interests, though of late the latter has slightly exceeded the former in the aggregate of purchases. Prices remain quite steady, and if anything are rather firmer on the choice and desirable grades though there is nothing to warrant an alteration in quotations. The general receipts have been moderate throughout and in a number of cases could be increased to advantage, as many dealers begin to attribute the dull state of their trade to the want of proper goods which they have been unable to procure to the extent anticipated, owing to the light arrivals and slow increase of assortment at Albany, and some few regret that they did not purchase more liberally early in the spring. With continued strong hopes, however, of an early addition to the stock coming forward by canal, there is very little disposition on the part of dealers to commence operating freely now, and though an occasional small parcel may be taken at high figures through absolute necessity, it is not probable that Albany lumbermen will reap a very rich harvest from the wants of their New York brethren. We can learn of very little old lumber now offering outside of jobbers' hands, and the mills for want of logs have been making comparatively few additions to the stock, until within a few days, when all accounts agree that a perceptible increase has taken place.

The wholesale market has been more moderately supplied, and as a consequence less active, all the arrivals previous to our last having been disposed of, and leaving the demand entirely dependent upon current receipts. The tone has been strong throughout on all the leading styles, and receivers appear well satisfied with the rates obtained, selling out their stocks freely whenever full market figures were bid. The local trade as before monopolizes the great bulk of the business, but exporters picking up a little lots here and there manage to make a very respectable aggregate of purchases from week to week. Eastern spruce has come forward in fair quantities, but not in excess of the demand, buyers operating with full as much freedom as last week and paying former rates quite readily whenever a desirable specification was offered, which has been a frequent occurrence, the general assortment proving very good. The local trade continue to take pretty much all the stock arriving, and are evidently not fully satisfied, yet inducing a confident feeling on the part of receivers who anticipate a quick sale for all their cargoes now due. Ruling prices, it should be remembered, however, are high, and the temptation to ship goods in this direction it is hardly possible to believe can long be resisted by manufacturers, as a liberal return in this as well as all other branches of business has the effect to increase supplies. We quote (on a basis of actual sales) at $20 @ $21 per M for ordinary to fair cargoes; $20.50 @ $22.50 for good to prime do.; and $23.00 do., for choice do. White pine is still in very fair demand from consumers and shippers, and prices well sustained on all grades, though the upper qualities are held with the greatest confidence, owing to their relative scarcity. The supplies are fair, but a large proportion of current receipts come in on contract. We quote at $20 @ $25 for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; $26 @ $30 for good to prime do.; and $32 for choice do. We are informed that the Canadian mills are all running to about their full capacity, some with orders enough to keep them busy during the balance of the season, and none in a position to take any fresh contracts for delivery before the middle or latter portion of next month. Some pretty liberal sales have recently been made on New York account, principally of the low goods; while large quantities were going on board for Europe and Australia. Piling has been less active than last week, though the aggregate of sales foots up very well, and includes lots recently chained out, as well as new arrivals. Prices as before show considerable irregularity, though on the extremes no changes can be made. We quote common Maine sticks at 6c @ 6½c.; good do. 7c.; Shulee sticks 7c @ 8c., and very choice length and thickness 8½c @ 9c., or even better, though the fancy grades have no fixed value. Yellow pine of choice size could be sold to a fair extent at some slight modification from the asking rates, but sellers refuse to accept any concession, and we learn of no important contracts closed. The common grades are very dull and quite unsettled by the cargo, but in yard all qualities are firmer, owing to the prospective small additions to the stock. We quote nominally at about $30 @ $33 per M for timber; $31.50 @ $33 for ordinary to good flooring boards; and $34 @ $35 do. choice do. in small lots. Black walnut logs in moderate demand and nominal. Eastern shingles continue dull and heavy at about $3.50 for No. 2; $4 @ $4.25 for No. 1; and $5 @ $5.25 for clear pine. Cypress shingles without animation, and still quoted nominally at $15 @ $17 per M. Sales of 1,520,000 feet Eastern spruce, at $20 @ $23 per M; about 1,000,000 feet white pine, part to arrive, at full prices; 1,100 pieces piling at 6c @ 8c. per foot; and 100,000 Cypress shingles at $13.50 for 20 inch.

We also notice shipments as follows:—To Hamburg 100 logs black walnut valued at $2,213; to British West Indies 40 bundles of shingles; to Hayti 30,000 shingles; to Antwerp 46,474 staves; to Liverpool 17,240 do; to London 32,160 do; to Bristol 9,600 do; to Glasgow 2,400 do; to British Guinea 4,575 do; to Cette 109,560 do; to Alicante 18,000 do; to Cadiz 14,400 do; to San Francisco 4,500 do, 25 bundles boards; and 387 pieces plank. The receipts reported are as follows:—From Pensacola, Fla. 130,000 feet lumber; from Darien, Ga. 139,196 feet do; from Wilmington, N. C., 25,000 staves; from Newbern N. C., 170,000 Cypress shingles; from Lepreux, N. B., 400 spiles; from Shulee, N. S., 150 spiles, and 1,600 inches spars; from Montreal a canal-boat load of lumber; from the Maine coast thirty-seven cargoes lumber, two do spars, and two do lath. The following charters have recently been made:—A schooner from Charleston to Majorca, Spain, 200,000 feet lumber at $20; a barque from Pensacola to New York with flooring boards, at $12; a schooner from Jacksonville to Boston, rough edge plank $14, or if re-sawed, $13.50; and an engagement by steamer to Bremen, of 3,000 feet lumber at 30s.

We find nothing new in our reports from any of the lumber districts this week, trade as a rule continuing slow, and values somewhat unsettled. At the close of last week the following was published in a Chicago journal:

"A decided improvement was developed in the demand, and for the first day in some weeks the sale docks were completely cleared, some twenty-five cargoes being sold during the forenoon. The buyers were mainly local dealers, who, under the belief that no further decline in prices could be expected at the present time, purchased almost to the extent of their dock accommodations. Several small and desirable offerings were also taken on interior account. The prices obtained were about the same as have prevailed since Tuesday, viz: $10 @ $12.50 for common to ordinary mixed, and $13 @ $16 for fair to extra mill-run cargoes."

We have later advices, however, stating the receipts to be liberal, considerable stock begging for customers, and prices somewhat uncertain. The following parcels were sold: From Green Bay, 175 M scantling and joist at $10; Pickets, $9; from Muskegon, 200 M mill run strips, boards, joist, and scantlings at $15.50; from Duncan, 50 M shipping culls at $8; 45 M joist and Norway boards at $11; 110 M stock boards at $18; 20 M lath at $16; from Muskegon, 110 M mill run lumber at $16; 50 M lath at $2.25, to arrive; from Manistee, about 100 M short joist and scantling at $10. At the yards trade was steady though not active, and the most of the sales made were to fill small orders.

From St. Louis we learn of sales of 250,000 Wisconsin river lumber at $17 on the bank. At the depot—2 cars green Y. P. boards at $24; 1 do dry flooring at $26.50; 3 do do at $26.50, part seasoned; 2 do. dimension at $16.50; 3 do poplar boards at $27.50, del.

From Boston we learn of a continued good demand for consumption, but rather less selling for export. Supplies fair and pretty well assorted, and prices generally steady.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.

90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—The recent reduction in price has not increased the demand for copper sheathing, and we have again to advise a very dull market, about the only sales reported being the ordinary job parcels taken by the trade to supply current necessities. Manufacturers in most cases are not compelled to realize, and hold their supplies with comparative steadiness, but an occasional parcel is to be found at something under quoted figures when payment is quick and certain. The stock is slowly increasing. We quote at $22 @ $24 for new, and 21 @ $23 for old, according to quantity. Yellow metal moderately active and values unchanged, the latest sales standing at 27 @ $29 for wholesale and retail lots. Ingot copper continues to sell in small parcels to a fair extent, but the general market has a slow dull tone, and prices though without actual change are somewhat uncertain, with an apparent tendency in buyers' favor. We quote nominally at 22 @ 22 1/2 c. per pound. Immediately following our last report the accumulation of Scotch pig iron in first hands became so large that holders were induced to name a pretty liberal concession on all grades in order to draw out buyers. The movement was successful for a short time, several pretty large sales taking place, but dealers soon became at a loss and the market has again relapsed into a dull and somewhat uncertain condition, though no further important decline is anticipated for the present. The stock and receipts are still very fair. We quote at $38 @ $42 per ton. American pig iron has continued to sell along slowly in jobbing lots as wanted for immediate use by the trade, and has shown a dull depressed tone throughout the week. Sellers refuse to quote values easier, but previous extremes cannot now be obtained, and the general offerings in a quiet way are much more liberal than in heretofore. Nominally we place No. 1 at about $41 @ $42 per ton; No. 2 at $38 @ $39 do., and forge at $36 @ $36.50 do. Bar iron from store is without animation and the whole market is in a very uncertain condition as to values. Former figures are quoted, but dealers are not disposed to adhere very closely to them if sales can be effected by naming a reasonable concession. We quote at $85.00 @ $87.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90.00 @ $92.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50 @ $142.50 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00 @ $150.00 for scroll, and $97.50 @ $155.00 for rods, 5-8 @ 3-16 inch—all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron continues quite dull on all grades, and the tone of the market heavy, with gradually increasing stocks offered pretty freely. We quote at 5 @ c. for singles, doubles, and triples, and in a retail way about 1/2 c. higher. Galvanized sheet in fair demand, and still selling at 20 @ 23 c. per cent. off list. Russia sheet iron has continued to come forward quite freely, and as buyers cannot be induced to operate except in small parcels for immediate use, holders have modified their views somewhat without, as yet, causing any reduction of stock, and the close is unsettled. We quote nominally at 10 1/2 @ 12 1/2 c. gold, according to number. Pig lead is very dull, and the feeling a little weak, though the small stock prevents any important decline, and we still quote at 6 1/2 @ 6 7/8 c. Bar lead 10 1/2 c., and sheet and pipe 12 c., less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin is entirely devoid of animation and the market simply nominal, both buyer and seller awaiting further developments in the foreign markets. We quote in coin at 29 1/2 @ 30 c. for English; 29 1/2 @ 30 c. for Straits; and 33 1/2 @ 33 3/4 c. for Banca, with the usual jobbing trade obtaining their supplies from second hands. Tin plates are neglected and nominally unchanged. Zinc is quiet, and still quoted at 12 @ 12 1/2 c. per pound from store. The latest reported imports are 110 tons iron hoop; 1,658 tons pig iron; 43,343 R. K. bars; 157 tons sheet iron; 1,074 iron tubes; 13,808 pigs of lead; 15,783 boxes tin; and 62,313 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—Cut nails have been spasmodically active during the past week, but the aggregate of business does not amount to much, and at the close we note a dull, uncertain feeling with sellers more anxious to operate than buyers. The call has been in part for export, but as before, mainly on domestic account. Manufacturers claim that values are now down as low as it will pay to produce stock at, and unless the crude material declines they will hold out for current rates until absolutely compelled to realize. Clinch also dull and unchanged in price. We quote cut at 4 1/2 @ 4 3/4 c. in large parcels; 4 3/4 c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch at about 6 1/2 @ 6 3/4 c., with choice at 6 1/2 c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5 1/2 c. @ 5 3/4 c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2 c. @ 5 3/4 c. for 5d., and 5 3/4 c. @ 6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 15c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 38c. @ 41c. for copper. The exports are 220 packages, valued at $1,363 against 87 packages, valued at $551, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 50 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market for all the leading styles paints and colors remains excessively dull and uninteresting, many dealers reporting their weekly sales as scarcely equal to a fair single day's business in ordinary times, and though the arrivals are not very large, the tendency of stocks is to increase. In some goods there is a comparative scarcity, but this has very little effect with the prevailing small outlets. Most holders are pretty strong and we learn of no changes in price, though buyers gain all the advantage usually to be found on a dull market. There is a little doing in a jobbing way on near-by country orders, but not up to the usual average, and this demand is easily supplied from stocks already in retailers' hands, prices undergoing no alteration. Glues dull and unchanged. Varnish fairly active and steady. Linseed oil early in the week was dull and further depressed, but the very low rates current soon began to attract the attention of speculators, and latterly trade has been active both in parcels, on the spot and future delivery, strengthening values considerably, though the range is still lower than at the close of our last report. The consumptive trade has been moderate, though one or two parcels were taken for export. Linseed, on the improvement in oil, is more active and firmer. Crushers ask 97c. @ 98c. in casks; and 99c. @ $1.00 in bbls., with outside lots sold at 93c. @ 96c. The exports are 91 packages paint, valued at $641; and 415 gallons linseed oil valued at $511.

PITCH.—The market is without change, except if possible, showing greater dullness than last week and prices generally in a very uncertain condition, though several lots have been sold a trifle lower by holders compelled to realize, the concessions being mainly on Southern stock. Exporters say they hold nothing except very small and unimportant orders, and the consumption on domestic account, if anything, is decreasing. The supplies are pretty liberal and well distributed. We quote at $2.75 @ $2.85 for city; $2.70 @ $3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12 1/2 @ $3.25 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 229 bbls. Exports for the week 110 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,520 bbls.; and for the same period last year, 2,203.

PLASTER PARIS.—The demand for lump has been only fair, and almost daily shows some falling off, dealers complaining of the extreme dullness and generally unsatisfactory condition of the market. Our local manufacturers are now not only well, but liberally supplied, and probably will not be obliged to operate again until towards fall; while the out-of-town trade is gradually falling off, and two good outlets have been closed by the burning of mills at Newburg, and at Newark. White lump as usual has the preference and continues to command about $4.37 1/2 @ $4.50 per ton for ordinary to good; and $4.62 1/2 @ $4.75 for very choice. Good quality of blue lump is worth about $5.50 @ $5.75 per ton, but the grades offering are mostly common and of these we hear of further sales of about 1000 tons at $3.00 @ $3.25 per ton. Calcined continues in fair local jobbing demand and is occasionally sold on country and shipping orders, but the general volume of business is in reality quite small. Prices are unchanged, but our figures represent outside cost. We quote city at $2.40 @ $2.50 per bbl., and country made $2.25 @ $2.35 do. Receipts for the week 840 tons lump. Exports of 50 bbls. calcined to British West Indies; and 200 bbls. do. to Cisplatine Republic.

SLATE.—There does not appear to be any improvement in this branch of trade on local account or for shipment, but at the West prospects begin to look a little brighter and our dealers are seeking an outlet for goods in that direction. Stocks here are ample, and at the quarries in excess of wants, causing some little weakness in wholesale values under the natural pressure to realize. Yard rates are very unsettled, and appear to be guided solely by the necessity of buyers, rendering our quotations of no other use than to give an approximate idea of values.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The demand from exporters has been rather less active during the greater portion of the week under review, and with the home trade still operating cautiously and seldom purchasing beyond current wants the market has shown a comparatively slow tone throughout. A few sales were made at an advance to 43 @ 44 c. on reports of light shipments hither, but the receipts for the week proving very liberal and late advices indicating that ruling figures were drawing out stock at the South, the market has of late shown a little depression, closing at about the rates given in our list. The sales have not been sufficient to counteract the arrivals, and the stock in yard is somewhat increased. We quote at 42 @ 42 1/2 c. for merchantable and shipping order; 42 @ 43 1/2 c. for New York bbls.; 44 @ 46 c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week, 4,402 bbls. Exports for week, 313 bbls.; since January 1st, 10,864 bbls., and for same period last year, 9,045.

TAR.—Under the influence of free arrivals the market was much depressed early in the week, and concessions in several instances accepted; but subsequently, upon the discovery that a number of the lots received came in on contract, the market became more steady, and on the prime grades which are nearly scarce a slight advance has been obtained. The demand however is not being active buyers on domestic account refusing to exceed immediate and positive wants, and exporters finding little encouragement at the moment for free operations. The stocks are pretty large, and below prime qualities very well assorted. We quote at $2.50 @ $2.60 per bbl. for North County as it runs; $2.62 1/2 @ $3.25 for Wilmington do.; $3.12 1/2 @ $3.25 for rope; and occasionally $3.50 @ $3.62 1/2 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week, 2,396 bbls. Exports for week, 60 bbls.; since January 1st, 29,260 bbls., and for the same period last year, 8,104 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending July 20, 1869, says:

Since our last report there has been a good steady trade throughout the District. Quotations have undergone but a trifling change. The receipts are fair, but continue less than those of the corresponding period last year. Stocks are fairly assorted, but there is not any accumulation.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending July 16, were 33,207,000 feet, against 23,480,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 12,736,000 feet, against 10,785,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 403,080,000 feet, against 427,987,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 317,252,000 feet, against 267,746,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending July 19th, 1869 and 1868:

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo.....	7,676,900 feet.	9,523,500 feet.
Oswego.....	9,544,200 feet.	10,471,300 feet.
Total.....	17,221,100 feet.	19,994,800 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the second week of July, were:

1869..	13,505,800	1,666
1868..	15,437,700	2,072
		440,000
		871,000

Of the Boards and Scantling received 8,695,700 feet were by the Erie, and 4,801,100 by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to July 15, were:

	1869..	1868..
Bds. & Sc't'g. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs.
1869..	139,944,100	17,081
1868..	155,180,700	15,747
		51,095
		12,946,000

The receipts of 1868 include some 11,000,000 ft. hoards and scantling detained on the canal during the winter 1867-68.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION BUILDING.

It is our intention to give a series of brief notices, critical and descriptive, of some of the most striking buildings, either now erected, or in course of erection, and we sincerely hope that we may succeed in stimulating that spirit of frank criticism and that love of the beautiful which alone can form a cultivated taste in any people. We shall, undoubtedly, find ourselves called upon to say many things not palatable to interested parties, but a just criticism is always appreciated. If, then, our strictures should be received with anything but delight by the criticized, they will consider, before accusing us of malevolence, whether they are not deserved. The new edifice, now nearly completed, belonging to the Young Men's Christian Association of this city has the advantage of a conspicuous location. Within a few blocks are some of the finest buildings in the city, and immediately opposite is the well-known and variously estimated Academy of Design, over which this erection towers, as if determined by mere mass to overshadow its sprightly vis-à-vis.

There is an unfailing rule for settling the style of New York erections. Is the building meant for Gothic, but utterly anomalous in every part, and unable to take refuge behind the skirt of even Lombard Venetian, which, like charity, covers such a multitude of sins? Then we call it Romanesque. On the other hand, is the façade an attempt at the classic, but so evidently an attempt that we cannot even lump the whole as Italian? Then we call it Renaissance. Where Scylla ends, the Charybdis of Palladio commences.

The building under consideration has a side of five windows on Fourth avenue, and a front of ten on 23d street, beside a central tower, is four stories and Mansard in height, and is built of red and yellow sandstone. The yellow stone, not quite so dark as Nova Scotia, forms the best contrast possible with the freestone, but they are used in such a singular way, that all pleasure is spoiled, as the mind is perpetually trying to solve the conundrum. Is it red faced with yellow, or is it yellow trimmed with red? The design, as a whole, in accordance with the rule laid down above, is a Renaissance one, treated as the immediate predecessors of Inigo Jones treated their Italian models; that is to say, with a profusion of jewelled ornaments, scrolls, rosetts, cut-work, &c., fluting archivolts, blocking columns, stopping entablatures, and taking innumerable other liberties which gave to the mass that changing Gothic effect, preferable in their eyes, and in our own, to the monotony of column and arch repeated ad nauseam. The motif is good. The large central bay is crowned by a high curved Mansard roof, with windows on three sides, as also the corner tower on 23d st., the two towers at each end of the 4th av. front being surmounted by straight Mansards, like the rest of the building. The centre tower or bay on 23d st. is the feature of the whole, and would be very striking were it allowed more projection, and were the windows rightly proportioned, instead of apparently crushing down the entrance by their mass of cumbersome architrave. Everywhere there is the same notable want of attention to details. Not that they are bad in themselves, but they have the appearance of having been designed without regard to each other. The whole front has the look of a general design, good in itself, but overcrowded in parts, cut up into pieces, and with a peculiar want of harmony. The main entrance, for instance, is lower, by the addition of an architrave, than any other opening on that side; either of the openings of the towers on the first story front would have done better; the window above this, too, presents an absurd appearance contrasted with the openings above it. In fact, the central feature is entirely wanting in dignity. We see a break and a jumble—nothing more. The whole front is overcrowded. There is too much yellow stone, too much want of variety; the effect is that of Broadway store-fronts, not of a real, true attempt at fitting to our times and requirements a particular style of architecture. This neglect of detail is inexcusable on the part of men who could and did build Booth's Theatre and the Catholic Cathedral, but is to be expected from the architect of the New York Free Academy. That he has acquired variety, not knowledge, in 20 years, is certainly his own fault; he has had, in the mean time, enough practice. Ill-designed details, key-stones too big by one-third for their arches, discord where there should be harmony—these are inexcusable.

One noticeable feature is the fact that, like all New York buildings, the fronts alone are meant for show, and the sides simply carried up in brick. Now we would ask the architects why the tower finishing the 23d street front is equipped with a blank window on this blank side? If the next house is not built up, it calls attention to a naked brick wall; and if it were built up, it would be covered from our disgust; in either case it is not only useless, but tasteless.

OUR BUILDING STONES.

ALTHOUGH a very great number of the readers of the RECORD are thoroughly posted in regard to the subject of constructive materials, there are many to whom a little information in regard to the various kinds of stones, marbles, and granites used in building our public and private dwellings, will prove not only interesting but instructive. In the present article we propose to give a short description of the various kinds of stones used in our buildings. We shall first remark that all the stones are systematically arranged, scientifically, under the title mineralogy, and they are subdivided, for economy's sake, into the following classifications, viz: The Dolomite, Granite, Marble, Sandstone, Porphyry, and Slate. In the present article we shall preface our remarks by a cursory glance at all the prominent stones used in this city, such as THE CONNECTICUT BROWN SANDSTONE, from the Middlesex quarry, and which is much used in this and other cities, and is that of which the Metropolitan Hotel and Brandreth House are constructed.

The following are a few of the stones we use in the construction of our first-class dwellings:

THE FALL RIVER SANDSTONE, which is a lighter shade of brownstone than the Connecticut color, and a finer grain than the Middlesex quarry stone. This material is used on two churches on Madison avenue, and a church on the corner of 35th street and Lexington avenue.

THE BELVILLE (N.J.) STONE is of a still lighter color, and a finer-grained sandstone than either of the above, and is much used in church edifices.

THE DORCHESTER STONE is a fine-grained liver-rock, clear rich olive color, such as the Historical Society's Library, the Mechanics' Bank, the Times Building, and Mr. Astor's house on fifth avenue, are built of. Claflin's store is also constructed of this material.

THE OHIO LIMESTONE was lately introduced, and is used in contrast with other stone, for trimmings, &c.

THE TUCKAHOE EAST CHESTER WHITE MARBLE is also much used, and is of a clear white and fine crystallized appearance. It was first used in this city on A. T. Stewart's wholesale store in Chambers street, and since on his new mansion on 34th street and fifth avenue, and on many buildings throughout the city. Marbles are also furnished from the quarries of Dover, Hastings, White Plains.

THE SOAPSTONE, a veined marble, has been experimented on in 28th street, near 5th avenue, but it has not met the approval of that fickle corporation called the "public;" owing possibly to an acquired dulness of color, consequent on exposure.

THE QUINCY GRANITE was very much used some twenty years ago in the lower and business portions of the city. It is of a dark-blue color, and is the best to resist frost and chemical tests. The present Custom House (formerly the Merchants' Exchange), in Wall street, is built of this stone, so also several banks in the same street, and stores in Pearl, South, Front, and Water streets.

THE LOCKPORT AND SYRACUSE LIMESTONE is of a whitish gray, and is considered exceedingly durable. We have seen it on the Women's Hospital in 50th street, and have often paused to admire it, as it forms such a very agreeable contrast with the brick material.

THE ABERDEEN GRANITE possesses a fine red color, and it takes a very high polish, and is used in columns and monuments, and in shafts of columns, panels, and capitals. It may be seen, but not to its best effect, on the building portico of Brown, Bro., & Co's. banking house in Wall street, and on Dr. Hastings' church in 42d street, Reservoir square.

THE CAEN AND AUBIGUL STONE is of cream color, but it is by no means a favorite. It can be seen on the Hotel St. Germain in 22d street and Broadway, the Nassau Bank, corner of Nassau and Beekman streets, and on Dr. Bellows' church, corner of 4th avenue and 20th street. It has been used also to decorate the interior of Trinity Chapel in 26th street.

A new MASSACHUSETTS GRANITE has been introduced by two Boston architects recently removed to New York, on the new building corner of Cedar street and Broadway, which belongs to the Equitable Life Insurance Company. It is exceeding durable, but by no means handsome, neither will its appearance improve by the flight of years. It is very apt to get surface wrinkles from rain and snow water, and from wasting icicles.

THE POTSDAM SANDSTONE is from Malone, New York State, and is of a blue micaceous veined color. It possesses the quality of being capable of being cleaved into elastic plates of extreme thinness, and is generally more or less transparent, as the term micaceous would indicate.

ACHILLES, PETER, CERBERUS.

SOME very amusing and entertaining incidents transpired at the meeting, on last Wednesday evening, of the New York Draughtsmen's, Architects, and Designers' Association. General James Longstreet, of the late defunct Confederate army, was present, and addressed the young gentlemen there assembled, on fortifications. The General was very absurd, and sarcastically inclined in many of his remarks. "Pistols and coffee" were being introduced, when the General showed the white feather, and skedaddled.

The meeting having been called to order by the able President, the financial department was the first question on the tapis, in regard to a small matter of $8. The old lady down stairs was in a perfect fever of excitement, and desired "the scrubbing and cleaning bill" to be paid. The treasurer was absent, and there were no funds in the already collapsed financial department of this architectural faculty. After the society's meetings had been frequently troubled with incessant and almost interminable "duns," a member volunteered to go down stairs and see the "good lady" of the house, a Mrs. Connolly, who was in such a sad state of impecuniosity; and he reported that the "good old dame" had kindly consented to take even half the large sum due her, being in the aggregate eight dollars, which, after much deliberation and discussion, was paid, the receipt being taken down four flights of stairs for the "old lady's signature;" while PETER, the boy, held the keys of the Plutonic architectural regions, threatening a "lock-up" to the whole company, or immediate excommunication. Peter returned, jingling the keys, and often did he stride those stairs, when the President of this opulent organization suggested that one of the members should act as the CERBERUS of the Draughtsmen's confines. Considerable confusion occurred, and never yet did we see a fine set of talented young artists look so nonplussed.

THE opening of the new railroad to Newark affords another outlet which will be largely taken advantage of by people who are compelled to do business down town. Newark is destined in time to be a very great city; and the three roads which now connect it with New York will in future have all the business they can do; but the fare ought not to be more than ten cents. Passenger trains in time will run every quarter of an hour, and if the rate is low enough, the business to be done is incalculable. Outside of the large cities there is no locality growing so rapidly as is Essex County, New Jersey. In time the top and sides of the Orange Mountains will be full of tasteful residences, while all the plain between those mountains and New York Bay will be one continuous village, or rather city. One of the enterprises in the not very distant future is a railroad bridge from New York City to Weehawken Heights, which will connect, of course, with all the railroads running to Newark and beyond. When that is done, the Orange Mountains will be within half an hour's ride of New York City. Although underground and elevated railroads will do much to check the exodus of business people from this city to find residences, yet for all that nothing can readily prevent the growth of an enormous population upon the opposite Jersey shore. If we could only revisit this earthly sphere one hundred years from now, we should find an immense population stretching back from the Hudson River to the Orange Mountains. That child is born that will see New York and its suburbs with a population of three millions of people, one million of whom will be on the Jersey shore.

We learn that the West Side Elevated Railroad is now an assured success. Capitalists have made inquiries into the practicability of this enterprise, and are so assured of its value that all the money that the company needs has been tendered; and if five times as much as that called for was needed, it would be forthcoming. The motive power on this road will not admit of very great speed, but it will certainly be three times as fast as the horse cars, and will render available all the region west of the park for building purposes. The West-Side Association are much interested in this enterprise, as well they may be, as it will add enormously to the value of property north and west of the Central Park.

It is expected to be in running order as far as Thirtieth street about the first of October, and will undoubtedly be complete up as far as Central Park by next summer. When this much is accomplished something will have been done to check the migration of our business population to the Jersey shore. Of course, the suburban towns in New Jersey will continue to grow, but New Yorkers would prefer to live on their own island, if they can reach their business haunts below Canal street in anything like reasonable time. A railroad such as this elevated road proposes to be would add one hundred and fifty thousand to our population in two years' time; that is to say, it would bring into use real estate on this island, for building purposes, which would otherwise be unused. All who are interested in real estate must wish success to the Elevated Road.

THE usurers of Wall street are not to be compared, in point of cuteness in getting around the usury law, with many of the sharks who belong to our Fire and Life Insurance Companies. We understand that the price of money for one, two, or three years from many of our Life Insurance Companies is seven per cent. per annum and a policy of insurance on the life of the individual soliciting the loan. A friend of ours a short time ago had occasion to raise some $40,000 on some first-class real estate. Upon making application to an Insurance Company of this city, he was coolly informed that if he would take an endowment policy for ten years on his life his application for money would undoubtedly be granted. He took the policy and procured his loan. Many brokers have a custom, when lodging their application, to endorse upon it that a policy on the life of the applicant would be taken for one year in case the loan was successful. Wouldn't it be well for the District Attorney to look into this sharp practice?

THE New York Express comes to a very sensible conclusion when it says:—

"Many are expecting to see a large depreciation in real estate in this city this fall, but they will probably see their mistake ere long. Real estate may not be as active as it was last year, but there is no reason to suppose that much change in price will take place. As a general thing, the owners are able to hold on, even though for a protracted period the demand should be slack. On the whole, and after a full survey of the entire field, we may come to the conclusion that the fall business throughout the country will be large and profitable, and that this city, as usual, will command its full share. It will not do to expect the profits of business to be what they were before and during the war, for the reason that the contributions to the Government are so large in the shape of taxation, that net profits must necessarily be restricted until relief comes from government contributions."

It is impossible to keep down the price of real estate in New York City. There may be dull seasons, but the metropolis is so situated that the price of its real estate must constantly enhance.

It is reported that Mr. A. T. Stewart, in his purchase of Hempsted Plains, had an eye not only to future improvements and the corresponding enhancement of the value of the land, but that he knew what very few others suspected, namely that before building a house on it he would be able to sell the earth removed for the foundation, for Peruvian guano, as the turf soil closely resembles that article, and is recommended by the gentlemen of the Farmers' Club. So we may expect soon to see Stewart's Long Island guano in the market.

THE Sixth Avenue Railroad Company have taken the first steps towards the exclusive use of Varick street, and of Sixth Avenue to 59th street. During the last two or three months the old rail, which was really no inconvenience to a carriage, has been taken up, and a new one laid down which practically excludes any kind of a vehicle from being run on the track except the cars of the company. We believe there is a law which regulates the kind of track to be used by the city car companies, and if there be one we trust it will be put into execution, and the company be made to take up the present destructor of carriages and of public travel.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—There has been a very good market for hard brick during the past week, with little or no variation in the general range of prices, and up to the close of this report receivers have been enabled to prevent any important accumulation of stock. The direct demand for immediate consumption has not been very large, but many builders are commencing to buy a few odd lots from time to time, and pile them up for future use, while jobbers who are somewhat distant from the principal points of supply in this city, are ordering an extra cargo or two to be prepared for any call that may arise. Considerable discrimination is used in making selections, but when buyers can be assured that a load is just as represented, they pay extreme figures quite readily. If any suspicions of "topping off" prevail, however low, figures are insisted upon, and generally have to be granted in order to effect sales. We should quote selected and very choice parcels at $10 per M, but about $8.50 to $9.50 for the ordinary run of good to prime Haverstraw brick, and $7 to $7.50 per M for common grades of "up river" make. Jersey-made goods come forward in about the usual proportion, and are comparatively steady, with a little more rapid sale for the best lots. We quote at $6.50 to $8 per M. Pale brick have continued quite irregular, and though selling to some extent, have come forward in pretty large quantities, making it necessary to pile up a considerable amount of stock. The quotations range from about $5 to $6 per M, but only A1 quality reaches the outside figure. Taken altogether, the brick trade has done very well during the past month, and we find a few dealers inclining to the opinion that the market has seen its lowest and worst point, and some predict an early advance. It is confidently asserted that manufacturers are determined to work values to a higher level, and that they have already commenced the campaign by reducing the amount of supplies allowed to come to this market, and four or five yards have stopped producing entirely. This policy is all very good if it can be made general, or if a continued output of brick can be assured; but with large quantities on hand near the point of production, and the probability that increased cost will reduce the demand, there is some doubt as to the movement for a rise being more than temporarily successful. We shall see. For Croton fronts the demand is still quite free, and good lots firm at full previous rates, viz: $16 to $18 per M, according to shade, but one or two common parcels have been sold at a slight modification from the above. Philadelphia fronts without important change, dealers still quoting at $35 to $38 per M, by cargo; and $45 to $48 in small parcels.

CEMENT.—For all the desirable brands of Rosendale the market still shows much steadiness with a good fair business doing, and no accumulation of stock at any point calculated to cause inconvenience to holders. The Eastern buyers are, as before, the best customers, their fresh purchases from day to day footing up quite liberal, beside which they are taking large amounts on previous contract. For California the shipments continue very fair, and a few additional orders have come to hand this week and for the Southern coastwise ports there is a little stock going forward, though the movement in the latter direction is much retarded as usual at this season of the year by the high cost of freight accommodation. Our local dealers are not buying very liberally, as the consumptive demand has fallen off somewhat, but in odd parcels considerable activity prevails, the pipe manufacturers still calling for stock, and builders wanting more than usual by using cement one and two stories above foundations. Manufacturers are producing without interruption, and generally remain quite firm. Bids are asked by the government for the delivery of 20,000 bbls. for the use of the proposed New York Post Office building, the award to be made to-day, though the stock will probably not be required until after the regular business season has closed. We quote at $2 per hbl. delivered here; and $1.90 do delivered at Rondout. Shipments of 1,100 bbls. to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Two or three exporters have been "looking around" the market, and in some cases buying odd parcels of desirable stock, and a moderate call has prevailed from jobbers, which, together have partially broken the monotony of the previous few weeks. The wholesale market, however, has not been by any means active, and dealers as a rule are dissatisfied with trade, and with the exception of some of the most desirable styles, complain that the goods offering realize only a bare living profit. The sales have been rather in excess of the receipts, and the stock is somewhat reduced, though still fairly assorted from previous comparatively few arrivals. On prices there appears to be no important variation, but the turn, if anything, is in buyers' favor, particularly on common stock, if sold for net cash. From yard in some sections of the city, there has been rather more selling in a general way to local manufacturers, with a few dealers reporting light country orders, and as a rule previous values were obtained. In most cases retailers are well supplied with stock of fair average quality. The exports are as follows: To Bremen 107 pieces mahogany, value $500; to Palermo 155 pieces mahogany, value $1,197, and 45 logs rosewood, value $1,716. The receipts are as follows: From Porto Cabello 26 tons lignumvite; from Monte Christi 6 logs, and 6 crotches mahogany; from Calbayuew 18 logs cedar; from Havana 30 logs cedar; from Chooon, W. C. A 397 pieces ebony; from Curacao 33 tons lignumvite; from Rio Janeiro 1,333 pieces rosewood; from Santa Anna 202 logs mahogany; and from San Francisco 272 sticks lignumvite.

GLASS.—As a general rule the market for foreign window glass remains quite dull, but a few dealers have found some increase of trade during the past week, and the tone is a trifle more hopeful than at the date of our last. The position could scarcely be better for a resumption of business, the stocks in the hands of importers footing up large and showing an excellent assortment, and values about as low as they can be forced without entailing a considerable loss upon sellers. Receipts have been quite liberal, but it is understood that orders have gone forward to check the shipments in this direction as much as possible, until a more liberal outlet presents itself. The light call above referred to has been mainly from near-by country dealers, Western and Southern operators remaining quiet. We still quote English at 35 to 45 per cent. off list; and French 40 to 55 per cent. do. American glass continues in very good jobbing demand on home interior account, and with the production kept as low as possible, the stock does not greatly increase. Prices irregular, but may be quoted within the range of 50 to 60 per cent. off regular list rated. The latest importations reported are 3,688 packages glass, value $8,167; and 121 plate glass, value $16,965.

LABOR.—The supply of laborers is probably a trifle greater than the demand, but the excess is mainly among the unskilled and inferior, who are naturally obliged during the dull season to give place to those who have taken pains to perfect themselves in the particular craft to which they may have become attached. During the past two or three weeks a few strikes have occurred among workmen, mostly of an unimportant character, and in nearly all cases settled in favor of employers. The mechanics and laborers directly connected with the building interests, however, have shown a remarkable disinclination to inaugurate any movement calculated to produce an open rupture between themselves and employers, and the eight-hour law, increased wages, &c., are now seldom if ever mentioned. The fact is, the causes which workmen have always claimed as a necessity for strikes are rapidly disappearing, and they have in reality nothing upon which to combine for the purpose of extorting further concessions from the employing interest. All articles of general consumption have materially fallen off in value, and the income of consumers is proportionately increased. Flour does not cost one-half as much as two years ago, and some grades are down to ante-war prices; wheat and corn are comparatively cheap, with good average crop prospects; beef, mutton, and veal are selling low, and never were more plenty, while the present and prospective supply of vegetables and fruits is simply immense. Rents also, the advances in which it may be well to remark, en passant, were caused in a great measure by the striking proclivities of the workmen engaged in the erection of buildings, are off, in some cases, to the extent of twenty-five per cent.; and taken altogether, the prospects for easy living during the approaching winter are much more encouraging than at any time since 1861. That the careful and frugal portion of the working classes are not running behind in prosperity, even during the present dull season, is evinced by the liberal business and large increase of depositors at all the principal savings institutions in the city. The introduction of Chinese labor into this country is the cause of considerable comment pro and con by the press, west, east and south, and is also beginning to excite the apprehension of workmen, who are disposed to look upon the movement with hostility. It is thought that the laborers from the Flowery Kingdom will under-work and eventually supersede the skilled native mechanic, but the following from the Chicago Tribune is a very sensible countervailing argument. It says: "We regard this species of hostility to cheap labor just as shortsighted and mistaken in its aim as the old enmity of labor unions to the introduction of new machinery and mechanical inventions. If China sends over 1,000,000 of workmen and women within five years, we shall need the services of at least 100,000 American workmen as foremen to manage their work, and 20,000 or 30,000 more, who might have remained laborers without this cheaper supply of foreign labor, will become employers, contractors, and capitalists. The mistake the members of the trades-unions make is in supposing that they are to be always working for wages merely. This may be the condition in some countries, but it is not here. They should be aiming to direct, instruct, and command the Chinese labor, instead of to compete with it, and continue forever on the dead level of common journeymen. There is a vast amount of plodding, material, sluggish, brainless toil to be done, which Americans must do themselves in the degree that they exclude immigration of any kind, but which they, by their superior intellectuality, get rid of doing by means of the immigrant cheap labor, to which they give intellectual direction."

From Newark we learn that the employing masons in that city have agreed to reduce the wages of their journey men from $4.50 to $4.00 per day after the first of August.

LATH.—A comparatively liberal business is reported for the week, but we note the same tone of irregularity referred to in our last, with the turn, however, a little more in buyers' favor. Receivers have evidently tried every means in their power to infuse some life and animation into the market, but met with only a limited response from buyers, and the bulk of the transactions were at a lower average than last week, say about $2.55 to $2.60. Several lots were reported at $2.65, and this figure was undoubtedly realized, but in many cases the terms of delivery, &c., were such as to actually reduce the amount netted by the sellers 5c. to 10c. per M. On the other hand, sales were made at $2.50 per M. mostly job lots to be sure, but in one or two cases the amounts parted with at the latter figure were quite large. At the close, the feeling is still somewhat unsettled, and prices to a great extent nominal. Sales of 2,950,000 at $2.50 to 2 65 for spruce; and $2.00 to 2 20 for hemlock. The yard trade is fair, but shows no further increase, and dealers are not inclined to add materially to their supplies at present.

LIME.—There has been a fair demand for Rockland stock during the week under review, and we again note a pretty general closing out of cargoes from first hands, leaving the market entirely bare of any goods afloat as we make out this report. The proportion of lump, as before, has been very small, and on this grade prices have remained steady at $175 per bbl., but on common there has been a reduction to $1.15 to make a quick sale for the cargoes at hand, and prevent if possible the continued forwarding of larger amounts of the quality in question than were required for current wants of trade. Whether manufacturers will take the hint or not remains to be seen, but if their previous assertions that they had no margin at $1.25 were true, it is hardly to be expected that the production will be continued at a downright loss. We understand that the kilns generally are in a good condition, and that the manufacture could be increased to a liberal extent, nothing being wanted but an outlet for the lime. The northern limes have followed the eastern in price, and met with some inquiry from regular buyers, but as a rule the market is without animation, and except on the very best grades, outside figures cannot be obtained. The receipts are moderate, though at times exceeding the demand, and stock has accumulated to some little extent. Nine cargoes reported from Rockland this week.

LUMBER.—We continue to find an occasional report of a fair amount of life at the retail yards, but taken altogether, the actual aggregate of business transacted from day to day is small, and dealers are still hoping, as they have been doing since the commencement of the season, that trade is to improve within a very short time and a healthier state of affairs generally prevail. Prices in the meantime are very well sustained as far as the ordinary course of trade goes, as most of our dealers are not overburdened with stock, and financially strong enough to make a pressure to realize unnecessary; but there is not that close adherence to quoted figures noticeable on a quick, active market, and first-class customers frequently find that a little negotiation gives them rather more favorable terms. The call, as usual of late, is mainly of a local character and for builders' use or the manufacturing interests connected therewith, though we learn of one or two country buyers operating in this market as affording them a quicker means of procuring such small lots as they required for immediate use, than at any other point. The stocks have not been greatly increased by Northern or Western lumber, but dealers who make a specialty of Eastern goods have added somewhat to their supply and assortment. As a rule holders of lumber in this city have a stock about suited to their trades, but we find a few out of well-seasoned lumber, and rather regretting that they did not purchase more freely early in the season. Such of the most desirable lots as remain at Albany or other points are held at such high figures as to be virtually out of the market. The business at Albany does not improve and the market generally is flat, though with the continued light arrivals dealers are bolstering trade as much as possible, and as far as quotations go values are unchanged. It is a well understood fact, however, that lumber is very abundant at all points of production, and nothing but stormy weather, bad roads, &c., have thus far kept back receipts, and that ultimately we must have an immense rush of stock, which cannot fail to break down prices unless an unexpected contracting outlet should present itself. Even now a very little negotiation suffices to obtain a reduction, and we know of offerings within a few days to New York buyers at $2.00 to $3.00 per M below the regular quoted rates, without tempting any purchasers of consequence, as our dealers, in view of the position, are unwilling to handle any more goods than they can use to immediate advantage.

Our wholesale market, with very liberal supplies of certain standard grades, has been quite active, and all things considered has remained pretty steady, sellers disposing of their offerings upon arrival or soon after, and finding only moderate concessions necessary in order to induce buyers to operate. Dealers, however, have in many cases become fairly stocked up, and latterly more caution and closer discrimination on schedules have been developed. The export trade has continued about up to the average, though some shippers complain of the difficulty experienced in securing reasonable freight accommodation. Eastern spruce has continued to arrive with freedom, over twenty cargoes coming in during one day alone, but notwithstanding the liberal offerings everything has apparently found a market, and good timber, in most cases, realized prices well up to the average of last week. Some receivers, however, a little alarmed at the accumulation of stock, and fearful of not being able to realize quickly, have shaded a trifle, and a number of poor specifications being necessarily sold low, our inside figures are reduced. We quote at $15.00 to $19.00 per M for inferior and common; $20.00 to $21.00 for fair to good random cargoes; $21.50 to $22.00 for prime, and really choice long sticks would sell even higher, say $22.50 to $23.00 per M. Towards the close a few signs of weakness have manifested themselves, as dealers appear to be buying less eagerly and the above figures are full quotations. We hear the usual reports of small amounts in transit, but there is every reason to believe that as long as an outlet is offered for timber at current rates, it will be permitted to come forward. White pine presents no new features of much interest. Holders are all firm in their views, particularly on the upper qualities of shipping boards, and previous rates are continued as the current quotations. The additions to the available stock have been small and not generally of a desirable quality, with no important increase looked for, for several weeks to come. The home demand is mainly of a jobbing character, but a few fair-sized parcels have been contracted for by exporters. We quote at $20.00 to $25.00 for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; $25.00 to $30.00 for good to prime do.; and $32.00 for choice do. Piling has been in fair demand, but the supplies have again come forward rather faster than they were wanted, and receivers have found it necessary to put even some of the most desirable lots in chains. Prices remain about as before, however, and we quote at 60¢ for the ordinary average; 7½¢ for prime and extra, and 9¢ for choice. Yellow pine has been a little more active and at full prices, the strengthening tone on freights producing a confident feeling on the part of holders. We quote at $30.00 to $33.00 per M for timber; $31.50 to $33.00 for ordinary to good flooring boards; and $34.00 to $35.00 for choice do. Eastern shingles dull and nominally unchanged. Southern shingles are a drag on the market and values uncertain, though the asking figures at $15.00 to $17.00 for two foot shingles. Sales of 3,150,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18.00 to $22.00 per M; 280,000 feet yellow pine at $34.00 to $35.00 per M, and 1,600 pces piling at 60¢ to 8½¢ per foot. Recent purchases on foreign account have been going on board quite freely, and the exports for the week are larger than for any corresponding period since January 1st.

We also notice shipments as follows: to Hamburg 135 logs black walnut, valued at $3,088; to Bremen 3,000 feet lumber, value $250; to Palermo 106 pieces plank, value $288; to Hayti 50 bundles shingles, value $140; to Peru 1,118 pieces bridge material, value $63,000; and 1,518 pieces car material, value $36,800; to Hamburg 6,000 staves; to Liverpool 7,400 do.; to London 20,700 do.; to Glasgow 4,000 do.; to Dieppe 11,984 do.; to Vigo 15,600 do.; to Oporto 1,600 do.; to Palermo 3,000 do.; to Chili 15,000 do.; to Peru 14,400 do.; to San Francisco 19,401 do., 715 pieces plank, and 1,055 pieces lumber. We learn of shipments from San Francisco to Callao of 181,000 feet lumber, and 26,515 R. K. ties. The receipts reported at this point are as follows: From Apalachicola 190,000 feet lumber; from Jacksonville, Fla., 400,000 feet lumber; from St. Andrews, N. B., 400 R. K. sleepers; from St. Georges, N. B., 340 spruce poles, 105,000 feet lumber, and 46,000 lath; from Hillsboro, N. B., 125,000 feet lumber; from Lepreaux, N. B., 400 spruce poles; from St. John, N. B., 165,517 feet timber, 26,793 do. deals, and 176,200 lath; from Shulce, N. S., 2,375 pieces piling, and 1,100 inches spars; from Two Rivers, N. S., 524 spars, 122 poles, 90 pea sticks, and 400 spiles; and from the Maine coast forty-nine cargoes lumber, and one do spilling. We note the following recent engagements and charters: To Havre, by steamer, 100 tons walnut, at $8; a Br. bark, 231 tons, to Buenos Ayres, lumber, at $18.50; and measurement goods 18½¢ per foot and primeage; a Br. brig from Shelburne, N. S., to Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, with lumber, at $16.50; a bark from Pensacola to New York, with re-sawed lumber, at $12; a ship from River St. Lawrence to west coast South America, lumber, on private terms; a bark, 230 tons, to Gibsaltar and Malaga, staves, &c., and hack, $4.50 currency; a brig from Bangor to Canary Islands, with lumber, at $1.100; a bark (now at New Orleans) from Pensacola to River Plate, with 300,000 feet lumber, at $21; and a brig from Pensacola to New York, with 130,000 feet lumber, at $12.

The Western markets all continue quite dull, and as a rule values are unsettled, with the tendency, if anything, towards a lower range. A great many dealers are keeping, their courage up by very hard whistling, and speak hopefully of an improvement later in the season, attributing the present stagnation to small supplies and poor assortments. It is a noticeable fact, however, that all the demands are met with ease, and that frequently stock remains a considerable time unsold, even when offered at reduced figures; and if they be in this position now, it is hardly reasonable to anticipate an improvement during the next two months, when it is generally understood that immense amounts of lumber will certainly come forward, the production having been retarded up to the present time by the unfavorable condition of the weather, etc.

A recent Chicago report says:

"The only preventative from a successful stagnation of all business at the Exchange to-day was the occasional arrival of a cargo of common lumber from the East shore. One half or thereabouts of the small fleet accumulated was sold at prices ranging with the present offering rates, and the balance, by general consent, was picketed in reserve to 'spot' the expected buoyancy of the next week's trades. Country dealers continue to purchase short, as the almost impassable roads compel the transportation of small wagon jags only, to meet the present demand. The docks are full, and excepting the stock of choice lumber, the assortment is good. Fair to choice mill run was firm at $12 to $14. Common boards and strips dull at $9 to $11. A saved shingles quiet at $3, float, and $3.12 to $3.37½ on track. Lath unchanged, with a moderate inquiry at $2 to $2.25."

From Milwaukee we learn that a very good business is doing, and about former rates are current. 45,120 feet scantling and joist, largely 18 and 20 feet, at $12, deck load timber at $12 for under and $15 for 24 feet and over; 65 M deck load 18 feet plank at $12, hold full mill run, scantling and joist at $10.25; hold full 65 M mixed rafted at $11, lath at $2; 150 M mill run at $12; 49,800 feet coarse common mixed at $10; 85,684 feet mill run, cut from common logs, at $11.50 for strips, $10.50 for boards, and $10 for 2 inch; 18 M lath at $2; 62 M mill run at $8 for culls, $11 for common, and $30 for 3 inch uppers; 150 M mill run strips and boards at $13; 100 M scantling and joist at $11.

At Boston there is no change to notice in lumber. The demand is fair and the sales have been at previous prices.

Boston prices are as follows:

Clear pine $75 to $80 for No. 1; $65 to $70 for No. 2; $55 to $60 for No. 3; $38 to $42 for No. 4; and $28 to $32 for No. 5. Coarse pine $20 to $22 for No. 5; and $13 to $16 for refuse. Shipping boards $21 to $22; Spruce $16.00 to $18.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $10 to $12 for refuse. Hemlock boards $13.00 to $15.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $9 to $10 for refuse.

At Baltimore the market is very dull for all description and we quote as before, viz.: Carolina yellow pine flooring at $19 to $20, and Georgia do. at $22 to $24 per M, with the tendency downward.

A recent Savannah report is as follows:

"TIMBER.—A few rafts have arrived this week, but the supply is totally inadequate to the demand. We hear of plenty of timber being cut and ready to come to market, but low water in rivers and creeks will not permit. Quotations are nominal. Lumber—The mills in the country are all at work. But one city mill is at work, the supply of timber not being large enough to keep more going. Orders are offering freely at good prices."

The freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to New York $10.00 to $10.50, lumber $9. Timber to Boston $11, lumber $10. Timber to Philadelphia $9.50 to $10, lumber $8.50. Lumber to Baltimore $7.50. To Eastern ports, lumber, $10 to $11.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $5 to $12.00 per M. feet for mill timber, $10 to $15 for small shipping do., and $14 to $20 for large do. Lumber $20 to $22 for ordinary sizes; $25 to $30 for difficult sizes, and $24 to $26 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber, $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4 to $5 per M.

Charleston prices as follows: Steam sawed $5.00 to $30.00 per M; boards and scantling, $24.00 to $25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00 to $38.00; mill timber, $6.00 to $8.00; and shipping, $11.00 to $12.00.

We clip the following from a circular published at Liverpool (Eng.), by A. F. & D. Mackay, under date of July 8, 1869:

"Since our Annual Circular, dated 1st February, 40 vessels, 29,373 tons register, wood-laden, have arrived from British North America, viz.: 7 from Quebec, 29 from St. John, N. B., and 14 from other ports; at the same date last year, 28 vessels, 24,295 tons, had arrived.

"Wood, like most other branches of trade which are deeply affected by the condition of affairs in the manufacturing districts, continues without animation. The dullness, however, which has prevailed for a considerable time has not become more marked, and the improved prospects held out in several of the other branches of industry encourage the expectation of improvement in this direction also. The import from British North America up to the present time is moderate, and if this characteristic, coupled with reasonable freights, continues to animate the market, a fair amount of remunerative trade may not unreasonably be calculated on. Should an excessive import and high freights become the rule, a correspondingly depressed state of the market for wood may naturally be expected to ensue.

"Pitch Pine.—Of this article the stock is large, reaching 873,000 cubic feet, against 790,000 at the same time last year. Several cargoes have been sold on private terms; a fair estimate of the prices obtained may be formed from the following quotations: A prime cargo of 80 feet average, from Savannah, sold at 16½¢ per foot; and a rejected cargo of 90 feet average, from Pensacola, at 15½¢ per foot.

"Pitch pine, per cubic foot, 1s 4d@1s 6d; oak logs, white, 2s@2s 2d; oak planks, 1s 6d@1s 9d; staves, white oak pipe per M, 420@40; hoghead, £15@30; barrel, £12@15."

METALS.—Copper sheathing has met with some little jobbing demand during the week, but not enough to cause any unusual stir in the market, or to make much of an impression on the stock. Former prices were obtained, and there is a nominally steady tone, though sellers are evidently more anxious to operate than buyers. The production is moderate at all points, but manufacturers are in a position to meet any ordinary call. We quote at 32¢@34¢, for new, and 22¢@23¢, for old, according to quantity. Yellow metal in fair retail request, and prices steady at 27¢@29¢, for wholesale and retail parcels. Ingot copper remains in a dull, heavy condition, with more stock offering than there is any immediate outlet for, and though the purchases have as yet been too small for buyers to gain any important advantage, to sell freely holders would accept a decline. We quote nominally at about 22¢@22½¢, per pound. Some further concessions in price and continued free offering induced a pretty active trade in Scotch pig iron during the early portion of the week. Importers, however, having worked off considerable surplus stock, and finding current arrivals less liberal, are now devoid of any unusual desire to realize, and as we close, the market has a strong uniform tone. The demand has been almost entirely from the general trade. We quote at $37.50@ $35 per ton for ordinary, and $39@ $42 for good to choice. American pig iron meets with a fair average demand only, but nearly all holders are offering supplies in a moderate manner, and prices are sustained quite easily; in fact, the tone, if anything, is rather stiffer than last week, and outside rates are now insisted upon for such parcels as are wanted. We quote at $41@ $42 per ton for No. 1; $38@ $39 for No. 2; and $36@ $36.50 for No. 3. Bar iron from store is still in a very dull and stagnant condition, with no regular basis for quotations, dealers fixing prices according to the circumstances under which they may be lucky enough to accomplish a sale, though generally giving buyers the advantage. For want of something better, former figures are retained, but they must be considered entirely nominal. We quote at $85@ $87.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90@ $92 for refined do; $140 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@ $142.50 for ovals and half rounds; $120@ $150 for scroll; and $97.50@ $135 for rods 5-8@3-16 inch—all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron presents no new or interesting features, the moderate trade doing being entirely confined to small parcels as wanted for immediate use by jobbers, for which about previous rates are paid. We quote at 5¢@6¢, for singles, doubles, and trebles, and in a retail way about ½¢ higher. Galvanized sheet steady at 20¢@25 per cent. off list, with a good business doing. Russia sheet iron has not been inquired after to any extent, and values are still somewhat weak and uncertain, though in view of the more moderate additions to the stock, holders are not pressing sales. We quote, still somewhat nominally, at 10½¢@12½¢, gold, according to number. Pig lead is in fair supply, the demand moderate and the market without much general strength, though former prices are still current, say about 6½¢@6¢. Bar lead 10½¢, and sheet and pipe 12¢, less 6 per cent. to the trade. Pig tin is quoted about as before, but the demand does not improve, and the large parcels remain unbroken in store. Jobbers are the only buyers, and they find plenty of odd outside lots to meet all their current wants. We quote in coin at 29½¢@30¢, for English; 29¢@29½¢, for Straits; and 33½¢@33½¢, for Banca. Tin plates have been rather more active and former prices realized. Zinc selling moderately at 12¢@12½¢, from store. The latest reported imports are 6 tons iron hoop; 945 tons pig iron; 8,674 railroad bars; 68 tons sheet iron; 1,957 from tubes 6,074 pigs of lead; 14,124 boxes, 55 slabs, and 22,465 pounds tin.

NAILS.—The market for cut nails has undergone no essential alteration since our last, the range of prices standing as before, and business from day to day footing up small. The call for export has been a little better, and a few near-by interior orders have been filled, but retail dealers find their supplies fully equal to the current distributive demand, and will handle no more stock for the present. Manufacturers are working slowly, and the production is not very heavy. Clinch have sold moderately, and on the best brands are steady. We quote cut at 4½¢@4¾¢, for 4d. and 6d. in large parcels; 4¾¢, in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch at about 6½¢@6¾¢, with choice at 6½¢. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5½¢@5¾¢ for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½¢@5¾¢, for 5d., and 5½¢@6¢, for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18¢, for zinc; 27¢, for yellow metal; 38¢@40¢, for copper. The exports are 352 packages, valued at $2,318 against 220 packages, valued at $1,363, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco 1,251 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—In a wholesale way the market for paints, &c., is still very quiet, in fact, at an almost complete standstill, and though the trade generally hope for an improved business as fall approaches, very few are inclined to predict a large aggregate of sales. The call from exporters as usual, does not amount to much, while interior buyers appear determined to limit their operations to the smallest possible quantities, and only to such goods as can be re-sold to immediate advantage. Paris white is still somewhat scarce, but there is more than enough here to supply the current outlet, and, as a rule, the stocks are ample and well assorted. Prices are somewhat unsettled, and on China clay, and American white lead in oil, figures are reduced somewhat. The retail trade is not very active, but in small lots a few of the leading jobbers are doing a fair business. Linseed oil has fluctuated very lightly during the past week, and we find no occasion to alter our general range of figures. A strong attempt has been made to force an advance, but without success, and in reality the market at the present writing is devoid of any unusual amount of strength, with sellers in a quiet way showing more anxiety to realize than buyers do to purchase. The cost, however, is considered low, and has induced an increased export call, mainly from Canada, with a few more Western orders filled during the early portion of the week. Crushers ask 97¢@98¢, in casks; and 99¢@ $1.00 in bbls. with outside lots sold at 99¢@96¢. The exports are 45 packages paint, valued at $1,225; and 7,400 gallons linseed oil valued at $3,903.

PLASTER PARIS.—For lump, one or two very good orders have been taken during the week, but there is no actual increase of the demand, and the general market still has a slow dull tone, with sellers evidently much more willing to operate than buyers. Some few cargoes have come to this city on previous contract, and when anything extra fine is offered our first-class manufacturers are willing to operate, provided the rate asked is not unreasonable, though, as a rule, care is taken not to add too liberally to the already pretty heavy supplies. White lump may be quoted on the bulk of the sales at $4.37½¢@ $4.62½¢ per ton, but some few parcels have reached $4.75, and one very fine lot $5 per ton. Blue lump at low rates can be sold fairly, but there is not much margin for profit. We quote at $3@ $3.25 per ton for common, and $3.50@ $3.75 for good. Calculated is rather dull, the demand calling for only job lots, on both consumptive and shipping accounts, but aside from the usual shading to first-class buyers and quiet market, prices remain as before. We quote city at $2.40@ $2.50 per bbl.; and country under $2.25@ $2.35 do. Receipts for the week 2,290 tons lump. Shipments of 237 bbls. calcined to Cuba.

PITCH.—Since our last, there has been more activity, including a very fair call from exporters, who were enabled to negotiate exchange and freight charges with a sufficient margin to make shipments profitable. Domestic jobbers have become nearly sold out, and though buying to replenish only in small quantities, take enough stock from day to day to keep a little life in the market. Prices, however, aside from rather more steadiness, have undergone no change, the free receipts and already pretty liberal supply preventing an advance. We quote at $2.75@ $2.85 for city; $2.70@ $3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12½¢@ $3.25 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 543 bbls. Exports for the week 824 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,844 bbls.; and for the same period last year, 2,258.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Following our last, rather higher prices were obtained, but the demand was not active enough to sustain the market, and values have again fallen back to about previous quotations, which may be considered extreme, the feeling at the present writing being quite unsettled, and not by any means firm, though holders show as strong a front as possible. The home consumptive trade is too small to make any decided impression on the stock; exporters do not operate with the freedom expected, and the receipts keeping up to a full average, with liberal quantities said to be still en route, the selling interest do not apparently occupy a very firm position. Still there is an absence of any pressure to realize, and in a few cases we hear of small lots taken on speculation. We quote at 42¢@43½¢, for merchantable and shipping oil; 42¢@43½¢, for New York bbls.; 43¢@44¢, for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week, 1,618 bbls. Exports for week, 433 bbls.; since January 1st, 11,297 bbls., and for same period last year, 9,447 bbls.

TAR.—The arrivals have been more moderate, and though the demand has also fallen off to some extent there has been enough business doing to give the market a fairly active appearance, and to enable sellers to realize full former prices with little or no difficulty. The prime grades show the greatest firmness, owing to their continued scarcity, though, as a rule, buyers prefer to refrain from operating rather than pay an advance asked by a few holders. Exporters are cautious, and work mainly on positive orders, the current demand being largely on home account. Stocks fair. We quote at $2.50@ $2.60 per bbl for North County as it runs; $2.02½¢@ $3.25 for Wilmington do.; $3.12½¢@ $3.25 for rope; and occasionally $3.50@ $3.62½¢ for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week, 675 bbls. Exports for week, 301 bbls.; since January 1st, 29,561 bbls., and for the same period last year, 8,129 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending July 27, 1869, says:

We reduce our quotations on clear lumber $3.00 to $4.00 per M. feet, and it is somewhat difficult to assign the cause therefor; it is even stated that some sales have been made as low as $53; but the current quotations of to-day are placed at $55@58, with a proportionate reduction on other grades and on other descriptions of pine lumber. Some large sales have been made since our last report, and the general business has been fair. The stock is well assorted, with large receipts in anticipation. The receipts at Oswego have been large.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending July 24, were 40,427,000 feet, against 33,805,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 14,740,000 feet. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 445,248,000 feet, against 461,792,000 feet in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending July 26th, 1869 and 1868:

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo.....	9,006,100 feet.	7,529,600 feet.
Oswego.....	13,145,900 feet.	9,276,000 feet.
Total.....	22,152,000 feet.	16,805,600 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the third week of July, were:

1869.. 16,739,700 729
1868.. 15,094,200 3,038	640,000

Of the Boards and Scantling received 12,482,000 feet were by the Erie, and 4,257,700 by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to July 23, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs.
1869.. 156,683,800 17,810 5,000 3,562,300
1868.. 170,274,900 18,755 51,995 13,546,000

The receipts of 1868 include some 11,000,000 ft. boards and scantling detained on the canal during the winter 1867-68.

We quote freights as follows. Vessels in good supply.

Office of Board of Assessors, New York, July 12, 1869.

SUPREME COURT—IN THE MATTER
of the application of the Commissioners of the Central Park, for and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, relative to laying out a Public Square or Place in the Twelfth Ward of the City of New York, adjoining the High Bridge and New Reservoir, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park.

We, the undersigned Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment, in the above entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots, and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit:

First. That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to JAMES H. COLEMAN, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 82 Nassau Street, (room No. 42), in this city, on or before the 16th day of August, 1869, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week-days next after the said 16th day of August, 1869, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days, at twelve o'clock, M.

Second. That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also the affidavits, estimates and other documents which were used by us in making our report, have been deposited in the Street Commissioners's office, in the City of New York, there to remain until the 27th day of August, 1869.

Third. That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid, are as follows, to wit: All those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, bounded and contained within the following limits, that is to say: Beginning at the point of intersection of the centre line of the Tenth avenue, with the centre line of One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street, and running thence northerly along the centre line of Tenth avenue to the centre line of the Kingsbridge road thence northerly along the centre line of the Kingsbridge road to the westerly side of Harlem River, thence southerly along the westerly side of Harlem River to the centre line of One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street, thence westerly along the centre line of One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street to the place of beginning.

Fourth. That our report herein, will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at a Special term thereof, to be held at the Court-room, in the new Court-house, at the City Hall, in the City of New York, on the fourth day of September, 1869, at the opening of the court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made that the said report be confirmed.

Dated New York, July 12th, 1869.

GOLD.

THE price of gold remains obstinately firm, notwithstanding the fact that with the close of every month we show a very handsome reduction of the national debt amounting in the aggregate since the 4th day of March to the round sum of $43,000,000. Within the past six months our bonds have advanced in Europe nearly 10 per cent., in the face of which the premium on gold in this country has not materially declined. How to account for this, puzzles many people, including many of the shrewd financiers of Wall street, some of whom have been caught short of gold and have had to pay for it by the loss of everything they possessed.

One reason for the high price of gold can be seen by a reference to our table of imports and exports which shows a balance on the wrong side, and as gold is the only commodity with which that balance can be eventually squared, the demand for its export keeps up the price. The bonds shipped must some day be paid for in that precious material, and we can consider them in no other light when sent abroad to pay debts, than as importers' notes endorsed by the United States. Another reason is that the Treasury assists the gamblers of Wall street by its policy of keeping locked up in its vaults, sums varying from $65,000,000 to $100,000,000, where, except for the slight moral effect it has, it is as useless as if it were buried in the bowels of the earth. If this amount were loaned to the people, the Government accepting as collateral security its own bonds, then the gold could be made available for business purposes. The disastrous effect upon the business of the country caused by the stringency of the money market, but a few weeks ago, when a bevy of speculators withdrew some $20,000,000 of currency from the market is not yet forgotten, and had not the Government stepped in and signified its intention of letting loose a few millions of demand notes, there is no telling what the ultimate effect would have been. Now why should not the Government in the same manner let loose some of its gold, not sell it, but loan it out and give the people the benefit of it? Again, the United States made a solemn promise, which was ratified and explained by a special act of Congress, to the effect that the bonds of the United States were payable and would be paid in gold. That promise is not being kept, as the Treasury is now in the open market buying up the bonds of the country, at the depreciation which at present exists. The Government should never buy a bond for less than one hundred cents on the dollar in gold. That is the price it agreed to pay, and it can pay no less, consistent with high principle and honor. The 5-20 bonds were made payable at the pleasure of the Government, after the expiration of five years. Should the Secretary keep on buying, our bonds will soon appreciate to the price of gold, and we shall see gold quoted 135, and our securities at the same figure.

The question is, will the Secretary then keep on paying the price, or will he insist upon his right of redeeming at par in gold?

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICK.—There appears to have been no important change in the market for hard brick since our last, sellers still managing to work off the bulk of the arrivals, and to realize about former rates, with a generally steady tone current. The demand from both consumers and dealers is still guided in a great measure by immediate necessities, but all classes of buyers find use for larger amounts; that would be expected, considering the dull season, and receivers do not complain of any accumulation of unsold cargoes beyond what might be looked for at the close of the week. Occasionally retail dealers can be found anticipating their wants, when something just suited to their regular trade presents itself, but, as a rule, none are inclined to stock-up with any freedom until later in the season. None appear to anticipate any material advance, and a few are hopeful of a decline. As we close, the business is very fair, and values pretty well sustained. Choice selections from well-known makers, and which are almost sure to run uniform in quality, will realize $10 per M; prime cargoes $9 @ $9.50 do; fair to good $8 @ $8.20 do, and common $7 @ $7.50 do. As noted last week, a few manufacturers have reported a suspension of operations, but the actual reduction of the amount produced is very small, and we will undoubtedly have enough stock for all calls for some time to come. The larger manufacturers, and those who have the available storage room, and can afford it, are slowly filling up their sheds; but plenty of producers, who find it necessary to realize as soon as brick are ready for market, give us all the supplies required. For pale brick the demand has been very uncertain and unusually small, causing a pretty liberal accumulation of unsold parcels and some weakness in prices, particularly on common grades, to conform to which our figures are reduced somewhat, closing, in a measure, nominal. A very fine lot in a small way, have been sold at $5.50 @ $6 per M, but $5 is about the top figure on the ordinary average of cargoes, with a number of sales at $4, and we are credibly informed that a few of the worst lots were forced off at $3 per M. Croton fronts are not very abundant, and are in good steady demand, and all the choice goods realize full former figures without difficulty. We quote at $16 @ $18 per M. Philadelphia fronts are not very active, and with fair supplies offering prices have given way, with sellers now willing to operate at about $30 @ $35 per M by the cargo, and $40 @ $45 do in small parcels. Shipments of 20,000 bricks to New Grenada.

CEMENT.—The general market for Rosendale remains in much the same position as previously noted, though during the week one or two dealers have been favored with a considerable increase of orders, mostly on shipping account. The local consumptive demand is still rather slow, though this is nothing unusual during the present season of the year, and indications already point to an early extension of this outlet. The interior country towns are taking a fair amount of stock in small job lots, but Eastern coastwise buyers appear to be the most valuable customers now presenting themselves to manufacturers. We learn of no further purchases for the California market, and current shipments are mainly on previous contract. The production continues unabated, though nearly all back orders are now filled, and in one or two cases, stock has slightly accumulated. Some of our local jobbers have bought pretty freely of late, and now hold a considerable amount, but expect to work it all off before it shall become necessary to restock for the winter trade. Prices remain steady at $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2 delivered here. The lowest bid for the 20,000 bbls contract for New York Post Office building was made by one of our city firms at $1.97. The demand for foreign styles is fair, and values very well sustained. Shipments of 250 bbls to San Francisco; 20 do to Mexico, and 50 do to New Granada.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—The general range of prices remains much the same as fixed upon by manufacturers during the early portion of the season, and the market as a whole, is firm. A fair amount of business is doing, with rather a tendency to increase of late, and the sales are now nearly equal to the production. Some additions, however, are being made to the stock, and with a pretty liberal supply already on hand, selections can be made without difficulty. Southern buyers either do not require any very large amounts at the moment or are not in a position to pay for them, and the principal shipping trade is on near-by country orders. The local inquiry, however, is comparatively brisk, and affords the main outlet for goods, partly on old and partly on new contract, irregular sizes being in many cases required.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—The demand for vitrified may be called fair, all things considered, though very few of the dealers or manufacturers are in any way busy, when the volume of trade is compared with last year. The fresh orders are mainly in small retail parcels, as required for immediate use, and the stocks in yard and store are not decreasing to any extent. A goodly proportion of the production is to meet spring contracts, and, in a few instances, deliveries are being made on last season's engagements, particularly corporation work. Cement pipe in good average demand, and manufacturers appear satisfied with the position.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The wholesale market for all the leading styles except cedar is still in a dull and uncertain condition, though there has probably been a little larger aggregate of sales than last week, owing to some pressure from holders. There is no general forcing of stocks, but the accumulation and assortment having of late become quite liberal, the disposition is to dispose of all the odd irregular lots at least, and to do so easily, some concessions are naturally necessary. There is very few fresh calls from abroad, but exporters in many cases hold discretionary orders, and by close calculation on exchange and freight changes, have been able to secure a few parcels of goods likely to meet with an average sale in the foreign markets. The demand from our local jobbers has not been active, but they have not refused to secure any cheap lots offered them to hold for future wants. The distributive trade from yard is confined entirely to the smallest parcels with which buyers can supply their current wants, but some improvement is looked for within a week or two. Of cedar a few small parcels occasionally come to hand, but if at all merchantable, they are immediately sold out at prices governed in a great measure by the standing of buyers, though in all cases fully up to former extremes, and our figures are unchanged, but must be considered somewhat nominal. The receipts embrace 6 tons lignum-vitæ from Oporto; 61 crotches mahogany from Monte Christo; 1 ton ebony from East Harbor, T. I., and 12 logs cedar from Cienfuegos. No exports.

GLASS.—The slightly better demand for foreign window glass referred to last week continues, but has not further increased, the buyers represented being mainly from points within a comparatively short distance of this city, and taking only such quantities as their temporary necessities require. The general quotations remain as before, but the actual prices obtained are very irregular, importers and dealers making considerable discrimination between customers, though as a rule, allowing discounts that show there is a disposition to realize to a certain extent. In a few cases hopes appear to be entertained of a revival of the trade with the West, owing to lower cost of freight accommodation. The receipts are fair, but there is an immense stock here, generally well assorted as to sizes, but containing a great many parcels, which begin to show the effects of storage, in the shape of burns or stains, and from these the offerings are now particularly free. We quote somewhat nominally at 35 @ 45 per cent. The latest importations reported are 7,496 packages glass, value $15,834, and 144 plate glass, value $15,563. For American window glass there is some little inquiry, mainly on interior shipping account, but not enough to afford any great encouragement to manufacturers, many of whom have stopped. We quote at about 50 @ 60 per cent. off list rates.

LATH.—The supplies have come forward with less freedom, and we have a lighter business to advise, and a rather stronger market, the comparative scarcity throwing the advantage in sellers' favor. Dealers however have not been eager buyers, as nearly all have obtained very fair supplies during the past two or three weeks, and many in fact have no available room to further increase their stocks, particularly as the call from consumers is not quite so brisk as had been calculated upon. From receivers we hear complaints that current values are hardly remunerative, but still all appear to be willing to sell out their cargoes in preference to piling the lath. About the average rate up to the present writing has been $2.70 per M, though some sales were made at the rate of $2.65, and in one or two instances, where the deliveries were more expensive, $2.75 was obtained. As to the probable amounts on the way we find most of the estimates moderate, but it had been a noticeable fact throughout the season, that when values reach $2.75 and upwards, manufacturers begin to ship with greater freedom. The reported sales for the week under review embrace 1,800,000, at $2.15 @ $2.25 for hemlock; and $2.65 @ $2.75 for spruce.

LIME.—The arrivals of Rockland have been moderate since our last, and are now pretty much all disposed of, but receivers have found it very hard work to secure customers for their cargoes, and could only do so by jobbing out in small parcels here and there as dealers could be induced to purchase. Even this did not clear the vessels as rapidly as desired, and in one or two cases demurrage has been paid. Lump still sells best, though under the circumstances this is saying very little, while common appears to have no friends at all. The fact is, the market is decidedly and unmistakably dull, and even the unusually small receipts are in excess of the wants of trade. Manufacturers have been repeatedly requested by agents in this direction to stop forwarding, and are at last said to be heeding instructions, though a few still keep kilns running, mostly as a matter of necessity. The figures are still placed at $1.15 for common, and $1.75 per bbl for lump. The Northern lines are retailing out to a moderate extent, but the supply is considerable in excess of the demand. Prices are too irregular for quotations, and appear to be fixed mainly by the necessities of buyers. The sales from yard to consumers are very moderate. Six cargoes reported from Rockland this week.

LUMBER.—The retail market is in no worse condition than last week, nor can we discover that there is any important improvement. For standard goods of prime quality there is a fair demand for city use, and about previous prices are obtained, but the majority of dealers do not report any unusual activity, and seem a trifle disappointed with the general position of trade. Although on the small sales making former rates were realized, and we as yet make no reduction in quotations, there is an evident undertone of weakness, and fair concessions are in many cases willingly allowed rather than permit negotiations being brought to an unsuccessful termination. The out-of-town demand, referred to last week, continues to a moderate extent, but shows evidences of soon being supplied, and is not likely to make any great impression upon the stock. The arrivals from up-river have not been very heavy, and were made up largely of through consignments from purchases made some time ago, and containing a few quite desirable parcels. Of pine, spruce, &c., the stock in yard is not by any means excessive, but ample for present wants, and among the leading dealers, at least, is fairly assorted. Hard woods, however, are comparatively plenty, and on some styles the accumulation is sufficient to cause a little inconvenience, &c. During the early portion of the season, and in fact until quite lately, black walnut has been very stiffly held, and in fact was generally considered the best sustained of any of the leading styles of choice woods, but even this begins to show the effects of the prevailing dullness, and though no lower in price, holders of the prime lots not only here but at all points, are now quite willing to sell, and offer their supplies with greater freedom. Common grades, in the meantime have become very unsettled, and in nearly all cases are lower, under pretty liberal supplies and a strong pressure to realize. This would, however, probably have been the case even with a well-sustained market on the upper qualities, as the high figures paid early in the season greatly increased the number of producers, who have greatly augmented the stocks without regard to quality, under the mistaken impression that anything would sell in the form of black walnut. The Albany market is reported rather more active, but the demand is not very free from New York dealers, who, confirmed in their previous anticipations, by the recent decline on pine, &c., and finding the receipts beginning slowly to increase, still confine their operations to such small parcels as will answer immediate necessities, hopeful, and indeed in some cases very confident of still further reductions when the stock becomes larger and better assorted.

In the wholesale market there are no very important changes to note, except some falling off in the activity consequent upon reduced supplies. Buyers still show a fair amount of interest, and whenever really choice or desirable goods are offered a quick sale is the result, and generally at very full prices. City dealers are less eager than last week, but there is considerable call in an irregular way to complete assortments, and several buyers from neighboring cities have been operating. The demand for export is still very good, and several considerable parcels are going on board or awaiting freight room. The arrivals of Eastern spruce fell off very decidedly immediately following our last, and the few cargoes on hand being of very fair quality were soon disposed of, leaving a clear field for the subsequent small supplies, which sold along steadily upon receipt at about former rates, the general market showing a uniform and comparatively strong tone. Most of our dealers, however, are fairly stocked up by the free purchases of last week and show greater caution, and some pretty close discrimination in making selections. We quote at $18 @ $19 per M for inferior and common; $20 @ $21 for fair to good random cargoes; and $25.50 @ $22 for prime. White pine has been fairly active both on home and shipping account, but mostly in small odd lots sufficient to meet the pressing wants of buyers, and the arrivals, though small, have rather exceeded the outlet. The former general range of prices is preserved and may be called steady, but sellers are not, as a rule, insisting upon outside figures if a sale is likely to be prevented thereby. We quote at $20 @ $25 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; $26 @ $30 for good to prime do; and $32 for choice do. Piling is without any important alteration, the general demand running fair and prices holding their own on the various grades. The fresh arrivals have been less plenty, and dealers have been enabled to make some reduction in the stock floated out. We quote at 6 @ 7c. for the ordinary average; 7½ @ 8c. for prime and extra; and 9c. for choice; the latter mostly on Shulee stock, though occasionally reached by Mainesticks. A few parcels of pickets have been sold lately, but at very irregular figures, the parcels offering being odd lots, put on board to complete lumber cargoes. Yellow pine is without much general activity, the call for stock for yards being particularly light, but in nearly all cases sellers remain firm, and insist upon full previous figures. The production at the moment is moderate, owing to the scarcity of logs at the mills, and this with the continued firmness on freights, produces a strengthening influence. We quote at $30 @ $33 per M for timber; $ 1.50 @ $33 for ordinary to good flooring boards; and $34 @ $35 for choice do. Eastern shingles are neglected and prices somewhat uncertain, say about $4.25 @ $5 for No. 1, according to quantity. Southern shingles plenty, dull, and heavy. A few black walnut logs have been engaged by exporters, but at prices not made public. Sales of 1,240,000 feet Eastern spruce, at $19 @ $21 per M; 90,000 feet yellow pine, at $35 do; 280,000 feet white pine, part at $21.50 do; 900 pieces piling, at 6 @ 8c.; and by auction, 400,000 cypress shingles, at $11.25 per M.

We also notice shipments as follows: To Hamburg, 100 logs black walnut, valued at $6,500; to Rotterdam, 75 hickory plank, value $126; and 1,589 logs cedar, value $10,419; to Liverpool, 91 logs black walnut, value $3,600; to British North American Colonies, 2 spars, value $300; to Rotterdam, 4,000 staves; to Liverpool, 22,500 do; to Bristol, 7,200 do; to Glasgow, 4,000 do; to Gibraltar, 4,900 do; to Valencia, 6,000 do; to San Francisco, 5,200 do, 49 pieces lumber, and 220 do, plank. The receipts reported are 11,700 feet lumber from Georgetown, S. C.; from Two Rivers, N. S., 500 spars, 30 pea sticks; and from the Maine coast, twelve cargoes lumber, and four do, piling. The only charters of importance include a bark of 273 tons to a port in France, with lumber and timber on private terms; and three vessels from Montreal to River Plate with lumber, at $19 gold, and 5 per cent. primeage. We note shipments from Norfolk to Liverpool of 26,844 feet timber, 30,267 feet plank, and 252 oak hhd. staves.

From the West the general tone of the reports is about as previously noted, receipts in most cases exceeding the supplies and buyers operating only to the extent of immediate and pressing necessities, under a general impression that values must still further decline. At the Chicago market, the attendance at the Exchange is very meagre and business generally dull, the few operators on hand each striving to gain the advantage, and between them doing nothing. Rates on common cargoes were low and still working downward, but on good straight lumber, or choice mill run stuff, comparatively steady. A few of the most recent sales were as follows: From Grand River, 70 M, 70 per cent. strips, balance mixed, at $11.50; from Point An Sable, 95 M coarse common, two-fifths strips, two fifths boards, balance mixed at $9; from Montague, 110 M common, 1/2 strips, balance mixed, at $9.50; 30 M lath at $2; 1 M pickets at $9.50; from Grand River, 84,583 feet mill tally, 1/2 strips, balance mixed at $11; from Grand River, hold full coarse common, 30 M, 1/2 strips, at $9; from Manistee, about 150 M joist and scantling at $9.50; from Muskegon, 220 M boards and strips at $14, 1,000 M lath at $2. Cargo of schr. C. North from Pentwater, 50 M joist and scantling at $8.10; from Manistee, 150 M joist and scantling at $10; from South Manistee, 50 M lumber at $11.50.

A firm in Saginaw City lately sawed one log which produced six three-inch planks, the widest 41 inches across, and measuring 162 feet, the others severally measuring 47, 135, 135, 135 and 120 feet, in all 543 feet; 400 feet of two-inch and one and a half plank were cut from the same log, all this plank being first quality clear; 240 feet of common boards were also cut from the log, making the gross product 1,453 feet. Five logs besides this were cut from the same tree, scaling 6,300 feet.

The Saginaw Enterprise of the 25th ult., says in regard to the lumber interests in that section:

"During the past week about the average amount of lumber has left this port, although there is a falling off of over a million feet from last week. Money continues tight, but there is no disposition on the part of dealers to come down in the price, which stands about the same as it has during the season. The following are the shipments from this port during the week:

Lumber, ft.	8,323,778
Lath	445,000
Shingles	495,000
Salt, brls	13,365
Staves	62,500
Timber, cubic ft.	37,491

"For the six days mentioned, sixty-two crafts of all kinds have entered with merchandise, passenger and baggage, and in the same time there has been sixty-eight clearances."

According to the Saginawian the lumber market is not active, neither is it, as some claim, demoralized or despondent. The three upper qualities are held, and will continue to be held, firmly at $30, $35, and $45 per M. For culls and common of good quality and good sawed, the ruling quotation is $5.75 to $6 for the former, $11.50 to $12 for the latter. Sales under these figures may have been made in small lots, but invariably of inferior lumber, either as to stock or sawing. The logs from Cass river have all been rafted out, and are either cut or in mill booms. Of the Tittabawassee logs it is estimated that owing to the unfavorable season, at least a seventh of the usual running time having been lost, 60,000,000 feet will be held back the present year.

From another source we learn that the St. Croix river is said to be so full of logs that navigation is impeded. The quantity is estimated at from 250,000,000 to 300,000,000 feet. These are being rafted at Stillwater, the point where the river enters Lake St. Croix, at the rate of about 2,000, 000 feet daily.

The following are the surveys for the week ending July 30, 1899:

METALS.—The demand for copper sheathing continues moderate, and, as previously noted, the movement is almost entirely in jobbing parcels for immediate consumption, causing little or no reduction of the supply, as the light production about balances the sales. The business is mainly on local or near-by country account, very few of the leading interior dealers appearing to require any goods. Manufacturers are not pressing the market, and generally ask former rates; but it is hinted that moderate concessions are frequently offered in order to induce purchases. We quote at 32@34c. for new, and 22@23c. for old, according to quantity. Yellow metal is without much animation, but a little stock changes hands from day to day, and values remain comparatively steady at 27@29c. in wholesale and retail parcels. Ingot copper has continued to sell very slowly, and only in a retail way as wanted by manufacturers to execute small orders. Prices ruled quite heavy; and though the reduction in quotations is small, our figures may be considered extreme for the best grades. Stocks slowly but steadily increasing, and now very fairly assorted. We quote nominally at 21 1/2@22c. per pound. Scotch pig iron has of late shown a trifle more strength and uniformity, but no important advance and but little activity. The demand is largely from local consumers, who purchase as they require the stock, and though current arrivals are not very heavy the supply has rather an increasing tendency. Holders are not forced to realize, however, and the general offerings are moderate. American pig iron is still without animation, and appears to have lost the rather stronger tone noted last week, though no actual decline has been accepted, and holders generally refrain from urging business. The supply is ample, and has rather an increasing tendency. We quote at $41@42 for No. 1, $38@39 for No. 2, and $36@36.50 per ton for forge. Bar iron from store is without improvement in any shape, the sales from day to day footing up as small as ever, and dealers having no fixed basis of values. Previous rates are still given as representing the cost of goods, but they are merely nominal. We quote at $55@57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90@92 for refined do; $149 do for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@142.50 do for ovals and half rounds; $120@150 for scroll; and $97.50@155 for rods 5-8@3-16 inch—all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron is selling in retail parcels to some extent, but the general market is extremely dull and prices uncertain, though former figures are retained. The supply is good. We quote at 5@10c. for singles, double and trebles, and in a retail way at 10c. higher. Galvanized sheet in fair demand, and steady at 20@25 per cent. off list. Russia sheet iron remains quite dull, and has been sold in a few instances at easier rates; but there is not much stock offering at a concession and the market may be called nominally steady. We quote at about 10 1/2@12 1/2c. gold, according to number. Pig lead is very dull, sellers somewhat anxious to realize and the tone heavy, but quotations still given at 6 1/2@6 3/4c. Bar and pipe have become very unsettled, and for the present entirely nominal, though the tendency appears to be downward. Pig tin has been in better demand mainly from dealers, and prices have improved, all grades closing with a strong uniform feeling noticeable. We quote in coin at 30c. for English; 30 1/2@31c. for straits; and 31 1/2@31c. for Banca. Plates in a jobbing way sell well at full former figures. Zinc is dull and a trifle weak at 12@12 1/2c. from store. The latest reported imports are 56 tons iron hoop; 1,137 do iron; 6,290 R. R. bar; 96 tons sheet iron; 855 iron tubes; 9,019 pigs lead; 16,265 boxes, 1,209 slabs, 103,713 lbs. tin; and 11,185 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—There has been a little more activity in cut nails, both on export and home account, but not enough to materially affect the market, and the general position remains about the same as last week. Sellers refrain from forcing business, but are willing operators, and do not always adhere to quoted rates when anything like a liberal sale can be consummated, by accepting moderate concessions. The supplies are liberal and well distributed, and rather on the increase, though the production is kept as low as possible. Clinch are dull and unchanged. Other styles meet with an ordinary jobbing demand and are steady. We quote cut 4 1/2@4 3/4c. for 4d. and 6d. in large parcels; 4 1/2c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch at about 6 1/2@6 3/4c., with choice at 6 1/2c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5 1/2@5 3/4c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2@5 3/4c. for 5d., and 5 1/2@5c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 15c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 25@40c. for copper. The exports are 195 packages, valued at $1 06 against 352 packages, valued at $2.313, same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco, 954 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—A few wholesale dealers report a slight increase of business during the past week, but mostly on irregular orders, and the general position of the market is without improvement. Such demand as does exist comes mainly from local jobbers' buying for special use or to keep up their stocks of standard goods, and the accumulated supplies in first hands suffer no important reduction. Western buyers have complained for some time of the high freight charges from New York as compared with other sea-board cities, but we understand there is a probability of a lower tariff being adopted at an early day, and this it is hoped will help trade. The receipts though not liberal are fully equal to all wants and on some grades in excess, adding to the stocks which are now well assorted and distributed. Prices remain at about the former range of figures, with however the usual favors shown first-class buyers, on a dull market. The retail business is fair for the season, but appears to run mainly on the regular standard styles of goods. Linseed oil has again been devoid of any important features of interest, a good fair average business doing and sellers obtaining about former rates. Prices are quoted steady, and there is no important pressure to realize from either crushers or outside holders, but buyers do not operate with vim, and seldom take more than enough for current wants. At the close crushers are rather firmer, and the demand improving somewhat. We quote at 95@99c. in casks; and 100@101 in bbls., with outside lots sold at 97@98c. The exports are 90 packages paint, valued at $1,413; and 101 gallons linseed oil, valued at $108.

PITCH.—The market has again relapsed into a comparatively dull condition, all classes of buyers having become pretty well supplied, and the call now running on small lots required to meet unexpected emergencies. Holders are not as a rule offering any easier terms, but the market appears to lack uniformity, and in a quiet way sales are frequently made at low figures as compared with the quoted rates. The supply on hand is pretty liberal, but has declined no important additions of late. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.70@3.00 for Southern; and $2.75 for very choice in a jobbing way from store; $3.12 1/2 @3.15 per bbl. The receipts for the week are nothing. Exports for the week 15 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,559 bbls.; and for the same period last year, 2,253.

PLASTER PARIS.—The general market continues quite dull, nearly all manufacturers having enough stock coming in on contract to keep their current wants fully supplied, and dealers finding no call except in an irregular jobbing way, and mostly from out-of-town buyers. White lump for the period under review has been the only grade attracting attention, and may be called comparatively steady at full former figures, say $4.37 1/2@4.62 1/2 for the average run of quality, with now and then something very fine reaching well up to $4.75@5 per ton. The stocks now accumulated here in the bands of millers are fair as a rule, and in some cases very liberal. Blue lump has been entirely neglected, and prices are irregular and somewhat nominal at about $3@3.75 per ton. Calcined is also rather slow of sale, though in small parcels considerable stock goes out, and prices remain about as before. Large transactions, however, it is hinted, can be negotiated on slightly easier terms, owing to the dull season, the reduced cost of lump, and the competition from country-made goods. We quote city at $2.40@2.50 per bbl., and country made $2.25@2.35 do. Receipts for the week, 690 tons lump.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—The city trade has of late fallen off somewhat, though for standard goods there is a fair call, with a few deliveries taking place on previous contract. The shipping demand, however, has improved considerably, particularly on California account, and some dealers are really quite busy. Brass goods are rather firmer, and the production from copper steady. Iron pipes are without quotable change, but have been a little irregular. Waste pipe, sinks, and fittings at former discounts. Solder in a wholesale way about 28@24c. for No. 2, and 25@26c. for No. 1. The combination of the manufacturers of lead pipe, bar, &c., has been broken, and the market is now in a very unsettled condition, with the tendency, however, decidedly downward, some offering being at 1@1 1/4c. decline. Under the circumstances values are entirely nominal, and for the present quotations are useless.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The demand during the week under review has been quite moderate and mostly from the regular trade supplying their immediate wants, with an occasional call, however, from exporters. The receipts in the meantime have been exceeded by the shipments, the latter mostly from previous purchasers, and holders asked comparatively full prices, but as we write there is evidence of weakness, and sales have been made at a decline, the market closing somewhat unsettled. The stocks now here are variously estimated, and no reliable figures can be obtained, but there is said to be plenty at Wilmington, and in course of shipment to this port, and parcels to arrive are offered below current market rates, without attracting much general attention. We quote at about 42@43c. for merchantable and shipping order; 42 1/2 @43c. for New York bbls; 42 1/2@43 1/2c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week, 755 bbls. Exports for week, 1,547 bbls. Since January 1st 13,144 bbls, and for same period last year, 9,512 bbls.

TAR.—The rather firmer feeling noted last week still continues to a fair extent, and a pretty good business is doing, though mainly in small parcels it being impossible to induce buyers to operate to an extent greatly exceeding probable early wants. The home trade still takes the bulk of the goods changing hands, shippers holding few orders and finding no margin for speculative shipments. The arrivals have been small, and the stock is somewhat reduced, particularly of prime to choice grades. We quote at $2.50 @2.60 per bbl for North County as it runs runs; $2.62 1/2 @2.75 for Wilmington do; $3.12 1/2@3.25 for rope, and occasionally $3.50@3.62 1/2 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week, 24 bbls. Exports for week, 85 bbls. Since January 1st, 29,646 bbls, and for the same period last year, 5,551 bbls.

A VOID LEAD POISON.—LEAD ENCASED BLOCK
TIN PIPE.—This article has now been in use for the past four years, and is daily growing in public favor, being heartily indorsed by all the leadingchemists and physicians in the country, also the Water Commissioners of New York, Brooklyn, and Boston. Our recent improvements in the manufacture insures a most perfect article, which cannot fail to be fully appreciated.
The advantages of lead pipe with a perfectly pure block tin lining for the conveyance of water is well understood; it gives the full pliability of the Lead with the purity of the Tin. The resisting power of Block Tin being about five times greater than Lead, we are enabled to furnish a pipe stronger than Lead, one-half its weight at about the same cost per running foot, which insures a perfectly safe water pipe for domestic use. To furnish cost per foot give the head or pressure of water and bore of pipe.

From the American Agriculturist.

"SAFE PIPE FOR DRINKING-WATER.—Lead poisoning from water brought in lead pipe, is the often unsuspected cause of disease and death. Galvanized iron pipe, wood and cement pipe, are expensive and inconvenient substances, so that people will risk their lives and use lead. The Lead-encased Block-tin pipe is even cheaper than lead, and we believe perfectly safe. Our faith in it has led us recently to lay some eighty feet of it, through which all our drinking-water is drawn."COLWELLS, SHAW & WILLARD MFG CO., foot of STRIKES.

THE seed sown by the coal-miners of Pennsylvania is just beginning to bear its legitimate fruit, and bitter though it be, they will probably be compelled to eat a fair share of it. The price of coal, in consequence of their action, has advanced from $6 to $9 and $10 per ton at retail, and this is made one of the excuses for the tailors' strike now in progress in this city. We shall probably next hear from the bootmaker, who, because of the high price of coal and clothing, feels compelled to ask for an advance in wages commensurate with the increased cost of living; and so the ball will be kept rolling, each organization complaining of increased expenses, until the matter gets around to the coal-miners again. So far as the cost of living is concerned, it can be easily shown that, compared with last year, the balance now is decidedly in favor of the consumer, and if any one has reason to strike, it is the farmer and the landlord. Suppose the butchers should form a "Butchers' Union," and the grocers a "Grocers' Union," and they should resolve that, no matter how great the supply of articles in their respective trades, any member found selling below the regular card rates should be immediately drummed out of the business. How would that suit the workman's ideas? and this is practically what the coal-miners are doing. An association, under the title of the "Workingmen's Beneficial Association," has been formed by the miners throughout the coal regions. This body, through committees, attempts to regulate the price of coal, by restricting the owners and operators of the mines from getting out more than a certain number of cubic feet per day to a man, which of course restricts the supply, and compels the laboring man here to pay the high prices, so that the wages of the miners may be kept up. The mining operators in the Lehigh district have been notified by this association that on every advance in the price of coal, the miners' compensation must be raised at the rate of 15 per cent. on the advance, and that of helpers 12½ per cent. As the miners have it in their power to regulate the amount of coal sent to market, and as the less they permit to be sent the higher their pay, the prospect for lower prices in coal is a very slim one. Workmen do not realize the sacrifices which employers frequently make in their behalf. The recent failure of a house largely engaged in the woollen goods business is an illustration of how the capitalist often sacrifices his entire fortune in the desire to keep his factories running, and to give employment to his workingmen. Should the employers of the tailors and coal-miners accede to their demands, the increased cost will not come out of the capitalist, but will simply go out of the pockets of one workingman into the pockets of another.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE REAL ESTATE RECORD.

SIR,—In your issue of July 10th there appears among the Mechanics' Liens of Kings County, "Wells, Holroyd & Co. agt. Mathewson & Bryant, $1,175.40." We request you to state in your valuable Journal that Messrs. Wells, Holroyd & Co. had not the shadow of a reason for filing such a claim, as instead of our being in debt to them for that amount, they are debtors to us, as we have an account of over $1,500 against them. By inserting this so that our friends may understand the case, you will oblige

(Signed,) Mathewson & Bryant.

WE are rapidly passing through the dull season of real estate, and we may soon expect to hear the sharp ring of the auctioneer's hammer, the excited crowd and the busy hum of the salesroom. During the quiet times no doubt many have got hold of some good bargains, the profits of which they expect to reap during the fall campaign. There seems to be a strong undertone to the market, and holders having carried their property along, are in no mood to sacrifice now, and are determined not to sell, except at a good fair profit. We do not expect to see any marvellous rise in real estate, but we do expect to see a considerable advance over present prices. New York is rapidly growing, and her greatness must reflect itself in the price of her real estate, as there is a limited amount of it, and the fortunate holders will see the time when they have but to name a price within reason, and they will get it.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICK.—The market for hard brick is at parently slowly gaining tone, and though values on the general range are much the same as heretofore, and the aggregate demand does not materially increase as yet, dealers express considerable confidence, and look for a better trade within a week or two. The outlet on local account is still unexpectedly free for the season, a great amount of stock going into consumption in small odd lots, though large orders are not unusual, and it is found quite profitable to continue the shipments Eastward, several vessels making regular trips to points along the Sound. This latter demand requires the best of goods, and can be supplied with nothing else, as anything off in quality has to come in competition with the Long Island production. Some East side up-town jobbers have bought rather freely of late, but most of our retail dealers are not operating greatly in excess of probable early wants. We advance our inside figure somewhat, not because the market has improved, but on account of the disappearance of nearly all the inferior and very common lots. Quotations may now be placed at about $7.50@8 per M for common; $8.50@9 for fair to good, and $9.50@10 for prime to choice. The receipts have been sufficient to for all calls, but not greatly in excess, and at times the market has been almost bare, owing to temporary delays in the arrivals of vessels. There appears to be no doubt that some of the up-river manufacturers have ceased operations for the present, but the majority of the best yards are still at work and will probably continue so as long as a market or storage room can be found for the production. In many instances the policy of holding back supplies is adhered to, with the hope of forcing up values by bringing about a scarcity of brick, manufacturers claiming that the cost of labor is so high that they must realize a higher figure on the remainder of their sales in order to secure a decent average profit for the seasons' work. Pale brick have continued to sell slowly, and generally proved unsatisfactory stock to handle, but dealers have managed to work off the bulk, and for merchantable grades prices may be placed about as before, say $4.50@5.50 per M, a few probably as high as $6. Certain fronts are daily selling with increased freedom, and prices rule very firm at $16@18 per M for the best brands. Philadelphia fronts in fair request and steady at $30@35, and $40@45 per M, according to quantity. We note exports of 20,000 brick to West Indies, and 20,000 do to Cuba.

CEMENT.—For some of the common grades there has been a little irregularity and a rather slow sale, but all the standard brands of Rosendale continue in very good demand, and manufacturers report that they are still selling well up to the production. The Eastern orders are without diminution, and on previous sales a great many cargoes have gone forward. There have been a few calls from the Southern coast, and for California shipment, and there is a full average business doing with the near-by interior towns. On local account the sales are fair, and have rather increased of late, some dealers finding it necessary to purchase rather more freely in order to meet an improving consumptive demand, and others deeming it advisable to lay in a little stock in view of prospective wants. The manufacturers of drain-pipe are buying to some extent, but with less liberality than during the early portion of the season, as their production is now only on contract, for which they have already made provision. At the mills everything is said to be in a favorable condition, the supply of rock ample, the grinding proceeding without interruption, and not many back orders now unfilled. Prices hold their own, and we still quote at $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2 per bbl delivered here. The shipments are 1,218 bbls to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—We find no very important changes in the general features of the market since our last, a fair amount of business doing considering the universal dull condition of all branches of legitimate trade, and both buyers and sellers accepting the situation as they find it. Here and there a dealer somewhat pressed for funds can be found offering goods on comparatively easy terms for ready cash, and a few all odd and undesirable parcels will be closed out at low figures, but as a rule, good merchantable stock is confidently held, and owners will not negotiate, except at extreme rates. Buyers do not display any great amount of activity in the absence of pressing necessities, but are fairly represented and willing to operate moderately, especially when they find a line of goods adapted to their regular trade. The arrivals are fair, and there is a well-assorted accumulation of rosewood, mahogany, lignumvitæ, &c., though nothing excessive. Exporters continue to complain of the difficulties under which they labor, and are not free buyers, but a few can be found watching the market pretty closely, and buying such cheap parcels as may appear, though not in all cases for immediate shipment. From yard the business is still mainly in very small lots, prices ruling at about the previous general range. Retail dealers in most cases are pretty well supplied. The only exports are 53 logs satinwood, valued at $350, to Liverpool. Receipts as follows: From Liverpool 615 pcs boxwood; from Mannheim 224 logs cedar; from Ponce, P. R. 679 pcs lignumvitæ; and from Rio Janeiro direct to a manufacturing company 272 pcs rosewood.

GLASS.—Foreign window glass has continued in good and rather increasing demand, the anticipation of more liberal orders from the West, following the reduction of freight charges being partially realized, and buyers from sections nearer by still operating with comparative freedom. The market has in consequence shown a much more uniform tone on all prime goods, and in some cases importers have refused to allow quite so liberal a discount as heretofore, though the recent depression has not as yet fully disappeared. Current receipts are fair, and with the very heavy supply already on hand it will require a much greater degree of activity than now prevails before any sensible falling off from the stock in first hands takes place. Of inferior and stained lots the offerings are plenty, as dealers are naturally anxious to work these off first, but when buyers insist upon having their invoices delivered guaranteed, they are generally accommodated. Prices remain about as before, but are firmer and more decided. We quote at 35¢-45¢ per cent. off list for English, and 40¢-45¢ for French. The latest importations reported are 3,397 packages of glass, valued at $3,332, and 110 glass plate, valued at $10,367. American glass has also done better, particularly those grades and sizes finding most favor at the West, and with the production still running small, the market is stronger and holders less anxious to operate. We quote at 50¢-55¢ per cent. off list rates.

LATH.—There has been considerable stock changing hands during the week under review at about former rates, but the feeling was a little irregular and much close figuring took place between buyer and seller. The majority of our dealers have a very good supply on hand, and were rather disposed to act independent and hold off in the face of increasing arrivals, hoping to force a decline, while receivers on the other hand, knowing that a portion of the cargoes coming forward were already sold, and looking for the increased consumptive inquiry that usually manifests itself at this season, refused to accept any material concession, and some even talked of piling out. Nearly all have disposed of their offerings, however, and at the present writing the market is a little bare of stock and comparatively steady. There is the usual reports of very small shipments in this direction, and they are now accompanied by statements to the effect that the production is greatly curtailed by the low stage of the water at mills, many of which, it is said, are turning out only about one-half their usual quantities. Sales for the week of some 3,675,000 at $2.20-2.25 for hemlock, and $2.70-2.75 for spruce. The trade from yard is fair at proportionate rates.

LIME.—For all the leading brands of Rockland the market has ruled comparatively steady, notwithstanding the more liberal arrivals, and the supplies on a trifle better demand are sold out. Dealers, however, have not displayed any extraordinary anxiety to secure stock as yet, and should cargoes continue to come forward with as much freedom as last week, it will be difficult to place them all upon receipt. Taken as a whole we should call the market still rather dull, but with some slight recovery from the former extreme depression. The quotations up to the close of this report stand at $1.15 for common, and $1.75 for lump. Manufacturers have for some time been making up their cargoes largely of common, but have now changed and are putting on board an excess of lump. On the Northern limes there has been considerable irregularity, and some of the common sorts sold as low as $1.05-1.10 and $1.50, for common and lump respectively, but of late, the leading makes have attracted greater attention, and some pretty liberal sales were effected at prices fully up to those current on Rockland. This has reduced the stock somewhat, and as the production has of late been rather slow, orders have gone forward to fire-up a few additional kilns. There have been twenty-three cargoes reported from the Eastern coast this week.

LUMBER.—The amount of trade doing in a retail way from yard is still very small on all styles of lumber, buyers confining their operations solely to the supply of immediate wants, and apparently having very few wants to supply just at the moment. For a business anything at all like last season, the supply on hand would be small, but for the current outlet, the accumulated stock is not only ample, but may be considered liberal, and few if any complaints are made by buyers, that they are unable to secure just about what they require, particularly in pine, etc. The arrivals of Northern and Western stock have been moderate, and a large proportion came forward on early contracts, but dealers in Eastern spruce have greatly augmented their supplies, and of late been enabled to purchase on easier terms. We have compared our figures with the sales making from day to day, and find only a few modifications necessary, though the quotations given are certainly extreme, and by special agreement dealers frequently allow desirable customers easier terms. The upper qualities of pine probably show the greatest weakness, as under the impression (now proved to be false), that these would be scarce and dear, they were neglected for select, good pickings and the lower grades, and have now accumulated in rather undue proportion, though we find that all styles of pine are in pretty good supply, both here and at Albany. At the latter point there is a disposition on the part of dealers to rather more firmness, as the stock does not receive many additions, and a fair demand under the circumstances, gives trade a more lively appearance. New York buyers, however, as a rule, have not been frightened into any more liberal purchases, and when they do operate it is only because something very attractive is offered, or a small parcel is required for special use. Hard woods we find are not generally plenty, the most liberal accumulation being of chestnut, which is now difficult to sell, and rather tending downward. Oak and ash are quite scarce, and really desirable grades difficult to secure, as holders do not care to realize. Of common ½ inch white-wood there is a good supply, but the better qualities are in reduced stock. A considerable sale has grown up for this wood as a substitute for foreign cedar in the manufacture of cigar boxes, etc. Black walnut firm, but quiet at present.

The wholesale market has again been quite freely supplied with certain grades of stock, and as sellers rather forced business, considerable activity has at times prevailed with the advantage, however, almost entirely in buyers' favor. Some cargoes have been forwarded to neighboring cities to find a market, but the main denendence of sellers has been upon our local dealers. Exporters refuse to make any liberal bids, and generally appear indifferent, but occasionally we hear of large parcels under negotiation, and by deck loads, etc., the shipments are growing to very respectable proportions. At the close of last week and during the early portion of this week the arrivals of Eastern spruce were simply immense, favorable winds bringing in the largest fleet this season, and for the time being the market was a little demoralized. Nearly all dealers had been enabled to secure a good supply from previous receipts, and either had their yards or docks so full as not to care particularly about making further purchases unless some inducements were held out, and even when receivers finally conceded about $1 per M, the demand only slightly improved, and was quite uncertain. A great many cargoes, however, came in on contract, and when these were delivered receivers managed to work away slowly at the balance until all had been sold out. Latterly but few vessels have arrived, and the tone is more uniform at the decline. Taking the ordinary random cargoes, $19-20 per M will cover most of the sales, but a great many common lots have been forced off at $18, and inferior still lower, and a few choice slightly exceeded our outside figure. Receivers say we must now look out for a scarcity and begin to talk of low water at the mills, reduced production, etc. White pine has come forward in considerable quantities on contract, but we hear of very few fresh sales of magnitude, buyers showing a disposition to hold off until later in the season when they hope for a decline. For the present prices are unchanged, but sellers have appeared a trifle more willing to operate. We quote at $20-25 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards; and $26-30 for good to prime do. Piling is steady and in moderate demand, with a stock sufficient for current wants, as a number of odd cargoes continue to drop in every day or two, and some parcels go into chains. We quote at 6¢-7¢ for the ordinary average; and 7½¢-9¢ for prime to fancy. Yellow pine remains in rather a dull condition, the main demand being for specified extra lengths, which dealers are unable to furnish at the figures bid. A few small sales of the ordinary run of stock have been made, and former rates obtained, and the market generally rules steady. We quote at $30-33 for timber and flooring boards, and $34 for choice do. Eastern No. 1 shingles remain nominal in the absence of sales. Cypress shingles are quiet and nominal at about $14-16 per M for two-foot size, with a supply still very large, notwithstanding the recent auction sale and the shipment of two or three cargoes to find a market elsewhere. Sales of 2,300,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18-21, the latter figure an extreme; 160,000 feet white pine boards at $25-28; 200,000 feet yellow pine at $32-34, part to arrive; and 1,000 pieces piling at 6¢-8½¢.

We also notice shipments as follows: To Hamburg, 41 logs black walnut, valued at $1,350; to Liverpool, 39 logs do, valued at $1,385; to Hayti, 101,000 shingles, valued at $1,212; to London, 10,320 staves; to Glasgow, 4,200 do; to Gibraltar, 56,760; to Marseilles, 12,000 do; to Oporto, 17,880 do; to Fiume, 21,600 do; to Brazil, 120,000 do; to Chili, 5,000 do; to San Francisco, 3,600 do, 135 boards, 230 pieces lumber, and 332 pieces plank. The receipts reported embrace 160,000 feet lumber from Jacksonville; 149,000 feet do from Savannah; 199,000 feet do from Pensacola; 700 pieces piling from Shulee, N. S.; 287,554 feet deals and 176,000 lath from St. John, N. B.; 135,453 feet deals and timber, 46,400 lath, 310 spars and poles, and 300 spiles from St. Georges, N. B.; and from the Maine coast fifty-two cargoes lumber, 2 do lath. By steamer to Hamburg, 300 tons walnut were engaged at 80s. Char, ters as follows: A Br. bark, from Montreal to River Plate, $19; on same voyage, at $20, including cargo coal from Pictou to Montreal; a bark from Savannah to River Plate, $22; a bark from Pensacola to Jamaica, $14; a Br. bark, 541 tons, to a port in Spain, with logwood, at $6 50; a bark to Jacksonville and back, re-sawed lumber, $14; a Br. bark, 541 tons, to a port in Spain, staves; a foreign brig, to Rotterdam, with do; and a brig, 490 tons, from Norfolk to Sicily, with do, on private terms.

At the Eastward there is a good average trade doing, and prices as a rule quite firm, sellers gaining some confidence from the low stage of the water in many streams, and the consequent reduction of the producing power. Stocks, however, are pretty large, and owners generally would prefer selling at current rates to holding for a rise.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:

From the West we learn of no new developments beyond a slight increase in the local trade. Cargo rates were still quite unsettled and somewhat nominal on common lumber. From Messrs. Woolner & Garrick's Circular of the 2d inst. we obtain the following review of the Chicago market, for the month of July:

"We present to the public our usual monthly statistics of the lumber trade of Chicago, together with a few remarks as regards its general tenor. There has but very little transpired during the month passed to give renewed encouragement and life to the trade, and the market closes as dull as it commenced; prices have decreased in a multitude of instances, and sales have been slow and dragging. Lumber has been sold at a heavy loss to the manufacturer, and this staple article and prime necessity for the whole Northwest is forced upon the market in quantities disproportionate to the immediate demand.

"The quality of the lumber offered in this market, taken as a whole, is inferior to that of that of last year, which was well known to every lumberman who chose to keep himself posted; and the very mild weather and the absence of snow for a long period of time, made it necessary to cut logs that otherwise would have been rejected; this has caused common lumber to recede more than the upper grades, and cargoes of extra good mill run or selected, are readily sought after at prices higher than any quoed by us, but as they are not plenty, they form more an exception than a rule.

"The receipts for the month were again very large, reaching the aggregate of 158,613,830 feet. This is 15,690,903 feet more than was received in July, 1868, but the total receipts since last January are still below those of last year; we have received thus far 431,000,000 feet, compared to 498,000,000 feet in 1868; but the stock on hand last January, 1869, was 72,000,000 feet in excess of the year previous, which of course has had a great influence on the market; however, the shipments far exceed those for the same time last year, so that the actual stock on hand is, in our estimation, but little larger than one year ago. The shipments have reached 866,000,000 feet, as against 793,000,000 feet last year, and the home consumption and retail country trade we estimate to be at least equal if not in excess of last year.

We hear of several of the most able manufacturers closing part of their mills, preferring rather to hold their logs for another season than to sacrifice them at the prices to be obtained at present; we hail such movement with great pleasure, deeming it judicious and profitable not only to the parties themselves, but to the trade at large, and if this shall prevail to a considerable extent for the balance of the season, the supply will fall short of expectations, and thus create a healthier feeling. The demand for the better grades of lumber for the Eastern market has been very good, at prices much more remunerative than anything realized here, and hence a great deal has gone in that direction; but on the other hand, the lower grades that were picked out and sent here for sale have fared but very poorly."

The Southern markets from all accounts are fairly active and steady, and there is a better prospect for a supply of logs. A recent Savannah report says:

"TIMBER.—But few rafts have arrived the past week. The heavy rains that have prevailed will probably raise the creeks and rivers enough to enable timber cut during the summer to come to town, and a fair supply is soon looked for. Quotations nominal. LUMBER.—Two city mills are running, all the mills in the country are at work. Two new ones have just started on the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad. There are plenty of orders on the market. We quote ordinary sizes at $20@22; flooring boards $22@26; difficult sizes $25@30; ship stuff $23@30, according to sizes."

PAINTS AND OILS.—The expectations of an improved demand from the West have not been realized, and even the slight increase of business on local and near-by interior orders referred to last week has in a great measure subsided, leaving the market again in a very dull and flat condition. Importers and wholesale dealers, as a rule, are disposed to remain pretty steady, and most goods are held at about former figures, but the offerings are ample, and in some cases concessions could be obtained were buyers willing to operate. This is particularly the case with English white lead, dry, and some of the common grades of colors. The stocks are gradually accumulating. From jobbers' hands there is also a reduced amount going out, principally to regular customers supplying temporary wants. Linseed oil has not been eagerly sought after during the past week, and the market has shown a slow dragging tone, closing a little off in price and somewhat unsettled. Crushers are not offering with any freedom direct, but through outside parties are understood to be giving the market about all the supply it can stand. Values for the present must be considered to some extent nominal. We quote at 97c@1.00 in casks, and 99c@1.01½ in bbls, with outside lots sold at 96½@97c. The exports are 64 packages paint, valued at $429; and 86 gallons linseed oil, valued at $91.

PLASTER PARIS.—We have no improvement to advise in the demand for lump, a few new buyers in the market being balanced by the withdrawal of those who have previously operated quite steadily, and fresh contracts are now seldom entered into. Whatever demand does exist comes almost exclusively from out of town, our local manufacturers reporting their present wants as fully satisfied, a few still having stock to receive. Former rates are asked by dealers, and as they would probably be paid were there any sales making, we continue to quote at about $4.37½@4.62½ per ton for white, and $9@9.75 per ton for blue. At all the mills there is an ample supply of rock, and as the grinding is not liberal the stock diminishes slowly. Calcin'd is a little more active than at the date of our last, but not selling with remarkable freedom, and a trifle irregular in value on all except the regular standard brands, and even these only realize outside figures in small lots. We quote city at $2.40@2.50 per bbl, and country-made at $2.25@2.35 do. Receipts for the week, 1,970 tons lump. Shipments of 60 bbls calcined to San Francisco.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—There is a continued good demand from California buyers, with some coast-wise and export trade doing, and quite an increase of Western orders, drawn out by the lower rates of transportation. With stocks pretty large, however, and well assorted, the only effect has been to strengthen the tone on most grades. The lead pipe, &c., manufacturers are still somewhat irregular in their charges, but the gain has been all in the buyers' favor, and a fair quotation now is 9c. for bar, and 9½c. for sheet and pipe, net to the trade.

PITCH.—Prices remain about as previously quoted, and the market comparatively steady on all good lots, of which there is a slight scarcity, though the general stock is pretty liberal and well distributed. The demand is rather moderate in a random way, but regular dealers are calling for very near their average amounts. The country trade is very moderate. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.70@3.00 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store; $3.12½@3.35 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 50 bbls. Exports for the week 470 bbls. Since January 1st, 3,329 bbls.; and for the same period last year, 2,263.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The heavy tone noted in our last reported market continued for several days, and further concessions were allowed, but the receipts proving unexpectedly small holders regained confidence and prices advanced even higher than previously quoted, and are now quite firm with some buoyancy. The stock now in first hands is thought to be quite small, and this has given additional strength to the market. The demand in the meantime has been very fair on home account, but a little slack from shippers, who find freight room scarce and high. We quote at about 43¢@44c. for merchantable and shipping order; 43½¢@44½c. for New York bbls; 44¢@45c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week, 455 bbls. Exports for week, 250 bbls. Since January 1st, 13,394 bbls, and for same period last year, 10,329 bbls.

TAR.—The demand has not been very active from any source and the market dragged a little. The receipts, however, have run small throughout the week, and the stock has suffered a still further reduction, even with the current light trade, causing a firm feeling on the part of holders, and full former prices are still sustained. High freights check the export trade, and the outlet is mainly local. We quote at $2.50@2.60 per bbl for North County as it runs; $2.62½@3.25 for Wilmington do; $3.12½@3.25 for rope, and occasionally $3.50@3.62½ for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week, 178 bbls. Exports for week, 65 bbls. Since January 1st, 29,711 bbls, and for the same period last year, 8,588 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending August 10, 1869, says:

There has been a good trade in the District since our last report, the sales covering some large transactions to Eastern manufacturers. The attendance of buyers has been good, who have purchased freely of lots on the spot, and to arrive. This, with limited receipts by canal, keeps our market lightly stocked for August; and as to future receipts, opinions are much divided. Clear lumber, piece boards, and 1½ inch box, are more noticeably in lighter supply than other descriptions. Quotations are unchanged and steady, with a growing opinion that prices have touched bottom. Coarse lumber, especially hemlock, is in light stock, and prices are firm.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending August 7th were 38,064,000 feet, against 40,545,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 13,184,000 feet, against 12,552,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st, are 515,394,000 feet, against 540,559,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, are 355,477,000 feet, against 297,918,000 in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending August 9th, 1869 and 1868:

Buffalo.....	6,929,500 feet.	8,415,900 feet.
Oswego.....	12,174,500 feet.	9,779,000 feet.
Total.....	19,104,000 feet.	18,195,200 feet.

The Oswego movement of lumber, during the years 1868 and 1869 has been very uniform, as the following figures furnished by the Commercial Advertiser, of the receipts and shipments to August 1st, show:

	Receipts.	Shipments.
1868.....	132,000,000 feet.	118,000,000 feet.
1869.....	133,000,000 feet.	118,000,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of August, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1869.. 16,531,900	1,542
1868.. 20,599,700	1,566		914,500

Of the boards and scantling received 13,197,200 feet were by the Erie, and 3,334,700 by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to August 8th, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1869.. 187,435,100	26,247	10,000	4,495,300
1868.. 217,975,200	25,019	51,095	17,341,000

The receipts of 1868 include some 11,000,000 ft. boards and scantling detained on the canal during the winter 1867-68.

We quote freights unchanged, with more doing. Vessels in fair supply.

 One year, in advance. 6 00

WE recently paid a visit to the south side of Long Island, to note the region opened by the new South Side Railroad. We were agreeably surprised to find how really charming a country has been opened to settlement by the building of this road.

Some few speak now of the beauties of Babylon, Islip, and Patchogue, but people of moderate means have a treat in store for them to visit this beautiful region. As yet prices are not exorbitant; hotel fares are at the minimum rates, and the air and scenery are everything that can be desired. For capitalists this newly opened road offers especial advantages; the land is still very cheap, ranging from ten to one hundred and fifty dollars an acre; much of it is delightfully situated for villas, fancy farms, and very little of it, even of the cheapest, but that could be made available for farming purposes. Mr. W. G. Ford, of Tennessee, paid $180,000 for thirty-six hundred acres, situated at Islip, running back from the South Side to the Long Island Railroad. He intends, so we understand, to build quite a small city upon this site. Long Island, or at least certain portions of it, is fast becoming a favorite resort for New Yorkers, and capitalists who have some money to spare, and desire to invest in real estate, cannot do better than to take a run over this road. As yet the first sixteen or seventeen miles of this road has barely been settled, while it is inevitable that many years cannot pass without its becoming one continuous village. The directors of this road, who are mainly land-owners along this route, deserve credit for their public spirit in building it.

PROBABLY the greatest humbug of the day is the attempted removal of the rocks at Hell Gate. So far, all the efforts have resulted only in deepening the channel a few feet, and in removing the projecting peaks from above the water. The last appropriation failed in making any effect whatever upon the rocks to be removed, and now the preposterous scheme is proposed of tunneling under the river until the rock is reached, and then cut passage ways in several directions, and explode the powder and blow all up together. To do this effectively, would be almost as formidable a work as the boring of Mont Cenis. The real way to allow a passage through Hell Gate, would be to cut a ship canal through the Flushing peninsula; but boring under the river, and exploding rocks, would cost tens of millions of dollars, and then after the rocks were exploded they would remain at the bottom as much an impediment to navigation as ever. It is not rocks in the East River that these contractors are after, but it is Uncle Sam's rocks in the Treasury Department.

WE have taken occasion several times in these columns, when speaking of some fine buildings ornamental to the city, to make favorable mention of the name of the architect or builder who may have been connected with it. We understand that a worthless scamp has taken it upon himself to call upon such parties named, and by representing himself as being connected with the RECORD, has succeeded in borrowing small sums of money, and several have been foolish enough to allow themselves to be so imposed upon. We wish it to be distinctly understood that any person who makes such representations as the above is an impostor, and any party who may be approached in the manner indicated will do us a favor by kicking out of their office any such dead beat and handing him over to the police. We never accept or allow any one to accept for us, any gratuity or favor whatever for any mention in our columns.

THE summer is now nearly over, and we already hear rather more inquiry for houses and property. The past has certainly been a very dull season, especially in the city of New York; but the summer of our discontent is over, and there will undoubtedly be more done in real estate during the coming four months. The cool weather of the last few days will send back a few New Yorkers and their families, and then will come a demand for numerous houses which are now vacant. Should the West Side Elevated Road succeed in proving its capability of running cars to Thirtieth street, we will soon see a movement in real estate in the north-west side of the city. Altogether, the indications are that we shall do a tolerable fall trade.

AT a meeting of the New York Draughtsmen's Association, convened August 4th, for the election of officers to serve during the ensuing half year, the following gentlemen were by ballot elected, viz. :—

President, A. E. Sargeant; Vice-President, John Buckingham; Secretary, George Wheeler; Assistant Secretary, George Welch; Treasurer, William H. Foggett; Editor, Samuel Godsmark; and a Standing Committee consisting of seven members.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICK.—The indications of a better market for hard brick referred to last week have not been fully realized and the confident feeling on the part of dealers has partially disappeared. For a short time after the writing of our previous report sales were comparatively free and the cargoes arriving were easily disposed of, but the demand soon fell off and this moment the feeling is rather slow and unsettled. Prices on the general range remain about as before but with the weak tone natural to a dull market. We quote at about $7.50@$.85 per M for common; $8.50@$.90 for fair to good, and it must now be something very prime or choice to induce buyers to pay $9.50@$.10 per M. The change in the position is apparently somewhat unexpected, particularly as the actual consumptive inquiry does not seem to have diminished to any great extent, but may find some explanation in the fact that at nearly all the leading retail yards the accumulation of supplies is quite large for the season, and that consumers get all the brick they want without trouble. The jobbers in fact have been performing a flanking movement in view of the threats of manufacturers to shut off supplies, and in a quiet way have filled up a large amount of spare storage room, from which they can now meet their regular trade, and look upon the small receipts with indifference. There is nothing of special interest at hand from up the river that can be relied upon. As usual plenty of rumors prevail about the suspension of work, &c., but still plenty of brick come forward for all necessities, and until an actual scarcity shows itself we cannot believe that any material curtailment of the production has taken place. Pale brick are still much neglected and generally present a dull heavy tone, with a number of lots as we write awaiting customers. We quote at $4.50@$.5.50 per M, remarking, however, that the latter is an extreme figure and only realized on the very best. Croton fronts in fair demand and steady at $16@$.15 per M according to shade. Philadelphia fronts $39@$.35 per M at yard by cargo, and $40@$.45 do. in lots to consumers.

CEMENT.—The demand for Rosendale is fair but cannot be called brisk, and as a whole the market has less snap than during the early portion of the season. This, however, is generally looked for during the present month, and many dealers and manufacturers are rather pleased than otherwise that it should be so, as it gives them an opportunity to work up on back orders, and get matters straightened out for the fall trade. There is not much fresh inquiry for the California market at present, most of the shipments being on previous contract, but the Eastern coast ports still want a few cargoes weekly, and with a fair average call on local account, an accumulation of stock is prevented. Prices remain firm, and we again quote at $1.90 per bbl. delivered at Roundout, and $2.00 do. delivered here. Jobbers' report a good fair retail trade, though not enough activity to warrant to lay in a very heavy stock for the present.

FIRE BRICK.—The demand from all sources is reported as very moderate, dealers finding buyers for only small job lots as wanted for immediate consumption, and the general tone of the market is decidedly uninteresting. In some cases where it is found necessary to realize lower prices are accepted, but most manufacturers are opposed to concessions, claiming that the high price of coal so materially increases the cost of production of brick that little or no margin is now left for profit. The stocks on hand are liberal and thoroughly assorted. The outlet for goods appears to be mainly local, interior or coastwise shipping orders seldom coming to hand. Of the foreign grades we learn of fair sales at $55@$.70 for Welsh; $50 for Leemoor, and $80@$.85 for Starbridge.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The wholesale market remains in rather a dull position for most grades of woods, and but few parcels of importance have changed hands since our last. The supplies have not increased to any extent, and all the offerings are from previous arrivals, but as compared with the demand the assortment is ample. Exporters and our local jobbers are both represented in the market to some extent, and while neither display any anxiety whatever, they are quietly keeping track of certain desirable parcels in hopes that they may be able to finally induce holders to accept some concession. Prices however have undergone no quotable change and may be considered steady on upper qualities and slightly nominal on low grades. Cedar sells rapidly whenever offered, but there is not enough on the market to make quotations of any value. Nearly if not quite all the jobbing yards in the city are well supplied, but are not selling much stuff except in very small retail parcels. Exports of 263 logs mahogany, valued at $3,266, to Havre. No imports.

GLASS.—The market for foreign window glass is comparatively firm, dealers working off a pretty fair amount of stock from day to day, and the current receipts running small. The call continues from the West largely, though a fair proportion of the sales are to State and other near-by interior buyers, and an ordinary average goes to local dealers. The assortment holds out good on choice merchantable lots, and of the inferior and sweated stock several parcels have been disposed of. The regular discounts are pretty closely adhered to, but first-class buyers can still occasionally gain a point or two. We quote at 35@.45 per cent. off list for English, and 40@.45 do for French. The latest importations reported 292 packages glass valued at $1,164, and 55 glass plate valued at $11,636. American glass is in fair demand and steady. We quote at 50@.55 per cent. off list rates.

LATH.—The demand has not been very active, but about up to the supply, and the cargoes coming to hand have in most cases found sale without much difficulty. Jobbing dealers are still rather indifferent, operators not finding the demand from consumers very pressing, but still none are inclined to be without stock, and any material reduction of their accumulation sends them into the market as buyers. Prices have been very well sustained throughout the week under review, and in fact receivers appear strong and confident, the advices from the producing districts being more decided, and all agreeing that the mills are turning out only small quantities, and in some few cases have actually stopped for want of supplies and power, owing to the low state of the streams. With the present demand, however, there is enough stock on hand to keep up a supply for some little time, and shipments are being made regularly. Sales of 3,250,000 at $2.40@$.2.50 for hemlock, and $2.70@$.2.75 per M. for spruce.

LIME.—The demand for Rockland has been moderate as the consumptive trade is still too light to warrant dealers in taking more stock than they can use to immediate advantage, but with cargoes coming forward very slowly, receivers have experienced no difficulty in disposing of all their offerings. Prices are fully supported, and though up to the present writing no actual change has been made public, some revision of figures is evidently contemplated at an early day. The supplies have been about evenly divided, though there was rather an excess of lump for the present call. We place figures somewhat nominally at $1.15 for common, and $1.75 per bbl. for lump. The Northern limes have sold to a fair extent, and for the leading brands we find a continued firm market with agents not prepared to accept any orders for immediate delivery, as they have contracts to deliver upon, well up to the close of the month. The production has rather increased of late, as the expectations of manufacturers lead them to look for a good fall trade. There has arrived coastwise eight cargoes since our last.

LUMBER.—We find a dearth of news in the retail market for the week under review, dealers in nearly all cases reporting business as very moderate, and mainly in small job lots as required by regular customers to work up on special orders. Some few additions have been made to the stock in yard, and with a generally good assortment buyers have only to call for what they want to get it. Prices remain at about the same figures previously given and may be considered steady, the continued disposition to firmness "up the river" preventing holders from granting any important concessions, though it is not improbable that the temptation of a liberal order might induce a trifle easier terms. Such demand as does exist appears to be pretty general, and invoices are made up of all the leading grades, of both soft and hard woods. At Albany we learn that dealers continue to ask full figures, and that the market has about recovered from the late slight depression. Business could not be called active, the Eastern demand having partially subsided, and buyers from this city and the river towns still taking very small amounts, some being merely lookers on; but the stocks were much reduced, and with unexpected delays in the arrivals, the position was very much in sellers' favor. Hemlock, clear pine, 14 inch box, and piece boards, were especially scarce, and even with the current moderate inquiry considerable additions to the stock of the above styles would have been acceptable. Black walnut of all kinds steady, and the few holders of choice parcels as stiff as ever in their views.

Our wholesale market has not shown any great amount of animation, though in a quiet way considerable amounts of stock have changed hands, sometimes at comparatively low figures, but in most cases at prices comparing favorably with last week, the general feeling ruling steady, but not unusually firm. Receivers have managed to sell most of their cargoes to the immediate local trade, and the necessity of seeking an outlet at other points has been less apparent, though in a few instances taken advantage of. The demand from exporters is still confined mainly to small parcels in the way of deck-loads, &c., and to fill up waste freight room, but a few calls are made for full cargoes, and the aggregate shipments thus in the year are very respectable, amounting, as our table below will show, to nearly fifteen million feet. Without the extraordinary abundance of last week, Eastern spruce has continued in pretty liberal supply, and the market has not been as active or as favorable to the selling interest as dealers desired or even as they anticipated. Buyers could have in all probability been found to exhaust the supply had they any place to put their invoices after purchasing, but most of the wharfs were still full, and in many cases two or three vessels were lying in streams, awaiting an opportunity to go alongside and unload. As we write we are not aware of anything at all desirable remaining unsold, and the tone appears just a shade stronger, though during the week prices have scarcely varied on the general range. Sellers in some instances claim to have allowed easier terms, which is undoubtedly true in the way of giving better goods for the same rates at which inferior sold last week, and probably occurred because owners were compelled to realize as quickly as possible, in order to save expenses on vessel. A number of sales were reported at $18@18.50 per M; $19@20 for ordinary random cargoes; $20.50@21 for prime do; and in one instance a very choice schedule brought $22, just happening to strike the fancy of the purchaser. White pine has been moderately active, with pretty steady tone on all desirable and choice lots, of which there has not arrived a very large supply. Still the amounts offering are equal to the present wants of buyers, and very little more coming in would cause an accumulation. We quote at $20@25 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $26@30 for good to prime do. Piling has arrived with moderation, but fast enough with such stock as dealers already had on hand to supply all calls. Prices steady, and we still quote at 6c. @ 7c. for the ordinary average, and 7½c. @ 9c. for good to fancy. Yellow pine meets with an occasional demand, but the market is devoid of spirit, and no purchases made except through necessity. Prices steady, and sellers not forcing business. We quote at $30@33 for timber and flooring boards, and $34 for choice do. Eastern No. 1 shingles dull, at somewhere in the neighborhood of $4.50. Cypress shingles slow and prices unsettled at $14@16 per M for two foot size. Sales of 2,609,000 feet Eastern spruce at $15@22 per M; the latter rate for fancy; 100,000 feet white pine $20@22 per M. 150,000 feet yellow pine at $33 per M, or thereabouts; and 700 pieces piling at 6c. @ 8c. per foot.

S. to a windward island, lumber, $12, thence from Pensacola to Rio Grande and back to a port north of Hatteras, $3,300 gold; a barque, 873 tons, to Buenos Ayres, lumber, $20, and measurement goods, 20c.; a Br. bark, St. Johns, N. B., to River Plate, lumber, $67; a bark, Norfolk to Jamaica, staves, $12, and back to New York, logwood, $6.

Our latest advices from Chicago report a moderately active market, with a fair attendance of both city and country buyers, and some call from the Eastward. Holders in most cases were quite firm, and few willing to operate except at full figures. Based on the latest sales the quotations were $10@12 per M for common boards and strips, and $12@14 for fair to choice mill run.

The Eastern markets are firm, particularly in the immediate vicinity of the producing districts, and the streams are daily becoming smaller, causing the suspension of operations at some of the mills. From previous accumulations cargoes are being forwarded to a certain extent, but owners of the desirable stock seem less inclined to operate than heretofore.

The current rates at Boston are as follows:

Clear pine $75@80 for No. 1; $65@70 for No. 2; $55@60 for No. 3; $38@42 for No. 4; and $28@32 for No. 5. Coarse pine $20@22 for No. 5; and $13@16 for refuse. Shipping boards $21@22; Spruce $16.00@18.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $10@12 for refuse. Hemlock boards $13.00@15.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $9@10 for refuse.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@12.00 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $24@26 for flooring.

At Charleston the general market is very dull, and prices a little unsettled. The rates are as follows: Timber for milling purposes from $5@9 per M; shipping timber at $10@15; 4-4 and 5-4 flooring at $14@15 per M; bright lumber, good merchantable, from city mills, cut to size, from $20@24. A Charleston freight report quotes the rates at $8 per M on lumber to New York; $9@10 on timber to do; to Providence $8 per M on boards; to Philadelphia $6@7 on boards, and $9 on timber; to Baltimore $6@7 per M on boards. The report also adds: "Vessels are in demand by our merchants to take lumber freights from Georgetown, S. C., Darien, and Satilla River, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla., to Northern ports, and $11 @12 per M are rates on lumber and boards."

METALS.—Copper sheathing is without much general activity, but on a regular trade demand is selling to a fair extent and prices rule steady. The supply is equal to current wants and not pressed for sale. We quote new at 32 @35c. per lb, and old at 20@23c. do, according to quantity. Ingot copper early in the week was active and higher prices obtained, and the improvement is still well supported, but buyers appear to have become pretty well supplied, the market closing quietly. We quote at 23½@23¾c. per lb. Scotch pig iron has come forward pretty freely during the past few weeks, and with a light demand the stock accumulated quite liberally. This induced holders to modify their views somewhat, and at the concession the market is more active, though still rather unsettled. We quote at about $37.50@42 per ton. American pig iron is in moderate request, but as there is not much stock here holders remain pretty steady. We quote at $42 per ton for No. 1; $38@39 do for No. 2, and $36 do for forge.

Bar iron from store is extremely dull, and values nominal. Some early changes are contemplated. We quote at $55 @57.50 per ton for common American and English bar; $90@92 for refined do; $140 do for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $117.50@122.50 do for ovals and half rounds; $120 @150 for scroll, and $97.50@155 for rods, 5-3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron is selling only in a jobbing way, but at about former figures, and the market may be called nominally steady at 5½@7c. Galvanized sheet is still quoted at 20@25 per cent. off list rates, and prices barely steady at 11@12½c. gold. Pig lead is not very active, but holders appear confident, and on choice brands are a little firmer for both domestic and foreign. We quote at 6½@6¾c. gold. Bar lead $9, and sheet and pipe $9.45 per 100 lbs net. Tin slabs have met with a fair inquiry, and are firm with some buoyancy on desirable styles. The stock is ample, but well under control, and sparingly offered. We quote in coin at 81½c. for English; 81½@82c. for Straits, and 85c. for Banca. Tin plates have sold with much freedom on consumptive account, at full coin rates, though our currency figures are now rather extreme, owing to decline in gold. Zinc from store is plenty, dull and lower, at about 11½@12½c. The latest reported imports include 485 tons pig iron; 13,914 R. R. bars; 12 tons sheet iron; 40 iron tubes; 4,701 pigs of lead; 10,787 bxs of tin; 250 slabs; 17,422 lbs do.

AILS.—Cut nails have met with a very light demand, and though the production is reduced and receipts small, the stock is found to be too large for the outlet. Prices are somewhat easier, and close unsettled and nominal. The demand is mainly on home account. Clinch are fairly active at former rates, but not very firm. We quote cut at 4½ @4¾c. for 4d. and 6d. in large parcels, 4½c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch at about 6½@6¾c., with choice at 6¾c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5½@5¾c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½@5¾c. for 5d., and 5½@6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 85c. @40c. for copper. The exports are 71 packages, valued at $381.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There has been rather more doing since our last Western orders, the low freight charges drawing out buyers, but still the volume of business is very moderate as compared with an ordinary commencement of the fall trade, and dealers look for continued dullness during the coming week or two. Prices on most goods remain as before, with no other signs of weakness than those usually exhibited on a slow market. Stocks continue well assorted and are receiving moderate additions. The jobbing trade is fair and prices uniform, but holders of stock in most cases anxious to operate. Linseed oil fell off in price somewhat immediately following our last report, but at the decline has since ruled quite steady, and closes without any perceptible weakness on the part of crushers. The supply, so far as known, is ample for all present wants and very well distributed. The offerings of outside lots are moderate. Western buyers are operating to some extent, but not with the activity anticipated. We quote at 97@98c. in casks, and 99c. @1.00 in bbls, with outside lots sold at 96½@97c. The exports are 7 pkgs paint, valued at $1,044; 104 gallons linseed oil, valued at $127, and 800 bbls oxide zinc, valued at $3,781.

PLASTER PARIS.—Larger amounts of lump have recently come to hand, but they were mainly on direct contract, and either added to our local manufacturers' already liberal accumulation of supplies or went forward to points in the country. Dealers ask about former rates, and if anything are a trifle firmer, as it is somewhat difficult to procure vessels to make the necessary trips. We quote at $4.37½@4.75 per ton for white, and $3@3.75 per ton for blue. Calcined has relapsed into a decidedly dull condition, and manufacturers appear anything but pleased with the market. Prices are unsettled and somewhat nominal, with both country and city selling as low as $2.10, and $2.40 representing about the outside rate for anything except in small job lots. Receipts for the week 2,110 tons of lump.

PITCH.—The demand has been rather more active, but was fully met by the supply on hand and the current arrivals, and the general range of values has not been affected further than to show more uniformity and strength. The movement is mainly on home account, though a few small parcels have been secured by exporters. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.50@2.80 for Southern, and small lots very active in a jobbing way from store $3.12½ @3.15 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 408 bbls. Exports for the week 65 bbls. Since January 1st, 3,394 bbls; and for the same period last year, 2,263.

SLATE.—The market for roofing slate as a whole is without much general activity, but begins to show premonitory symptoms of doing better, and dealers are more hopeful than for many weeks past. On local and near-by country account a few squares are going from yard every day, but this demand is fully and easily met by an ample and well-assorted supply. The coastwise shipping trade is, as before, extremely slow, and the call to supply Government work has been smaller than usual this season. At the West, however, the outlet is comparatively free,

SUPREME COURT—IN THE MATTER

Of the application of the Commissioners of the Central Park, for and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonality of the City of New York, relative to laying out a Public Square or Place in the Twelfth Ward of the City of New York, adjoining the High Bridge and New Reservoir, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park.

We, the undersigned Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment, in the above entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots, and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit:

FIRST. That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to JAMES H. COLEMAN, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 82 Nassau Street, (room No. 42), in this city, on or before the 16th day of August, 1869, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week-days next after the said 16th day of August, 1869, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days, at twelve o'clock, M.

SECOND. That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also the affidavits, estimates and other documents which were used by us in making our report, have been deposited in the Street Commissioners' office, in the City of New York, there to remain until the 27th day of August, 1869.

THIRD. That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid, are as follows, to wit: All those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, bounded and contained within the following limits, that is to say: Beginning at the point of intersection of the centre line of the Tenth avenue, with the centre line of One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street, and running thence northerly along the centre line of Tenth avenue to the centre line of the Kingsbridge road thence northerly along the centre line of the Kingsbridge road to the westerly side of Harlem River, thence southerly along the westerly side of Harlem River to the centre line of One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street, thence westerly along the centre line of One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street to the place of beginning.

FOURTH. That our report herein, will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at a Special term thereof, to be held at the Court-room, in the new Court-house, at the City Hall, in the City of New York, on the fourth day of September, 1869, at the opening of the court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made that the said report be confirmed.

Dated New York, July 12th, 1869.

One year, in advance..... 6 00

As the constant dripping of the water will in time wear away the hardest rock, so are lumbermen beginning to realize that the constant use of the axe will in time wear away what many have been so fond of calling "our inexhaustible forests." Year by year lumbermen see the accessible timber spots receding from the water courses, and that logging is now done miles away from streams that formerly wound their way through heavy tracts of pine. During the year 1868 the estimate of the lumber cut and manufactured in the State of Michigan was over 1,600,000,000 of feet. The receipts of pine lumber at the port of Chicago alone exceeded 1,000,000,000 of feet. The general yield of pine lands to the acre is about six thousand feet. This would show that over 160,000 acres of land was stripped of its pine to supply the single port of Chicago last year. There is, however, one consolation for all this, and that is, that the cleared pine lands of Michigan, unlike the Southern pine lands, are not "pine barrens." When cleared, they are excellent for farming purposes, and will grow the very finest of wheat. Several counties in Michigan which a few years ago were lumber counties are now noted for agriculture, and export largely the products of the farm and of the field.

THE past summer has been one of the healthiest on record, and although we have had two or three little frights, we have safely passed through small-pox, cholera, and yellow fever, and as the season is now so far advanced but little danger is to be apprehended from any of these sources. Cool summers are always healthy, and the death rate is always low. New York should be the healthiest city in the world, but it is not, as the rate of mortality both in Paris and London is much lower than in our own city. There is one thing to which particular attention should now be paid, and that is to our street pavements, and only those should be adopted which can be easily kept clean and free from impurities. The sweeping of streets, and the consequent raising of dust, should be done away with, and only such pavements be adopted as will admit of being readily cleansed, and kept sweet and pure by the application of water.

THE real estate business bids fair to be lively in Brooklyn during the coming fall. All through the dull season the transfers in Brooklyn have exceeded those of New York more than double in number, although sometimes one conveyance in New York in amount will exceed twenty made in Brooklyn. The first auction sale for the fall season will take place, by the Messrs. Mellick, on September 2d. We will soon have the rest of the auctioneers going, and lively times may be looked for.

THE World has on several occasions directed attention to the coolness with which the Post Office authorities have taken entire possession of the sidewalk adjoining the site of the future Post Office. We shall be surprised if within the next two years the newspapers are not called upon to chronicle numerous accidents arising from this obstruction to the travel of pedestrians.

HOUSE-BUILDING.

No art enjoys with us so broad a field for its development as architecture. Every man, it is said, who rears a family builds a house. Considering the vast increase of dwelling-houses within a few years, it would seem as if this assertion were true. And yet, with all this increase of houses, building is not regarded as a fine art. In no art is charlatanism so prevalent. Poor pictures and poor music readily find critical opponents, but not poor buildings. Bad taste, involving waste, ugliness and defective construction, passes unchallenged; and not only unchallenged, but it is often highly praised—particularly in public buildings. Architecture, nevertheless, is making great progress, and there is promise of nobler results.

Every house is a work of art, and like other works of art, is the result of much thinking in many directions. The fundamental or primary ideas of a house now-a-days, after shelter, are comfort and convenience; whatever is understood by the phrase "modern improvements." As a nation of house-builders we have carried these ends out to their greatest degree of development. Bell-pulls, speaking-tubes, dumb-waiters, gas, heating and water works, attest their own perfection. Now that these aims are achieved, we are energetically pursuing æsthetic notions. Variety of color and of mouldings within and without, variety of material of construction and general medley of style, bear witness to this aim. And most laudable it is. Much less thought, however, is bestowed in this direction than on the modern improvements, which is not so laudable.

All æsthetic aims have to be considered under the general heading of taste. In our consideration of taste we include some things which have a moral import. Not only do we regard ornamentation and style as matters of taste, but place and provision for other useful objects in life besides modern improvements. A house is built in order to attain other ends than shelter, gas, heat, bathing and acoustic advantages.

A marked characteristic of our house architecture is its uniformity. The same general plan answers for everybody, its modifications depending only on greater or lesser wealth. Rarely do the number of a family, their sex, habits or sentiments, dictate the arrangement or use of particular apartments. It seems to be a conventional rule for every house to have large parlors, dining-room and library, the furnishing of which is of great cost. It makes no difference whether the master of the house is given to entertaining company or not. People who never give parties or hold receptions will maintain a couple of rich saloons empty all the year round. In the way of decoration the ceilings are loaded with heavy scroll-work and ponderous cornices; the walls are hung with rich papers and wainscottings, and occasionally with a collection of paintings in massive and richly carved frames. If there is a library, the glass cases are filled with a heretogeneous mass of books, so elegantly bound and so clean as to show at a glance they are never opened; their stereotyped titles, as the eye passes over them, declaring no favorite line of thought or method of study in their owner's mind. On examining the paintings, we find the fashionable school, powerful coloring and elaborate finish, in keeping with the binding of the books, which is necessary to withstand the bewilderment and flash of the complicated scroll-work against which the pictures are fastened. We look in vain for mental repose, whatever may be the realization of physical repose due to the perfect modern improvements. The dwelling is no monument of the owner's higher nature. We resort to his books in vain to find some clew to his intellectual sympathies with his race and time; we resort in vain to his art-treasures to find some honest admiration of what is delicate and beautiful in human or external nature. Everything is conventional and ostentatious. No sentiment is revealed but that of a shallow appreciation of foreign standards, and no thought but that of the brokers in literature and in art who have best pandered to this omnivorous craving for novelty.

Such houses display certain tendencies carried to extremes. The great defect of our domestic architecture lies in the absence of all that personal feeling which should control the plan and decoration of a house; the owner does not declare architecturally how he, independently of all other influences, regards what is moral and beautiful in his home-life. Men seem afraid to be original. They accept their standards of taste and culture from others. They do not seem to be aware that good taste is simply harmony arising from a moral appropriation of means to ends; they do not recognize their own feeling as the only reliable generator of artistic forms. A man with strong social sympathies, who is true to himself, will, in building a house, naturally provide suitable apartments for the entertainment of guests; his rooms will be commodious, and their decoration gay and lively; if his designs are not original, he will borrow judiciously from other sources, without going astray in the realm of ornamental confusion. Another, if he is fond of art, will arrange for some room with a good light, in which his treasures can be seen to the best advantage; he will not block up his windows with curtains; his taste will show itself in unity of subject or in signal qualities of art, denoting the fidelity of the sentiment gratified in this way. Another, if he is studious and of a reflective turn, will doubtless concentrate his architectural taste on the library; its walls will be of a mellow and soothing tone of color, and their decoration consistent with sentiments nourished on the associations born out of study and love for the works of men of genius. The best criterion of taste is a man's own moral or intellectual tendency. The moment he departs from this he is nothing but an imitator. It is only this which makes him kin with all the world. It is only this which will make his dwelling a prize to some one coming after him, of kindred sympathies. The great trouble now, when one seeks to buy instead of building a house, is to find one not constructed according to the conventional style, not evolved out of a thoughtless compliance with social hypocrisies.—Evening Post.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand has been about equal to the supply, and with pretty much all the arrivals closed out from day to day the market has an appearance of activity.
 The volume of business, however, is not any larger if as large as last week, and many of the heretofore sanguine dealers are beginning to lose confidence in any early improvement in this branch of trade. The current call from consumers to be sure is very good, but jobbers have an ample supply to meet it with, or can so easily replace any reduction of their stocks that the effect is scarcely perceptible upon the wholesale market, and it is a question with many whether the demand will materially increase before the laying in of cargoes for winter use commences. As to the available accumulation in manufacturers' hands, most accounts agree that it is full as large as ever known at this time of the year, and has been produced at a comparatively low cost, the unusually favorable weather counteracting the high price of labor; but as the market now stands it is useless to send brick forward and add still further depression to prices that have been barely maintained in the face of the reduced receipts of the past two or three weeks.
 Manufacturers therefore pile up their stock as it comes from the kilns, and with a fair margin at present rates, and some hopes of doing better later in the fall, none seem inclined to suspend operations until all spare storage room is filled up. There have been a few shipments to the Eastward of late, but this trade is likely to be interfered with, owing to a reduction of about $1 per M by Eastern makers. At the present writing prices are somewhat irregular and fixed according to the quantity of brick purchased and the general status of the buyer. We quote, however, at about $7.50 @ $8.50 for the bulk of the sales, $9.00 for prime, and $9.50 occasionally for something very extra in a small way, though as a rule the average of quality is fine, washed and inferior stock being rather a rarity. For pale brick the demand continues as light as ever and prices heavy at about $4 @ $5 per M, with choice held at $5.50. There is not much stock here, but plenty ready to come down the river whenever it is wanted. Croton fronts have sold very well and at times were a little scarce, but prices remain as before, ranging from $16 to $18 according to shade. Philadelphia fronts fairly active and steady at $30 @ $35 per M at yard by cargo, $40 @ $45 do here in lots to consumers.

CEMENT.—There is no very important changes to note for the past week, a large proportion of the productions finding a market when offered, and dealers and manufacturers obtaining former prices without difficulty. Fresh orders from the Eastward are less plenty probably than heretofore, but a few still come to hand and the shipments on previous contract do not appear to diminish to any extent. On local account the sales are quite free, and where jobbers have the room to spare and can get cargoes from vessels to store without extra cost for labor, &c., they are rather willing to lay in a small stock in view of probable future wants. Manufacturers it is understood find it unnecessary to force the production to any extent, and most companies are working comparatively slow, though none have suspended operations. We continue to quote at $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2 per bbl delivered here. We have no recent shipments of 40 bbls to British West Indies; 50 bbls to New Granada; 20 bbls to Brazil, and 500 bbls to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Exporters continue to watch the market pretty closely, and whenever an opportunity of calculating with any degree of certainty on exchange and freight charges occurs, they will buy to some extent from the choice grades. This outlet, however, is very small, and with local jobbers already well supplied and calling for nothing of import, the general wholesale market has a very slow tone. Supplies, however, of all kinds are coming forward slowly, importers, warned by the experience of last season, not bringing in any more stock than they will be likely to work off to advantage. Taking the general range of prices, there is no alteration, but close buyers can gain a little advantage, and two or three lots of mahogany have recently been quietly picked up for yard use at really low figures. Jobbers hold a good-sized and well-assorted supply, but at present are doing nothing except in a very small retail way. Prices strong and uniform at full former figures. Exports of 193 pcs mahogany to Hamburg valued at $1,000. Receipts as follows: From Curacao 61 tons lignumvitæ, and 16 tons ebony; from Frontera 244 logs mahogany; from Port-au-Platt 254 crotches mahogany, 17,445 lbs, and 121 pcs lignumvitæ, 13 logs, and 26 crotches satinwood.

GLASS.—The demand for foreign window glass at the moment is good and buyers are taking off considerable

IN WHAT SHALL I INVEST MONEY?

It is matter of no small interest to persons who have money to invest, in what way it should be put out so as to insure a certain return. Of course business people, who are willing to take business risks, can see abundance of openings for investment of money; but guardians, widows, prudent men who wish to retire from business, or who desire to invest so as to insure return to their children, are naturally puzzled as to the best means of putting out their money at interest.

Suppose government securities are thought of? prudent people's minds are at once unsettled by the clamors for repudiation, by arguments going to show that every great national debt has been partially or wholly repudiated; by uncertainty as to what the South will do when once again back into the Union; then there are the chances of other wars in the future, or great additions to the debt, by overland railroads, all of which gives timid investors anxiety, and makes them doubt the propriety of putting their money into government securities.

Then there are joint stock enterprises, railroads and the like; but in these property somehow has wings, and keeps flying away all the time. Railroad securities are of all others the most uncertain. As yet railroad bonds have been tolerably secure, but not so with stocks. Consolidation and manipulation; over-issues; watering of stock—the fate which has overtaken more than once the railroad system of England—all goes to show that railroad property is, of all others, the most insecure. Nor indeed is any corporate management quite certain; the recent revelations concerning the insurance companies of Great Britain cause a suspicion that those of this country are very much like them, and all conspire to make the public lose faith in every species of joint stock enterprise.

There is now in this country but one investment which is absolutely certain, and which, after all, bears the greatest profit of any other, and that is investment in real estate. Land cannot fly away; it cannot be watered (if it could be, sometimes it would be to its advantage); it cannot be stolen; while the immense additions to our population are speedily adding to the value of real estate. True, assessments and taxes sometimes weigh heavily upon the owner of unproductive property; but take it for all in all, whether in city or country, the man who invests in real estate is certain that the original sum will be made good to him, with strong probability that it will pay a better interest than any other known investment. To all doubting and trembling capitalists, widows, guardians, people who wish to provide for their children, there is nothing so certain as an investment in real estate. One can scarcely miss it in buying property within a hundred miles of the great growing cities; it must advance in value—indeed it cannot go back. Let every one, therefore, who wishes to make an investment which is better than any bank, or railroad, or life insurance, or government security, buy him a homestead, and keep it.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—There has been a very good and at times quite an active inquiry for hard brick during the past week, but this has been more than counteracted by the supplies which are slowly and surely increasing and begin to give receivers considerable trouble, the market at the present writing showing much irregularity, though the tendency is almost entirely in buyers' favor. All grades are weak, but the depression is most decided upon the poorest lots, as manufacturers are pushing these forward with the greatest freedom, and holding back the upper qualities wherever they have storage room, to take advantage of any reaction that may possibly occur. We have several times given publicity to rumors that manufacturers were suspending work, and that a falling off in the supply of bricks might be anticipated, but never fully endorsed the reports, and the present position of affairs shows that our judgment was correct; the few instances where anything approaching a scarcity took place being merely the result of temporary and easily remedied causes. The fact is, it has been almost impossible to suspend the production in such a way as to have the desired effect upon the market, owing to the largely increased number of parties engaged in the business, and a lack of unanimity of action. The fine weather has been favorable for all, but particularly so for the new hands, who have turned out stock to their fullest capacity, and refused to shut up their kilns while a sale was found for the brick at prices leaving any margin for profit or even saving actual loss, and older manufacturers, naturally feeling no disposition to succumb to this competition, have kept on burning steadily, their more perfect facilities for producing and longer experience enabling them to so dispose of their offerings that the returns were remunerative at least, though of course materially below the average of last season. The result of this is, fully as large if not a larger accumulation than ever before, and with the exception of the current comparatively light consumptive demand, no important outlet open, most of our jobbing dealers having all they want for present use, and the shipments Eastward, as we noted in our last, being checked by a decline at the points to which cargoes have been going forward. All the yards "up the river" are full to repletion, and our present receipts are merely the supply as it comes from the kilns, or is taken from the piled up stock to make room for better grades, which, as we have above noted, manufacturers intend holding until the last moment, in hope of selling to a little better advantage. Some fine lots have sold at $9 @ $9.50 per M, but prime can be bought at $8, and on the poorest we reduce rates 50c @ $1, and quote at $6.50 @ $8 per M. New Jersey yards are selling at about $6 @ $7 per M for the average, with choice lots in proportion. Pale brick are frequently almost without a market, and customers have to be drummed up, but prices, already quite low, are not further materially reduced, and may be placed at about $4 @ $5 for North River, and $5 @ $5.50 per M for Jersey. Croton fronts are in brisk demand as compared with the supply, which, quite unexpectedly, continues small, and no difficulty is experienced in realizing full prices at present on anything desirable offering. We quote at $16, $17, and $18 per M. according to shade. Philadelphia fronts are somewhat dull, and prices slack at $30 to $35 per cargo at yard and $38 to $45 per M here, in lots to consumers.

CEMENT.—The market for Rosendale continues firm and uniform at former figures, and business, as a rule, is fair, but for the time being at least there is an apparent lull in the general demand, and manufacturers are not delivering with any unusual freedom, except upon previous contract. The call from the Eastward, in fact from all distant points, is diminishing somewhat, and our city dealers are not yet prepared to engage or receive any more than they will be likely to use for a few weeks ahead, and manufacturers of pipe, &c., have in most cases all their wares for the balance of the season anticipated. The feeling, however, is evidently as confident as at any time during the past unusually prosperous season, and producers seem confident in their ability to keep the mills running to the close of navigation. We quote at $1.90 per bbl delivered at Rondout, and $2.00 per bbl delivered here. Foreign styles are in fair average demand, and with a moderate supply on hand, prices are well sustained, closing firm. We quote according to quantity and quality at $9.50 to $10 per bbl for Roman; $10 to $10.50 do for Portland, and $11 to $16.50 do for Keene's. Shipments of 500 bbls cement to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—In a wholesale way the market for the principal styles is still quite dull, in fact at an almost complete standstill, and dealers generally report "nothing new" for the week. There is naturally a few buyers on hand, but they manifest no anxiety whatever, and appear to be merely awaiting the offering of some cheap lot which can be exported to advantage, or laid away in yard for future use. Of cedar the scarcity continues and all good merchantable parcels can readily be disposed of upon arrival at full prices, though the introduction of substitutes has undoubtedly lessened the demand for this grade of wood. Mahogany, without being unusually plenty, appears to come forward in quantities sufficient for the demand, and importers are showing greater caution than last year, in order to prevent an excess of stock and consequent lower rates. All other styles are comparatively plenty, and prices generally are a trifle in buyers' favor, though there is nothing to warrant a reduction in quotations. The stocks and assortments in jobbers' hands are good, and they meet the moderate consumptive demand with ease, in most cases asking full rates, but frequently shading somewhat, in order to close a desirable sale. The receipts are 24 logs cedar from Para, and 611 pcs boxwood from Liverpool. No exports.

GLASS.—There is considerable quantities of foreign window glass going from store on last week's purchases, but the demand from the West has subsided very perceptibly, owing to the increased cost of freight charges, and though the call from the South and from the local trade is fair, the general market has an extremely dull tone at the moment. The recent advance in prices has had a tendency to check the demand somewhat, though all dealers adhere pretty closely to the new list. The additions to the stock are not large, but still there are fair amounts coming forward, and the assortment is well preserved. The bulk of the sales are at a discount of 50 to 55 per cent. off list on French, and 40 to 50 per cent. off on English. The latest reported imports are 6,572 pkgs glass, valued at $15,007, and 102 plate, valued at $12,786. American glass is in fair demand, and can be bought comparatively cheap, many dealers offering their stocks low, in order to close out old lots and get matters into shape for the fall trade. The current discount is about 60 per cent., but there is a prospect of an advance to 50 per cent. off list when new stock comes forward.

LABOR.—A few unimportant movements have taken place of late, but the general status of the market is unchanged, and we find nothing of very great interest to record. Some of the bricklayers' unions have had partial strikes, against the manner in which employers chose to manage their own business in the employment of apprentices and workmen, who sensibly refused to connect themselves with the trade associations, but the result in nearly all cases has been unfavorable to the strikers. The lathers have of late separated from the plasterers, and set up an independent organization. There is a movement on foot to form an association of all the building trade unions of the city, but the plan is as yet in rather a crude state, and its success problematical. The eight hour law is now seldom mentioned, except as a possibility of the future, and the few combinations of workmen who have enjoyed the system for some time, begin to think of returning to ten hours, for the sake of the additional wages, the very result we predicted months ago. The time of the recent Labor Congress in Philadelphia was mostly occupied in arguing the rights of certain parties to seats, or in reading and adopting a number of abstract resolutions, and nothing calculated to actually ameliorate the condition of the working classes was accomplished. In fact the movement had many precursory symptoms of an attempt to organize a new political party, and the bona-fide labor question on its own merits is evidently beyond the depth of many of the leaders in the association.

LATH.—All the advices from the Eastward report the water as very low, and the streams still falling, but buyers either do not or will not believe this to be the case, particularly as cargoes continue to arrive with considerable freedom, and the market has been rather slow and uncertain. The current receipts, however, are said to be a few parcels left over at the mills, or raked together from various points for shipment, and wholesale operators, confident that supplies must soon cease or materially fall off, at least have remained firm throughout, and except on common or undesirable parcels, full former figures have in all cases been insisted upon and obtained. The consumptive demand is not very heavy, and there is enough lath on hand to meet it for the present, but stocks in yard are gradually diminishing, and some dealers must soon become purchasers through absolute necessity. If the amount offering at that time be as small as receivers predict, an advance may reasonably be expected, but as we have before had occasion to remark, current rates or higher appear to draw unexpectedly large amounts of stock, and there is no doubt the production will be pushed to the fullest capacity whenever it is possible to keep saws in motion. The sales for week 4,200,000 at $2.70 to $2.75 per M., part previous to arrival.

LIME.—At full former rates the market for Rockland lime remains very firm, and anything that comes to hand is quickly disposed of, especially if the cargo contain a large proportion of common, as this is the grade now most sought after. Receivers have not deemed it advisable to further advance figures, but the tendency is that way, the recent destruction of a number of kilns by fire reducing the source of supply. A scarcity of stock is also occasioned by the fact that a great many vessels are lying idle at this end of the route, unable to procure remunerative return freights. We quote common at $1.50, and lump at $1.75 per bbl. The Northern limes are selling well, and in some cases are taken by parties who always give the preference to the Eastern stock when it is here, but do not now find enough offering to meet their wants. The principal companies are sold ahead, and prices are firm on the same basis as Rockland. Twelve cargoes reported coastwise.

LUMBER.—Here and there a retail dealer is still to be found doing a temporarily fair amount of trade, but they are decidedly the exceptions rather than the rule, and as a whole, our market is very flat and uninteresting. In some cases, contracts with builders have to be met, but the recent liberal supply of spruce from the Eastward renders this a comparatively easy matter in nearly every instance, and has no other effect than to give business an appearance of life which it does not in reality possess. The purchase for manufacturing purposes are still conducted almost exclusively on the hand to mouth principle, and this class of buyers, who usually are at this season pretty busy picking out assortments, have as yet laid in no supply whatever, except in a few isolated cases. But notwithstanding the unsatisfactory condition of the market at present, we do not find that any of the leading dealers are disposed to grant quotable concessions on their stocks, and the general tone of prices for all the principal grades may be considered as quite steady, strengthened to some extent of late by the firmer feeling at Albany and West, and by the continued delay in the arrivals of lumber at the usual points of distribution. With a free trade, the current receipts at this point would not be large enough to supply all wants, but under the ruling state of affairs are pretty liberal, and stocks on pier and in yard begin to show considerable magnitude. They have, however, been well selected, and buyers will find the assortment good in all except some of the finer grained hard woods, which cannot be obtained just now. The Albany market has held an increased supply, but only for a short time, as Eastern buyers were very fair operators, and even some call from the river counties, and this city have prevailed. Prices firm, and dealers disposed to show some independence, in which they feel partly justified by the ease with which they work off the arrivals, though rather more eagerness on the part of New York buyers would be acceptable.

Our wholesale market has shown a fair amount of activity during the past week, and except on common and inferior goods, prices generally have been well sustained, though in no case are we aware of any actual advance established. Supplies were in most cases ample to meet all calls, and in a few instances rather in excess, but sellers have been enabled to gradually work off the surplus without submitting to any great sacrifice. The movement for export continues very good, and we again hear of some pretty liberal sales on South American account, in addition to the usual call for odd parcels to fill up unengaged freight room, while local dealers appear willing to operate whenever they have room to dispose of their purchases. Eastern spruce, considering the report of low water and diminished production, has been quite plenty, and as the regular buyers had not as yet worked off enough of their previous purchases to make room for additional cargoes, receivers again found some difficulty in placing their schedules to advantage. Still no necessity for forcing the market has presented itself, and prices appear to have been very well sustained throughout, closing if anything with a slight feeling of buoyancy. Common specifications have sold at $18 per M. but the majority range at about $19 to $20.50, and a few reach $21 to $21.50 per M. There has been nothing fancy on sale, and last week's outside figure was not realized. For white pine the market is reported as very uniform, and dealers generally appear extremely confident in this class of lumber, as the accumulated supply is small and the additions thereto moderate both present and prospective. The assortment, however, is good, and as the demand just now is somewhat slack, selections are easily made. We quote at $20 to $25 for inferior to fair box boards, and $26 to $30 for good to prime do, and choice lots occasionally running higher. Piling has been rather dull, and quite a number of cargoes have gone into channels to be jobbed out. Prices are modified a trifle, and may now be placed at 6 to 7 1/2 c. for inferior to prime, and 8 c. per foot for choice, and it must be something very extra indeed to sell above the latter figure. A few odd lots of pickets have come forward to fill up freight room, and have sold at the best rate possible, say about $5 to $5.50 for 3-4 inch, and $13 to $14 for the large sizes. Yellow pine is in moderate demand only, but there is a sale for about all offering, as the amounts coming forward are small, and prices have ruled firm up to the close. Jobbing dealers are reported as holding fair supplies. We quote at $30 to $33 per M for common, and $34 to $35 for good. Shingles of all kinds are almost entirely neglected, and have no fixed value at the moment, though holders would allow very reasonable terms with any prospect of effecting sales. The transactions during the week embrace 1,390,000 feet Eastern spruce at $15 to $21 per M; 125,000 white pine at $20 do; 240,000 feet yellow pine at $33 to $34; and 500 pieces piling at 7 to 8 c. per foot, and 75,000 two feet Cypress shingles at $14.00 per M.

We also notice shipments as follows: To Hamburg 79 logs black walnut, valued at $2,530; to Bremen 86 logs do; valued at $1,748; to British West Indies 20,000 shingles; to Palermo 20 plank; to Venezuela one mast; to San Francisco 1,940 pieces lumber, 1,646 pieces plank and 23,050 staves; to Hamburg 7,200 staves; to Rotterdam 75,560 do; to London 7,800 do; to Glasgow 4,900 do; to Gibraltar 3,000 do; to Flecamp 1,500 do; to French West Indies 13,000 do; to Funchal 15,250 do; to Oporto 7,200 do. The receipts reported are as follows: From Jacksonville 449,000 feet lumber; from Chance Harbor, N. S. 400 spiles; from Sand River, N. S. 296 do; from Shulee, N. S. 650 do; from St. Georges, N. B. 350 do; from Dipper Harbor, N. B. 200 do; from St. John, N. B. 64,283 feet deals, 4,249 feet scantling, and 437,900 laths, and from do, by canal boat, 13,844 pieces lumber; from Montreal, by canal boat, 2,000 laths and 16,104 pieces lumber; and from Ottawa, by canal boat, 20,530 pieces lumber. From Maine coast 32 cargoes lumber, 3 do lath, 1 do piling, and 5 do spars. Freight engagements and charters as follows: To Bremen, per steamer, 70 tons black walnut, at 25s.; a Br. bark, 517 tons, hence to River Plate, lumber, $13; a bark, 231 tons, Norfolk to Barbadoes, staves, $13; a Br. bark, 331 tons (now at Boston) from Montreal to River Plate, lumber, $20 and 5 per cent.; a brig, 201 tons, to Norfolk R. R., iron, at $1.95, thence to Barbadoes with staves, at $13, and back from St. Domingo with logwood, at $6.50; a bark and a brig (now at Boston) from St. Mary's, Ga., to River Plate with lumber, and a brig, from Brunswick, Ga. to Curacao with re-sawed lumber, on private terms.

From Chicago, we have the following:

A very satisfactory business was transacted, and in some instances holders were realizing an appreciation of 12 1/2 c. on prices current yesterday. The quality of the offerings was a trifle better on the two days preceding, and for choice cargoes from Manistee and Muskegon, the tendency of prices was to a higher range, one cargo from the latter point, consisting of boards, brought $15.25, while strips, boards, and mixed readily commanded $12. 240,000 feet of mill-run lumber, from Dunean City, was sold by inspection at $9 for cull, $15 for common, $30 for clear strips, and $36 for wide clear. This, perhaps, the best cargo of lumber that has ever been shipped from that point. The demand for "A" sawed shingles was fair, and the market ruled firm at $3 to $3.12 1/2 per 1,000 afloat. Lath sold to a moderate extent at $2. At the close of business hours only one cargo was left unsold. The Shaginaw Enterprise says: "Most of the staves bought during the past season have been shipped, the number being about one-third less than last year, owing to the reduction of prices during the winter. We note the following transactions since our last report: 243 M feet mill-run —by inspection—at $9 for culls, $15 for common, $30 for clear strips, and $36 for wide clear; 100 M feet short scantling and joist at $11.12 1/2; 100 M feet, part Norway, at $12; 160 M feet boards, at $15.25; 135 M feet strips, boards, and mixed, at $12; 40 M lath, at $2; 60 M feet coarse mixed, at $10.50, lath at $2, pickets at $8; 20 M feet 1/2 strips and boards, at $13; balance joist and scantling, at $10.50; lath at $2; 60 M feet inferior mixed, at $10; 150 M feet boards and strips.

From the Eastward we learn of no important changes in values, but very firm markets, with a small and constantly decreasing supply, consequent upon the low condition of all the streams. Shipments were making, however, as there was still enough at several points to make up cargoes.

The current rates at Boston are as follows:

Clear pine $75 to $80 for No. 1; $65 to $70 for No. 2; $55 to $60 for No. 3; $45 to $52 for No. 4; and $25 to $32 for No. 5. Coarse pine $20 to $22 for No. 5; and $13 to $16 for refuse. Shipping boards $21 to $22; Spruce $16.00 to $15.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $10 to $12 for refuse. Hemlock boards $13.00 to $15.50 for Nos. 1 & 2; and $9 to $10 for refuse.

St. Johns, N. B., prices as follows:

The regular quotations for lumber freights are as follows: To Boston $2.50 to $3.75; to Providence $4.50 to $5.00; to New York, $4.50 to $5.00; to Philadelphia, $5.00; and to North Side Cuba, $3.00 to $3.00.

A recent Savannah report says:

City mills are comparatively idle for want of timber. Country mills are busy. Both shipping and mill timber are wanted, especially the latter—none on the market, and but few arrivals.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@12.00 per M feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@23 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $24@26 for flooring.

Freight charges from Savannah are as follows:

Timber to Philadelphia, $10; resawed, $8. Timber to New York, $10; resawed, $9. Timber to Eastern ports, $11. Lumber to Baltimore, $6@7; to Boston, $9@10.

Charleston prices are as follows:

Timber for milling purposes from $5@9 per M; shipping timber at $10@15; 4-4 and 5-4 flooring at $14@15 per M; bright lumber, good merchantable, from city mills, cut to size, from $20@24. Charleston freight charges are as follows: $8 per M on lumber to New York; $9@10 on timber to do; to Providence, $8 per M on boards; to Philadelphia, $6@7 on boards and $9 on timber; to Baltimore, $6@7 per M on boards.

METALS.—Copper sheathing is without any general activity, but in small lots to regular buyers there is a very fair trade doing, and the market remains quite uniform at full former figures. The offerings are not excessive, but are equal to all current wants. We continue to quote at 32c.@35c. per M for new, and 20c.@25c. do. for old, according to quantity. Ingot copper is without new features of interest, the demand running moderate throughout the week, and prices undergoing no decided change. We quote at 23c.@23½c. per M. Scotch pig has not attracted much attention since our last, buyers confining their operations to such small parcels as would answer for immediate wants, and at the close the feeling is again rather dull. Prices are without change and may be called steady at $38@43 per ton, according to quality and quantity. American early in the week was rather dull, but of late the demand has improved somewhat, and full prices are still current. The supplies are not large, but the general assortment fair. We quote at $42 per ton for No. 1; $38@39 do. for No. 2; and $36 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is still quite dull, but in view of the recent action of manufacturers, dealers have found it necessary to advance their figures somewhat. Stocks ample, both of domestic and foreign. We quote at $7.50@9.00 per ton for common American and English bar; $95.00@100.00 for refined do.; $140 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $120.00@145.00 do. for ovals and half rounds; $120.00@150.00 for scroll; hoop $125.00@150.00; and $100.00@155.00 for rods, 5-8@3-16 inch, all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron is selling moderately as wanted by consumers, with former prices current, and holders comparatively steady in their views. We quote at 5½c.@7c. for singles, doubles and trebles. Galvanized sheet is selling to a fair extent at 20@25 per cent., though in some cases the discounts have been reduced a trifle. Russia sheet is plenty, the demand rather light, and prices not over firm, though no concessions have as yet been granted. We quote at 11c.@12½c. gold. Pig lead has been in very good demand, particularly foreign stock, and prices remain strong and uniform. We quote at 6½c.@6¾c. gold. Bar lead $9, and sheet and pipe $9.20 per 100 lb. net cash to the trade. Tin slabs have been dull, and though most holders ask former rates, some slight deductions have been made for the sake of working off old lots. We quote in coin rather nominally at 31½c. for English; 31½c. for Straits; and 37c. for Banca. Tin plates at the moment are almost entirely neglected, and values unsettled. Zinc is plenty, dull, and heavy, and cannot be sold at above 12c. from store, except in a very small way. We note recent imports of 41 tons iron hoop; 300 tons pig iron; 21,584 R. R. bars; 56 tons sheet iron; 983 iron tubes; 5,836 pigs of lead; 14,097 boxes tin; and 110,250 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—The market for all kinds is excessively dull, the domestic trade scarcely buying at all, and exporters taking only small job lots on positive orders. Prices are no lower in view of the almost entire absence of margin for profit, but are without strength, and business must materially increase before any advance can be obtained. The stocks are liberal and well distributed. We quote at 4½ @4½c. for 4d. and 6d. in large parcels; 4½c. in a jobbing way, and the usual increase from retail dealers' hands. Clinch at about 6½@6¾c., with choice at 6¾c. Finishing nails are quoted at about 5½@5¾c. for 6d., 8d., 10d. and 12d.; 5½@5¾c. for 5d., and 5½@6c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 27c. for yellow metal; 88c. 40c. for copper. The exports are 364 packages, valued at $1,502. Shipments to San Francisco 1,550 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The market continues dull in a wholesale way, about the only demand coming from local jobbers buying standard goods to supply their regular trade, though occasionally a small export is filled. There is a temporary scarcity of English white lead, but this will soon be remedied by parcels now in transit, and of all other styles the stock is ample. Prices remain as before and are nominally steady, but would be shaded somewhat to liberal buyers. The retail trade is fair and the market sustained, with an ample supply of goods on hand to meet current calls. Linseed oil is still devoid of animation, buyers calling for only small job parcels, and prices have favored the buyers throughout the week, closing somewhat nominal. Crushers appear rather anxious to operate, and though not crowding the market, have placed a good supply on sale. We quote at 96@98c. in casks, and 98c.@$1 in bbls. The exports are 124 pkgs paint, valued at $127; and 70 gallons linseed oil, value $77.

PITCH.—There is some little inquiry for city of desirable quality, at comparatively steady rates, and of these the stock is small. Southern, of medium and inferior grades, however, continues to arrive quite freely, and meeting with scarcely any outlet can be bought at low prices, though on the general range our figures remain as before. The present production is reported as light. We quote at $2.75@2.85 for city; $2.50@2.60 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12@3.15 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 650 bbls. Exports for the week 10 bbls. Since January 1st, 3,449 bbls, and for the same period last year 2,320.

PLASTER PARIS.—White lump has met with some little inquiry but no general demand, and the market is without any improving features. There is no trouble experienced in procuring stock when it is wanted, but all manufacturers in this city and most of those out of town have more than enough on hand and to arrive to meet all their wants, and refuse to make further bids. Prices are nominally steady at $4.25@4.75 per ton, but it must be something remarkably fine to reach the outside figure. Blue lump is entirely neglected and heavy at about $3@3.50 per ton. Calcined continues to attract only a moderate share of attention either on local consumption account or for shipment, and the market is in a very irregular condition. About $2.40 per bbl. is considered the general market rate; but sales are made at prices varying considerably from this, according to circumstances, large wholesale parcels (something of a rarity) ranging as low as $2.10@2.20 per bbl, and retail lots from jobbers' hands reach $2.65@2.75 per bbl. The production is moderate and so managed as to just about balance the current outlet. The receipts of lump for the week are 1,015 tons. Shipments of 100 bbls calcined to Cisplatine Republic; and 1,000 bbls to San Francisco.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There has been a fair amount of business doing throughout the week under review mainly with the local trade and interior shipping trade, though a few export orders were filled. Prices have fluctuated slightly on one or two occasions in buyers' favor, but at the present writing are again steady, and not materially different from the figures given in our last. The receipts have been fair but were nearly equal to the sales, and the stock remains as before, close estimates placing the amount in yard at 2,500 bbls. We quote at 41½@42c. for merchantable and shipping order; 42½@43c. for New York bbls; 43½@44½c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 1,451 bbls. Exports for week 22 bbls. Since January 1st, 15,835 bbls, and for the same period last year, 13,351.

TAR.—The demand has been very fair, and the market is rather firmer, owing in part to the discovery that the large proportion of the recent arrivals came in on contract and have not been added to the supplies. Exporters are not very liberal buyers, but in odd parcels, to supply the local and interior demand, dealers are handling considerable amounts, and of late have obtained higher prices. On the 18th ult. a count of the stock in yard footed up to about 6,650 bbls. We quote at $2.75@3 per bbl for North County as it runs; $3.25@3.50 for Wilmington do; $3.25@3.75 for rope, and occasionally $3.87½@4 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week, 628 bbls. Exports for week, 31 bbls. Since January 1st, 29,942 bbls, and for the same period last year, 709.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus report for the week ending August 31, 1869, says:

Since our last report there has been a steady business throughout the district. Prices are without change. The receipts for the week, it will be seen, are large—the largest we have had any week this season—and although the prospect is that the receipts will continue free, the active trade confidently looked for hence to the close of navigation will check any decline in prices. In coarse lumber, which at present is in fair stock, holders look for an active trade and an upward movement in prices, which are very firm at quotations.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending August 28th were 34,175,000 feet, against 23,947,000 feet against 23,647,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 15,325,000 feet, against 15,668,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st, are 609,748,000 feet, against 642,666,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, are 403,263,000 feet against 383,009,000 feet in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buf-

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo.....	12,172,500 feet.	8,615,300 feet.
Oswego.....	7,526,800 feet.	8,170,000 feet.
Total.....	17,699,300 feet.	16,785,300 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the fourth week of August, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft.	Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs
1869.. 23,475,100	1,998	—
1868.. 15,470,100	1,204	1,838,500

Of the boards and scantling received 15,660,500 feet were by the Erie, and 7,514,600 ft. by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to September 1st, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g, ft.	Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs
1869.. 245,285,600	29,934	10,000
1868.. 267,502,100	29,592	60,486

The receipts of 1868 include some 11,000,000 ft. boards and scantling detained on the canal during the winter 1867-68.

We quote freights unchanged, with a good business doing. Vessels in fair supply.

BUY THE NEW ROOFING FELT!!!
BUY THE NEW ROOFING FELT!!!
 A PATENT ARTICLE OF GOOD THICKNESS and durability, suitable for roofs of wooden and brick buildings—can be applied by an ordinary mechanic. Can be used without gravel on cow-sheds, or out-houses, which makes it more economical than any other material used. It comes in rolls of good width and length. Sold in quantities to suit purchasers. Buy it in preference to the thin paper felting cemented together.
 To House owners and Builders—Buy the Patent Felt for lining the walls of every house you are building. It is a perfect security against dust and dampness, it keeps out the cold of winter and heat of summer, thus preserving an even temperature in your residence. It ought to be put under the slate of every roof to prevent leakage from snow. Cheap and durable. For sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

SUBURBAN IMPROVEMENTS.

THE suburbs of New York city are endeavoring to keep pace with the city proper, both in the design and scope of their projected improvements, and every encouragement should be given them in their laudable desire of attempting to make the surrounding country a harmonious whole with New York. Our city is growing rapidly in every direction, and a few years hence the whole surrounding country will be covered with towns, villages, and cities. To the westward, Jersey City, Bergen City, and Newark are becoming more intimately connected with New York by the extent and character of their solid improvements. The New York and Newark Railroad, just completed, adds another link to these centres of attraction and interest for residence and business. Many investors have had their attention directed to the hitherto neglected Newark flats, which are well adapted for manufacturing purposes, particularly along the Passaic and Hackensack rivers. The idea is being discussed of widening the Morris Canal to 200 feet, with sufficient depth to admit steam and heavy craft to the city of Newark and between the Hackensack and Passaic rivers. This would immediately afford immense manufacturing facilities, and the business of the canal company, as well as of the citizens of Newark, would be largely increased. The freighting capacity of the canal which connects the coal regions with Jersey City would be heavily taxed by the consumers and manufacturers of Newark and vicinity. There are various interests which would be largely benefited by this improvement, and there are hundreds of acres of land lying above high-water mark, and adjacent to the canal, which can now be bought at very low prices, which would soon find a ready market at a large advance from the present.

Now that September has opened we may expect a greater interest in real estate sales in this city. The summer has proved a poor one for dealers in real estate, the demand being light and the number of actual transactions very few. But now, that the summer is past and people are returning to town, we may expect that the vacant houses will be filled, and more inquiry instituted for real estate, both improved and unimproved. Trade, on the whole, promises fairly; the very large crops of every description raised this season cannot but give an impetus to our wholesale and retail traffic. The progress of improvement on the north side of the city, laying out new streets and drives, especially the works on which the Central Park Commissioners are engaged, cannot fail to render desirable a large number of lots for building purposes. Hence we expect to see a tolerably lively time in real estate business this fall, though it may not compare with the busy seasons of several years back.

CARS have at last been placed on the West Side Elevated Railroad. They have been run for the first half mile so successfully as to please all who have tried them. The railroad company promise that cars will be run from Thirtieth street to the Battery within sixty days. If everything progresses favorably another track will be laid on the opposite side of the street, so that a double line of cars can be run—one from the Battery to Thirtieth street, on the right-hand side of Greenwich street and Ninth avenue; the other from Thirtieth street to the Battery, on the left. We regret to learn from officers of the company that no steps have as yet been taken to continue the line beyond Thirtieth street. They hope to make the distance from Thirtieth street to the Battery in fifteen minutes, but we do not believe they can accomplish any such time. As to the probable continuation of the road beyond Thirtieth street, it will never be of much advantage to the public until it runs to the upper end of the island.

and wood dwellings, 16.8x40; W. P. Hunt, owner,

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand for hard brick has not been very active, though probably equal to last week, and the general market presents no features of importance not already set forth in these columns. Prices continued weak and irregular within our previously quoted range, and all common lots are freely offered on arrival, upon terms so favorable that many buyers, though not actually wanting the stock at present, are frequently induced to find storage room for a few thousands in view of future necessities. A great many of the city yards, however, are commencing to overrun, and in some instances, along the East River front in particular, extra room has been hired, and unless the consumptive outlet increases dealers will soon withdraw as buyers. The receipts, vessels do not go into berth to discharge with the same rapidity noticeable a couple of weeks ago, and at some of the wholesale depots the amount of unsold goods is slowly increasing. From the yards the shipments are still going on as fast as stock is ready for market, the sheds being full, and docks pretty well crowded, and the production is unabated. We are informed that at a recent meeting the manufacturers concluded to keep up fires in their kilns until the 1st of October. We quote somewhat nominally at $4.50@$.90 per M for common grades; and $5.50@$.95 for good to choice do. Some few shipments have been made to the Eastward, but only the very best stock is now profitable for this trade. Pale brick have done rather better during the week, not in price, but in activity, and several pretty large lots, which were causing much uneasiness to owners, have become materially reduced. The demand was in part from the upper section of the city, but largely from Williamsburgh and vicinity. We continue to quote at $4@$.55 per M for North River; and $5@$.55 per M for Jersey, the market closing not remarkably strong, but might be called steady. Croton fronts have come forward in more liberal quantities, the demand has been nearly all supplied, and the market has now a comparatively quiet tone, though steady at former rates. We quote at $16 per M for brown; $17 do for dark; and $18 do for red; Philadelphia fronts are fairly active in a jobbing way, and steady at $30@35 per M by cargo, at yard, and $38@45 per M here, in lots to consumers. Shipments of 1,500 bricks to Cuba, and 25,000 do to New Granada.

CEMENT.—All the leading companies report a good active outlet for Rosendale, about as fast as manufactured, though, as previously noted, the deliveries for the time being are mainly on previous contract, and many have their production sold ahead up to the last of the current month. Every indication, however, points to a full fall trade, and it is anticipated that the production will be unabated as long as stock can be sent down the river. The Eastern shipments have not decreased any since our last, in fact a few rather larger orders have come to hand, and of late there has been some call from the South, and two or three pretty large invoices are now going aboard for New Orleans. Current receipts, even when delivered to jobbers, are almost immediately transferred to consumers, and there is not much of an accumulation of stock now in the city. Prices show no change, and we still quote at $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2 delivered here, but there is no weakness whatever, and we hear intimations of a contemplated advance within a few weeks, about the time probably when dealers will be ready to commence stocking up for winter. Shipments of 100 bbls to New Granada; 100 to Brazil; and 100 do to Chili.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—We find a continued steady and uniform feeling on the part of manufacturers, and as a rule a pretty close adherence to the regular price lists, though by special agreement buyers can occasionally operate on somewhat easier terms. Business cannot be called active, though there is in odd lots a fair amount of goods changing hands, and considering the dull season the position is as favorable as could reasonably be expected. Southern orders are still rather scarce, but there has of late been rather more call from the West, and the local inquiry is fully up to the ordinary average. Of the regular sizes and styles there is a very good supply on hand, and with no falling off in the production selections can be made without difficulty.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—For the small sizes of vitrified the demand is very moderate, the supply quite liberal, and the market generally dull and unsatisfactory. The large pipes, however, are going off almost as rapidly as produced, mostly to meet corporation contracts with neighboring cities, and this trade is the only sign of life we can discover. Prices are quoted nominally as before, but actual buyers are liberally treated, particularly on the styles selling slowly, and our figures may be considered extreme. Manufacturers complain considerably of the season's business thus far, and many state that they have barely cleared expenses, owing in part to the high cost of coal.

FOREIGN WOODS.—We still find a very small amount of business doing in this market, the few small lots changing hands being merely such as the absolute and pressing wants of buyers require, or something offered so low, that regular dealers are induced to purchase and store away for future use. The amount on sale to be sure is small, and embraces nothing extraordinarily desirable, but there is enough for all current calls, and any increase just now would probably make it necessary to force the market, in order to realize. Prices are quoted as steady, but they are only nominally so, as sellers are willing to show many favors, when any important transactions can be consummated thereby. There is said to be a number of very fair foreign orders here, but exporters have found operations much restricted during the past week by the irregularity in exchange and gold. Spanish cedar is still very scarce, and held at such high figures that it is simply impossible to effect sales when any other wood can be found to answer, even as an inferior substitute. Jobbers are well supplied, and are retailing out a little stock, but they report trade very light for the season, and many complain that manufacturers have bought nothing as yet to meet future wants. No exports. The receipts are as follows: From Wanks River, Nic., 114 logs mahogany, 46 do cedar, and 41 pieces rosewood; from Santa Anna 157 logs, and 47 ends mahogany, and from Para 42 logs cedar.

GLASS.—With a very few exceptions importers and dealers in foreign window report their trade as having fallen off very decidedly within the week under review, and some think the market quite as dull as at any time during the season. Still in small lots a few orders are here and there being filled, and the aggregate of stock going out is nearly large enough to balance the comparatively small receipts, and the accumulation of supplies does not increase to any extent. The call is mainly from local and near-by interior buyers. Prices remain as before, and may be called steady. We quote at 50@55 per cent. off list on French, and 40@50 per cent. off on English. The latest reported imports are 9,304 packs glass, valued at $23,045; and 239 plate, valued at $31,638. American glass is selling to some extent for the West, but not as rapidly as the majority of dealers would desire, and there is occasionally an appearance of a desire to force business, noticeable. A discount of 60 per cent. from list is still allowed.

LABOR.—We understand that the laborers contemplate asking $4.50 per day and eight hours, the movement to be inaugurated at the commencement of the coming week. Aside from the above, there is nothing new since our last. The following, recently telegraphed from London, embodies much the same ideas previously set forth in these columns:

"The Times, in an editorial on the demands of labor says: 'The rapid spread of the fallacies of the trades-unionists is deserving of more than mere attention. The unions will flourish; and, as associations for mutual assurance and as organizations for supporting the bargains of individual laborers, they serve useful purposes. But, in molesting non-members, they violate freedom in a way which the State cannot tolerate. It is essential, not to abolish the unions, but to convince their members of the errors they have embraced.'"

LATH.—The receipts have been fair, but not quite so liberal as last week, and buyers are apparently slowly realizing the fact of a strong prospective scarcity of lath, as the demand has not only shown rather more animation than last week, but higher prices were paid without much cavil. A great many dealers to be sure hold a considerable amount of stock, from which they are meeting current calls, and those who purchase do not greatly exceed probable early wants, but the supply is not equal to the slowly-increasing consumption, and unless the outlet should become unexpectedly reduced, buyers must exceed sellers in number ere long. Reports from the points of production nearly all agree that not only is the water very low, but some of the largest manufacturers have stopped entirely, and that whatever old stock was left over has now been nearly all forwarded. So fully convinced are some receivers of an early improvement in values, they have commenced filling out cargoes, and assert that $3 per M is the lowest figure at which they will now sell. We make no predictions, but give the market as it is reported to us, and our readers can draw their own conclusions. Sales of 2,300,000 at $2.75@2.35 per M, now held at $3 per M.

LIME.—The arrivals of Rockland have been moderate, and everything still sells almost as soon as offered at full prices, the market ruling very strong. Dealers hold a little stock yet, but find their accumulation rapidly diminishing, though as the actual consumptive demand is also falling off they hope to keep regular customers supplied until cargoes become more plenty. There is some indication that receipts will increase within a week or two as a number of vessels have secured cargoes at this point of cement, coal, grain, &c., and are now on their way East. We quote at $1.75 per bbl. for lump, and $1.50 do for common, the latter as before meeting with the quickest sale. For the Northern stock the demand is also good, prices firm, and everything now received, if not already sold, goes immediately into the hands of willing buyers. The leading companies find it advisable to increase the production. Thirteen cargoes reported coastwise during the week.

LUMBER.—At the various retail yards visited by us during the week under review, business was still very slack, and buyers in no case appeared to be operating beyond the immediate or probable early requirements. The demand was proportionately divided between the building and manufacturing interests, and called for about an ordinary assortment, no one class of lumber receiving any greater attention than another, though a few grades which were already a trifle scarce show some further reduction in the accumulation. Occasionally there has been some deviation from quoted rates on goods which were thought to be better sold than held, but as a rule the general tone of the market continues steady, and buyers gain no important advantage. Receipts continue fair, and if anything are increasing; but nothing at present indicates a surplus, and most of our dealers still appear disposed to hold off until the latest possible moment before purchasing for winter use. The arrivals at Albany begin to foot up pretty large, and are said to be met by a corresponding increase of the demand, preventing any decline in values. Dealers at that point appear to have particular confidence in coarse lumber, and some predict an early advance, though they meet all current calls without much hesitation. A recently published report states that a meeting of mill owners and lumbermen was held at Williamsport, Pa., when it was resolved to cut and manufacture only one-half the usual stock of logs in that district during the coming season. Is this based on a prospective light trade, or is it intended to produce a scarcity and work off old stock at full prices?

The wholesale market has been a trifle dull, though there was an outlet for all the desirable stock offering; and on the whole, the general feeling at the close appears to be rather stronger and more uniform. For goods adapted to yard use, there has been some call from neighboring cities, and cargoes not wanted for this trade were placed among our own local dealers without much difficulty. Exporters are buying pretty freely in Canada, and occasionally taking fair amounts here aside from the usual parcels wanted to fill out surplus freight room; and in this connection we desire to call attention to a new enterprise, which, as it is likely to increase the shipping business from this port, deserves support. It is simply a bonded lumber yard, by which stock can be brought here in bond and held until exporters are ready to purchase, thus increasing their facilities for making selections, securing desirable vessels or freight room, and at the same time keeping the value of the goods down to relatively the same figures as at Montreal or other points in Canada, from which shipments are now being made. The privilege has been secured from the Treasury Department after much trouble, by Messrs. Flint & Hall, and their yard will be located at Greenpoint.

Easter Spruce has arrived rather slowly as compared with the two previous weeks, but has been ample for the demand, which has not as yet fully recovered from the depression consequent upon very liberal offerings at the close of August. Many dealers, however, are beginning to get their recent purchases stowed away, and the docks cleared, and whenever they have any extra room, are willing to fill it with good lumber. First-class cargoes have therefore done very well, in some instances, if extra desirable, commanding an advance, and with no very poor schedules offering our general range is a trifle higher, say $19 @ $21.75 for common to prime, and $22.00 for choice. A few specifications are on the market at the close, awaiting rates rather higher than buyers are as yet prepared to pay, though the continued advices of the reduced production makes holders very firm. White-pine is in good average demand, and the market preserves a very firm tone for all desirable stock, with nothing offering in excess of current wants. The call is divided between the home trade and shippers in about the usual ratio. Considerable publicity has been given to a report that forty million feet have been shipped from Ottawa, Canada, to the States, since the first of May, and that forty million feet more are piled up at the mills, which is probably true, but the bulk is common stock, and goes on contract to the pavement companies. We quote at $20@25 per M. for inferior to fair box and shipping boards, and $26@30 do. for good to prime do., with the usual advance for choice lots. Piling is in good supply and not much sought after by the cargo, but from the stock in chains dealers are jobbing out fair amounts at former rates. We quote at 6c. @ 7 1/2 c. per foot for inferior to prime, and 8c. do. for choice. A few parcels of pickets have again come to hand but are not wanted at present, and have to be stored or sold very low. Yellow pine is in fair demand and firm, the supply still running quite light and not much known to be en route. One or two sales have been made to arrive at full prices, and dealers are confident. We quote at $30@33 for common, and $34@35 for good. Eastern No. 1 Shingles are without any regular market, and holders can only occasionally work off a job lot. Prices uncertain, but a liberal order could probably be supplied at $4.00 per M. Cypress shingles also neglected and nominal in the vicinity of $13@15 per M. for the ordinary sizes. Sales have been made of 1,200,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $19 @ $22 per M.; 200,000 feet yellow pine, part to arrive, at prices not made public; 500 pcs. piling at 6c. @ 8c. per foot.

We also notice shipments of 108 logs black walnut valued at $3,146 to Hamburg. 6,000 shingles valued at $250, to British West Indies; 8,800 staves to London; 20,000 do. to British Guiana; 6,000 do. to Havre; 9,000 do. to Mar-seilles; 6,000 do. to French West Indies; 250,320 do. to Cadiz; 3,600 do. to Cuba; 43,500 do. to Oporto; and 5,900 do. to Chili. The receipts reported are as follows: From Shulee, N. S., 2,225 spels; from Two Rivers, N. S., 325 do.; from Sand River, 375 do.; from Musquash, N. B., 660 do.; from Halifax, 165,000 feet deal, and 50,000 lath; from St. Georges, N. B., 340 poles and spars; from St. John, N. B., 279,836 feet deal, 197,680 feet scantling, 455,000 lath, and 527 poles; from Ottawa, Canada, by canal boat, 173,580 feet, and 25,763 pcs. lumber, and from Maine coast twenty-four cargoes lumber, two of lath, and one of piling. Charters as follows: A barque to Rosario, lumber, $21, and measurement goods 21c.; a brig 367 tons to Cetta, heavy hhd. staves at $50, and back with fruit on private terms; a brig 491 tons from Norfolk to Sicily, staves at $4,100, gold, and back with fruit on private terms; a barque from Boston to River Plate, lumber, $10; a barque from Jacksonville to New York, boards $12; a barque from Charleston to Martinique, lumber, $10; a schr. from Jacksonville to Jamaica, lumber, $12; and back to New York, logwood $6; and a barque from New London to Montevideo, lumber on private terms.

At Chicago business is rather light and the tone somewhat heavy, with the receipts at times exceeding the demand. A recent report says: There is a disposition under the depressed state of this trade to snare, and many consignments of stuff, not strictly choice and wanted, are sold according to the customer. Choice mill run was steady at $14@16; common boards dull at $10@12; joist and scantling in request.

A recent issue of the Saginaw Enterprise contains the following:—Yesterday the largest amount of lumber left the river that has ever been shipped in one day from the Saginaw Valley. Between 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., 2 tugs and 2 propellers and 22 barges loaded, cleared from the anchorage with 7,900,000 feet of lumber, bound for Buffalo and Ohio ports. The fleet was composed of the following: Prop. Antelope and 4 barges, 2,200,000 feet; prop. Colin Campbell and 5 barges, 1,900,000 feet; tug Winslow and 7 barges, 2,000,000 feet; tug Balize, and 6 barges, 1,800,000 feet.—Total feet, 7,900,000, which, with the schooners and sail vessels, the number of which we have no means of ascertaining at present, will run up yesterday's shipments to at least 8,500,000 feet. These barges belong principally to Ballentine and Hackett's lines. They all came in since Saturday morning. The pleasant weather of the past week accounts for the barges getting around so early.

The shipments of lumber from the port of Bay City were larger than during any other month of this or previous years, footing up as follows: Lumber, feet, 49,227,645; lath, pieces, 3,150,000; shingles, 1,703,000; timber, feet, 168,775; staves, 240,400.

At the Eastern markets of supply dealers are extremely firm in their views, and with rapidly decreasing stocks and no prospects of immediate additions thereto, some advance is anticipated. Shipments in this direction are daily becoming smaller.

A recent Boston report says:

The market, which has been quiet but steady the last month, shows a little improvement, the demand being decidedly more active, while the supply is not being forced forward faster than required for consumption. There is no scarcity of any kind, and there is a general feeling that there will be a good fall trade.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The demand for wholesale parcels has rather improved of late, and at times the market has shown considerable activity. The call in the main has been from local jobbers, though some interior and Southern orders have been filled, and there is a slight export demand. The scarcity of foreign white lead continues, and has diverted attention to the domestic choice grades, which are in light supply in consequence of their suddenly-increased sale, and prices proportionately firm. The assortment of other goods is very fair, but not excessive, and values are stronger and more uniform. Linseed oil has not been very active until lately, when buyers evincing a better disposition to operate, the market improved, and many crushers advanced their views 1c.@2c. per gallon. There does not appear to be many outside bids offering just now, and the market closes comparatively steady. We quote at 95c.@$1, in casks; and $1@1.02 in bbls from crushers' hands. The exports are 287 pecks, valued at $3,017; and 300 bbls oxide zinc, valued at $3,608.

PITCH.—Good to prime stock continues to move with a fair amount of freedom, and prices are sustained, but the inferior sorts, though not increasing, are freely offered from the present accumulation, and lower figures accepted by holders in order to sell out. Some little demand has prevailed from exporters, but the main business was with the home trade. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.30@2.35 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12@3.15 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 5 bbls; since January 1st, 4,563. Exports for the week 253 bbls; since January 1st, 3,702 bbls, and for the same period last year 2,345.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The amount of business doing from day to day since our last has been comparatively moderate, and confined almost exclusively to such lots as the immediate necessities of consumers required. Export orders are at hand, but the very unsettled state of the gold market has prevented shippers from operating with any freedom. The arrivals of stock in the meantime have been moderate, and with the small supply on hand prices have ruled firm, and close rather more in sellers' favor. We quote at 42 1/2 @ 43 c. for merchantable and shipping order; 42 1/2 @ 43 c. for New York bbls; 43 1/2 @ 44 c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 31 bbls; since January 1st, 47,456 bbls. Exports for week 300 bbls; since January 1st, 16,135 bbls, and for the same period last year, 13,705.

TAR.—There has been a good steady inquiry from the home trade, more than balancing the arrivals, and with the already small stock still further reduced, the market remains in a firm condition for all grades. Shippers are looking around for desirable parcels, but have not operated with any freedom, owing in part to the unsettled condition of gold. The shipments in this direction are said to be small. We quote at $2.75@2.88 per bbl for North County as it runs; $3.25@3.50 for Wilmington do; $3.25@3.75 for rope, and occasionally $3.57@4 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 10 bbls; since January 1st, 58,420 bbls. Exports for week, 104 bbls since January 1st, 30,046 bbls, and for the same period last year, 8,772.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending September 7, 1869, says:

There have been large sales since our last report, at full prices—embracing lumber of all kinds. There is a confirmed impression, based principally on the light stock held by Eastern and Southern dealers, that the lumber will all be wanted. Quotations are very firm, with an upward tendency, in part to meet the advance in Lake and Canal freights. Stocks are light for the season. The steady demand which has prevailed so far, has checked any accumulation of stock. Coarse lumber is firm in price and very scarce; the receipts are not equal to the demand.

The receipts of the week are not, in view of the protracted detention on the Canal, as light as we expected they would be. We think by the close of the month the receipts for this year will be found to exceed those of 1868.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending Sept. 4th, were 34,766,000 feet, against 40,210,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 15,566,000 feet, against 13,449,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st, are 647,000,000 feet, against 681,891,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, are 418,568,000 feet against 354,215,000 feet in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending September 4th, 1869 and 1868:

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo.....	8,700,200 feet.	8,415,900 feet.
Oswego.....	10,115,500 feet.	9,779,300 feet.
Total.....	18,815,700 feet.	18,195,200 feet.

The Oswego Commercial Advertiser gives the following figures as the receipts of lumber at that point to September 1st, for three seasons:

1868.....	174,000,000 feet.
1867.....	157,000,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of September, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs
1869.....	10,570,000 2,204 440,000
1868.....	14,119,700 1,004 —

Of the boards and scantling received, 5,555,000 feet were by the Erie, and 5,014,900 ft. by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to September 5th, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs
1869.....	255,855,600 29,956 10,000 4,353,300
1868.....	251,921,800 30,896 61,456 21,203,800

REAL ESTATE RECORD

AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. III. No. 27.] NEW YORK, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1869. [WHOLE No. 79.

C. W. SWEET & CO.,

One year, in advance..... 6 00

WELL, things do look brighter in the real estate market. The recent suburban sales show that the buyers are back to town. We hear of a better state of feeling everywhere. Rents are firmer; a good many vacant houses have been let; our conveyance lists are becoming heavier; and, although there will be no great excitement this fall, we shall have tolerably lively times.

BUILDING in Brooklyn seems to have been overdone. There are more vacant houses than there should be, and taxes are high. Brooklyn is unfortunate in having a population out of all proportion to its business. Its people are what are vulgarly known as "Roosters"—that is, they do business in New York and sleep at home. Hence many dwelling-houses and few stores. As all city expenses are as great as in New York, their burden is more appreciable on account of the comparative paucity of commerce, taxable incorporate companies, &c. The true thing to do is for Brooklyn to become annexed to New York; then we would have a city that would be worth while. Connected by bridge and ferries, New York, reconstructed, would really become the metropolis of the world.

REAL estate dealers report quite an active demand for houses, and say they have received more applications within the past week than during the whole of the past summer. What few sales there were at the exchange were well attended, considering the quality and quantity offered, the prices realized indicating a very firm market. The weather is hardly cool enough yet for active operations, and there are but few speculators who are acting openly as yet. The demand is steady and increasing notably; especially is this the case with unimproved property. There is a very fair amount of building going on, and a steady demand for desirable houses. The prospects for the fall trade are very satisfactory.

58TH ST., N. s., 59TH ST., S. s.—281 w. 9th av., one 3 story and basement brick building, for Hospital, 56x170 ; size of lot, 80x200 ; Peak & Mansard roof ; cost $181,000 ; owners, Trustees Roosevelt Hospital ; architect, Carl Pfeiffer ; builders, J. S. & J. B. Smith.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—There has certainly been no improvement in the general market for hard brick since our last ; but while it is difficult to quote any point showing a decided change for the worse as yet, the tendency is in that direction—sellers evidently having even less advantage than one week ago, and the position is far from encouraging for those having any large amount of stock to dispose of. In fact the stock is the whole trouble, the liberal and constantly increasing supply now here in first hands, both afloat and on pier, and the prospect of continued additions thereto, up to the close of the month at least, making it very probable that business will soon have to be forced in order to work down the accumulation, and in that case lower prices must be accepted as a matter of course. All the available outlets have now been pretty well supplied, and there is scarcely a jobber in this or neighboring cities who does not hold enough brick to meet all present wants, or can so easily secure any parcel that he may require as to render it altogether unnecessary for a display of anxiety in securing cargoes. The consumptive demand, as a rule, is reported very good, but not equal to the arrivals. Shipments Eastward continue to a moderate extent, but only the very best selections are forwarded, and this portion of the trade is considered too precarious to indulge in with any liberality. Inferior grades are not coming forward in large single parcels with as much freedom as two or three weeks ago but, average fairly with the upper classes, and taken as the whole the assortment is now about all that could be desired, buyers finding it an easy matter to make any selection from the poorest to the best. We quote for the general run of stock $6.50@8.00 per M, with good and choice at $8.50@9.00 do., the latter figure now about the extreme. Manufacturers are still at work, piling up stock wherever they have room, and shipping off the surplus. The remarkably fine weather of the present season has prevented the production of many washed brick even in the open yards, and as the natural policy is to sell out the poorest grades first, it is not improbable that the current accumulation "up the river" is of a generally high order. Pale brick continue to sell with a fair amount of freedom, but the demand is fully met by the supply, and values are unchanged. We quote at $4.00@4.50 per M for North River ; $4.50@5.00 do. for Jersey ; and 50c. per M. higher on either grade for choice. Croton fronts have been in rather better request, but the supply is now equal to all wants. Prices steady at $16, $17, and $18 per M, according to shade. Philadelphia fronts moderately active at $30@35 per M, by cargo, and $38@45 per M in job lots.

CEMENT.—We find a continued strong market for all good brands of Rosendale, and no abatement in the demand, which as previously noted is quite general, and takes pretty much all the stock offering. The shipping trade East is about the same as last week, but from the South is rather increasing, while the local and near-by city trade keeps close up to the previous aggregate. Prices remain as before, viz : $1.90 delivered at Rondout, and $2.00 per bbl. delivered here, with, however, a strong effort current to establish an advance, which has thus far been prevented by the impossibility of getting all manufacturers to consent to the change. But as contracts are filled and stocks are cleaned out, it is thought there will finally be a unanimous agreement to a higher range, particularly as jobbers, who have lately endeavored to make arrangements for their fall supplies, find producers, without exception, quite buoyant in their views.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Buyers continue to operate with moderation and caution, and in no case take goods unless it be a very cheap lot or something for which there is an immediate and profitable resale, and though the general offerings do not increase, the supply is larger than the outlet, and some holders manifesting an inclination to force trade in order to realize. Prices naturally are weak, and quotations somewhat uncertain, though former figures are now certainly extreme on all except cedar, which is held firmly and in most cases so high as to check all demand. Exporters still complain of the difficulty experienced in regulating their exchange, and of securing freight-room and call for comparatively nothing ; and business, such as it is, is mainly on local account although a few orders from neighboring cities are reported, and some for Southern shipment. As the market now stands there is nothing to encourage imports, and there is said to be only a few irregular parcels in transit for this port. The trade from yard continues to run light and is easily met, all the leading dealers holding a good and well-assorted stock. No exports. The only receipts are 30 logs cedar from Cienfuegos.

GLASS.—The market for foreign window glass again begins to show signs of activity, and in some quarters the animation is very decided, though as yet the orders at hand have called for comparatively small parcels mostly to keep buyers in stock until they can make up invoices for their fall supplies. The demand is mainly from the South and Southwest, Western buyers still holding off, and the local and near-by interior dealers wanting but little at present. The arrivals continue moderate, and as there is not much expected, importers are firm, and in no case forcing business except on odd lots of stained stock, &c. Selections are pretty easy, though a scarcity of 13 and 14 inch is talked of. We quote at 50@55 per cent. off list for French, and 40@50 per cent. off on English. For American there is still rather a light demand, but most of the undesirable parcels having disappeared, holders are now a trifle firmer. The foreign price-list has been adopted less 55 per cent. No new stock yet on the market. The latest reported imports are 16,106 pkgs. glass valued at $25,496 ; and 174 plates valued at $21,815.

LATH.—The market has shown less activity during the week under review, not from lack of demand, which if anything has been better, but from lack of stock, and the feeling is decidedly stronger. Up to the present writing nothing has been sold to fairly test values, and a quotation is merely nominal. But the few receivers who have had anything to offer asked $3@3.25, and owners of the stock piled out refuse to negotiate at the above inside figure. The very small current arrivals, and the probability that what few cargoes are known to have started for this port are either lost or detained by the late storm, generates a feeling of much confidence among sellers, the more so when it is almost certain that the production has ceased for the time being, and that there is no old accumulations now left to draw upon. The consumption is fair, and not falling off to any extent, and every day reduces the supply in the hands of dealers ; but they in most cases hold enough of previous purchases to meet the calls of their customers, and naturally will not come into the market to restock until absolutely compelled to. This accounts in a great measure for the present apathetic condition of trade, but it is hardly possible that the position can be maintained very long. No important sales reported.

LIME.—The consumptive inquiry for both grades has of late gradually fallen off, and dealers in consequence are not very eager buyers ; but the current receipts of Rockland stock are now so small that all the cargoes coming in are placed without difficulty, and command full former rates quite readily. In fact, the general tone of the market appears very strong, receivers gaining much confidence since the recent destruction by fire of some nine or ten kilns curtailed the production materially, and manufacturers are shipping to Eastern and even Southern ports at rates relatively much above those to be obtained here. An increased demand from jobbers, to stock up for the fall trade, may also be looked for at an early day, and as this will, if anywhere near the ordinary average, fully counteract the anticipated larger arrivals, those who ought to know predict that an advance will soon be established. Common lime is still the most desirable, though a market is found for all the lump received. Of the Northern limes the supply is very small, the production not materially increasing, and all lots offered find a pretty quick sale at extreme prices. In fact, most of the leading have sold ahead up to the first of the coming month, and will not enter into fresh engagements for the present. We quote all kinds at $1.50 per bbl. for common, and $1.75 do. for lump. The receipts reported coastwise for the week embrace only five cargoes.

LUMBER.—A few of our retail dealers report a fair trade, but none any unusual activity on fresh orders ; and taken as a whole the volume of business is certainly no larger than last week. We learn of two or three unimportant out-of-town orders for choice grades of stock, but this outlet is too small and uncertain to warrant any other attention than such as may be necessary to secure the calls as they come to hand, and the main dependence of sellers is still upon the wants of local manufacturers and builders. The first-named class of buyers continue to operate on the hand-to-mouth principle, few if any taking more goods than can be put to immediate use ; while the latter, though occasionally requiring something fresh for special purposes, are receiving a large proportion of their present supplies on previous contracts, in some cases made very early in the spring. The current arrivals do not appear to be very large, probably rather below last week, but are nevertheless in excess of the sales, and the supply in yard is gradually augmenting. Still there is no excess of stock, and should business suddenly improve and the demand become general there would prove to be a scarcity of some of the most desirable grades. This is particularly the case with spruce and hemlock, of which few dealers have been enabled to secure enough at the regular sources of supply to fully satisfy themselves. Oak, ash, and white wood, and good to prime black walnut, may also be mentioned as far from abundant and generally considered as desirable stock by holders. Common and inferior walnut is plenty enough, and a great many odd lots would be closed out at low figures. From Albany we learn that trade continues quite active, and about equal to the supplies, with a generally healthy tone to the market. Dealers there appeared to have particular confidence in hemlock, spruce, and most hard woods ; while on pine the feeling was somewhat unsettled, a few operators predicting an early decline, others thinking this change not likely to occur unless a liberal accumulation of stock should take place, but none were looking for any advance. Whatever changes are developed it is probable our market will sympathize therewith.

We have again to note a comparatively dull wholesale market, owing mainly to the absence of supplies, though there cannot be said to exist a remarkably brisk demand from any source at the moment, nor any anxiety on the part of such buyers as do present themselves, unless the stock show unusually good qualities. Local dealers take most of the goods changing hands, but a few parcels have been forwarded to points some little distance outside the city. Prices show no important variations, but the small supplies give holders the advantage, and former figures are well supported. The export demand at present at this port is moderate and confined mainly to small parcels, but there is a fair amount of stock loading on previous contract, and dealers look for a renewed activity later in the season. The supply of Eastern spruce has fallen off very materially since our last, and though the demand shows no important increase, all the cargoes, if at all good to prime, have been placed by receivers with little or no trouble, and former rates in nearly every case obtained. The exception are mainly small and undesirable stuff which was considered better sold than held, and if quoted would afford no idea of values. Our local dealers have taken pretty much all the stock as the majority have now piled away previous purchases, and not a few begin to find their stocks undergoing some slight reduction. We quote at \$19.50@22 for common to prime specifications ; and \$22.25@22.50 per M for choice and fancy do. All accounts from the Eastward agree that the remaining stock is small, and the production almost entirely suspended ; and this imparts very great strength to sellers, and emboldens buyers to operate, whenever anything desirable is offered. White pine continues moderately active on the general run of stock, the demand mainly on home account, though a few odd parcels are occasionally picked up by shippers, when offered cheap or if the quality happens to be particularly acceptable. Supply fair, and well enough assorted for prevailing wants. We quote at \$20@25 per M for inferior to fair box and shipping boards ; and \$26@30 for choice do., with some advance for choice parcels. Piling remains at about the former general range of values, with an ordinary trade doing and a supply fully equal to all current outlets, though with prospective light receipts holders are not offering their choice stocks freely. We quote at 6@7 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. per foot for inferior to prime ; and 8 e. do. for choice. Yellow pine continues in fair request and is steady but no higher, the unchanged position of the Southern markets preventing sellers from gaining any decided advantage. It is not improbable, however, that now, as cotton has commenced to move forward, that freight room may become scarce and high, and prices here will be influenced thereby. We quote at \$30@33 for common ; and \$34@35 for good. Shingles, both Eastern and Southern, are abundant, but cannot even be forced, and have to remain quietly awaiting such demand as may arise. Sales have been made of 680,000 feet Eastern spruce at \$19.50@22.25 per M ; 160,000 feet yellow pine at \$34 ; 250,000 feet white pine on private terms ; 300 pieces piling 6@7c.

We notice shipments as follows : To Hamburg 70 logs black walnut, valued at $1,999 ; to Cuba 2 logs Maple, valued at $355 ; to Liverpool 1,200 staves ; to London 2,400 do. ; to Glasgow 3,600 do. ; to Bordeaux 14,000 do. ; and to Hamburg 6,600 do. The receipts reported are as follows : From Jacksonville 160,000 feet lumber ; from Savannah 207 pieces lumber, and from Musquash, N. B., 460 spruce spiles. We note charters as follows : a barque, 419 tons, to Montevideo, lumber, $17 gold ; two barges from Montreal to Elver Plate, lumber, $20 ; and a brig, 177 tons, to Key West on private terms, and back from Minatitlan with mahogany at $12.

The Chicago market continues slow, stocks are accumulating and a generally heavy feeling prevails, with frequent concessions granted on medium and common grades. A few of the most recent sales are as follows: From Duncan City, 245 M ft. mill run, sold by qualities at $9.00 for culls, $15.00 for common, $30.00 for clear strips, and $36.00 for wide uppers; from Manistee, 125 M ft. scantling and joist at $11.00 for short lengths, and $14.00 for long; from Oconto, 190 M ft. boards and strips at $13.75, 2-inch at $10.50, 1-inch at $2.00, and pickets at $3.00; from Menominee, 200 M ft. strips and boards at $12.50, 1-inch, $2.00, and pickets, $5.00; from Manistee, 60 M ft. by qualities at $10.00 for culls, $18.00 for common, and $36.00 for uppers, hold full of scantling at $10.50; from Oconto, 200 M ft. strips and boards at $13.75, 2-inch at $10.50, 1-inch, $2.00; pickets, $5.00; from Muskegon, 140 M ft. scantling and joist at $11.00.

A recent report on the Detroit market says:

With the month of August what is known as the "dull season" ended, and the time has arrived when a more active trade is usually realized. The summer, and in fact the whole season, has been an unfavorable one for our manufacturers, and trade has been unsatisfactory. The aggregate movement of lumber has shown, perhaps, no diminution, but the prices realized have been low. Stocks have been liberal, and rather than allow accumulations buyers have been favored in terms, and values all through the year have ruled lower than usual. In this respect there is no improvement to note, and none is anticipated during the fall trade. Buyers, however, are again more free in their calls, and the market has manifested an increased vitality within the past week or ten days, although the volume of trade is not large, nor what it probably will reach within the next thirty days. Of clear stuff and dressed lumber, a larger amount is moving Eastward, while house lumber and common stuff is being taken rather more freely for the interior markets of our State. One or two of our manufacturers are realizing quite a fine trade in shingles with the Eastern markets, and several consignments of these, with dressed lumber, have been shipped direct to some of the New England markets by Blue Line cars. Lath are low and are a drug in the market.

A few sales at St. Louis are as follows: Sales in the water—1,500,000 ft. Chippewa, part to arrive and part on previous contract, at $16; On Bank—600,000 Chippewa at $17; 400,000 common Wisconsin at $17.50; 250,000 fair do. at $19; 500,000 good do. at $20; 400,000 lath at $21; On Raft—23,000 common at $14, and 200,000 lath at $2.50. At Depot—One car common green and dry Y. P. flooring at $18; 1 do. dry at $20; 3 good do. at $26.75; 5 do. choice $28; 2 do. at $32; 4 fair green $23.50; 4 do. dimension $15. On Levee—12,500 ft. good black walnut at $38; 2,800 clear poplar boards (1½ inch) at $35; 55,000 good do. (inch) at 25 ¾ M.

All the Eastern advices report strong markets, and a great scarcity of goods, with a very small proportion of the mills able to work, those using water for want of power, and those using steam for want of logs, large numbers of which are now hung up.

Surveys at Boston for the week ending Sept. 10, 1869, were as follows:

METALS.—Copper sheathing continues in moderate demand at about former rates, but the supply is liberal, and holders in some instances are willing to shade prices a trifle in order to effect sales. We quote at 32@35 per lb., according to quantity. Yellow metal dull at 21c@29c. For ingot copper the demand is very light from all sources, and prices have further declined, closing unsettled at 22½@23½c. Scotch pig iron has been rather dull, the demand calling for only small job lots as wanted for immediate use, and the market somewhat heavy, though a decline was prevented by the comparatively small supply. We quote at $38@43 per ton. American pig iron selling very slowly, but the moderate arrivals and light accumulation of supplies in first hands give sellers the advantage, and prices are sustained. We quote at $40@41 per ton for American No. 1, $38@39 do. for No. 2, and $36 do. for No. 3. Bar iron from store is selling quite freely; the recent advance appears to increase rather than diminish the demand, as is usually the case, and at the close full prices are current. We quote common bar at $87.50@90 per ton, refined do. $95@100 do. Swedes ordinary sizes $140 do.; scroll, $120@150 do.; ovals and half round, $120@145 do.; hand and horse-shoe, $120 do.; hoop, $125@180 do.; and rods, ¾@3-16 inch, $100@155 do.; all less 5 per cent. Common sheet iron in fair supply, dull, and quoted about as before, say 5½@7c. for singles, doubles and trebles. Russia sheet dull, plenty, and values unsettled, at about 11@12½c. gold, assorted numbers. Domestic galvanized sheet is fairly active at 25@30 per cent. discount from list prices. Bar lead is quiet and prices a trifle weak, though not notably lower, ranging at about 6½@6¾c. gold. Bar lead worth $9, and sheet, and pipe, $9.20 net cash to the trade. Tin in slabs is in very good request at higher figures, and at the close the tendency is still rather upward. We quote in coin at 32c. for English, 32½@32¾c. for Straits, and 38c. for Banca. Tin plates fairly active and steady at previous figures. Zinc plenty, dull and heavy at 11½@12c. The latest reported imports embrace 41 tons iron hoop; 1,952 do. pig iron; 44,046 R. R. bars; 31 tons sheet iron; 943 iron tubes; 20,525 pigs lead; 15,959 boxes tin; 1,874 slabs do.; and 553, 573 lbs. zinc.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market is moving to a moderate extent, but there is no general activity and less doing than last week. Prices as a rule are firm, but no higher, and the assortment has of late improved somewhat, with a stock of most of the leading grades about equal to the outlet. The jobbing trade is rather dull and the market reported by most dealers as somewhat unsatisfactory. In a few cases figures are modified a trifle, but the general tone is steady. Linseed oil has continued to sell rather slowly, but holders manifest a pretty confident feeling and prices are well sustained on all the leading grades. We quote at 98c@1.00 in casks; and $1.00@1.02 in bbls. from crushers' hands. The exports are 71 pkgs. paint valued at $452; and 80 gallons linseed oil, value $91.

PITCH.—From regular buyers there has been a fair steady inquiry, but aside from this we learn of very little activity, and the general market has a dull tone. Prices remain about as before, with some little desire on the part of holders to force off the common lots. We quote at $2.75@2.88 for city; $2.30@2.39 for Southern; and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, $3.12½@3.15 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 220 bbls; since January 1st, 4,783. Exports for the week nothing; since January 1st, 3,702 bbls; and for the same period last year, 2,512.

PLASTER PARIS.—Considerable quantities of lump have again come to hand, but mainly on contract, and a large proportion of the cargoes have gone "up the river" and to other points outside this city. Our local manufacturers have entirely withdrawn as buyers the accumulation already on hand, and the stock yet to arrive giving them a supply that is likely to more than meet all wants until spring. A large amount of land plaster has been made this year. Prices are quoted as before, but merely nominal, say about $4.25@4.50 per ton for white; and $3.00@3.50 do. for blue. Calcined has met with some little coastwise shipping demand beside the ordinary trade inquiry, but as a whole the market is very slow, and values without regularity. Quotations on city range from about $2.10 up to $2.40@2.50 per bbl., according to quantity, with country brands lower, and retail lots from jobbers' hands somewhat higher. The receipts of lump for two weeks foot up some 3,130 tons. Shipments of 132 bbls. calcined to Cuba.

SLATE.—The recent Western demand for roofing slate has fallen off somewhat, but is partially counteracted by an increased call on local and near by interior account, and as a whole the market is in a very fairly active condition. On prices, however, buyers retain most of the advantage, owing to the full and well-assorted supplies accumulated at all points, and the general disposition of holders to accept any reasonable cash offer. Quarrymen have given up any idea they may have entertained of throwing larger supplies upon the market, and the production is now materially reduced. In fact, at some of the leading quarries there is nothing being taken out except mill stock, for billiard-table beds, &c., the trimmings from which, if there is time and labor unemployed, will be made up into roofing slates, but such lots have to be made up to await a market.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There has been nothing doing for export during the week, the great scarcity of freight room preventing shippers from operating. From the home trade, however, the call has been quite steady and exceeding the arrivals; the already light supply is further reduced, causing some advance in values and a strong feeling among holders. As we close there is some little irregularity, but no important change either in favor of buyer or seller. We quote at 43½@44c. for merchantable and shipping order; 44@44½c. for New York bbls; 44@45c. for small parcels, and retail lots from store in proportion. Receipts for week 752 bbls; since January 1st, 48,208 bbls. Exports for week nothing; since January 1st, 16,135 bbls, and for the same period last year, 15,741.

TAR.—There is not much demand for large parcels, but in a jobbing way the sales exceed the supply coming in, and the stock in first hands is further reduced. The assortment is fair, though a few more choice grades could be placed to advantage. Prices as before, but firm. Exporters are unable to secure freight room and buy nothing at present. We quote at $2.75@2.85 per bbl for North County as it runs; $3.25@3.50 for Wilmington do; $3.25@3.75 for rope, and occasionally $3.75@4 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for week 600 bbls; since January 1st, 59,020 bbls. Exports for week nothing; since January 1st, 30,046 bbls, and for the same period last year, 8,945.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus' report for the week ending September 14, 1869, says:

Since our last report there has been a good healthy trade throughout the district, both in regard to sales and shipments. The receipts have been large, though principally from the Erie canal. The supplies of coarse lumber are light and stocks have become much reduced. The advance in canal freights has a tendency to stiffen prices, which are firm for all descriptions. We think all the houses find they have a more active business than at this time last year, and that the indications are that it will continue to the close.

It will be seen that the receipts at Buffalo and Oswego are large.

The receipts at Chicago for the week ending Sept. 11th, were 33,245,000 feet, against 25,559,000 feet for the corresponding week last year. The shipments for the week, 13,619,000 feet, against 15,346,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1868. The aggregate receipts since January 1st, are 675,791,000 feet, against 702,128,000 feet in 1868. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, are 433,952,000 feet against 369,710,000 feet in 1868.

The shipments from the Saginaw River for the season to September 1st, were 255,220,000 feet against 256,934,000 feet for a corresponding period in 1868.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending September 11th, 1869 and 1868:

	1869.	1868.
Buffalo.....	6,161,900 feet.	3,501,600 feet.
Oswego.....	9,938,200 feet.	8,400,700 feet.
Total.....	16,115,100 feet.	5,902,300 feet.
